Such a remedial agent exists in the "PAIN KILLER," the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal ices of the Polar region, or beneath the burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. The office of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of cold, coughs, bowel complaints, cholera, dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of cuts, burns, bruises, sores, sprains, sting of insects, and other causes of suffering, has placed it in the most prominent position among the medicines of the day.

THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP and SKIN,

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect SAFETY.

TWO TABLE-SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. a25

Brandreth's Pills vs. Bleeding.

Bleeding may give ease, because the blood left has more room; but the ease does not last, and is followed by permanent weakness.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS relieve the circulation and give ease more surely and almost as quickly as bleeding; but Brandreth's Pills never hurt, and the good they do is permanent, because they take only what the body and blood are better without. Purgation with these pills will be found

A UNIVERSAL CURATIVE PRINCIPLE.

Let the wise examine its claims to their confidence. Mrs. Hooker, of Barnstable, Mass., was cured by them of St. Vitus' Dance of fifteen years standing. Abram Van Wart was cured of Internal tumor by the use of Brandreth's Pills when all other means had failed. Dr. Brandreth's office, Brandreth House, New York. Sold by all Druggists. a20

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall stones, the bile comes freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel that will work like these Pills (very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the action of the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcered Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are to be healed, but the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery he has thousands who have afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 88 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. diyjal

BOARD OF TRADE. — Mr. Rider of Newmarket was not present at the meeting on Tuesday evening, as expected, but has agreed to visit Portsmouth before locating his new foundry, —which would be a great benefit here.

The meeting was large and quite spirited. Mr. T. S. Nowell introduced a resolution, that the Board of Trade recommend to the City Government to remit all taxes for ten years, on new Manufactories employing not less than ten hands, which may be introduced into this city. This was supported by Messrs. J. C. Carr, T. H. Odion, J. C. Butler and others; and opposed as too sweeping and general, by Messrs. Chas. Robinson, C. H. Mendum and others,—all, however, being in favor of the exemption in the proposed case of Mr. Rider, but the objectors preferring special action for each individual case which may come. The general resolution was not adopted.

☞ The General Recognition of Memorial Day is due from the community who are enjoying the peace conquered and the Union preserved by the gallantry and persistency of the Federal armies. If the dead are ever to be remembered, then those who fell in defence of the integrity of the nation against rebellion, should be honored by memorial tributes. It is not too early, therefore, to express the hope that in this city and throughout the Commonwealth the 29th inst. will be recognized and dedicated in every proper way to the symbolic and touching ceremonies that are to be conducted under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic. The people should express their sympathy with the comrades of the fallen, as they engage in what they feel to be a solemn but pleasant duty and a fitting expression of gratitude.

NAVY YARD MATTERS.—U. S. Steamer Palos arrived from Charlestown Navy Yard with a cargo of provisions, copper, &c., on Wednesday. The Palos is the Steamer which was used in experimenting with Petroleum as fuel at the Charlestown Yard, two years ago.

Gen. Mark F. Wentworth of Kittery is appointed General Inspector at the Yard, and entered upon his duties on Wednesday. It is reported that the Naval Committee of Inspection will commence their labors at the Yard next week.

Mr. Moses Lord, Master Smith, Bureau of Construction, has taken his discharge, and Wm. H. Sanborn of Kittery takes his place. It is reported that Mr. Lord has re-purchased his old stand of Mr. Wm. H. Walker of this city.

MUSIC.—We are glad to hear that a subscription paper is being circulated, to provide a series of Out-Door Concerts by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, of evenings, this season. The people will enjoy the nice music, and the Band deserve and need this aid and encouragement each year. Two or three hundred dollars ought to be raised for the purpose; and we understand that Mayor Jones, with his accustomed liberality, headed the list with $15. It is to be arranged, we believe, so that the Concerts will be distributed, and given in different suitable localities, according to the residence or wishes of the donors.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—We advise all lovers of good singing, fine acting and new jokes, to attend the concert tonight given by La Rue's Carnival Minstrels. Ricardo, the best personator of Female Characters in the profession, will delight all with his burlesque opera. Happy Cal Wagner will drive dull care away with his irrepressible fun, and the mammoth troupe of 25 eminent performers promise an entertainment worth double the price of admission. This company is heartily endorsed by the Press wherever they have appeared, and crowded houses testify to their appreciation by a discriminating public.

MARRIAGES.

In this city, May 12th, at the residence of the bridal father, by Rev. A. J. Patterson, assisted by Mr. Morse, Dr. JUDSON RILEY of Haverhill, Mass., and Miss EMMA F. MORSE, youngest daughter of J. P. Morse, Esq., of this city.

Also, at the same time and place, by the same, Mr. E. CLAUDE BEACH of New Haven, Conn., and Miss NELLIE M. SOUTHMAYD, youngest daughter of the late Col. Wm. P. Southmayd, of Middletown, Conn.

In Somerset, May 1, by Rev. Chas. U. Dunning, Mr. JOHN L. WATSON and Miss MARY A. TRIBETTS, both of Dover.

OUTLAWRY.— Capt. Bob. Shillaber is very efficient in the capacity of Poundkeeper,—to which vigilance he is incited by private subscription to a certain amount from several citizens who do not wish their premises invaded by vandal cows, in addition to his legal fees. On Sunday last, which it would seem was a general bovine holiday, no less than eight horned cattle were roaming the streets and roads at the southwest part of the city, and besides defiling sidewalks and roadway, and obstructing travel for foot or carriage passengers, did some damage to trees on South Road, and far more in one of the finest gardens on Middle Street, where we understand two young black and white cattle destroyed a score or two of precious pear and other trees, of much more value than the animals. But these last, we regret to hear, got off clear.

Capt. Shillaber, however, did impound a drove of four, and the owner was glad to pay $5 for their damage to a cherry tree at Lincoln Hill. Two other cows he attempted to capture, on Richards Avenue; but one, belonging to Mr. Richard H. Smart, was rescued by his son, taken from Mr. Shillaber's custody, and driven home. The Captain demanded the animal, and warned the young man of the liability he was incurring by interfering with a legal officer; but he was full of bravado, and insulted Capt. S. repeatedly. His father, on learning the facts, went to the Captain, expressed much regret at the occurrence, agreed to pay all damage and recompense for the outrage, and at his request, Capt. S. allowed the matter to pass without indicting the silly boy,—who, no doubt ignorantly, was guilty of an offence somewhat similar last year. The other cow of the two was driven home by her owner, during this escapade.

We venture to say, no one will soon interfere with Pound Keeper Shillaber again while in discharge of his duty.—If they do, we think they will get taken care of,—as will also all stray cows and horses which come to his notice.—Good, thus. Let us have peace.

No gentleman would ever turn his cattle into the road, to prey on other people; but many cow owners and others seem to be totally ignorant of the sacredness of the highway for purposes of travel alone. One such fellow, a year or two since, interfered with Mr. Shillaber and took his cow from his custody; but the Captain is not the man to be backed down, and it cost her owner all she was worth in a suit at law,—and every decent man must rejoice at it.

P. S. On Wednesday, two more cows ventured to enter the especial, select premises of Captain Bob. himself, on Wibird Street; but soon found themselves in the Pound for their temerity—for while Pound-keepers are not obliged to be Field Drivers or to drive cows at all, but only to take them in custody when left at the Pound,—it won't do for stray cows to trouble the Captain or any of his retainers. Let us alone!

The Teachers Among the Freedmen.

Extract from an Address delivered at the Unitarian Church, by Rev. James De Normandie, on Sunday, May 9, '69.

Ever since the circumstances of war laid upon us obligations to do something for the race of freedmen, the interest and contributions of this Parish have been very marked among the New England Parishes. From the beginning of this work, I have desired to make to the Parish from personal observation some report of the condition of the schools, the prospects of the freedmen, and the success of the teachers,—that we may know if our interest has been well-placed, and should be deservedly continued.

The town of Raleigh, the capitol of North Carolina, where our teachers are at present situated, is considerably smaller than Portsmouth, did not suffer directly from battles during the war, is probably to-day as prosperous as it has ever been, and therefore affords a very fair opportunity to observe southern life, in the smaller towns. The only building of any architectural pretensions is the State House, which is claimed to look like the Parthenon at Athens, but only by those it must be who have seen, heard, or read of the Parthenon,—nothing beyond the name, for it is no more like it than our Custom House is like St. Peter's. The streets are wide, with rows of fine elm-trees. The few best houses are not such as would be called fourth, or even fifth-rate here.—Whatever is wanting in appearance or comfort is charged to the misfortune of the war.

If you ask why such a house has not been painted, though it be fifty years old, the answer comes "because of the war." If you ask why such a road is not repaired, a road which it would seem could hardly have been changed from the primeval condition of hill and valley, save by the action of storms, the answer comes, "because of the war." Every want, every deficiency, every suffering is attributed to the war, and so constant and laughable is this excuse, that but for the war one would suppose there had never come to that land any of the ills or difficulties of earthly life.

The grounds around the homes show the same shiftless spirit. There is none of that care, and neatness, and taste, which attach to the northern home,—the flowers, the shrubbery and the fruit have not that attention which produces and continues variety and perfection. The general indolence, and the general appearance of discomfort are such as one notices in all countries where the climate is constantly inviting to an out-door life, and where nature rewards abundantly even a little care; nevertheless these features in our southern country lose very much by comparison with other southern countries, where nature is alike prodigal.

The first house to which my attention was directed was the birth-but of Ex-President Johnson, more wretched than most of the out-buildings for the former slaves. When we contrast the log-cabin home of Abraham Lincoln, or the miserable, filthy frame hut-home of Andrew Johnson, with the mansion and executive power at Washington, it is not strange that one of another government wonders, or even ridicules the results which chance or opportunity may work for any American citizen. But history will bear witness that these American men, humbly born, and raised to such commanding stations, have fulfilled their duties more creditably than the average of imperial-born and imperial-reared rulers.

This rude house in which the ex-president was born, and lived during his early years, is almost overshadowed by the large frame building which the freedmen have erected for their school-house and church,—as if, most significantly, it might protect and preserve, at least the homestead, of one who had deserted the cause he had once embraced. The house stands a few feet from the road with a poor, broken fence in front, with one small window of broken glass, either side of the door, a steep roof, and two low, small rooms, with no outbuildings for the slaves, because Mr. Johnson belonged to that class of poor whites regarded by the southerners themselves as below the negroes. In such abodes have Presidents been born; a marvel to the nations of Europe, but hardly calling for notice among ourselves.

The little home of our teachers, not far from this house, is a comfortable frame building, one story high, with rooms well plastered, a rare thing even in far more pretentious buildings.—Around it are fine elm-trees, and a large garden already (in March) planted.

The peach trees were in full blossom, the flower-gardens were brilliant, but everything bore testimony not only to the indifferent customs of most warm lands, but added thereto the civilized barbarism of slavery—the habits of a people who had not learned to do for themselves, and who had never known what it was to have anything well done for them.

At great distances the fine mansions with their wide chimneys at the ends, with their surrounding shade trees, with the rows of white buildings for the slaves, present an attractive sight; but the general look is one of desolation, of comfort for a few, of destitution for many,—much increased in the Carolinas perhaps by the vast areas of swamp land.

To speak more directly of our teachers' work among the freedmen. I am not to give any theories about what can or should be done with this class, but simply facts and observations of what has been done or is doing. And first let me pay a tribute to those teachers who have gone from our Parish, not only those now at the work, but as well those engaged in it the past few years.*

None more faithful and successful have gone from the North. To abandon all the comforts of a New England home, to give up all the relationships here and be subject to the jests and ridicule of the mismamed ladies of the South; to have the homelicst fare, the rudest dwelling-places, and the hardest work,—these are surely no very inviting conditions, no very promising duties;—but to every one who enters upon them thinking most of the good to be done to a degraded race, there must be some very precious rewards. The intense earnestness of the scholars, who seem to forget age, the deep gratitude for all that is done, the service of bondage turned into the devotion of sympathy, and the improvement daily visible, must compensate for many deprivations.

The building our teachers occupy is a large, unpainted frame house, erected by the Freedmen for a church on Sundays and in the evenings, and for schools on the week days. Two large rooms which can be made one by folding doors, and with rows of benches, are occupied by the scholars of all ages from childhood almost to the allotted term of human life. Here were gathered, when I visited the schools, about hundred pupils, or fifty to each teacher. The session is of necessity one long one, because some walk at least eight miles over roughest roads, and must work before and after the hours of school; and yet to their end a wonderful attention and order are preserved. I never saw so large a school better, I think as well, disciplined. There was less whispering, less restlessness, less disposition to annoy the teachers than in most schools much smaller, while the haste to have something to do on the slate or in the reading-book, was beyond anything I ever saw among us in schools large or small. The opening exercise was to repeat the ten commandments. Somewhat moderately the school began together the first verse of the 20th chapter of Exodus, but it was quite evident that down to the very youngest they all understood fully the meaning of the last clause, for as they reached "out of the house of bondage" —their voices had risen to the highest pitch, and their enthusiasm seemed like that of a victorious army.

The general good appearance of the school far exceeds anything we could expect. The war left the Freedmen in most deplorable circumstances; the whole order of society, contrary to nature as it had been always, was disturbed; the old, the infirm, the sick, cared for by the planters, were thrown upon the care of the well, and the well and strong had nothing with which to support even themselves,—no clothing to wear, no food to eat, no implements with which to cultivate the land. Cast thus upon themselves, their common interest was truly wonderful. I have seen one poor hovel, with but one room and that not very large, with no plastering, with many of the clap-boards broken off, in which a small family had taken, cared for, and supported eleven aged, infirm, or sick, cast off by their former masters. Our teachers have taught them to regard their personal appearance, to come to the school as neatly dressed as possible, and to have a care for their books, which in some instances they now procure with their own earnings.

How long this thirst to learn, or this rapid acquisition of the simple elements of an education will continue no one can prophesy;—but remembering their condition for many generations, there is every reason to suppose that after reaching a certain point it will appear to languish or as least reach but slowly the higher branches, save in some remarkable exceptions. At present, however, there can be no doubt of the fact that the novelty of school for them, or the long delayed desire to learn, or the very necessity of the simple branches, for self protection in the new conditions of society where they must make bargains and defend themselves against the grinding rapacity of the land-owners,—or all these together make them learn, as here in our northern schools we have hardly an example. I called up pupils here and there, in the school, of various ages, questioned them, made them write for me on their slates, and there were those who last Fall knew not one letter from another, that now displayed far better hand-writing than many of the accounts sent to us from our stores. In the matter of writing, perhaps something must be due to their imitative gifts, as a race: but to suppose the freedmen incapable of learning, is merely the prejudice of a fool which a thousand facts daily contradict.

One of the scholars, a girl of sixteen, took a class into another room, and heard it recite, with as perfect order, self-possession, capability, dignity, as has ever been done in our High School. I became slightly acquainted with one of the State Senators, a freedman; who in his general bearing, in his language showing those unmistakeable proofs of reading, culture and thought, was certainly worthy to be compared with our United States Senators. The story of another is not without its significance. In days when it was forbidden the slave to learn to read or write, he watched closely the master's child in his studies, and when by themselves, by questioning him, as to how he wrote his name, or by saying, "you can't write my name," made the child his teacher, until soon strips of paper, were found about the house, with writing by an unknown hand, and better than the white boy's. The work in school hours is only a part of a teacher's duty their homes are besieged by those desiring to learn but too old or too busy to go to the school house. The evening of my arrival one over seventy came to read.

I went into the poor homes of these freedmen, in the town and out of the town in every direction, talked with those, of every age,—but there was only one expression in regard to their freedom; no matter what burdens and difficulties they have had or are to have, they would not accept their former bondage — even the old men and women kindly cared for by their former masters, and not compelled to work beyond their strength, now driven to every extremity, to procure a yam or a sweet potato, rejoiced that they were to die free. Their Christian era dates from the surrender of the town to the Union forces. Their time begins then, and from that everything past or future is reckoned.

"Tell me about the surrender," I said to them, and what you did and thought then. "One day," replied an old man, we heard a great noise far off toward the sea, and I said, "Massa what is that," and the Massa said, "that is thunder;" but I asked him again, and he said he "guessed they were having a battle with the Yankees;" and I said, "Well Massa, there's no danger on our side"—(I hoped there was) and Massa said "of course not, we always whipped the Yankees." But next day they tried to drive us all into the woods, and we had so many things to tend to, and kept turning back, the white folks had to run and leave us, and we never saw them again, and then for three days Mr. Lincoln's men came marching past our house, and we knowed what Massa said was thunder, was the thunder of the Lord."

I asked them manifold questions, about their relations to their former owners, but the burden of all answers was that generally they are cheated out of everything by these chivalrous Southerners, who so draw up the contracts that at the year the freedmen finds he has nothing.

I do not pretend to prophecy the end of all the dangers and difficulties which are upon us from this question, and from many other complications in our government, but only this: I am convinced from personal experience that these schools among the freedmen are of far greater value than any foreign missions; that these teachers are doing a work of vastly greater benefit than any foreign missionaries; that to assist in the freedmen's education is one of the Christian duties the late struggle laid upon us; that any cry of patriotism was all hollow and vain, unless it is willing to help to the uttermost whatever can be helped,—and that doing one, plain simple duty, may as it has so often done before, shed light upon many more complicated, and more darkened, and that for our Parish, we can do nothing more immediately beneficial than to sustain at least sometime longer our faithful teachers

*Last year there were five teachers from the South Parish.

IN THESE HARD TIMES

YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO PAY $4 to $6 for articles of necessary use, when by sending a Club to Parker & Co.'s GREAT ONE DOLLAR SALE OF DRY GOODS, LINENS, PARASOLS, ALBUMS, HOSIERY, SILVER PLATED WARE, JEWELRY, CUTLERY, FRENCH & GERMAN FANCY GOODS, of every description, you can purchase anything in their immense stock for ONE DOLLAR EACH.

The secret of our low prices is this:—We have a very large Cash Capital, and have buyers in all the principal cities of this country and in Europe, who purchase FOR CASH, DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS, all the goods we buy of us, thus saving the consumer the profits made by the Importer or Commission Merchant, the Wholesale and Retail Dealer, each of whom demand a larger profit than taken by us. We can give More Goods for One Dollar than the Retail Merchant for twice or three times that sum. Our goods are described on pink paper, which will be sent in Clubs for Ten Cents each, to pay postage, printing, &c.

If the article named on the Check is not wanted, you can exchange from a list comprising Three Hundred and Fifty Useful Articles, among which are:

LADIES' SILK PARASOLS, LADIES' FINE WHITE TUCKED SKIRTS, SILVER PLATED FIVE BOTTLED CASTORS, and a large variety of useful articles, not one of which can be bought in any other way for nearly double the money.

FACTORY SONG.

BY MRS. L. S. GOODWIN.

The spindles whirl, the bobbins fill,
A little maid tends the thread,
Singing a song of somebody.
And somebody's name is Fred.
She sings aloud, for none can hear,
So noisily goes the mill,
Telling her secret to many an ear,
And keeping her secret still.

The din to her has a goodly sound
Of a carpenter's hammer and saw,
And voice of raisers of cottage walls—
"Heave! heave! hurrah!"
Building a home for a married pair—
And somebody's name is Fred,
And somebody's wife is a factory girl
Spinning the slender thread.

O, never she doubts but somebody thinks
Of her as she thinks of him;
Knowing what day their cup of bliss
Will be full to its very brim.
So to and fro in the aisle she goes,
Lighthearted and light of tread,
Thinking how willing ever she'll work
For the man whose name is Fred.

She doffs the bobbins, they fill again,
And so on all the day;
Then at sound of the bell the little maid
Trips down the stairs and away.
But whether by day or whether by night,
At work or asleep in bed,
Her spirit is singing of somebody
And somebody's name is Fred.

INDIAN CORN PLANTING.—It is generally admitted by the better class of farmers, those who generally have the "good luck" to raise large crops of corn, that to be the more sure of having a good crop, they put some sort of stimulating compost in the hill with the seed at the time of planting. I have found by about twenty years experience that it does not make much difference what the compost consists of, provided it is something that will add a little warmth to the soil about the seed, and afford a little extra plant food in a soluble condition, so as to be immediately taken up by the roots of the young plant.

If corn is planted early in May, as it always should be when the season is warm and dry enough to get the soil in suitable condition, the soil may not be quite warm enough to cause the seed to germinate. Indian corn can not germinate at a less temperature than forty-eight degrees in the soil around it; and although the corn may come up at that temperature, it will not show a healthy dark green color in its young leaves, but will be a sickly yellowish hue, and will hardly grow at all, until the soil gets warmed up to a growing temperature.

To insure a speedy and healthy germination of the seed requires a temperature of sixty or seventy degrees; and a little old manure, or a compost of strong manure and peat, or muck, or loam, where peat or muck cannot be had, put in the hill with the seed, will often insure this temperature about the seed, while the surrounding soil is some degrees below it.

Moisture is also as necessary to the germination of seed as warmth. Old manure, or muck, will retain moisture about the seed after the soil has generally become too dry to allow the seed to germinate. It thus appears plain that manure, or compost, in the hill with the seed, will aid the corn at the most critical point of its growth, its first starting into growth, whether the season be wet and cold, or warm and dry.

I have specified old manure, or a compost made of strong manure and muck, because it is the general opinion among farmers that fresh, or recently made manure, will not answer. Some say it will kill the seed; others say that it must be well rotted before it can supply the plant any nourishment. My own experience has convinced me that both parties are mistaken. I learned by accident, that manure taken directly from the barn cellar, made by cattle only a few days before, put in the hill and the seed dropped directly on it, not only did not kill the corn, but caused it to germinate quickly and grow much better and larger than other corn planted adjoining it without any manure in the hill.

Last year I planted half an acre of corn in the same way, that is, with manure directly from the barn cellar, put in the hill, and the corn grew as well as any corn I ever planted. Another half acre adjoining it, and manured with the best of superphosphate, did not yield so much good sound corn by one quarter, as near as I could estimate. It did so well I shall have no fear to plant all my corn in the same way this year.

But, I should prefer to have it mixed with an equal quantity of peat or muck, if I had it. Night soil, composted with three or four times its bulk or measure of loam, or enough to entirely deodorise it, makes a good fertilizer for this or any other purpose, much better than some of the so called superphosphates which cost sixty dollars per ton.—Ind. Democrat.

—John G. Saxe was walking up Broadway the other day, when he was accosted by a friend, who asked where he was bound. The poet replied, "To Boston this afternoon, Deo volente." "What route is that?" asked the inquirer. "By the way of Providence, of course."

Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.*
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffering what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was cured, and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

The News.

Six valuable River Steamers were burnt at Cincinnati May 12, between 1 and 3 o'clock in the morning. Loss about $250,000. Fire said to have begun by upsetting a lamp in the wash-room of steamer Clifton. Five or six lives are said to have been lost.

The U. S. Mails from the Atlantic, now go by Railroad to the Pacific. The Butterfield Company were last week informed that their contract would cease on the junction of the roads. In Providence, R. I., on Wednesday, the republican candidate, George L. Clarke, was elected mayor by a majority of 1418 over all, the vote standing; Clarke, 3607; Doyle, 1341, and Van Slyck, 835. The city council is mainly republican. The anti-Sprague men are jubilant. Van Slyck was the democratic candidate. Doyle was the Sprague candidate, but declined before election.

At Louisville, May 12, a number of of General Thomas's army comrades repaired to headquarters, to present him with a magnificent silver-service, but the general declined its acceptance on the ground that he was determined never to receive a donation under any circumstances.

From Europe it appears, that a conspiracy against the Portuguese government has been discovered at Lisbon; General Prim favors a Spanish regency; the political excitement in Paris is very great; the North German Parliament has refused to pay its delegates, and the Italian premier has resigned. Second Assistant Postmaster General Smith having been informed that mail contractors on stage routes have at times thrown the mails over to make room for more passengers, he has imposed a fine upon several of them for this practice.

A dispatch from Mauch Chunk, Pa., says the strike in the coal mines continues, and it is thought the men will hold out a long time and accept nothing less than the 15 per cent increase demanded.

Father Claret, the ex-Queen of Spain's unpopular confessor, left Paris with a passport for Rome, where he was to lead a pious life. He went as far as Lyons, and then diverged to Bayonne, got across into Spain, and is now agitating the Biscayan Provinces in favor of Isabella.

Horses 21 in number, including 4 colts belonging to Col. Lang, at North Vassalboro', Maine, were sold by auction there, May 11, for $7000 in all; rather below Market price.

Gold, Thursday, 138 3-8.

EARLY PLANTING.—It begins to be understood now more than ever, says the Rural Farmer, that early planting is the way to take advantage of a drought. The drought usually occurs in summer, mostly midsummer, and the early rains will so advance the crop that it will occupy and shade the ground and form a sufficient growth to reach maturity. If in addition, the ground is made mellow deeply, but especially on the surface, and if the soil is well drained, there can be little doubt of at least a fair yield in good soil.

New Hampshire Items.

Oliver B. Frank and Frederick A. Haskell, were committed to the State Prison on the 10th, for breaking into and stealing goods from the freight cars of the Grand Trunk Railroad, at Gorham, on the 22d of March last. Frank's sentence is two years and Haskell's four. Every cell but one, including those in the hospital, is now occupied.

Joseph Langdell of Wilton lost a very excellent horse by lung fever on the 8th. This horse was of Messenger blood, trotted better than 2.40, six years old, and altogether a splendid animal. The Nashua Telegraph says he was valued at $1000.

Rev. William Morse of Franklin, a venerable and widely known Unitarian clergyman, was stricken with paralysis recently. On the 11th, he was reported as being better. Mr. M. is one of the Grand Chaplains of the Grand Lodge of Free Masons of the State of New-Hampshire.

A belt lately made for the new Langdon Mill, cost $1000.; it is a hundred and seventy-two feet long by two wide, of double thickness, and no rivet or stitch in it, cement only being used in its manufacture. The best parts of seventy ox hides were used up in making it.

A SMART MAN AND A BIG SNOW.—A correspondent at Royalton, Vt., writes that P. Holmes, of that town, made 582 pounds of maple sugar and 10 gallons of syrup, the past season, without any assistance, except during one half day. He drew his buckets to the "sugar place" on a hand-sled, hauled sand, lime and brick thither in the same manner, repaired his arches and chopped all his wood. It snowed in Royalton during the first four days of May. On the morning of the 3d the snow was ten inches deep, and there was good sledding on the morning of the 5th—Mir.

D., gave an account of the contributions of his church for benevolent purposes the past year, and then presented a brief statement of the history of the church for the six years of his pastoral connection with it. "SHAMEFUL TREATMENT OF A HUMAN BEING BY FIENDS IN EQUINE FORM."—Such is the expressive designation of a picture in the last number of New York Hearth and Home. A man is harnessed to a dray which is so heavily loaded that he cannot draw it, and has fallen upon his knees. A stout horse stands by his side, kicking him furiously to make him get up and move on with his load. It is a hard hit for those who indulge in cruelty to animals.

Earthquakes are not usually regarded as blessings in disguise, but it seems that the direct result of the shaking up of Porto Rico in 1867 was advantageous to the peasantry. Work had been dull, but the injury caused by the earthquake created a demand for all kinds of labor, and labor was in active demand.

New Publications.

The Universalist, (newspaper) published in Boston, has just completed its 50th year, dating from the First Number of the Universalist Magazine.—The Publishing House has just issued a fac simile edition of this first number; and it is a noteworthy fact, that Mr. Henry Bowen, who published the old paper, is still living, and active; and the same fingers that were busy in setting the type for it fifty years ago, were employed in setting a part of the type for the fac simile.

The new New York Paper Hearth and Home is getting to be a general favorite. There will be commenced in the next number, a fine story full of interest, by Mrs. Edson, entitled, Marrying Well, to be illustrated.

— A young lady at Troy while engaged in conversation with a gentleman a few days since, spoke of having resided in St. Louis. "Was St. Louis your native place?" inquired the gentleman. "Well yes—part of the time," responded the lady.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.

I earned over $600 in a year, with one needle, on a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine. New-York. m8 MRS. PARKER.

☞ The great number of burglaries and bond robberies suggests the inquiry whose house or office my next be visited. The presence of such valuables as bonds, diamonds, and fine laces, or large quantities of plate, in private residences, is a sore temptation to burglars, attracting them as a loadstone does the steel. The UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston, not only give security to all such property against theft, but also protect from loss by fire and buglar proof, and are guarded by day as well as night. Individual safes therein are leased at a low rate.

HARSH, frizzy, dead-looking, and difficult to dress always result from the use of dyes upon the human hair. A restorative on the contrary, like the admirable preparation known as "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative," renders it soft, glossy and luxuriant.—Springfield Republican.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator

removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to delicate and nervous surfaces. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in a popular form at 50 cents.—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 43 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let Us Protect Ourselves.

The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them, to some extent, from unwholesome influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions, or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. Therefore, it is wisdom, it is prudence, it is common sense to provide against such contingencies, by taking an ANTIDOTE IN ADVANCE; in other words, by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—the most complete protective against all the epidemic and endemic maladies that has ever been administered in any country.

As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whoever suffers the pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be procured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this invaluable TONIC and ALTERATIVE would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the nervous it is also especially recommended, and in cases of confirmed constipation it also affords speedy and permanent relief.

In all cases of fever and ague the BITTERS are more potent than any amount of quinine, while the most dangerous cases of bilious fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the HOSTETTER BITTERS profess to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment we cordially recommend an early application to the BITTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.

Pain is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals, as inevitable as death, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used in any emergency, when we are made to feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the dep.ssing influence of disease.

Such a remedial agent exists in the "PAIN KILLER," the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal ices of the Polar region, or beneath the burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of cold, coughs, bowel complaints, cholera, dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of cuts, burns, bruises, sores, sprains, sting of insects, and other causes of suffering, has secured for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day.

Speaking of those diseases, and disease arising from the excessive use of mercury, he states *that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. Brandreth's Pills vs. Bleeding.

Bleeding may give ease, because the blood left has more room; but the ease does not last, and is followed by permanent weakness.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS relieve the circulation and give ease more surely and almost as quickly as bleeding; but Brandreth's Pills never hurt, and the good they do is permanent, because they take only what the body and blood are better without. Purgation with these pills will be found

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be used to clean out the first stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing ever has ever been invented, or any medical (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the digestion of the food, and helps to make good the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. Disease can be cured in Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made well.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation, ready for suppuration. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

Then there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y|a4

City Council, Thursday Eve, May 13.

In Board of Aldermen, the Com. on Streets reported in favor of granting Concrete Sidewalk to the petition of Daniel Mason and others on Elm St. After discussion of the matter of Concrete and brick walks, edgestones, &c., on motion of Ald. Nowell, the report on petition was laid on the table for one week, and a committee of three was appointed to report an Ordinance defining the grant of Sidewalks generally, at next meeting. Com. consists of Ald. Spinney, Slater and Nowell.

A communication from Mr. Nath'l Hanscom stated that the Com. on Streets are not proceeding in the widening of Myrtle St., according to his desire and their agreement as City agents, and asking that work be stopped on the same, and that the Board of Aldermen visit the premises and examine whether the walks and fence are being properly done. After much discussion, it was voted that the Board visit the premises at half-past 7 Friday morning.

The Common Council gave notice that they had non-concurred in the Aldermen's amendments to Appropriation Bill. The Aldermen voted to adhere to their amendments, and asked the Council for a joint Com. of Conference on the subject—appointing the Com. on Finance on the part of the Aldermen,—but the Council had adjourned.

The Council also asked the concurrence of the Board in an amendment to Ordinance No 104, increasing the pay of City Messenger from Jan 1st last, $500—which was referred to Com. on Bills on 2d Reading.

Petition of A. L. Jones, W. F. Parrott and nearly all the residents in Middle St. between State and Cabot, that said street be put in proper repair, was referred to Com. on Streets.

Likewise petition for repairs of Market St.

Petition of Sophia Alton and others for new highway from Dover to Mystic St., over the Railroads and across the North Millpond, referred to same Com.

Petition of S. D. Scriggins and other resident on Marlborough St., for restoration of Sewer, was laid over for one week.

M. H. Goodrich gave notice he has moved a fence on Dennett and Woodbury Sts., and left defects in the highway. More work for Com on Sts.

The Freeman's Point Road extension was discussed, and Mr. W. F. Fernald appeared to ask a certain route. Voted that the Board visit the premises Friday morning from Myrtle St.

Notice was given that Mr. Broderick has encroached on Gates St. by building steps out into the same. Referred to Com. on Sts.

John E. Locke was granted the use of Pest Island for pasturage, on paying $5 to City Clerk, and agreeing to look after the buildings there.

Storer Encampment, by Adjt. E. A. Tilton, invited the City Council to attend the decoration of Soldiers' graves on Memorial Day. Ald. Cotton moved to accept the invitation, which was unanimously adopted. It was also unanimously voted to appropriate $75 to pay for the Band for the Encampment, on the occasion.

The Com. on Sts. were authorized to repair the railing at Spring Market, and Liberty, South Mill and Sagamore Bridges when needing it.

At quarter to 10 o'clock, adjourned, to meet at half-past 7 Friday morning at Myrtle Street.

☞ Father Murphy, Catholic Priest, of this city, was on the train from Portland which met with the accident, Monday; and he gave absolution to the dying young man Mr. Lamprey. Mr. Murphy is quite sure no other person was seriously injured except those we name; and our account of the affair given elsewhere, is mainly from Superintendent Chase himself.

☞ John Reynolds of Portland, a brakeman on the P. S. & P. Railroad, was seriously injured at Brock's Crossing on Monday night by being jammed between the cars. After being thus jammed the train started, and Mr. Reynolds was thrown on the track. The flange of the wheel struck the calf of one of his legs, tearing the whole leg open up to the thigh, but breaking no bones.

POLICE COURT, May 13, before Justice Odell. Patrick Mead, for being drunk, was fined $3; costs 5.70.

Patrick Bates and Mary his wife, were held to bail in $100, to answer in Court for an assault with a slung shot.

THE RAILROAD ACCIDENT at South Berwick, was as usual in such cases, reported at first more serious to life and limb, than was actually the fact. Although the train was a long double one, and contained nine passenger cars well filled, the accident, by a wonderful Providence, was not coupled with the terrible mortality which might reasonably be expected.

Besides Mr. Lamprey, the baggagemaster, who died soon after; Mr. Albert Dodge, of Portland, the engineer, who was injured, but able to proceed to his house,—Mrs. Augusta Stevens of Saco, who had a leg broken in two places, but was not otherwise greatly injured—it is believed no other person was seriously hurt, notwithstanding all the rumors, and some pretences no doubt.

The Portland Argus says it seems to be the universal opinion of the Railroad men, that the track was tampered with, as the half-past 8 train went over safely, and a gang of track repairers in a hand-car afterwards found all right. A couple of rough-looking fellows are said to have left So. Berwick a short time previous, on the track; and they may have torn up the rail.

At twenty minutes past ten, the train running at a pretty good rate of speed, struck a slight up grade leading to the private crossing at Hayes' Cut. The engineer, as they approached, saw a rail torn up and the nearest end drawn a foot or two toward the centre of the track bed. He immediately reversed his engine and whistled for the brakemen to brake up.

Just a few feet beyond the defect in the track were two culverts cut through the bed of the road for the passage of water. Into the first the engine plunged, and the engineer, Mr. Albert Dodge, and the fireman, Mr. Thomas Jones, as the engine tipped, leaped off. The engine-cab and top work came off with a sweep and the engine turned almost bottom up; the baggage, postal and smoking cars, and one passenger car, all of the Eastern road, in the order, following, were used hard—yes, almost completely smashed into pieces, and the fragments strewn by the side of the rails in all directions. The Boston & Maine cars did not leave the iron.

The scene of the disaster at the time was terrible, and the actions of the frightened passengers would have been laughable but for the groans of the wounded. The steam was rushing from the boiler of the engine, and, as the passengers crawled out of the cars, most of them took to flight, thinking the boiler would blow up.

Mr. Freeman Lamprey, the baggage master on the Eastern Railroad, and Mr. Joseph Reed, brakeman, at the signal from the engine, rushed from the baggage car to set up the brakes, and as the crash came, both disappeared in the ruins. The groans of Mr. Lamprey called the attention first of Mr. Payson Tucker, conductor of the train, who with others extricated the man, who was found to be frightfully and fatally hurt. The brakeman near him at the brake of the postal car was more fortunate,—he had a hand jammed only. Mr. Brumell, mail agent, was covered up in the wreck, and though not seriously injured, was somewhat scratched and wrenched. As the engine struck the culvert, dislocating the cab, some of the connections to the steam were broken and both the engineer and fireman were badly scalded, but even with their other injuries are not dangerously injured.

Conductor Tucker, who was knocked down on to the seats in a passenger car by the sudden stopping, and received a heavy blow on the forehead, was as usual prompt, and as quick as he could hastened on foot to South Berwick and sent an engine to Salmon Falls for physicians, stimulants, bandages, &c., which were soon on the spot.

Up to now this well conducted P. S. & P. Company had not met with an accident of any amount to their cars for a little over seven years, and the accident at that time (at Wells) did not cause injury to the person of either passenger or employee.

The passengers speak very highly of the generous and kind treatment given them by Superintendent Chase and his men, who cared for all, and exceedingly well for those injured.

☞ The body of Mr. Freeman Lamprey was taken to his home in Hampton on the Wednesday evening train, and his funeral will take place to-day, Friday, at 2 o'clock.

☞ Ship Garnet, (of Boston) Briard, at New York from Bombay, reports May 3 to 7th, encountered heavy weather on the southern edge of the Gulf Stream, blowing in terrific squalls from W N W to N E, during which split lower foretopsail and blew away fore topmast staysail.

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINER SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low prices."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other House in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST and blank club orders.
Address all orders and communications to the

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY,

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our distant customers, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants all over the country to act as agents for distributing our Goods in their locality at our Warehouse Prices. The Merchant Service,—No X.

Capt. Rogers, master of the Boston ship Beatrice, told his men (of whom I was one,) when nearing the port of Hong Kong, that he wished no desertion from his ship; that any man who desired to leave should have have his money, and permission to go; and that those who stopped by the ship should have their money as it became due, to the last penny if desired. Well! we did draw, and spend, a good part of our wages; but we had a perfect (not legal) right so to do,—and Capt. Rogers did not question that right; and I am very much mistaken if he was not proud of his well-dressed, respectable-looking crew, as they came on board from liberty on shore, sober and clean, or went to church on Sunday in his sampan, as decent and orderly a body of working men as one need wish to see:—at any rate, he boasted of them pretty well. Three only of our men left the ship; and they did so because, having gone on shore one evening and found shipmates among the British man-o'-war's-men, they got drunk and locked up, and were ashamed to rejoin! They were heavily punished for their folly, by getting on board one of our famous floating hells. Of Capt. Rogers or his ship I have not heard for many years, but my trip with him is a bright spot in my memories of the sea.

The captain (and owner) of the British barque Velocidade told his men, immediately after leaving England, that they were to consider themselves as men, and were expected to act as such; giving them similar assurances as to receiving their pay, and leaving the ship if they wished, as the master of the Beatrice gave his crew. The Velocidade went to India, thence to China, thence to Australia. From there she went to New Zealand and took in a cargo of wool, the ship's company doing the stowage,—and she finally left for England, carrying every man of her original crew home with her.

Some years ago, in New Zealand, I joined a steamer as mate. Our employ was very liberal to the men, giving the highest wages, and an abundance of the best food procurable; yet we had about as much trouble to retain our crew as other vessels. At last, at my urgent solicitation, the captain was induced to try a simple verbal agreement (as we were engaged in trading within one Province, we were not obliged to carry "articles,") with the seamen; and from that time forward,—the men being free to demand their wages and leave at twelve hours' notice, and liable to be discharged as promptly if they failed to give satisfaction,—there was no more trouble.

I remained in that steamer for three years; the first as mate, the second as master, and the third as mate again,—the steamer having changed owners; and the same crew that made the word-of-mouth contract at first, with the exception of one man, were with me when the vessel went to pieces under our feet. And during that whole time I did not have to repeat a once-heard order, nor have a command disputed, nor hear even the slightest insolence; and though trusted to a very considerable extent, the seamen never failed to justify the confidence reposed in them.

I do not think our men were any better than other sailors; in fact, two of them joined us direct from "the hulks," where they had been confined for three months, with hard labor and loss of wages, as "refractory seamen," i. e., they refused to go to sea in a ship in which they had been ill-treated; but two better, more capable or more willing men I have not met. I do not think the crews of the Beatrice and Velocidade were unusually moral, or blessed with good sense above all other sailors. The Beatrice, I know, was manned as nearly all American ships are, by foreign seamen,—most of them British.—But they remained by the ship; and no possible laws would enable a vessel to carry home a larger proportion of her crew than the Velocidade did of hers.—The men had sense enough to know that they were not likely to benefit by a change, and so they did not care to experiment.

From what I saw in these cases, and from I have known of the sentiments of many hundreds of seamen, I am convinced that the sailor-enslaving laws, if intended to secure to ships the retention of their crews, have miserably failed to effect their purpose; if they were meant only to degrade and brutalize seamen, their success has been brilliant; but whatever their original objects, they are now a burning disgrace to a nation that professes to advocate freedom and justice to all men.

PAKEHA.

ALLIGATOR RACES IN THE SUNNY SOUTH.—Those who are of the opinion that there is "nothing new under the sun," had better take a trip to Jacksonville, Florida, where, according to the "Union" of that place, some sporting races are taking place between juvenile alligators. These races were inaugurated by the guests of the St. James Hotel, to counteract the hot weather; and it is perhaps needless to add that their expectations were more than realized. At the first race the following alligators were entered:—

Nimble Jack, by J. Cornell of N. Y.
Boston Boy, by A. H. Rhodes, Boston.
Spotted Tail, by A.B. Hershell.
Champion Maid, by M. A. Parker.
Gazelle, by N. Hymes, of New York.
Purse $50—best two in three.

First heat—The alligators, after some belligerent demonstrations, got off well together, making good time at the quarter pole. Spotted Tail bolted the track, to the consternation of the lady spectators, who incontinently fled and nimbly mounted the adjacent chairs and settees, until the ferocious monster was captured. At the three-quarter pole Gazelle and Boston Boy dashed among the spectators, causing an amusing panic, but were soon restored to the track, and made desperate efforts to regain the lead. Nimble Jack, however, came in winner, closely followed by Champion Maid.

Second heat—The alligators took the track well, and all got a good start, dashing off in fine style. All were neck and neck at the three-quarter pole, but in coming down the home stretch Champion Maid took the lead and held it to the end, closely followed by Nimble Jack.

Third heat—Nimble Jack got the lead in starting and held it throughout, Champion Maid coming in second.

The second race will come off some time next week, the animals being now in training. No alligators more than four feet long will be admitted to the track.

—An illiterate negro preacher said to his congregation—"My bredren, when de fust man Adam was made, he was ob wet clay, and set up agin de palings to dry." "Do you say," said one of the hearers, "dat Adam was made ob wet clay, and set up agin de paling to dry?" "Yes, sar, I do." "Who made de palings?" "Sit down, sar," said the preacher sternly; "such questions as dat would upset any system of theology."

IN THESE HARD TIMES

YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO PAY three or four profits on articles of necessary use, when by sending to Parker & Co.'s GREAT ONE DOLLAR SALE OF DRY GOODS, LINENS, PARASOLS, ALBUMS, HOSIERY, SILVER PLATED WARE, JEWELRY, CUTLERY, FRENCH & GERMAN FANCY GOODS, of every description, you can purchase anything in their immense stock for ONE DOLLAR EACH.

The secret of our low prices is this:—We have a very large Cash Capital, and have buyers in all the principal cities of this country and in Europe, who purchase GOODS FOR CASH, DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS, all the goods used by us, thus saving the consumer the profits made by the Importer or Commission Merchant, the Wholesale and Retail Dealer, each of whom demand a larger profit than taken by us. We can give More Goods for One Dollar than the Retail Merchant for three times that price. All of our goods are described on printed checks, which will be sent in Clubs for Ten Cents each, to pay postage, printing, &c.

If the article named on the Check is not wanted, you can exchange from a list comprising Three Hundred and Fifty Useful Articles, among which are—

LADIES' SILK PARASOLS, LADIES' FINE WHITE TUCKED SKIRTS, SILVER PLATED FYE TOOTHED CASTORS, and a large variety of useful articles, not one of which can be bought in any other way for nearly double the money.

Reference will be given, if required, from the most reliable Wholesale Merchants of Boston and New York, as to our standing and the strictly honorable character of our business.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs. ☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease. ☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time. ☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

A BIRD'S NEST.

Over my shaded doorway
Two little brown-winged birds
Have chosen to fashion their dwelling,
And utter their loving words;
All day they are going and coming
On errands frequent and fleet,
And warbling over and over,
"Sweetest, sweet, sweet, O sweet!"

Their necks are changeful and shining,
Their eyes are like living gems:
And all day long they are busy,
Gathering straws and stems,
Lint, and feathers, and grasses,
And half forgetting to eat,
Yet never failing to warble,
"Sweetest, sweet, sweet, O sweet!"

I scatter crumbs on the doorstep,
And fling them some glossy threads;
They fearlessly gather my bounty,
And turn up their graceful heads,
And chatter and dance and flutter,
And scrape with their tiny feet,
Telling me over and over,
"Sweetest, sweet, sweet, O sweet!"

What if the sky is clouded?
What if the rain comes down?
They are all dressed to meet it,
In water-proof suits of brown.
They never mope nor languish,
Nor murmur at storm or heat,
But say, whatever the weather,
"Sweetest, sweet, sweet, O sweet!"

Always merry and busy,
Dear little brown-winged birds!
Teach me the happy magic
Hidden in those soft words,
Which always, in shine or shadow,
So lovingly you repeat
Over and over and over,
"Sweetest, sweet, sweet, O sweet!"

FLORENCE PERCY.

"LITTLE MAC" STILL THE "GREAT UNREADY."—Gen. McClellan has the same indecision as a superintendent of the Stevens floating battery, at Hoboken, N. J., with a salary of $10,000 a year, that characterized him as a general. According to a statement made by one of the mechanics under him, the General is troubled with the same complaint that paralyzed all his military operations. He, an original McClellan man, says the working men of the country have been deceived in McClellan, who is pictured as a cold-blooded tyrant, treating working men "like dogs." The first act of the General was to cut down wages.

Every two or three weeks, says the writer, McClellan changed his plans, being as unable to decide upon and stick to any one plan now as he was when in the army. Whenever he changes his plans, he stops work and throws the men out of employment for a week or so. "A while ago," says the writer, "we were all kept idle for a week, while a simple matter as to whether there should be six or eight chimneys to the blacksmith shop, was under consideration, which might have been decided in ten minutes, and which shows that the puttering way of the General down in the army, is one of the characteristics of the man."

PLANTING CORN AND POTATOES.—In "marking out" land for corn or potatoes, make the marks as straight as possible one way. Then, in the case of potatoes, plant early, and as soon as the plants are up sufficiently to show the rows, go over the field with a cultivator, twice in a row, so close to each side of these straight rows as to deeply and thoroughly work the soil in the hills or rows. This can be much more thoroughly and advantageously done where the rows are scrupulously straight.—Give ordinary or suitable after cultivation. There might be an advantage in first going over the potatoes with a square harrow inverted, as is recommended of late. In cultivating corn after this method, be careful to cover as little as possible and allow none to remain covered.

The first acre of potatoes that I raised "on this line" didn't "take all summer," and they were so large and uniform in size and every way so nice that I charged six cents a bushel above the market price for them, in "cheap times," and got it. How differently situated are any crops thus cultivated, from those which are allowed to grow (take their chances) in hills or rows a foot or more across, uncultivated, except perhaps scratched with a hoe, and sure to dry out and become as compact as you please, only more so.—Cor. N. E. Far.

—The Mount Pleasant (Iowa) Press of a recent date, says: "Out of fifty women eating supper at a festival, it is a fact that thirty of them sit on one of their feet. Why do they?" The Oskaloosa Citizen undertakes to give an answer in the following atrocious manner: "They don't out this way. You can find no woman in this bailiwick with a foot big enough for any thirty other women to sit on. Not much.—Good Heavens! what underpinning the Mount Pleasant dames must have, if the above reflection of our bachelor cotemporary was suggested by actual observation. And yet, in case of a grasshopper rain, two or three such feet around on a farm couldn't be sneezed at."

TOP DRESSING.—The best for grass land on sandy loam, is probably a rich compost of clear barn manure thoroughly mingled with old meadow muck. Two parts of muck to one of manure will make an excellent compost.—Farmer.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which they will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made two years of my life one long misery. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LISBY,

The News.

Postmaster-General Creswell has reorganized the special mail service. It is now divided into six grand divisions, and each division into three districts, except the first, which has but two, and the sixth, which includes the Territories and the Pacific slope, and has six. Each division has a superintendent of the railway service, who is responsible for the post office officers in the division, and reports direct to the department;—an inspector, and an agent to investigate mail depredations. Thos. P. Cheney of Holderness, N. H., is appointed Superintendent of the first division.

The workmen at the different Navy Yards are formally protesting against the reduction of pay.

Connecticut has ratified the 15th Constitutional Amendment. It passed the Senate 13 to 6, and the House 126 to 104.

There are 37 Departments and 2050 Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic in the United States.

Reverdy Johnson has taken leave of Queen Victoria.

Two serious crevasses are reported on the Mississippi River, one a few miles below New Orleans, and the other near Baton Rouge. Considerable alarm has been excited, and a strict watch is kept over the New Orleans levees.

J. M. Edmunds of Michigan is appointed Postmaster at Washington, D.C.

The first through train from Springfield, Mass., arrived in Sacramento on Wednesday.

All the Democratic members of the Indiana Legislature but two resigned again on Thursday, to prevent the ratification of the 15th Constitutional Amendment. The Senate ratified the Amendment 27 to 1,—11 not voting.

The Triple-Alliance story (of England, France and Spain against the United States) is a hoax.

New Hampshire Items.

A Newmarket letter to the Wolfeborough News says, "In my last communication I wrote of a mechanic who pawned his hat for rum. Another mechanic, who has kept his pledge, has bought a cow, for which he paid fifty dollars.

J. Wesley Wiggin, who keeps a livery stable in Newmarket, lately lost a horse worth $250. He took fright and ran off the wharf into the dock, causing his death in a few hours.

Isaac Dame of Tuftonborough made during the late sap season one thousand pounds of sugar, and Daniel Grant, Esq., of the same town, made about fourteen hundred pounds. The run was short but abundant. The crop in that region was nearly an average one.

They raise some fine Cattle in Moultonborough. Mr. W. H. Brown of that town has a pair of Devon steers, 4 years old, which girt 7 feet, 2 inches, and Mr. Lucian Dow has a pair of yearlings that girt nearly five feet. A hen belonging to the last named gentleman laid an egg recently which measured six inches in circumference one way, and eight and one-half the other, and that weighed four ounces.

The Governor and Council have postponed the subject of a pardon for Barnum Page of Woodstock.

In accordance with a vote of the last Legislature, the Council have destroyed twelve hundred thousand dollars' worth of State bonds and coupons, which have been redeemed at various dates since 1861.

Elijah M. Topliff, the new United States Collector for the Second Congressional District, has opened his office and entered upon his duties at Manchester. He has a fine reputation for business capacity and integrity.

RAILROAD SCHEME.—In Boston, on Thursday, while the subject of cheap transportation was before the Legislative Committee on Railways, Col. John H. George, Counsel for the Boston & Lowell Railroad, took occasion to lay before the committee a bill for the consolidation into one road of the Boston & Lowell, Nashua & Lowell, Nashua & Concord, Northern, Vermont Central and Ogdensburg Railroads, covering the entire line between and Ogdensburg N. Y., to be called the Great Northern Railroad. It is understood that all the roads mentioned above are in favor of consolidation. A hearing upon the matter will be given at a future day.

THE S. J. COURT at Exeter is engaged in investigating the conduct of Hendrick D. Batchelder, a member of the Rockingham Bar, to see if his conduct warrants his expulsion from the Bar.

Up The Road.

A trip inland at this season of the year is always refreshing, and a more pleasant route by rail is not afforded hereabouts than over the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad to the State capital and beyond. The faithful conductors, Messrs. Gale and Maynard, are always attentive to the comfort of their passengers, and run the trains as regular as clock work,—which is an agreeable change from the olden time, when the journey through was more to be dreaded than looked forward to with pleasure. The employees of the Road are over promptly at their posts of duty, and no position on a railroad train is unimportant, inasmuch as the least neglect or the slightest delay might bring disastrous consequences. Brakemen, engineers and firemen render most important service, which is seldom thought of, and when thought of seldom appreciated, by the larger portion of the travelling public.

A pressure of business, with not a little desire for a change from every day labor, led us to try the fresh mountain breezes, on a May day which was too decidedly summerish to be comfortable except in shady places, and whose uncommon warmth was liable to be changed to chilly winds at any moment. And at Newmarket Junction the moment was at hand, for in thirty minutes the mercury fell as many degrees, a change as agreeable to perspiring mortals as it was suggestive of colds and far more "ills that flesh is heir to," liable to be contracted by reason of the sudden change.

At Manchester we found Hon. Fred Smyth, one of New Hampshire's most excellent Ex-Governors, devoting his time to office duty as a respite from the farm labor which he is none too dignified to engage in,—a self made man, enterprising, sagacious and public spirited, whose adopted city is making rapid strides while Portsmouth, 36 miles away, is quiescent. We made a hasty call on Br. John B. Clarke, State Printer, jolly and rotund as ever, brimming full of good humor, and enjoying hugely the grand joke of the Boston Advertiser, which paper accidentally had consigned the "Mirror" (which is nineteen years old, and hale and hearty,) to oblivion, when 'twas the "News," a four months' babe, which had prematurely gone the way of all things earthly,—with the best wishes of its friends.

That Manchester is wide awake and expanding is at once evident to the observer, and we were much surprised on being informed that another year would see several hundred new buildings erected, and 5000 added to the present population! The Amoskeag Corporation are to erect 200 or 300 tenement houses, shortly, for the accommodation of the operatives. The city is a model of industry, its inhabitants being mostly workers, who toil and reap handsome dividends, instead of rusting away and losing all ambition for honorable business success. We should judge that aristocrats and doughnuts in Manchester do not compose a very large or important portion of the present population, nor take any very prominent part in public affairs. G.

THE PROGRESS OF THE COLISEUM for the great Musical Festival is fully illustrated in Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper this week. Seven pictures are given, showing the state of the building a few days since; also pictures illustrating scenes in connection with this mammoth undertaking, an excellent one showing the examination of vocalists trying their voices, scene at the sale of tickets, &c. This week's number also contains some very interesting pictures of Aiken, S. C., the new Mecca for consumptives. Frank Leslie announces that his paper for weeks to come will have interesting pictures illustrating the Coliseum and scenes in Boston. For sale by all news dealers.

JUBILATE. — The magnificent songstress, Madame Parepa Rosa, has been engaged to sing at the National Peace Jubilee, and in her letter accepting the invitation of the Executive Committee she says she never felt any higher compliment than to be asked to add her co-operation to so great and worthy an object.

The Building Committee for the Coliseum consists of Messrs. M. M. Ballou, George H. Davis (of Hallet, Davis & Co.), and Lewis Rice (of the American House); Mr. Eben D. Jordan (of Jordan, Marsh & Co.) being Treasurer.—Mr. S. R. Niles is the Advertising Agent for the Jubilee.

The building contract was awarded to Messrs. Judah Sears & Son, and that for furnishing the lumber to Messrs. George B. James & Co., Mr. John R. Hall, the well-known architect, being selected to act as immediate superintendent.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let Us Protect Ourselves.

The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them, to some extent, from unwholesome influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions, or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. Therefore, it is wisdom, it is prudence, it is common sense to provide against such contingencies, by taking an ANTIDOTE IN ADVANCE; in other words, by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—the most complete protective against all the epidemic and endemic maladies that has ever been administered in any country.

As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whoever suffers the pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be procured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this invaluable TONIC and ALTERATIVE would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the nervous it is also especially recommended, and in cases of confirmed constipation it also affords speedy and permanent relief.

In all cases of fever and ague the BITTERS are more potent than any amount of quinine, while the dangerous consequences of the latter are avoided by its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the HOSTETTER BITTERS profess to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment we cordially recommend an early application to the BITTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.

Pain is supposed to be the lot of its poor mortals, as inevitable as death, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used in any emergency, when we are made to feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the depressing influence of disease.

Such a remedial agent exists in the "PAIN KILLER," the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal ices of the Polar region, of beneath the burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of cold, coughs, bowel complaints, cholera, dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that cannot be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of cuts, burns, bruises, sores, sprains, sting of insects, and other causes of suffering, has secured for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. Call for Perry Davis' Vegetable "Pain Killer," and take none other. ☞ Sold by all druggists and grocers. a18

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his rival success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off in easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to take, nature throws it out as much as she can,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, acts on the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, when the bile, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, and the tubercles are ripening to come out, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 38 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1as

CITY COUNCIL, May 14th.—A Special Meeting was called by the Mayor, for the passage of the Appropriation Bill.

In the Aldermen, the Com. on Streets reported in favor of repairs on Market and Middle Streets—and it was voted that the repairs be made.

The same Com. also reported in favor of granting new Highway and Bridge over the Railroads and North Pond, at Dover and Myrtle Streets. Ald. Cotton moved to indefinitely postpone the subject, as it seemed impossible to get even small additions made to the Appropriation Bill by the Common Council, and it would be unreasonable to hope for the large sum this would require. To postpone, Yeas, Cotton and Clark, 2; Nays, Slater, Spinney, Pendexter, Miller and Nowell, 5; Pender absent, sick.

A motion to authorize Com. on Streets with Ald. Pendexter added, to procure survey and estimates for said road and bridge, was carried by the same yea and nay vote.

The Common Council sent notice that they non-concurred in the Aldermen's amendments to App. Bill, and declined to appoint a joint Com. of Conference!

The Aldermen voted to repeat their request to the Council, for Conference; and the Council acceded. Said Committee, consisting of the Joint Com. on Finance, except the Mayor, after a long conference, reported as below.

Meantime, Ald. Miller offered a resolution that an Ordinance be passed requiring Dogs to be licensed. Passed, and Ald. Miller and Slater appointed Com to report said Ordinance.

Com. on Streets were authorized to place a rail around the excavation on Woodbury and Dennett Streets, when Mr. M. H. Goodrich moves his fence back to the line of the Street, as fixed by the town in 1837; and that Mr. Hoyt be employed to lay the line of the street.

Conference Appr. Com. came in, and reported unable to agree on all points, —that the Council Com. insisted on the Franklin School Appropriation, but would alter, "to provide suitable accommodations for the Primary School in the 1st Dist.;" that on Watch, the Com. would not make the amount $3500, but insisted on $1000 less; that the Council accepted the $500 additional for Streets and Sewers, and the $1000 for Vaughan Street Sewer, but declined to increase the $500 for rent and repairs of Schoolhouses.

The Aldermen voted to accept the Franklin School Appropriation; but refused, by Yeas 3, Cotton, Clark and Nowell,—Nays 4, Pendexter, Slater, Spinney and Miller, to reduce the Watch amount.

The Aldermen sent down the Appropriation Bill thus, and asked a new special Com. of Conference on the articles of disagreement—appointing Ald. Spinney and Miller on the part of this Board.

The Council insisted on having the Franklin Schoolhouse enlarged; and sent Councilmen Hoyt, Dickson and Marvin to the second Conference.—This reported to swallow the Franklin Schoolhouse pill, and to retain the $3550 for Watch and $500 extra for Schoolhouse rent and repairs.

The Aldermen adopted all this, and sent the App. Bill down thus completed on their part, if concurred in. But alas! the Com. Council refused to keep the six Night Watch on, (or to give the $3500 needed for the purpose,) and at quarter-past 11 both Boards adjourned, without passing the bills, the Aldermen having given up in almost every point, (except the original $3000 appropriation for the Common,) to the lower Board; but the end is not yet.

The Aldermen appointed half-past 6 o'clock Monday morning next, to visit Freeman's Point Road.

U. S. COLLECTOR.—Hon. James M. Lovering of Exeter, on Tuesday turned over the office of Collector of Internal Revenue for the First N. H. District, to his successor, Andrew H. Young, Esq., of Dover. Mr. Lovering has been a most capable, efficient and courteous officer, and given complete satisfaction in the arduous and responsible position —as no doubt Mr. Young will also do. We are indebted to Mr. L. for numerous favors; and herewith give his report of the amount of business done in his precinct during his term of six years and eight months service in the department—and the footing up does not look to us as though all the money was wasted, or all the people in poverty.

YORK, May 14.

Messrs. Editors:—We have lately had a new idea in the cause of baptism,—applied to a young man here whose name has for several years, been coupled scandalously with that of a widow, and rumor saith, has at divers times abused the aforesaid Mrs. —alias his wife, devoting her pension money, (to which she undoubtedly has no proper claim,) to the use of himself, the said young man.

A few nights ago a party of men in proper suits, went to the house of said couple or pair,—took him from bed en dishabille, carried him to a pump near by and proceeded to baptism by pumping the cold liquid upon his nakedness for a long period of time, to wit: for the space of twenty minutes or more, since which time he aforesaid has behaved himself as "a chaste and faithful husband." Yours truly, CORNELIUS.

☞ The Funeral Services of Mr. Oliver Freeman Lamprey, were held on Friday afternoon, at Hampton, in the Congregational Meeting House, which was filled with mourning relatives and sympathizing friends. Among these were about thirty of his associates, employed on the Railroad, mostly young men, both officers and others, many of whom were deeply affected.

The services were conducted by Rev. Messrs. Durgin and Bell, both of whom made addresses; aided by two other clergymen in the other exercises.

The addresses were eulogistic of the character and life of the deceased, consolatory to the mourners, and advisory to young men.

KITTERY.—Frederick Billings of Kittery was robbed of $100, Wednesday night, on one of the sound boats from New York. Mr. Billings is a steady and hard working young man.

Capt. John Lowry of Kittery Point, Watchman of the Navy Yard, fell and broke his arm at that place on Friday, suffering a compound fracture.

A little son of Orin Caswell, four years old, fell beneath a cart-load of manure on Wednesday, and had his thigh broken. On the same day a boy, 15 years old, from Trenton, Me., fell on board a schooner, and broke his leg.—He was immediately taken to the Alms House by the town authorities, where he has the best of care.

☞ We are desired by Mr. Cole to state that he held the office of Constructor's Clerk at the Navy Yard, nearly 22 years. He displaced no one when he took the position, which was then new; and his salary was $400 for four years, $650 for six years, $800 for eight years, $1000 for two or three years, $1200 for one year, and $1400 for a part of one year only.

☞ The Rockingham Trotting Park Association having this week been incorporated as the Piscataqua Agricultural Society, under the General Act of Incorporation,—will hold their first Election of Officers at the National Hotel, this Saturday Evening at 8 o'clock.

☞ The Directors of the Philharmonic Society have arranged for a Rehearsal at Mr. Tilton's Music Room on Daniel Street, Tuesday Evening next, and on the third Tuesday of each month.

☞ The noon train from Boston on the B. & M. Railroad collided with a freight train at Wakefield on Monday. The freight train was wrongly switched off, which caused the accident. The cars were somewhat injured, but no person was hurt.

☞ See Auction column, for various Sales to-day and next week.

DOLLY.

A Western Drover's Story.

My name is Anthony Hunt. I am a drover; and I live miles and miles away upon the Western prairie. There was not a home in sight when we moved there, my wife and I, and now we have not many neighbors; those we have are good ones.

One day about ten years ago, I went away from home to sell some fifty head of cattle—fine creatures as I ever saw. I was to buy some dry goods and groceries before I came back, and above all, a doll for our youngest Dolly; she had never had a store doll of her own, only the big babies her mother had made her.

Dolly could talk of nothing else, and went to the very gate to call after me to "buy a big one." Nobody but a parent can understand how full my mind was of that toy, and how, when the cattle were sold, the first thing, I hurried off to buy Dolly's doll. I found a large one, with eyes that would open and shut when you pulled a wire, and had it wrapped up in a paper, and tucked it under my arm, while I had the parcels of calico and delaine and tea and sugar put up. Then late as it was, I started for home. It might have been more prudent to stay until morning, but I felt anxious to get back, and eager to hear Dolly's prattle about her doll.

I was mounted on a steady-going old horse of mine, and pretty well-loaded. Night set in before I was a mile from town, and settled down dark as pitch while I was in the middle of the darkest bit of road I know of. I could have felt my way, though I remembered it so well, and it was almost that when the storm that had been brewing, broke, and pelted the rain in torrents, five miles, or may be six, from home yet, too.

I rode on as fast as I could, but all of a sudden I heard a little cry like a child's voice. I stopped short and listened—I heard it again. I called and it answered. I couldn't see a thing; all was dark as pitch. I got down and felt about the grass—called again, and again was answered. Then I began to wonder. I'm not timid, but I was known to be a drover and to have money about me. It might be a trap to catch me unawares and rob and murder me. I am not superstitious—not very, but how could a real child be out on the prairie in such a storm, at such an hour? It might be more than human.

The bit of coward that hides itself in most men showed itself to me then, and I was half inclined to run away, but once more I heard that cry, and said I: "If any man's child is hereabouts, Anthony Hunt is not the man to let it die."

I searched again. At last I bethought me of a hollow under the hill, and groped that way. Sure enough, I found a little dripping thing that moaned and sobbed as I took it in my arms. I called my horse, and the beast came to me, and I mounted, and tucked the little soaked thing under my coat as well as I could, promising to take it home to mammy. It seemed tired to death, and pretty soon cried itself to sleep against my bosom.

It had slept there over an hour when I saw my own windows. There were lights in them, and I supposed my wife had lit them for my sake, but when I got into the door yard I saw something was the matter, and stood still with a dead fear of heart five minutes before I could lift the latch. At last I did it, and saw the room full of neighbors, and my wife in the midst of them, weeping. When she saw me she hid her face.

"Oh, don't tell him," she said, "it will kill him."

"What is it, neighbor?" I cried.

And one said, "Nothing now, I hope—what's that in your arms?"

"A poor, lost child," said I. "I found it on the road. Take it, will you, I've turned faint," and I lifted the sleeping thing and saw the face of my own child, my own Dolly.

It was my darling, and none other, that I had picked up upon the drenched road. My little child had wandered out to meet "daddy" and the doll, while her mother was at work, and whom they were lamenting as one dead. I thanked Heaven on my knees before them all. It is not much of a story, neighbors, but I think of it often in the nights, and wonder if I could bear to live now if I had not stopped when I heard the cry for help on the road, the little baby cry, hardly louder than a squirrel's chirp.

That's Dolly yonder with her mother in the meadow, a girl worth saving—I think (but then, I'm her father, and partial, may be)—the prettiest and sweetest thing this side of the Mississippi.

☞ Old Dickey S. is a very wealthy but illiterate East India merchant, and a member of the Oriental Club of London. One day Dickey took a pair of compasses and set about examining a large map of India, the margin of which was illustrated with drawings of the wild and domestic animals of the country. Suddenly Dick droped the compasses in amazement. "It can't be! it ain't in the border of natur that it should be! impossible! ridiculous!" "Why, Dickey, what's the matter?" "What's the matter? "vy, this Bengal tiger is ninety miles long!" Dickey had measured the tiger by the scale of the map."

—A young woman in Chicago has invented a new branch of female usefulness. She advertises that she will "give lessons in etiquette, and the way of conversing with ladies, to any young gentlemen who does not feel at ease in the society of the opposite sex. Tuition to lovers, extra." She has been quite successful, and makes a specialty of proposals in various forms.

THE PROSPECT FOR FARMERS.—The Utica (N. Y.) Herald says the prospect for farmers—especially dairymen—in that section, has not for years been more promising. Flour, woolen and cotton goods, and most articles the farmers have to buy, are cheaper than they have been before since the war; while beef cattle, butter and cheese, command high prices and find ready sale. The market is so thoroughly cleared of cheese, on both sides of the water, that even a more than average production will not be likely to put the prices below the highest figures sold at during last season; while the increased number who will turn their milk into cheese will keep the supply of butter so reduced that remunerative prices are likely to be obtained by the butter makers.

The season, too, opens auspiciously for the manufacture of both butter and cheese, as the winter has been such as to leave the ground in an excellent state for the grass crop. Although the demand for cheese making apparatus exceed that of last year, there appears to be a strong disposition throughout the dairy region of New York to return to private dairying, instead of sending milk to the cheese factories. The general condition of things in New England is pretty much the same as in New York, and our farmers can look forward to a season of continued prosperity.

SCRATCHES ON HORSES.—I have cured bad cases of this disease by applying to the affected parts common whale oil, and rubbing it in until the scabs soften and come off; then keep the parts moist with the oil until they get well, which they usually do in a few days.

Alexander Crozier, of Fletcher, Vt., writes to us that he has treated scratches for thirty years by paring and greasing the castors or issues on the leg, without any application to the sores, using his horses as usual meantime, and has always succeeded in effecting a cure.—N. E. Farmer.

"JENNIE JUNE"—otherwise Mrs. Croly—says that when she was requested to respond at a Sorosis press dinner, she told her husband she was afraid she would break down; but he replied, "When you blow me up, you never break down," and she was thus encouraged to make the required response.

OLD ACCOUNTS.—In our old Boston Ledger, under date of March 1677, Mr. Usher commences an account, reading thus:—"Elizabeth Lidget of Boston my mother's Dr."—He charges her,—

His mother was evidently almost as much a merchant as himself:—and accounts with several other women show them to have been traders.

In the winter of 1687-88, Profit & Loss are charged with:—Cash paid Dr. Williams, about my mother, 21*l* 17*s*; Dec. 26, Cash pd burning at my mother's funeral 1*l* 18*s*—Cash pd Jean Shell 1*l* & Kiloup 36*l*, coceming ditto: (i. e. the funeral.) THE CONGREGATIONALIST says there has been an unusual degree of religious interest among the churches in Portsmouth since the week of prayer. Union meetings of all the Evangelical denominations have been carried on with great harmony, and with the happiest effect on the public mind. We cannot state the number of hopeful conversions, but think it safe to say that 100 give evidence of having been renewed by the Holy Spirit. As part of the fruits of this blessed revival, eighteen united with the North Congregational Church, Rev. Geo. M. Adams pastor, on the 2nd inst.

Twenty-three were received into the Congregational church in Cornish on the 2nd inst.

Ten individuals, mostly heads of families, have been united to the Congregational church in Gorham, Rev. G. F. Tewksbury pastor, since January 1st.

Thirteen united with the Belknap church at Dover, Rev. C. C. Watson pastor, May 9; as many more are expected at the next communion.

Rev. Josiah L. Armes has engaged with the Congregational church in Auburn for one year or more.

THE DAVENPORTS.—E. H. S. (probably Rev. E. H. Sears) gives, in the Boston Traveller, an account of a performance by the Davenport Brothers and others, with the following conclusions.

I have ever been in the habit of thinking that very result was produced by an adequate cause, governed by natural laws, and, however mysterious, could be explained on scientific principles, if all the circumstances could be fully understood. In this case I have seen no reason to change my opinion, yet I confess myself entirely at fault for an explanation. The result witnessed this evening may have been produced by disembodied spirits, or other spirits good or bad that never had a body, if there are such, or by mesmeric or electric or some other influence, but I could discover no evidence that proved or disproved the agency of either. I saw the facts but cannot explain the cause.

If the performance was a deception, it was the most successful one I ever witnessed; but be it what it may, the men engaged in it are certainly entitled to much credit for giving the citizens of Boston a most harmless and interesting exhibition, and also for the frank, open and gentlemanly manner in which they conduct it.

BARBARA FRIETCHIE.—The modern sceptics, who doubt or deny well established statements of historical fact, having undertaken to say that Mr. Whittier's fine ballad, Barbara Frietchie, had no better foundation than a myth, and that Barbara herself was a non-entity,—Miss Dix writes to the Methodist, that she knew her in her latest days; and publishes a letter from a near neighbor in Frederick, which states that Mrs. Frietchie, the widow of John Casper Frietchie, died in that city, Dec. 18, 1862, aged 96 years and 15 days, having been a member of the Dutch Reformed Church more than 80 years, eminent for piety, charity and patriotic ardor.

—The proceeds of the Exeter May Festival amount to $660.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Families, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can imagine my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER, May 14.

This correspondence has alluded to the fact that a member of the Rockingham Bar has been charged with dishonest practices in his capacity as a lawyer. Of course many of your readers are aware of the identity of the individual in question.—H. D. Batchelder, of this town. The charges were preferred at the last January Term of the Supreme Judicial Court, and the evidence then taken was laid before the full bench at the March Law Term, at Concord. Instructions were issued that the affair be investigated, and the matter was brought up yesterday before Judge Smith. Since it became known that the investigation would occur at the close of the April Term, the town, and for ought I know, the county, has been replete with all sorts of rumors,—many of them, as a matter of course, highly exaggerated, Mr. Solicitor Small appeared for the State, and Messrs. Hatch and Stickney for the defence.

I am unacquainted with legal matters, but learn that Mr. B. is placed in a very embarrassing position, in consequence of having little time to prepare a defence, as he knows what he is charged with only as the evidence developes the attack. To this course his counsel strongly objected, as also to setting aside the customary rules of evidence, but without avail. About twenty witnesses for the State were examined yesterday and to-day, and to-morrow the defence will be opened.

I have been unable to attend, and have heard but little as to the character of the testimony thus far given, but what I have heard would seem to show that Mr. B. has, to say the least, been imprudent; though perhaps the term might be not inaptly applied to many of the legal fraternity. Lawyers are regarded by many as a sort of necessary evil. Having generally steered clear of them myself, I am not fully prepared to express an opinion, but for standard authority on the subject, I refer your readers to the Gospel according to Saint Luke,—XI—45 to 52. It would be strange if there were not various opinions in the present matter, pro et con. Some, possibly from prejudice, profess to believe Mr. B. guilty of grave misdemeanors, while others extend to him their sympathy, and think him "more sinned against than sinning."

It is as yet unknown whether Judge Smith will exercise jurisdiction in the premises, or lay the matter before the full bench at the next Law Term.

P. S. Since writing the above, I learn that the Court stands adjourned till Monday, to give opportunity for the preparation of the defence. H.

☞ Maj. William H. Hackett sold at Auction, Saturday afternoon, the Farm in Greenland, owned by Mr. James Pickering, now of Wolfeborough, known as the Babb Place, for $2000. Nath'l Wiggin, who resides there, was the purchaser.

☞ The Naval Board of Inspection commenced their business at the Navy Yard on Friday, and left on Saturday.

Up The Road.

The courtesy of Superintendent Geo. E. Todd, whose able management of the Northern Road brings comfort to travellers and good dividends to the stockholders, induced us to prolong our trip, and we were whisked away 70 miles towards White River Junction, stopping at some of the most picturesque stations along the route. At Danville is one of the neatest of restaurants, where clean food, well cooked, tempts the passengers to invest extensively. As an exception to the generality of railroad restaurants, this one at Danville deserves especial mention.

At Enfield we took a brief breathing spell, and remained over till the next train came along. The station is hemmed in by mountains, and the railroad winds quickly out of sight at a short distance from the depot. We made a hasty inspection of the celebrated Shaker Mills, by invitation of Mr. Pattee, the Superintendent. The grain mill is the most complete of its kind in the Granite State, resting on the firmest rock foundation, and fitted with machinery for turning out flour and meal by the thousand bushels. There is an elevator capable of taking the corn (which is shipped from Chicago,) to the upper regions faster than it can be shovelled in. The motive power is furnished by a broad and beautiful sheet of water which tumbles over the dam with a roar, and works, constantly for man's accommodation. In the basement of the mill is a force pump of enormous power and capacity, from which a heavy stream of water can be thrown over the entire village in case of fire,—at a minute's notice. A practical use of this demonstrated its utility but a short time ago, when a hotel on a high hill 500 feet away was burned, and adjoining buildings, but three and four feet from it were hardly scorched, being saved by the water from this pump.

A fellow passenger, Prof. Woodman of Dartmouth College, well known in this city, informed us that the Shaker community of three families, whom we did not have time to visit, were hardly as prosperous as in former times, and since the murder of their leader, (or "head man,") Caleb Dyer, they had been unable to find among their sect a proper person with sagacity and energy sufficient to fill his place. Enfield has about 700 inhabitants and 140 voters, 120 of whom are Republicans,—a fact which Mr. Pattee referred to with evident pride. As a prosperous village it ranks high, and its citizens are well-to-do, busy and thriving, having the faculty of engaging in enterprises which are remunerative because of their persistence. And so the mountains echo the buzz of the mills, the roar of the falling water, and the scream of the locomotive as it tears through the passes; and the traveller rests mind and body while contemplating the splendors of the scenery, the thrift born of labor and good management, and listening to the hum of industry.—In this lively little village among the mountains, which is blessed with pure air and water, and settles cosily by itself away from the cities, as if content that no nearer connection contaminates, or interferes with its independence or its enterprises. G.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, EXETER. In the action Daniel W. Ladd v. Joseph F. Wiggin, Adm'r of Mary F. Dudley, the jury were unable to agree, and were discharged. This is the second trial of this action, and the jury are reported as standing ten for the deft., and two for the plf. Stickney and Hatch for Plf. Small and J.F. Wiggn for deft.

Samuel Fieldsend v. George W. Smith. Trespass to recover for damages Plfs., were occasioned by the escape of Defts. Stallion into Plfs. enclosure, &c. Verdict for Plf., $41.50. Wood for Plf. J. F. Wiggin for Deft.

William A. Currier v. Robert Rowe. Assumpsit to recover $266, on account against Deft. Defence, a special contract that account was payable in goods and that there had been no violation of contract. Verdict for deft. Small and C. Upham Bell for Plf. Wood for Deft.

William H. Hills v. Isaac Smith & al. Account for Atty's fees—Verdict for Plf. Isaac W. Smith (of Manchester) and Bartlett for Deft.

Clarenda A. Rand v. Solomon K. Whittier. Trespass for entering plfs. house—brawl and tumult generally, assault on plf., and carrying away sundry articles of household furniture. A jury was empanneled—but the deft. became defaulted, and plfs. damages were assessed on a hearing before the Court in the sum of $403,26. Bartlett for Plf.

The votes for County officers were declared by the Clerk as follows:—For Register of Deeds, William H. Belknap (elected) 5304; Wesley Poor 4841; Belknap's plurality, 1063. For County Treasurer, estimated as scattering, 183, of which 182 were returned for George E. Lougee; George G. Lougee, (elected) 5698; Thomas Tarlton, 4834. For County Commissioner, scattering, 3; William S. Pillsbury, (elected) 5848 John F. Tenney, 4861.

On Thursday Hendrick D. Batchelder's case was taken up—Solicitor Small appearing on the one side, and Messrs. Hatch and Stickney on the other. The jurors were discharged on Tuesday.—News Letter.

CUI BONO?—Correspondents of the Biddeford Journal are disputing about the number of employees at the Navy Yard from Kittery and Eliot, and the relative claims of the two places, for recognition! Neither would be satisfied by any great change—but Congressman Lynch might conquer a peace by furnishing them with provender for four years "unless sooner discharged."

☞ Mr. Bailey has removed his Hardware business from Congress Street to the old stand recently occupied by Mr. Treadwell on Market St., and while we shall miss the store from the Square, we congratulate him on the acquisition of larger and better facilities for business.

☞ Horatio Bright of Kittery fell from a staging on Wednesday and broke two ribs.

James W. Brooks of Kittery has been appointed Foreman Joiner in place of ——Paul, removed.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let Us Protect Ourselves.

The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them, to some extent, from unwholesome influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions, or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. Therefore, it is wisdom, it is prudence, it is common sense to provide against such contingencies, by taking an ANTIDOTE IN ADVANCE; in other words, by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—the most complete protective against all the epidemic and endemic maladies that has ever been administered in any country.

As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whether arising from pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be procured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this invaluable TONIC and ALTERATIVE would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the nervous it is also especially recommended; and in cases of confirmed constipation it also affords speedy and permanent relief.

In all cases of fever and ague the BITTERS are more efficacious than any amount of quinine, while the most dangerous cases of bilious fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the HOSTETTER BITTERS profess to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment we cordially recommend an early application to the BITTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.

Pain is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals, as inevitable as death, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used in any emergency, when we are made to feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the depressing influence of disease.

Such a remedial agent exists in the "PAIN KILLER," the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal ices of the Polar region, or beneath the burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of cold, coughs, bowel complaints, cholera, dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of cuts, burns, bruises, sores, sprains, sting of insects, and other causes of suffering, has rendered for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. Call for Perry Davis' Vegetable "Pain Killer," and take none other. ☞ Sold by all druggists and grocers. a18

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient gets fleshy in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will loosen it easily, and the patient has reached the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel, that will move a torpid liver with any dangerous to be used without great care, that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, night sweats, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and wonderful the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, don't not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all leave of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, or bronchial tubes, or ulcerated lungs, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery made thousands sound and healthy. The fame of Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not necessary to consult the professionally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 24 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yj4

AN OFFICER STABBED.—On Friday night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, officers James D. Maloon, Burns and Shannon, heard loud talking on Pleasant Street, near Court Street, and crossed the Street to ascertain the cause and prevent the continuance of the noise. Officer Maloon was in advance and found three masters of vessels now lying at our wharves, one of whom, Capt. John W. Knowlton of schooner Elizabeth of Rockland, Me., was making the outcry because he had stubbed his toe against some obstruction and felt relieved by anathomizing the cause. On being accosted by Officer Maloon, who asked what the matter was, Capt. K. struck at him with a common sized jack-knife, twice, inflicting a severe wound on the hand and a dangerous cut under the left shoulder-blade, which disabled him.

The other officers rushed to the rescue and the companions of Capt. Knowlton took to their heels, but were arrested by other officers called by the sound of the rattle. Officer Maloon fainted from loss of blood and was removed to the Police Station and from thence to his residence in the morning.

Capt. Knowlton was arraigned before Judge Odell Saturday morning, and pleaded not guilty to the charge of intent to kill, but acknowledged that he stabbed the officer, stating that in the dark he did not know Mr. Maloon to be an officer, and, as he had considerable money about his person, he had fears of being robbed by the person who accosted him.

Dr. Adams Perry appeared on the witness stand and stated that Officer Maloon (who is his son-in-law) had fainted several times while being conveyed home, and he did not know the full extent of his injury. If the knife struck the shoulder-blade it might not be a serious wound, but if it did not strike the bone it was a deep and dangerous cut. He thought Mr. Maloon might be able to appear on Monday, but could not warrant his attendance.—Judge Odell, therefore, continued the case to Monday, Capt. Knowlton furnishing sureties, in the sum of $1000, to appear at that time.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

THE CITY PARK.—As we have no desire to make this a common subject of controversy, we shall briefly dispose of the Chronicle's "remarks" upon our last week's article, in which we know not whether we should most admire "F.'s" courtesy or humility. Not content with charging us with "mean falsehoods" and putting us down among the "dead" men, he says we have been discussing a subject we knew nothing about, and criticising plans and details of which we had still less (less than nothing) knowledge, "barking up the wrong tree," (we quote this, but have the impression it is not an original remark of the Chronicle,) and that, now that we are becoming better informed, we have changed our tune, &c. Our reply is brief and simple: we derived our mistaken information from the Chronicle, and the correction from Mr. Clark, the only active man in the Park project, and who the Chronicle says "is in error in saying that the plan of the managers is to have no city aid."

[Reply.—Perhaps it is not to be wondered at, that a man who openly charges public servants with private and selfishly-interested ends, should not receive treatment entirely courteous at the hands or pens of the injured or insulted parties. We still insist that it was meanly false and falsely mean, to accuse any of the persons concerned in starting the Park, with any desire whatever of private scheming or special personal advantage. But let us see who really does know most, and who has done most or worked with greatest effect in this matter, and whether there are any more mistakes or misstatements.

But first, let us say, the writer in the Journal, if not a dead man, is like too many others, "who never are, but always to be blessed"—and while ardently desiring more enterprise displayed, yet come to this most promising case in hand, stoutly opposes it.

The writer of this states, with all the courtesy and humility that the Journal is so lost in admiration of,—that to him mainly is due whatever progress has already been made in the direction of the Park—which, by the way, he does not consider small nor slow. In the course of several negotiations with the late owner of the Common land, on other subjects, (in which, let us say, notwithstanding the evident flings of the Journal at him, that we found this gentleman at least as public-spirited, enterprising and sagacious, as the Journal has proved in this matter,) we learned from his friend, our excellent City Surveyor, that he was still ready, as he had long been, to donate to Trustees, the fine lot of land which he has since given, for public use and benefit forever. This fact we gave the Journal's Mr. C. his first information of, and he himself and the other Trustees, were all of the selection of the writer hereof—and all entered at once into the plan, as does everybody else we have ever met,—at least with good wishes,—except the Journal man, and another who, although a fine a farmer, yet boasts that he never planted a shade-tree in his life.

The project that the City should give something conditionally towards the Common,—to show, abroad especially, that it was a public enterprise and publicly endorsed and approved—was suggested by this deponent, but was approved by every member of the Board, (now in the city,) including of course Mr. C.,—concerning whom, although he is an active and efficient man anywhere, the Journal's statement that he is "the only active man in the Park project,' is but another evidence of their ignorance on the subject,—for no one of the four Trustees could have done what has been done by all.

The suggestion about the Bridge feature, was made to the Board by the chairman thereof; that for a Marginal Road, by Mr. C., the Treasurer, at first; but was revived and made prominent by the chairman,—and but for our own outside information communicated to said Mr. C., concerning it, he would not have been so successful in starting his subscription.

All of which is most respectfully but decidedly submitted, to whom it may concern—by one who did not begin this war of words, but who has a reason for the faith that is in him concerning the Common, and does know what he is talking about. And we are sure that nothing has been done or attempted except in concert, and designed for the public good, and no one has taken any action that was not previously approved by all; and the statement or claim in the Journal, of any especial praise or blame for either, is altogether unfounded.

For the cause of progress and improvement, we remain the public's "Yours truly," always. F.]

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street, which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in tea or twelve different shades, and where I have on hand a variety of colors ready for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

CROSSING A BAYOU.—"I was out hunting once," he said in good Westernnee, which I shall not attempt to imitate, "on this (the Mississippi), and I came late in the day to a bayou. My way lay down the river, and round the bayou was six or seven miles, while across it was only two or three hundred yards. I didn't want to walk, and I didn't want to be belated, so I determined to try the bayou. There was no water in it; it was all mud—that kind of slimy, greasy, quick-mud that holds on to a man, and slowly sucks him down in spite of all his strength. I knew the danger, but I thought I could manage it. Hunting about I found two planks washed up from some old flat boat, may be some years before. With these I started out, stepping from one to the other, pulling first one and the other from behind me and putting it ahead, till I got to about the middle of the bayou.

Every step made more and more difficult. The farther I went the more my planks were sucked down by the devilish mud till I could stand up no danger, but was obliged first to sit and then to lie down flat on my stomach, to divide my weight more equally.

Hauling myself on to the foremost, I would turn around as on a pivot, grasp the plank behind, haul it alongside, and then shove it ahead. Pretty soon I had to help my hands with my teeth, for all the strength of both was needed to raise the planks from the quagmire that sucked them down. At last one of them sank beyond my reach. Flat on my face on a single plank, in the middle of the bayou, the mud rising around me ready to swallow me up—I considered.

I could not swim ashore, for I wasn't in the water; I couldn't wade, for to stand up was to go down like a plummet; to move six inches either way was sure death. No human aid could ever reach me; no human creature might pass that way for months; no house, no road was within miles of me. My only chance for life was another plank. That I must have or lie there till I starved to death, or roll over and make an end of it in the nasty mud. Then I remembered my jack knife. Getting it out of my pocket, I cut under me, lying flat as I was slowly and patiently up on the plank that long seasoning had made almost as hard as iron, till I cut it in two. Then pulling myself forward on the farther half, I drew the hindmost ahead of me again, and so went on as before. I got out at last; but, stranger, I was the ugliest looking white man when I crawled ashore that ever you did see!" He paused his long rifle affectionately, and added: "But I never parted with her!"—Atlantic Monthly for April.

New Hampshire Items.

It is estimated that one thousand sheep have died from disease in the town of Webster since the first of April last. In neighboring towns there is said to be a greater sheep mortality than in Webster.

Thermometer in Concord, 12th, stood at 93 degrees in the shade.

U. S. Senator Cragin arrived in Concord and went to his home in Lebanon on the 11th. He has many friends here, who hope and expect to see his re-election to the National Senate.

The annual meeting of the Cheshire Railroad was held in Keene this week. The old directors were re-elected, were authorized at their discretion to subscribe twenty thousand dollars for the stock of the Monadnock Railroad. This is the road proposed to be built from some point on the Cheshire road, say Winchendon, through Rindge and East Jaffrey to Peterborough.

☞ A young man, named Talbot, in Brooklyn, N. Y., was very desirous to marry a young woman who lived in the same house; but his suit met no favor from her. On Thursday morning at 1 o'clock, he went to her sleeping room, and as she awoke, fired a pistol at her; the ball grazed her temple and went thro' her left hand. Her shrieks and the report of the pistol raised the house. Talbot sprung up to his own room, threw himself on his bed, and fired twice; the second ball went into his brain, killing him instantly.

—During a recent circus performance in Belgium, the regular lion tamer being ill, the circus director was so rash as to assume his duties, and having entered the cage, succeeded for a time in making the lions go through their performances. Toward the close, when giving the animals raw meat, the director lost courage, and instead of keeping a firm eye on the beasts, as tamers are to do, he trembled, and made for the door of the cage. This movement was fatal. A large lioness was the first to pounce upon him, and in a few minutes the unfortunate man was torn to pieces.

—At a recent convention of working-women in Boston, it was stated that the majority of the girls employed to operate on heavy sewing machines in shoes, "last" only from one and a half or two years, although a few stand the labor a little time longer. "Their backs give out, their spines give way. It is that ugly motion of the foot that spoils the spine."

—John W. Allard of Framingham, formerly of Hampton, has been elected Principal of the Peabody (South Danvers) High School.

TRAIN AND SPRAGUE.—George Francis Train occupied Cooper Institute at New York recently, and Senator Sprague was among his auditors. He was called upon for a speech and made one, of course, describing the agony he had gone through before he could make up his mind to play the part of a reformer. He spoke a few words in behalf of temperance, and closed with this extraordinary announcement:

My footsteps are with you; I can ride side by side with you in this effort, and in every effort to prevent the political, the material, and the social demoralization of the race.

If Senator Sprague has really agonized so much as to reform himself, it is a good thing:—but his late speeches do not look like "the sober second thought," nor the first.

LAW.—It is said that Chief Justice Chase recently ruled in a case at Baltimore, that the government could not collect income tax from foreigners who held our bonds, and that what has been collected must be refunded. Several hundred thousand dollars will be taken out of the Treasury for this purpose.

This may possibly be Law, says Uncle Toby, though it does not seem to be in strict accordance with the Gospel, or with common sense.—If a foreigner lives here and has the benefit of our laws and institutions, we don't see why he ought to pay less taxes than a native or a naturalized man. If the statute laws exempt him, they should be changed.

—For the past two months, says the New Bedford Mercury, vessels have been constantly employed in freighting lumber to Martha's Vineyard camp ground, and carpenters are now busy in erecting cottages and other buildings. It is estimated that some five hundred cottages will be built this season, most of them at Oak Bluffs. The camp ground will be among the early resorts of pleasure seekers this season, and a larger number of people than ever before is looked for.

AMERICAN
BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING,
—AND—
SEWING MACHINE!
H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street,
Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

The Reasons Why

This is the best Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, falling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.
2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)
3. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine can.)
4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)
5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

Caution.

We would hereby warn the Public against all bogus advertisements of Button-Hole Attachments, as the AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE is the first and only Button-Hole and Sewing Machine combined in the world.

This Machine is for sale only at our establishment, 27 Market Street, where we cordially invite the Public to Call and Examine for themselves, and be convinced that this is the Best and Cheapest Machine for any family.

N. B.—All Machines are Warranted for one year. Instruction given at the house of purchaser free. Persons buying this Machine never wish to exchange for any other.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step, gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

145 & 147 Federal St., Boston, Mass.

IN THESE HARD TIMES

YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO PAY three or four profits on articles of necessary use, when by sending a Club to
Parker & Co.'s
GREAT ONE DOLLAR SALE
OF DRY GOODS, LINENS, PARASOLS, ALBERTS, HOSIERY, SILVER PLATED WARE, JEWELRY, CUTLERY, FRENCH & GERMAN FANCY GOODS, of every description, you can purchase anything in their immense stock for
ONE DOLLAR EACH.

The secret of our low prices is this:—We have a very large Cash Capital, and have long been in all the principal cities of this country and in Europe, who purchase FOR CASH, DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS, all the goods sold by us, thus saving the consumer the profits made by the Importer or Commission Merchant, the Wholesale and Retail Dealer, all of whom demand a large profit than taken by us. We can give Three Goods for One Dollar than the Retail Merchant for twice and three times that sum. Our goods are described on printed checks, which will be sent in Clubs for Ten Cents each, to pay postage, printing, &c.

If the article named on the Check is not wanted, you can exchange from a list comprising Three Hundred and Fifty Useful Articles, among which are—

LADIES' SILK PARASOLS, LADIES' FINE WHITE TUCKED SHIRT BOSOMS, PLATED FIVE BOTTLED CASTORS, and a large variety of useful articles, not one of which can be bought in any other way for nearly double the money.

References will be given, if required, from the most reliable Wholesale Merchants of Boston and New York, as to our standing and the strictly honorable character of our business.

☞ We want Agents in every town to whom the following Commissions will be paid:—

THE SILENT CITY.

There's a city vast yet voiceless, growing over street on street,
Whither friends with friends e'er meeting, ever meeting never greet;
And where rivals, fierce and rengeful, calm and silent mutely meet;
Never greeting, ever meet.

There are traders without traffic, merchants without books or gain;
Tender brides in new-made chambers, where the trickling water stains;
Where the guests forget to come, and strange, listening silence reigns;
Listening silence ever reigns.

Ships sail past this silent city, but their owners quiet lie,
And no signals fly from top-trees 'gainst the glowing crimson sky,
Telling the neglectful owner that his well built
Argosy
For the Fleece is sailing by.

Here the belle forgets the fashions, mindless of her snow-white dress;
All unheeded now her toilet, free as the bird, lock and tress;
None here flatter face or figure, none come fondly to caress;
Tresses flow, and none caress.

Hushed are all these many mansions, barred and bolted door and gate;
Narrow all the walls and earthly, and the roof-
trees steep and straight;
Room for all!—the high and lowly, Rich and poor here equal meet;
Equal dwell and equal meet.

Flowers are blooming near these mansions, kissed
by lovely dews at night,
Breathing softly round their porches, flowing through the cooling light;
Pealing from their bells sweet music, pealing
odors pure and white;
Pealing only to the light.

Here each keeps his well-coiled dwelling, fearing naught of quarter-day;
Here no landlord dins the tenant, and no tenant moves away;
Dwelling ever unevicted, dwelling on from May to May!
Paying never quarter-day.

Beckons over this mute city to its comrades living far;
To its comrade laughing loudly, sitting on the pulsing bar;
Drawing from its masqueraders, pale white specters day by day;
Spectors now, men yesterday.

Thus two cities grow forever, parted by a narrow tide,
This the shadow, that the substance, growing by each other's side;
Gliding one into the other, and forever more shall glide;
Growing ever side by side.

New Hampshire Items.

Rev. D. W. C. Durgin of Hampton is one of those busy men, who hold that it is best to have several irons in the fire; he is pastor of the F. W. Baptist Society, in which is much work to be done. Has been Principal of the Academy at the late term; is member elect of the next Legislature.

The F. W. Baptist meeting house in Nottingham, is the only one in town. The meeting house is unhappily located away from dwellings. Some months ago, the Society left it and went to the Town Hall. It was difficult to keep that in order, and recently the meeting has been changed to the Academy, which is a fine place.

Rev. S. C. Kimball has closed his pastorate with the F. W. Baptist church in Newmarket, and has been succeeded by Rev. J. A. Lowell, late of Lewiston, Me.

A tombstone in the old grave-yard at Exeter bears the date of 1716.

An application is to be made to the next Legislature for a railroad from Concord to Rochester or to some point on the Dover & Winnipisogee Railroad.

We learn from the Enquirer that Wingate J. Preston and wife, of North Barrington, on returning home from Dover on the afternoon of the 7th inst., found their house a heap of smouldering ruins. It had been set on fire by sparks from the chimney, at about 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and was entirely consumed. Most of the furniture was saved, and the building was partially insured. Two sick persons were in the house at the time of the fire, and were remove to a neighbor's.

A valuable mare, owned by Mr. James Bennett, of Dover, was killed in a singular manner one day last week. She suddenly jumped back, while hitched in the stall, and broke her neck.

Mrs. Brockway, of Washington, was ninety-nine years of age last month. She had a fall last winter, by which she had one rib broken, but has recovered from that accident in a surprising manner for one of her years.

The Legislature meets at Concord on the 2nd of June.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.50 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot be highly recommended to all who drink Tea, on its remarkable flavor and strength; and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound packets, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.50, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.40 per pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will return the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as dyspepsia in the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most eminent medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed the effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and, stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to health, and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made my years of my life more wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, MAY 18, 1869.

The News.

Paris is greatly excited over the coming elections.

The Cortes has rejected the amendment to the constitution in favor of making Spain a federal republic. The vote stood 182 against, to 64 for the amendment. It is believed that a regency will be created, with Marshal Serrano at its head.

The New York Tribune has "got around" its difficulty with singular ingenuity. It has abolished the office of managing editor.

Gen. McMahon, Minister to Paraguay, has turned up at Asuncion.

Senator Sprague is sending 120,000 copies of the Washington Globe containing his speeches and letters received, to his friends in different sections.

Mr. R. L. Lord, the victim of the famous Lord bond robbery, died in New York on Saturday.

The Turner Opera House at Dayton, Ohio, was burned on Saturday. Herman Sandmier, while endeavoring to save a portion of his goods, was crushed to the floor by the, falling of a wall.—His brother and several others endeavored to extricate him, but it was impossible. He lived in this condition for a while, when another crash came, burying him in the ruins. His wife and family were present, but no human power could save him. The scene was heartrending. The loss is estimated at from $60,000 to $80,000, and the insurance at about $100,000. Supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Gold reached 142 3-8, on Monday. Three heavy failures occurred in New York.

The first through passenger train from Sacramento, with about 500 passengers arrived at Omaha on Sunday. The travel west of Omaha is very large over the Pacific Railroad.

The Gloucester, Mass., Town Hall was burned on Sunday. It cost $100,000.

Haverhill, Mass., has voted to accept a city charter.

New Hampshire Items.

Robert L. Wise's house and barn in Bristol, occupied by Jonathan Folsom, were consumed by fire on Tuesday, and Mrs. Folsom, a woman sixty years old, while attempting to remove some goods, was crushed beneath a falling chamber floor and burned to death.

S. Dana Smith, of New Hampton, got upon the cars at Meredith last saturday, to go to Fogg's Station. As the train approached that place, he went upon the forward platform, and while the train was at full speed he fell, so that it was supposed the train must have passed over him. On backing the train it was found that his right arm was nearly severed at the shoulder. The train was run back to Meredith and the arm amputated by Dr.'s J. H. & George Sanborn. Two bottles of rum were found in his pockets, and neither was broken—and these tell the whole story.—Laconia Democrat.

☞ A terrific explosion of gas took place at the residence of Capt. Isaac Barnum of Portland, Saturday night.—The Press of Monday says:—

On Saturday afternoon a workman took off one of the gas brackets in a chamber in the third story, but neglected to plug up the pipe. About half-past 11 o'clock at night Mr. B. noticed that the upper part of the house was filled with gas, and proceeded to ascertain the cause. He lighted a gas jet at the head of the stairs in the second story, and then went up to the room in which the gas was escaping. No sooner had he opened the door than a terrible explosion took place, throwing out the whole of the upper story of the building next the Clapp mansion and also a portion of the front on Congress street, starting the stairs, smashing the glass, destroying the furniture and setting fire to the house. Capt. Barnum was prostrated by the shock and was terribly burned, his clothing being almost reduced to cinders. He was rescued from his perilous situation by his wife, who had one of her hands badly burned. It was thought he could not survive, so badly was he injured. The skin is literally stripped from his whole body. Sunday there were more hopes of him, though his pains were intense and he was unconscious most of the day. In the evening he recovered his consciousness and was more comfortable.

☞ There was a race between Mr. G. W. Littlefield on a velocipede and the Indian "Deerfoot," on Saturday at the Boston Velocipede Rink, the Indian to run three miles while the velocipede man trundled four miles. The former had to make the circuit of the rink forty-six times and the latter thirty-four and a half. The pedestrian won by four circuits.

☞ A Pennsylvania legislator has sued the editor and the proprietor of the Pittsburg Leader, for libel. The Leader accused him of being in the market while the Legislature was in session.

Up the Road.

From Enfield to White River Junction the mountain scenery is very fine, and the white caps of snow on the highest hills gave evidence of much cooler weather at that altitude than we were enjoying. There had been no rain along the route for many days, yet the ponds and rivulets were swollen with the melted snow, and young freshets were making their way downwards.—We passed through Lebanon, the home of Senator Aaron H. Cragin, one of the original free soilers of 25 years ago, who honors New Hampshire in holding the highest position that can be accorded by the State. Always true to liberty, a man of strictest integrity and sound on the issues of the day, the faithful Senator represents ably and well his constituents, who sustain him with a unanimity uncommon in these days of fault finding, and he will doubtless be returned to a second term in the National Senate, next year. His immediate constituents are warm in their praise of his candor and fair dealing, while they point with pride to his past record.

Lebanon is situated in a valley surrounded by mountains, and has 3000 inhabitants. It is a handsome town and boasts of a nice Common, laid out about three years ago. The houses are neat and kept in good repair, and are owned mostly by their occupants,—a fact which speaks volumes for the prosperity of the place. A large machine shop makes business lively, and the water from the five dams (descending a hundred feet within forty rods) affords an immense power. We think Lebanon is entitled to the claim of being the banner temperance town of its size in New Hampshire, for not a drop of intoxicating liquor has been sold in the place for twenty years, which, no doubt, accounts in a great measure for the absence of loafers, and the thriving appearance of the town.

Senator Jas. W. Patterson resides at Hanover, but five miles from Senator Cragin's residence, in one of the most pleasant sections of that region. The two Senators are said to be great friends. Senator Patterson is one of the youngest members of the U. S. Senate, and has already won an enviable position as a debater, whose words are always fitly spoken. He is one of the most eloquent of orators, as all will remember who listened to his admirable and masterly speech in this city just previous to the March election, last year. That these two men should become firm friends was a matter of course, as each has characteristics that excite respect and appreciation in the other, and are true to the principles they so early espoused.

Having passed to the Connecticut and the Vermont border, we started on our return trip, and found ourselves in a car with a small colony of French Canadians, bound as it proved for Manchester, which is now the Mecca of that people. A car load of the immigrants, and sometimes more, pass over the Northern Road every day, and the most of them go to swell the population of Manchester. At this rate Canada will become depopulated ere long, and a fellow-passenger remarked that the Fenians would have to wait but a few years to take quiet possession of the deserted snow fields.

The appearance of the party in our car was decidedly unique, being composed of aged feminines with a mixture of more youthful specimens of both sexes. Babies of various ages predominated, and we essayed to do the agreeable to one little chub of a summer and a half-spring. Of course it couldn't talk intelligibly—no more could its mother, though we tried her on broken Dutch, adulterated Espagnole, not to mention Ital-ics and New Hampshire Canadese! It was all a decided failure, and the young gentleman in the pea-nut and orange trade monopolized the attention of the upper story of the building next the Clapp mansion and also a portion of the front on Congress street, starting the stairs, smashing the glass, destroying the furniture and setting fire to the house. Capt. Barnum was prostrated by the shock and was terribly burned, his clothing being almost reduced to cinders. He was rescued from his perilous situation by his wife, who had one of her hands badly burned. It was thought he could not survive, so badly was he injured. The skin is literally stripped from his whole body. Sunday there were more hopes of him, though his pains were intense and he was unconscious most of the day. In the evening he recovered his consciousness and was more comfortable.

☞ There was a race between Mr. G. W. Littlefield on a velocipede and the Indian "Deerfoot," on Saturday at the Boston Velocipede Rink, the Indian to run three miles while the velocipede man trundled four miles. The former had to make the circuit of the rink forty-six times and the latter thirty-four and a half. The pedestrian won by four circuits.

☞ A Pennsylvania legislator has sued the editor and the proprietor of the Pittsburg Leader, for libel. The Leader accused him of being in the market while the Legislature was in session.

MORE MURDERS IN GEORGIA.—The colored man who drove the carriage of Hon. Joseph Atkins when that gentleman was assassinated, is said to have left Warren county early last week to escape death, but when near Thompson's station he was met and murdered by the Ku-Klux. Trustworthy information announces the murder some weeks ago in Jefferson county of Hon. Alexander Stone, one of the expelled members of the legislature from the same county which Dr. Ayer represented.

MEXICO.—A Mazatlan letter of May 22 says, during the late fight at Rosario between the Government troops and the revolutionists, one of three foreigners killed was an American citizen named Julius Overcott, a German.—Another American citizen named Wolfskein, has been fined and imprisoned at Cepala for not contributing to a religious festival. Full satisfaction has been given for the outrage.

☞ We hear that the much talked of Base Ball match, Granite State vs. Picked Nine, will take place at the Plains on Wednesday afternoon.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let Us Protect Ourselves.

The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them, to some extent, from unwholesome influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions, or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. Therefore, it is wisdom, it is prudence, it is common-sense to provide against such contingencies, by taking an ANTIDOTE IN ADVANCE; in other words, by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—the most complete protective against all the epidemic and endemic maladies that has ever been administered in any country.

As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whoever suffers the pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be procured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this invaluable tonic and alterative would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the nervous it is also especially recommended, and in cases of confirmed constipation it also affords speedy and permanent relief.

In all cases of fever and ague the BITTERS are more potent than any amount of quinine, while the most dangerous and malignant bilious yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the HOSTETTER BITTERS profess to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment we cordially recommend an early application to the BITTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.

Pain is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals, as inevitable as death, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used in any emergency, when we are made to feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the depressing influence of disease.

Such a remedial agent exists in the "PAIN KILLER," the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal ices of the Polar region, or beneath the burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of cold, coughs, bowel complaints, cholera, dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of cuts, burns, bruises, sores, sprains, sting of insects, and other causes of suffering, has secured for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his great success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption.

monic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration; then the phlegm or matter begins to ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon cured by them of its diseases. The Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to digest the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give codine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and to do this they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the causes, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial tubes, pleura, adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and ready to decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring back the liver to work, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to grow in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to die. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish to make his acquainted, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., every other Tuesday, and at No. 85 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday, consulting. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. ditjla4

THE STABBING CASE.—Officer Maloon was unable to appear in Court on Monday, and was in a worse condition than before Knowlton was held in the sum of $1000 to appear at the October term of the Supreme Judicial Court.

The falsifer of the sensation paper publishes a cock-and-bull story charging officers Burns, Rand, Barsantee and Entwistle with robbing Capts. Knowlton and Miller after their arrest. The truth is that they searched them all four, being present, and the contents of the pockets of the prisoners were placed upon a table, Capt. Miller's pocket book remaining unopened.—When officer Shannon came in and took charge of them, Miller told him there was a certain sum of money in the pocket book, and officer Shannon opened it and found it empty. Everything taken from the two men has since been returned to them.

The writer of the scandal improves every opportunity to villify the police force and does not hesitate to publish the most outrageous falsehoods for political effect, hoping to injure the officers, either of whom we would trust with money with more feeling of security than with the concoctor of the sensation articles which first find light on Daniel Street. Even were there any possibility of the charges against the officers being true one would think that for the honor of the city the publication would be withheld until they were proven true. But the author of them is an imported biped who cares as little how much he may injure faithful officers as he does for his own reputation. Capts. Knowlton and Miller are unfortunate in having such people to vindicate their cause. We should not hesitate to condemn any officer found guilty of misdemeanor, and decent people have long since ceased to have faith in the sensation lies that are gotten up by the editors of the rebel hand organ.

PISCATAQUA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY. The late Rockingham Trotting Park Association having been incorporated under the above name, and the style of their fine premises now being the Piscataqua Fair Grounds, the first annual Election of Officers under the new arrangement, took place on Saturday evening, at the National Hotel.

The late Trustees were chosen Oct. 29, 1866, to manage the affairs until the Society should be incorporated; and considering all things, the Association deem they have well fulfilled their trust. The former Board were all re-elected, except that it was decided to have but one officer for Secretary and Treasurer—and the unanimous thanks of the members were voted to Gen. J. G. Hadley, the late Treasurer, for his very important and faithful services in that capacity.

The new Board elected for the management of the Grounds the current year, are: President, Frank Jones; Secretary and Treasurer, Frank W. Miller; Directors, M. Eldredge, H. R. Staddard, John H. Ferguson.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

Justice to the "Board of Trade" requires us to state that the communication we quoted from the Chronicle last week was erroneous. It was not a proposition in behalf of the Boston and Maine Railroad that was laid on the table, but an appeal to aid in securing a charter for the "Lake Shore Railroad," from the Wiers to Alton Bay, the construction of which the petitioners say would necessitate the construction of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad. We think our Board of Trade treated the communication rather cavalierly, as laying upon the table without discussion is understood to imply that a communication is unworthy of consideration; but the construction of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad we regard as one of the projects that neither Portsmouth nor Dover can afford to ignore.

There is probably no existing corporation that could undertake the construction and use of this road with better advantage to Portsmouth than the Boston and Maine Railroad. Controlling as it does the Cocheco Railroad, it monopolizes the carrying of freight to and from the whole line of towns lying in southern proximity to that road, including most of the region of Lake Winnepisseogee. Under existing arrangements that monopoly is used directly against the interests of Portsmouth, by turning all the trade which properly belongs to us to Boston over the Boston & Maine track.

☞ The time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in the land. Grand concerts are given every morning from three to four o'clock, the cost being only attendance at that hour, at a little distance from the city. The performances are above criticism, but the audiences are not large, though the select few who do attend, are well repaid. In the evening the frogs and turtles have the stage, mostly; and while their efforts are beneath the notice of many, still they are not altogether free from the influence of croakers and carpers.

Since the late copious and blessed rains, the fields literally stand dressed in living green; and the morning stars sing glad together still, that the sweet harmony of nature and the spheres is thus preserved.

Sunday last being Whitsunday, there was as usual a beautiful display of cut flowers, bouquets, &c., at the Unitarian Church in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE HISTORY.

PROVINCIAL PAPERS.—Documents and Records relating to the Province of New Hampshire, from the Earliest Period of Settlement: 1623 to 1722. Published by authority of the Legislature of New Hampshire. Vol. I. and II, and edited by Nathaniel Bouton, D. D., Cor. Sec. N. H. His. Soc. State Printer. 1867. Pp 78, 629 and 764.

The State of New Hampshire has no original records for the period between 1631 and 1686. During the usurpation of the jurisdiction of New Hampshire by Massachusetts, i. e. from 1641 and 1679, almost all the original papers are to be found, of course, on the files of Massachusetts. A documentary history, therefore, of the province of New Hampshire, for the time covered by these volumes, 1623-1722, would be far from complete or satisfactory, had the compiler limited his matter to the few, meagre original records at the Capital.

Very wisely, as we think, Dr. Bouton has gathered in from different sources all accessible and trustworthy records and papers, and gives us in chronological order the basis and material of the, yet unwritten, history of the province, for the first seventy years of its political existence. Whatever he had at home worthy of publication, and whatever he could find in the records, published or unpublished, of Massachusetts, Connecticut, or New York, he has used, and the result, is a collection of extremely valuable matter, some portions of which we never before printed; such as the earliest laws of the province (vol. II, pp. 383-408, 144-151), and the celebrated trial, Allen vs. Waldron, in which was involved the title of all the lands in the province (vol ii. pp. 514-562); and some papers which do not appear to have been known even to Dr. Belknap.

The chief general contents of Vol. II. are:—Ancient Grants, &c.; Capt. John Mason's Will; the Wheelwright Deed; Original Province Papers, 1631-1650; Miscellaneous, Historical items; Facts relating to the early Settlements—Portsmouth, Dover, Exeter and Hampton, 1631-1641; Documents and Records relating to New Hampshire, 1641-1680; Papers relating to the visit of the King's Commissioners; Documents relating to Indian Troubles; Names of Deputies from New Hampshire to the General Court of Massachusetts; Commission of President John Cutt; Province, Capital, Criminal and General Laws; Addresses of the President and Council to the King, &c.; Province Rates, &c.; Commission of Gov. Cranfield; Instructions to, and Province Laws under, Cranfield; Affairs of the Province under Cranfield's administration; Petition of the Inhabitants against Robert Mason; Walter Barefoot, Deputy Gov.; Letters from John Hogkins, Indian Sachem; Joseph Dudley's Administration as President of New England.

Of Vol. H.:—Commission and Administration of Sir John Andros; Unsettled state of the Province, 1689-1692; Wars with the Indians, 1687-1690; Commission and instructions to Gov. Sam. Allen; Administration of Lt. Gov. Usher, 1692-1696; "Minutes of Council," 1692-1696, relating to the Custom-house, Great Island, New Castle, Indian Treaty of 1693, Massacre at Oyster River, and at Kingston; Records of Council, 1696-1723, relating to the Association to stand by the Government Succession; Commission of Lt. Gov. Partridge; Gov. Allen's assuming the Government; the Eastern Indians, 1698; Commission of the Earl of Bellemont; Treaty with Algiers; Bellemont Papers; Commission of Gov. Dudley, 1702; Commission of Lt. Gov. Usher, 1703; Province Seal; Privateering; Instructions to Gov. Dudley; Joseph Smith of Hampton; New Province Seal; Expedition against Canada, 1711; Capt. Thomas Baker, 1712; Treaty of Utrecht; Charles Story; Lt. Gov. Vaughan; The Town of Stratham; Gov. Sam'l Shute; Lt. Gov. John Wentworth; Scotch-Irish at Nutfield (now Londonderry); and the trial, Allen vs Waldron, 1707.

These volumes cover a long period of eventful history, and embrace all the documents, of any value, that tend to illustrate the progress of civil and social life in the province during that time. As in all such collections, there is much that will interest us as to the noble efforts our fathers made to build and fashion a civil State in a wilderness, and, that moreover, out of the most discordant materials; much, also, that will excite emotions of gratitude, and possibly some incidents that will arouse our indignation, while others may provoke a smile.

In the preparation of the first volume the Editor had the aid and counsel of the late Chief Justice Bell, and the use of the valuable collection of material made by him; among which will be found the papers under the head of "Ancient Grants," (vol. i. pp. 4-39), a careful study of which, in connection with the Commission of President Cutt (pp. 378-82), is essential to a full understanding of the history of New Hampshire, and of the unfounded claims of the Massachusetts colony to the territory of that province.

The State has now begun in earnest to make up its documentary history in a satisfactory manner, and we hope she will not stay her hand till the work, embracing every scrap of record, and brought down to a time within the memory of living men, shall have been given to the public. To do this, will cost but little money; the honor, satisfaction and benefit thereof will be inestimable.

These volumes are furnished with full indexes, and are well printed, on durable paper.—N. E. Historical & Genealogical Register, April, 1869.

—Believe your friend honest, to make him so; since, if you distrust him you make his falsehood a piece of injustice.

A SCHOOL GIRL'S COMPOSITION.—SPRING.—This is spring. The grass is green—what there is of it—but it's a kind of invisible green just now; the snow isn't. The days are longer than they were when they were shorter, and they'll be a good deal longer yet if they keep on stretching at both ends. The nights ain't so long as they used to be. Ma said it was cold yesterday, and I thought so, too. It was scold, scold, scold, all day; it was washing-day. Carrie and me is going to have a May-day party next June. Won't that be jolly! We'll have such fun and shall invite all the rest of the boys.

Spring is one of the four seasons—the foremost one. I like spring; it is such a nice time to go a skating. The buds have commenced to sprout on the potatoes down cellar. Last Christmas Ma said when spring come she would give me a lamb. I haven't got the lamb yet, but ma gave me a lamming because I cried for it. That was more'n ma had promised, and it made me mourn, too. Our old cat has got 2 young kitens, and such a tail! Sometimes she licks 'em when they try to help her lick some milk. She is the biggest. Cats are full of Spring. The end. SARAH ANN.

STOPPING A NEWSPAPER.—An exchange has the following allegory, which we commend to careful consideration: "A certain man hit his toe against a pebble, and fell headlong to the ground. He was vexed, and under the influence of anger and self-sufficiency he kicked the mother earth right saucily. With imperturbable gravity he looked to see the earth itself dissolve and come to naught. But the earth remained, and only his poor foot was injured in the encounter. This is the way of some men. An article in a newspaper touches them in a weak spot, and forthwith he sends to stop his paper. With great complacency he looks to see the crash, when he finds he only hit his own toe against a world that does not perceptibly feel the shock, and injures no one but himself."—Printers' Gazette.

—A young man from the country went into a drug store the other day, and seeing people freely patronizing the soda fountain, at length stepped up and called for a drink of "that 'ere" for himself. After swallowing the contents of the glass, and laying his money with a satisfied air upon the counter, he said: "Mister, what do you call that little thing so?" "That is soda water." "Well," said he, "I s'posed it was sweetened wind."

MOANING.

Oh! weary, weary days that pass,
And mock me in my bitter pain;
Oh! sunshine, falling on the grass,
And sobbing April rain,
Only so short a time ago,
I dreamed a little dream of bliss,
And left the longer space for woe,
Like this, poor heart, like this.

Only so little time ago,
With a new sense of trust, I lay,
And thought, since God has blest me so,
My cares are swept away!
A fresh young life was linked to mine,
And the soft breathing in my ear
Swept o'er me like the hush divine
Of angels praying near.

I thought that peace had come again
To fill my longing soul at last,
And recompense me for the pain
Of all my anguished past.
And said, how rich I am to-day,
With my three children on my heart,
And the four angels borne away,
My household set apart.

YET REJOICING.

Ah well, am I not rich the same,
Although my angels have increased?
And one dear bounding step that came
Has now forever ceased?
If in my arms I hold but two,
Where one short week I held the three,
I know, though Christ has left so few,
He keeps the rest for me.

Oh, weary, weary days like these
Can never bring my daughter pain,
Only an everlasting peace
In her dear heart can reign.
And Heavenly dreams of bliss untold,
And wings that sweep o'er endless space,
Have brought my lamb within the fold—
My angels face to face.

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.
EXETER, May 17.

The plastering of the walls of the Robinson Female Seminary was finished last week, and presents a very fine appearance. The work was done by the square yard, and the total expense was not far from $2000. It was to be done to the acceptance of the architect, Rufus Sargent, Esq., of Newburyport, who inspected it last week, and expressed himself highly pleased with its appearance. The contract was made by Messrs. Geo. H. & Oliver S. Giddings of this town, both well known to many of your Portsmouth readers, as quondam members of the "mason's gang" at the Navy Yard. Capt. Geo. H. Giddings will also be remembered as a gallant soldier in the 3d N. H. Regiment. He enlisted as a private the day after the first Bull Run battle, and his soldierly qualities and close attention to duty won for him repeated promotion. On two occasions Capt G. resigned easy positions on detached duty to share with his company the dangers and fatigues of duty in trenches and on picket. He was wounded twice at the battle of Flussel's Mills,—in the head and thigh, but declined proffered leave of absence, and accepted a staff appointment under Gen. Terry. This he soon relinquished and joined his regiment. For the gallant conduct on this occasion he was made a Captain, which position he held to the close of the Rebellion.—Capt. Giddings was mustered out with the 3d in August, 1865, having been in the service upwards of four years.

Messrs. Lane & Rollins, our enterprising News Agents, have removed from the old Flagg & Fellowes' stand to No. 41 Water Street, opposite the Town Hall. Their new store has been thoroughly refitted, and presents a very neat and attractive appearance. In addition to their large stock of newspapers, periodicals, &c., they have an excellent assortment of stationery, fancy goods, &c. The store is under the charge of Mr. Rollins, Mr. Lane remaining at his old stand in Ranlet's Block.

G. Swaine Buckley, with a talented minstrel company, announces an entertainment here on Saturday 22d inst.—Swaine is a host in himself, being doubtless the most versatile performer on the road, pursuing his favorite art con amore.

Granite State Lodge, Knights of St. Crispin, of Newton, announce a grand Levee on Wednesday evening, 19th inst. H.

—On account of some article which appeared in one of the Philadelphia dailies, the president of the North Pennsylvania Railroad has prohibited the sale of it on the cars of the company. The power to take such action would be an interesting question for the courts to decide upon.—Exchange.

We think the courts would decide that the Railroad has the power to prevent such sale in their cars, which are made for travel, and not for traffic.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Curious Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas, and keeping in their locality, at our wholesale prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I recovered, and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

The Governor of Louisiana has issued a proclamation requiring all vessels from Nicaraguan and Central American ports and the port of Vera Cruz to be quarantined for a period of ten days.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says the Bartlett Mills have voted to stop all their machinery and suspend all their work this month. They have been running at a loss for the past year, as all the cotton factories in town have, with one exception, and the market has been so dull that, with that one exception, goods have been accumulating. The Bartlett have nearly a million yards unsold, the Ocean have 50 per cent. more; and the James, when they suspended, had as much more. The Bartlett suspension now, however, is chiefly to improve their machinery.

A FISH STORY.—A fisherman reports that a whale fouled an anchor of a fishing vessel off Portsmouth harbor, a day or two since, and getting entangled in the flukes and cable, dragged the vessel off at a fearful rate for an hour or more, but finally escaped from his bonds and "blowed" as he left.

At Fisherville, on the 14th, Mrs. Margaret Haley, a woman about 50 years old, in passing down the steps from the house of a neighbor, fell and broke both bones in her leg, just above the ankle, so badly that the bones protruded through the flesh, cutting the leg nearly half off and severing the artery.

A large barn in West Concord, owned by a Granite Company, was burnt, with its contents, very early Sunday morning. Nine heavy oxen—some of the finest in the county—perished in the flames. They were used, in transporting stone from the quarry to the railroad, and were valued at about $200. Considerable hay and grain, implements of teaming and a faithful dog, a pet of the quarrymen, were also burned. The whole loss is estimated at from $3000 to $4000. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, and the frequency of recent fires attributed to the same cause give rise to serious apprehensions for the future. Orville B. Moore has been arrested as the incendiary.

The Nashua Telegraph thinks this the most important action ever taken by the city, and also that the measure will place Nashua in the front rank of New England cities.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Let Us Protect Ourselves.

The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them, to some extent, from unwholesome influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions, or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. Therefore, it is wisdom, it is prudence, it is common sense to provide against such contingencies, by taking an ANTIDOTE IN ADVANCE; in other words, by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—the most complete protective against all the epidemic and endemic maladies that has ever been administered in any country.

As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whoever suffers the pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be procured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this invaluable tonic and ALTERATIVE would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the nervous it is also especially recommended, and in cases of confirmed constipation it also affords speedy and permanent relief.

In all cases of fever and ague the BITTERS are more powerful than any other remedy or medicine, while the most dangerous cases of bilious fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the HOSTETTER BITTERS profess to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment we cordially recommend an early application to the BITTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.

Pain Supposed to be the lot of as poor mortals, as inevitable as death, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used in any emergency, when we are made to feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the depressing influence of disease.

Such a remedial agent exists in the "PAIN KILLER," the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal ices of the Polar region, or beneath the burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of cold, coughs, bowel complaint, cholera, dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its agency in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of cuts, burns, bruises, sores, sprains, sting of insects, and other modes of suffering, has secured for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. Call for Perry Davis' Vegetable "Pain Killer," and take none other. ☞ Sold by all druggists and grocers. a18

TWO TABLE-SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug from acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

Brandreth's Pills vs. Bleeding.

Bleeding may give ease, because the blood left has more room; but the ease does not last, and is followed by permanent weakness.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS relieve the circulation and give ease more surely and almost as quickly as bleeding; but Brandreth's Pills never hurt, and the good they do is permanent, inasmuch as they take only what the body and blood are better without. Purgation with these pills will be found

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration; for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be used to make healthy good blood and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the liver and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the acrid gastric juice to digest the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to dry up night sweats, to allay hectic fever, and thus they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient pines and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are inflammatory or ready to become so. Reasoning. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The patient does not have enough liver to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring about a healthy action of the liver; the liver will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 220 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients desire to have their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yj a4

NAVY YARD MATTERS.—Rear Admirals Stringham and Stribling visited the Yard on Tuesday, and were honored with a salute of thirteen guns.

Mr. Moses A. Safford of Kittery has been appointed Store Clerk in Bureau of Steam Engineering.

Mr. Ichabod Cole of Eliot, lately discharged from the principal Clerkship in the Constructor's Department, which place he had held for 22 years, has been employed as Writer for Steam Engineering, in place of M. A. Safford, promoted. Several months ago a soldier had the position of Store Clerk in that Department, and was discharged that a copperhead might fill the place. Mr. Safford being then employed as Writer. After the election of President Grant, the Store Clerk, hoping to save his own neck, wrote to the Navy Department to the effect that the business of the office could be done by him without the assistance of a Writer. The former Store Clerk, a staunch Republican, applied for re-appointment, and was informed that the position was abolished, his copperhead successor being discharged, leaving Mr. Safford in charge. Now, when the work in the office is no harder than it has been for months, Mr. Safford gets the promotion he deserves, and a position is made for an open opponent of the present administration, who has been one of the most effective workers for the party that sympathized with rebellion.

NEAT STOCK.—Among the largest breeders of neat cattle in this vicinity, are Messrs. Frank Jones and C. Hayes & Son, of this city, and Col. J. W. Pierce of Greenland. Col. Pierce has no doubt the finest herd of Durhams in the State, numbering in all upwards of 80 head of the purest stock, including the thoroughbred bull President and another of note. This estate and stock are in charge of Mr. Walter Scott.

Hon. Frank Jones is fast extending his lands, and always clearing and improving them, enlarging his barns, &c. He has now about thirty head of cattle, many of them young; and his stud of horses is also large. Mr. H. R. Stoddard, his neighbor, has also a large and fine mixed herd. Messrs. Hayes breed the Ayrshires, and usually keep about 40 head on their large and growing farm.

The Messrs. Jones, at their Gravelly Ridge farm, fancy the Jerseys, and are getting a good stock of grades and pure bloods.

BASE BALL.—The much-talked-of match between the Granite States and a selected Nine will come off at the Plains this afternoon at 2 o'clock, weather permitting. The playing nines will probably be as follows: Granite States,—Salter, Maloon, Donnell, Yeaton, Spalding, Stackpole, Gaines, Frye and Tredick; Opposing Nine,—Marshall, Dow, Paul, Kercher, Folsom, L. Spalding, Hackett, Bush and Moses.—The game promises to be a lively one, and the winning nine will be compelled to work for their victory.

☞ Mr. T. P. Moses is to bring out on Tuesday night June 8th, the beautiful and popular Fairy Opera of "Leila," at the Temple. Thirty girls and young ladies will take part, in appropriate costumes; and Mr. M. has painted two large new Scenes expressly for the occasion. No pains will be spared to present an attractive entertainment, and Mr. Moses' skill and taste are guarantee for success in this respect.

CHAPLAIN THEODORE B. BARTOW, U. S. N., died quite suddenly in this city early Sunday morning, at the age of 66. He was appointed in 1841; was the first on the list, and has been on duty here during the past six years.

☞ We learn that Capt. Knowlton and Officer Meloon have had a satisfactory settlement of the stabbing affray, and the suit against Capt. K. has been withdrawn. Mr. Meloon was more comfortable on Tuesday.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

MASONIC.—De Witt Clinton Commandery have voted to visit Newburyport, June 24, to take part in the celebration of St. John's Day.

☞ Meeting of Mercantile Library Association this evening.

☞ See Auction column for various Sales to-day and hereafter.

Cushing, during her life, and the principal, at her decease, to such uses and persons as she may in writing appoint, and, in default of any such appointment, to her heirs at law;

She gives and bequeaths to her Executors $20,000, or so much as may be found necessary, for the following uses and purposes: Firstly, to place an iron fence around her lot in the cemetery, with suitable monuments for herself, and two tablets (for right and left corners for her two sisters), and to leave a fund with the Trustees of said cemetery in Portsmouth, of sufficient amount to pay for a guaranty agreement that said lot, fence and monuments shall be kept in perpetual repair; and

Secondly, to purchase three feet or more of land on one or both sides of Richards Avenue in Portsmouth, commencing at the edge of land now occupied and improved as appurtenant to dwelling houses, and extending to the South Road, and add the same to the sidewalk on one or both sides of said Avenue, as may be thought advisable by her Executors, or by some suitable and competent Surveyor or Engineer to be selected by them; and for erecting suitable fences or walls, repairing those already erected, and setting out trees and improving the side-walks along one or both sides of said Avenue, if they shall deem it expedient,—and said purchase and improvements shall be effected by her Executors, at such time and in such manner as they may think advisable.

All the remainder of her worldly estate, real or personal, after the settlement of her estate and providing for the legacies, bequests and payments as hereinbefore provided, she gives, devises and bequeaths to the daughters of her late brother, Jacob Sheafe, and the children of the late Col. HOW THE PACIFIC RAILROAD WAS FINISHED.—A correspondent of the Cleveland (O.) Leader, writes as follows from Promontory Point, Utah, May 1.

Lively times these here. I understand that it has been announced throughout the country that the last rail of the great Pacific railroad is to be spiked down on the 8th day of this month, and that the event is to be publicly celebrated at this point. But you are behind the times. The road was graded three weeks ago, and we have had the loudest celebration over it ever gotten up in these parts. If you haven't heard of it, here's a sensation for you, warranted true.

Everybody supposes that the two roads have been doing their level best to meet each other; and so they have, but not at this end. If nobody had said anything, we should have had a double track across the continent before long. The two companies—the Central and Union—don't love each other, and the idea of meeting wasn't agreeable. The consequence was, they wouldn't shake hands when they were in easy shaking distance, but turned the cold shoulder and passed by. I tell you, Mr. Editor, these two roads have been built parallel to each other for a distance of fifty-three miles, and they haven't met yet except to have a jolly row!

Fourth of July stands no show compared with our fun here. One road followed its surveys, so did the other. The surveys ran into each other, so did the roads, so did the companies, so did the men, so did the clubs and stones. The roads have often been in sight of each other, sometimes only a few yards apart, and once they crossed. But they haven't met. Now, if you ever saw two trains, tearing along at a frightful rate, trying to pass each other on the same track, you can imagine what followed when these roads tried to push on side by side.

First they would come on each other's banks. Dirt-cheap out your way costs something here. The Central dug from the Union's embankment, and the Union repaired its breach by making one in the Central. Digging is warm work, if you ever tried it, and it warmed up the workmen on both roads when they tried to dig each other out.

The Unions cursed the Centrals, and the latter damned the Unions. Words were found too weak, so they talked with fists and clubs, and the famous builders, old soldiers many of them, had some glorious scrimmages. Then they came to blasting. One side would touch off a young earthquake without giving notice to the other, and a shower of stones among them would be the first sign of it.

The other party, in acknowledgment of the salute, at once blasted out a mine with nitro-glycerine, aiming it at the other camp, killing several mules, but fortunately no men. Things now looked serious, and war was declared. Both parties armed for the fray. The Central chiqué sent to San Francisco for powder, and the Union to St. Louis. Fists, blasts, were getting tame, and the combatants called for powder and blood.

A grand ovation was ahead. The road was to be finished with a magnificent display of fireworks, when at the very critical moment came word that the two companies had shaken hands at Washington.

The men dropped their arms, and now we are told the road is to be spliced.

The compromise was that the Central Pacific railroad company abandons its own grading, and takes the Union company's line which the latter pays for. The Union thus gets the bonds of the government for the 53 miles.

Bonds were at the bottom of the whole trouble!

—"Revenge," says the proverb, "is sweet." Different men have different ways of showing it. My friend Brown's way is harmless and humorous. Two Joneses live next door to each other, and having to call on one of them, Brown, of course, went to the wrong house. A crabbed servant answered the bell, and on Brown's asking, "Is this Mr. John Jones's?" she replied snappishly, as if she had been bothered with many such inquiries, "No, it ain't," and slammed the door in his face. Brown walked out a hundred yards or so, when a bright idea struck him. He returned once and rang the bell again. Again the crabbed servant appeared. "Who said it was ?" asked Brown triumphantly, and instantly walked away.

—An intolerable bore, having talked a friend nearly out of his senses, finally struck out on "the oyster," which he called "one of the most remarkable specimens of creative wisdom extant," when his friend interrupted him and "closed the debate," with the exclamation, The oyster! Ah, yes, the oyster is a glorious fellow; he always knows when to shut up."

—At a party given by a great banker, who had made millions on government securities and the like, a lady wit pointed out to her companion, also a banker, the wife of the host, remarking, "What a splendid creature! She ought to be a countess!" "Oh, yes; beautiful enough and clever enough," was the reply, "but perhaps she prefers to be a discountess."

—A German in New Orleans left a will consisting of these words only:—"Mrs. Roper is my heiress." Their was a codicil nearly as short, saying that her name was properly spelled Loper. The will was admitted to probate.

—A gentleman in Alexandria, Va., covered his winter supply of potatoes with earth in his cellar. They sprouted and grew, and he has already dug a good quantity of ripe potatoes.

RURAL ITEMS.—The application of lime will destroy sorrel.

Sow a pound of two of white clover with the red clover and timothy, in seeding down land intented for pasture.

The flowers of the hydrangea, which are naturally pink, may be made blue by planting the shrub in a soil impregnated with iron.

The test of an egg is to hold it to the light from a dark place—in a dark room to a candle, or in both hands, tunnel form, to the window by day—if it shows a yolk color it is good; if opaque, throw it away.

The New England Farmer advises the construction of a cistern or tank of a capacity of from two to four hogsheads, to receive the soap suds and slops from the sink and laundry of each farm house.

Muck should not be taken to the field direct from the swamps. It should be exposed to the atmosphere for six months or more, the longer the better, and composted with lime or unleached ashes.

Clover ploughed in has three effects. It gives vegetable mould. The roots bring to the soil plant-food out of the subsoil; and the acid produced when the decay is going on aids in dissolving the mineral parts of the soil. In granite lands this last is of as much importance as either of the others.

There is one simple test as to whether the manures about your stables and outhouses are mixed and composted as they should be to preserve the whole of their fertilizing power. Do they emit a bad smell? If your pens or stables give a foul report to the nostrils, you are not using absorbents enough; shovel in the peat or rotton leaves, and sprinkle with plaster till the dung-heap is as inodorous as a garden bed.

—A unique order to prevent furious driving was that Sir of Charles Napier in India in 1842. His order read: "Gentlemen, as you are beggars, may, if they like, ride to the devil when they get on horseback; but neither gentlemen nor beggars have a right to send other people there, which will be the case if furious riding be allowed in camp or beyond."

H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street, Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

The Reasons Why

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, felling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)

3. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine can.)

4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)

5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

WIFE AND I.

We quarreled this morning, wife and I—
We were out of temper, and scarce knew why,
Though the cause was trivial and common;
But to look in our eyes you'd have sworn that we both
Were a couple of enemies, spiteful and wroth—
Not a wedded man and woman.

Wife, like a tragedy-queen in a play,
Tossed her sweet little head in as lofty a way
As so little a woman was able;
She clenched her lips with a sneer and a frown,
While I, being rougher, stamped up and down,
Like a careless groom in a stable.

You'd have thought us the bitterest (seeing us then)
Of little women and little men,
You'd have laughed at our spite and passion;
And would never have dreamed that a storm like this [kiss,
Would be rainbowed to tears by that sunlight, a
Till we talked in the old fond fashion.

Yet the storm was over in less than an hour,
And was followed soon by a sunny shower,
And that again by embraces;
Yet so little the meaning was understood,
That we almost felt ashamed to be good,
And wore a blush on our faces.

Then she, as a woman, much braver became,
And tried to bear the whole weight of the blame,
By her kindness herself reproving;
When, seeing her humble and knowing her true,
I all at once became humble, too,
And very contrite and loving.

But seeing I acted an humble part,
She laughed outright with a frolicsome heart—
A laugh as careless as Cupid;
And the laughter ringing along my brain,
Till I almost felt in a passion again,
And became quite stubborn and stupid.

And this was the time for her arms to twine
Around this stubborn neck of mine,
Like the arms of a maid round a lover,
And feeling them there, with their warmth, you know,
I laughed quite a different laugh, and so
The storm (as I called it) was over.

So then we could talk with power to please;
As, though the passing of storms like these Leaves a certain felicity
Of getting easily angry again,
Yet they free the heart and rebuke the brain,
And teach us a rough humility.

You see that we love one another so well,
That we find more comfort than you can tell
In jingling our bells and corals;
In the fiercer fights of a world so drear
We keep our spirits so close and clear,
That we need such trivial quarrels.

In the great fierce fights of the world we try
To shield one another, my wife and I,
Like a brave strong man and woman;
But the trivial quarrels of days and nights
Unshackle our souls from the great fierce fights,
And keep us lowly and human.

Clouds would grow in the quietest mind,
And make it unmeet to mix with its kind,
Were nature less wise as a mother;
And with storms like ours there must flutter out
From the bosom the hoarded-up darkness and doubt—
The excess of our love for each other.

JUVENILE YANKEE TRICK.—In the village of B——, Mass., the boys were in the habit of playing base-ball on the green. A cross-grained old chap, who kept a crockery store near by, was very much annoyed by the sport, and when a ball came in his way, would seize it, take it to his store, and put it out of the way. The boys bore it till they thought forbearance had ceased to be a virtue, and one day, late in the season, they had their revenge. The old fellow made a prize of one of the offending articles, and hastening into his store in great glee, put it into the stove. presently a terrible explosion took place! The store was blown "sky high," and crockery, glass and china were scattered promiscuously, and Old Crusty himself was precipitated through a window regardless of expense or appearance. It is needless to explain that the youngsters had charged the ball with gun-powder by the way of a hint to the old fellow to mind his own business in future.

—An Indiana paper tells this story of a jealous mother. She had several children when she married her present husband, who was then a widower, likewise blessed with a large flock. Not long ago, leading in family prayer, the good old man asked for blessings on his own children, but did not particularly refer to those of his wife. The mother had, however, been watchful, and as soon as devotions were over mentioned the omission. A slight quarrel followed, at the close of which the old lady hit her husband on the head with a fire shovel, and since that time there has been no discrimination.

—Oliver Dalrymple of Stillwater, Minnesota, is probably the largest wheat-grower in the country. This year he has 2000 acres sowed with wheat, besides large fields in other crops. He expects to harvest 50,000 bushels of wheat. Last year he employed one hundred men and an equal number of horses in gathering and threshing his crop.

—A Minnesota school teacher lately appeared in some parlor theatricals, and the school board, indignant at such unpardonable conduct, voted his discharge. The public, likewise indignant at the board, met and offered that body the alternative of rescinding their action or resigning.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.50 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future; and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs, for which I sought by physicians an enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach; for more than ten years, and suffered what words never can describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete health and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY,

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1869.

The News.

The Spanish and rebel troops in Cuba are suffering from fever.

Sixteen southern and western States are represented in the Memphis Commercial Convention.

An Indian battle is reported to have taken place on the 13th instant near Fort McPherson, in which the Cheyennes lost a large number in killed and wounded, while the troops—seven companies of the Fifth Cavalry, under command of General Carr—lost but three men and killed and the same number wounded.

Gen. Dyer is acquitted.

Late Arizona advices are to the effect that Indian depredations are numerous. The savages murdered Milton S. Hadley, a pioneer citizen of the territory, on the 18th of April, near Prescott, and also captured and destroyed the mail from California near Tueson. The mail rider barely escaped.

The congressional committee of ways and means will spend next week in Philadelphia, and in August they will continue their customs investigations in San Fancisco.

The crevasses on the Mississippi, near New Orleans, continue to grow worse. New breaks have occurred, and all attempts to repair the old one in the St. Bernard parish have been abandoned.

Since the opening of the Pacific Railway, tea has been received at St. Louis thirty days from Yokohama.

In Cuba, a fight nine miles from Puerto Principe, took place recently, with severe loss on both sides, but the Spaniards seem to have had the worst of it, and it is said a batallion of colored troops left their Spanish colors and officers, and went over to the rebels.

Renewed rebel outrages are reported in Georgia.

A storm of hail and rain last Sunday, did much damage near Jamaica, L. I.

Magazines for June.

Godey's Lady's Book; frontispiece, The Watering Place.—Godey is a welcome visitor in every family.

Arthur's Home Magazine — Once a Month—and The Children's Hour—all of good tendency,—the Children's Hour admirable.

Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine; frontispiece, In the Terrace.

The Lady's Friend, edited by Mrs. Henry Peterson.—Frontispiece, a beautiful engraving of Isabella, in Measure for Measure.

All the above are published in Philadelphia.

The Phrenological Journal has engravings, and a description of our new fellow citizens, The Alaskans, and a good tribute to the memory of James Harper.

Harper's New Monthly; leading article, The Aurora Borealis, or Northern Light; by Prof. Loomis, illustrated.

Good Health, is the name of a new Monthly Journal of Physical and Mental Culture. Vol. 1, No. 1, for June, No. 9, is before us, looking well, and reading well. 20 cts. per number.—Published by Alexander Mere, Boston, and sold by the New England News Co., Boston; and by the Newsmen generally.

MINISTER MOTLEY'S FUTURE COURSE is looked forward to with great interest. It is the general impression that the President and Secretary of State substantially agree with the views expressed by Mr. Sumner in his speech. The New York Times' Washington correspondent writes that the settlement of this question will not be immediately attempted, unless the English government initiate negotiations. A foreign war is one of the last things which President Grant would desire, but, at the same time, the settlement of a question of the magnitude of the Alabama difficulty on any other than terms satisfactory and honorable to the United States as a nation, is one of the last things he would adopt or sanction. A firm, temperate policy will be pursued, and no undue haste at a solution of the question will be used, while the present angry tone and feeling in England lasts. One thing is certain, that Minister Motley will not the first thing endeavor to bring about an understanding on the subject.

—The New York Commercial says: "H. T. Helmbold returns an income of $159,205. All this comes from advertising. Dr. Helmbold's expenses for advertising average over $10,000 a week. The road to fortune is through the advertising columns of the newspapers."

The Lisbon gold mines have yielded $16,000.

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.

RYE, May 17.

Mr. Nathan Berry, who resides near Breakfast Hill," Greenland, lost a valuable Ox last week by a singular accident. It appears that the ox by some means broke loose from his "tie up" and got into the "mow," where the floor is only of single boards, and not being of sufficient strength to support such a weight, the animal went through, was caught by his body on one of the flooring timbers, and was thereby hung, not being able to reach the ground with his feet, and being, as it were, exactly balanced. He was found in this condition in the morning, and was quite dead.

The warm weather of last week brought out the buds and leaves on the trees, and also brought along the "Bobo-links" and "Humming Birds." And everybody who has a taste for bird melody, can gratify it any morning by getting up in season. In fact, some might think perhaps, that the only musical talent in these parts belongs to the feathered tribe, and it is undoubtedly a fact that no "Musical Union" or "Choral Society" has been formed to take part in the "Great Race Festival" at Boston next month. That there is some musical talent here, although, perhaps, at present, in somewhat a crude, if not undeveloped state, cannot be doubted, after listening to the "vocal efforts" put forth by the rising generation, on most any of the pleasant evenings during the week. And it might seem a little singular to a stranger, who has had occasion to hear and judge, that Rye is not to contribute her share towards swelling the "Grand Chorus" at Mr. Gilmore's Jubilee.

The upward tendency of the thermometer last week, had the effect of bringing out the bathers, as well as the leaves, &c. The party indulging in the luxury was not large, but the report was that the Ocean was in fine condition and the sensations of the salt water as refreshing as in August. If, however, the fair bathers had delayed toying with the enchanting surf until a few hours later, it is a question, whether they would have taken their first bath of the season in May. R.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

ELIOT, May 18.

Editors of N. H. Gazette:—I notice by your paper and Maine papers that a large number of sheep and lambs have died the present Spring in New Hampshire and in Maine; therefore would inform you that hundreds have died in Eliot and the North part of York. We started with 28 sheep last Fall; 6 old sheep have died, and 24 lambs out of 26. The mortality prevails in all the farmers' flocks in this section—taking from 5 to 25 lambs in a flock, and many old sheep.

We impute the mortality to last year's pasturage, the season being wet and the feed not sweet, and the sheep come to the housing poor; and much hay was damaged when stowed. The sheep that die are poor, and make no milk for the lambs. Yours, JOSEPH FROST.

☞ Mr. Charles T. Emery, farmer, of Newington, lost a good Cow on Tuesday. She was being led, tied behind a cart; and by jumping back suddenly, ruptured a blood-vessel in her neck or head, so that she died shortly after—but as she ate well, it was hoped she would recover, and so she was not butchered for beef.

New Hampshire Items.

The removal of the machine and repair shops of the Grand Trunk Railroad from Portland, Maine, to Gorham, is now under consideration.

The annual meeting of the Cheshire Railroad was held at Keene last week. The old directors were reelected, and were authorized at their discretion to subscribe $20,000 for stock of the Monadnock Railroad.

It has recently been decided by the Supreme Court, in the State, that travellers must withdraw their baggage from the keeping of railroad companies upon arrival; that the companies are under no obligation to store the baggage, and are not liable for its loss if "not removed within a reasonable time."

The store of Mr. A. B. Woodworth of Lisbon was entered by burglars on Saturday night last, the safe was broken open and a small steel vault carried away containing notes and valuable papers to the amount of about $15,000, belonging to different persons.

With the child, at Dover, on Saturday, and taken to Lawrence on Monday, where the girl was restored to her mother. Brockway was sentenced to four months in the House of Correction on a charge of vagrancy, but appealed, and was held for trial on that and several other charges.

Chas. H. Brockway, who kidnapped his little daughter from a school in Lawrence last week, was captured,

FRENCH HUSBANDS AND WOMEN'S RIGHTS.—Several gentlemen in Paris, whose wives participated in the meetings emphatically advocating the emancipation of women, played their spouses the following little trick:

A lawyer, whom they engaged for this purpose, called at their houses in their absence, and desired to see Madame. Madame was occupied with her toilet, but the visitor insisted upon seeing her. So she was obliged to receive the lawyer, who very politely handed her a stamped paper. The lady read it in surprise, and turned pale. The lawyer left her. What did the paper contain? An application for a divorce on the part of the husband. The lady passed long hours of painful suspense. At last her husband came home from his office.

"My friend, what is the meaning of this paper?" she asked, with a pale face. "Why, it is an application for a divorce from you. I believe you want to be free! I do not want to be your tyrant any longer." "I am sure," she said, with her kindest smile, "you have wet your feet, and will catch cold, dearest husband! Shall I get you a cup of tea?" "Oh, no, I am quite well," replied the wicked husband, laughing inwardly at her desire to do something to make him comfortable; "I am quite well, and I am sure you will likewise get well as soon as you are free."

"But, my dear husband, I do not understand what you mean! Shall I fetch your slippers?" "No, thank you, why should you impose on yourself this slavish yoke which you have ever borne? I heard your cries for deliverance, I am oppressing you, as you say, and henceforth I shall no longer work for you. Hitherto we men had to bear all the burdens and cares; we toiled all day long, passed sleepless nights in order to devise some ways of making money, and struggled with a thousand competitors in order to earn our daily bread, while you were dressing, taking rides, and allowing your idlers to make love to you. All this will cease. Down with slavery! We are in duty bound to restore such poor women as you to freedom and independence! Hurrah for liberty!" An hour afterwards the two sat down to supper. The lady no longer talks of her wrongs and her desire to recover her liberty. Similar scenes occurred at the houses of other gentlemen.

—It is said that at the close of 1868 there were 109,177 miles of railroad in the world. Of this amount Europe had 56,660 miles, Asia 4474, Africa 583, Australia 789, South America 1424. The United States leads every other country, having 42,255 miles, and Great Britain stands next with 14,247, or only a little more than a third as much as we. France is third with 9934 miles and Prussia has 5926 miles.

—The other day a large Norway rat attacked a brood of chickens at Barnesville, Ohio. The mother hen at once came to the rescue, and fought so gallantly that she killed the rat in a few moments. This lack of security has been amply provided for by the establishment of the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, at 40 State street, Boston. A Household Elixir adapted to all Climates.

It would be a happy thing for the world if all the excitants at present used in the practice of medicine could be swept out of existence, and HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS substituted in their place. There is a probability, too, that this desirable substitution may one day be accomplished. Certain it is, that the GREAT VEGETABLE TONIC is gradually displacing them, and that the confidence of the people in its sanitary and saving properties increases with every passing year. "Figures that cannot lie" show this to be the fact. No medicinal preparation enjoys the like popularity among all classes and conditions, in every section of the country. As an appetiser, a general invigorant, a remedy for dyspepsia, a cure for intermittent and remittent fevers, a gentle cathartic, a specific for flatulency and sour stomach, a gentle diuretic, a nervine, a blood depurant, a specific for sick-headache, a mild anodyne, and, above all, as a PROTECTION AGAINST EPIDEMICS, it is unquestionably the STANDARD MEDICINE of the whole United States. In the towns and cities it is literally a HOUSEHOLD STAPLE. Mothers believe in it. They find it a "present help in time of trouble,"—a safe and pleasant remedy for the various ailments to which their sex is exclusively subject. Men believe in it, because it refreshes and invigorates the body and the mind, and tones both without exciting either.

Holloway's Pills.—Affections of the chest, if neglected, are the sure precursors of dangerous pulmonary maladies. A few doses of HOLLOWAY'S PILLS, taken at the commencement of a cough or cold, will always carry off the febrile elements that generate and feed it; and HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, applied with brisk friction over the lungs, will aid in removing the tightness of the chest and completing the cure. Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cents.

Thousands of children die annually of Croup.—Now, mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment in the house, you would never fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I put up my Liniment, and I never heard of a child dying with Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cases of cures have been reported to me, and many state that a single $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throats, Colic, Sprains, Bruises, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Spasms, Old Sores, and Pains in the back and chest. No one once tries it who is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full Directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists. Depot 10 Park Place, New York. a29 removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants; it is a most powerful and efficient tonic. Effete matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a regular manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in pint bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CHESTNUT STREET, BOSTON. Pain is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals, as inevitable as death, and liable at any time to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used in any emergency, when we are made to feel the excruciating agonies of pain, or the depressing influence of disease.

Such a remedial agent exists in the "PAIN KILLER," the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal ice of the Polar region, or beneath the burning sun of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of cold, coughs, bowel complaints, cholera, dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name and place in the affections of that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of cuts, burns, bruises, sores, sprains, sting of insects, and other causes of suffering, has secured for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day.

☞ Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. Call for Perry Davis' Vegetable "Pain Killer," and take none other. ☞ Sold by all druggists and grocers. a13

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect SAFETY.

TWO TABLE-SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla: its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this inestimable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavoidable or injurious.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relaxe the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, makes it easy of raising and expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless skill great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, enables the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood, without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they cut, they slash, they burn, they poison, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, ulceration, inflammation, plenty of matter in the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and from weighs 226 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yis4

New Canvas!
New Costumes!
New Properties!

Opposition Invited!
Competition Defied!

Despising the new fangled humbuggery of the age, the Manager does not announce a combination of Ten, Nine, Six or Four, exhibitions in one, nor impose upon the public any hybrid Circus and Menagerie, which are invariably found to contain but a weak apology for either, nor does he deem it expedient to resort to a dazzling street parade—he simply proposes to exhibit a full developed and intelligible Circus performance, but superior to any presented by the nondescript traveling exhibitions now in vogue, who simply "keep the promise to the ear and break it gently to the hope.

MR. STICKNEY having banished the antique style and reached perfection in this immense organization, will offer no stale and exhausted acts, but new features and fresh attractions never before introduced to the public, and will surprise and delight the eye. The magnificent scenes in the arena will be enriched and beautified by gorgeous paraphernalia and superb music, and will be rendered with faultless grace and marvelous splendor.

☞ On the morning of the Exhibition, a Beautiful Band Wagon, drawn by six horses, and containing Prof. Sexton's Opera Band, from Claque de Napoleon, Paris, composed of musicians of the highest order of excellence, will parade through the different Streets.

AT THE TEMPLE!

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 8TH,

By Thirty Young Misses,

Under the particular training of Mr. T. P. MOSES, who will preside at the Piano and direct the performance.

In addition to the Scenery belonging to the house, Mr. Moses has just finished painting two Handsome Fairy Scenes, nine feet high by sixteen long, each on Panorama cloth, expressly for the occasion.

The twenty-one Mountain Maidens and nine Fairies will appear in appropriate and beautiful Costumes.

In addition, also, to the attractions of "Lalla," Mr. ANGELO BECK of Boston, a young man of wonderful skill on the Piano, will entertain the audience, AT THE CLOSE OF FIRST AND SECOND PARTS, by playing very difficult and beautiful Operatic Pieces and Airs with variations, by eminent composers. By request he will play the familiar air "Mocking Bird," with some pieces of his own, especially his inimitable Whistling Imitations of a dozen Mocking Birds together, which of itself is worth the price of ticket.

Doors open at 7½; to commence at 8 o'clock.

TICKETS, to all part of the house, 35 cents,—for sale at the apothecary stores of J. H. Thacher, Wm. R. Preston, the music store of E. A. Joy, at Butler & Leighton's on Daniel Street, F. W. Ham's on Congress Street, and at the Temple.

☞ For a long time, all passers on South Road toward Middle, as well as the dwellers in that vicinity, have been disturbed by the almost incessant yapping of a couple of worthless dogs.—Several shots had been fired at them by neighbors, but they seemed to bear a charmed life; until early one evening recently, a gentleman who was driving by the house in a wagon, stopped his team when they made the usual onslaught of barks, and levelling a gun he had with him for some purpose, laid one of them low in the dust. None knew who he was, or whence or why he came; but all felt that he did that neighborhood a favor,—as would similar treatment to half the dogs in the city be a public benefit.

CIRCUS.—The good people of this city will be pleased to learn by advertisment in another column, that we are to be favored with a visit from Stickney's Railroad Circus from New York. No great outside Pageant, but a full and complete performance in the Ring. Don't forget Friday, May 28th. NUFF CED.

☞ Some of the Police have suggested that we publish for them a Card, denying the charges of the Opposition organ, as to their robbing a prisoner—but we advised them to take no notice whatever of the absurd and scandalous charges,—as no sensible person would credit any such statements from such a source, and any reputation which can be damaged by that sheet, is past saving by salt.

☞ This May-be a very pleasant sort of a month, but it doesn't seem to strike people generally so, thus far, in this vicinity. After two days of tropical heat, we have had a week or more of dark and cloudy weather, and now, Wednesday afternoon, a cold rain-storm seems to be commencing.

☞ We learn that the appointment of Mr. Ichabod Cole as Writer in Bureau of Steam Engineering at the Navy Yard, was made by order of the Secretary of the Navy! It causes considerable of a breeze among the staunch Republicans of Maine, who have been left out in the cold.

☞ To-day, the 20th of May, is traditionally the time for turning Cattle to Pasture in this region—the grazing season lasting five months, until the 20th October. The feed is probably better than the average.

THE ORIGINAL MAUD MULLER.

A Whit Wittier than Whittier's.

BY J. F. Y.

Maud Muller, on a day in June,
Sold lager in her pa's saloon.
Singing, while taking her lager straight—
(The drink that don't intoxicate.)
But when she looked out on the sly,
And saw the Grecian bends go by,
Her sweet song failed on an upper note,
Caused by bronchitis in her throat;
And she wished a wish that she might own
Some better clothes than she had known.

Hans Swizel was a tutor, and
He tooted a horn in a German band,
And he owned of corner lots a lot,
Had a bank account and the Lord knows what.
He stopped that day in that beer saloon,
And asked for beer while he hummed a tune.
Maud Muller went and pumped him up
An overflowing big quart cup,
And blushed as she gave it, looking down
On her bosom bare and her low-necked gown.
"Thanks," then said Hans; "a better drink Ain't made than lager beer, I think."
Then he gave a wink, and hobbled out,
Like a man with an awful case of gout.
Maud Muller "hove" a sigh and said,
"I'd like that rich old chap to wed,
Then all the dances I'd attend,
And swing a stunning Grecian bend."
Hans Swizel, too, felt kind o'queer,
Tho't might have come of drinking beer.
But I guess he was sa-looney,
And maudlin, on Miss Maud, was spooney.
But he thought of his corner lots and gold,
And said, "on Maud I won't be sold.
She's pretty, plump and nice, I know,
But as for marrying her, not for Joe."
But at rehearsal that afternoon,
Instead of playing the proper tune,
He'd play nothing else, would you believe,
But the serenade from "Genevieve."
And Maud behind the bar did muse
Till she got an awful case of blues.
Hans, in his shrewdness, wedded a shrew—
A fearful scold and fifty-two.
"Let us have peace," Hans humbly plead;
She Grant-ed a piece of her mind instead.
And I could swear that he wishes now
That he had made plump Maud his vow.
Maud wedded a shoemaker, who,
Soulless, naught but shoe soles knew;
And often, when he got in beer,
There run straight down her nose a tear;
And she would wish, but wish in vain,
That she was Miss Muller once again.
With all his gold I pity Hans;
For a wife he wants another man's,
While Maud with him would run away,
But she thinks, What would Mrs. Grundy say!
Of all the sad words of that Webster boss,
The saddest are these, "It cannot was."

☞ The French have solved the problem of providing travellers by railroad with good dinners to be eaten at leisure. At certain points on the line an officer of the road passes through the cars and takes the number of those who desire dinners. This is telegraphed to a station where the meal is to be cooked. On arriving at that station a box is placed in the hands of the diner, a moderate price is paid and the dinner is eaten while the car is in motion, after which the box is returned. The dinner consists of four courses, including soup, and is hot and excellent, a small bottle of wine accompanying it.

Enfield is about to plant a thousand young fruit trees.

Bates and Aldrich of Walpole make 840 shirts a week. They use a 20 horse power steam engine.

Augusta Colburn, a popular dressmaker in Concord, is in jail, charged with stealing goods, which it is said she has done on a large scale, for a long time.

—Sergeant Croft of the New York police was appointed to that position when the Metropolitanpolice was organized. He lost his health, resigned in 1861 and removed to Mass., to die of consumption. When the war broke out he volunteered, preferring to be killed in battle rather than die of disease, was made a lieutenant, went through the war with credit, returned a strong robust man and was restored to his former position on "the force."

—An invention patented recently, in Philadelphia, to save lives on railways, has been tested on the passenger railway in that city. While the cars were going at the usual rate of speed, the inventor threw himself before it between the wheels, and was each time thrown off to the side without receiving the slightest injury.

—Another large diamond, valued at $32,000, has been found at Cape Town, and great excitement exists in London in consequence.

—A democrat of Indianapolis has blacked the boots of a colored barber as the penalty of a bet on the city election.

—The income of Mr. Alexander T. Ltewart of New York for the year 1868 was over $3,000,000, or about $60,000 a week.

DEATHS

☞ The Funeral services of the late Chaplain BARTOW, U. S. N., will take place at St. John's church at 4 o'clock this (Thursday) afternoon.

WORTH HER WEIGHT IN GOLD.

A TRUE TALE OF TEN YEARS AGO.

'Thank fate! I shall never be the prey of a fortune hunter!'

As Sally Beauclere uttered the words she threw herself back upon the sofa, and tossed her handsome head with a light laugh.

'Your fortune is your face,' rejoined her companion, as he gazed admiringly on her fine features. Sally opened her large eyes in astonishment.

'A compliment from you, Tom! she exclaimed.

The gentleman colored, 'I know I am not much given to pretty speeches, but you know, Sally, that I admire you all the same.'

To tell the truth, Tom Middleton had for a long time loved Miss Beauclere, with all the strength of an earnest and constant nature; but he was very diffident; he had shrunk from making known his attachment, fearing Sally's ridicule, though had he been more confident of himself he might have read long ago a secret that Sally's eyes took little pains to conceal. But Tom never imagined how desirable a fellow he was in himself, and, knowing that he had no great fortune to bestow, he did not venture to offer his hand to the daughter of Senator Beauclere and the reigning belle of the city. Sally was one of a large family, it is true, and portionless, but her father's position and her own beauty made Tom imagine her to be far removed from him. Now, he only looked hurt when she thus playfully sneered at his small compliment, and, turning away to the window, did not catch the tender look that stole over Sally's handsome features.

'Well, what is the weather?' she asked, after a moment, as he still stood gazing out into the night.

'It is beautiful moonlight, and I think I had better go.'

'Go! Oh, Tom! Why this is the last time I shall see you for ever so long.'

'And will you care?' he asked, as he came again to her side.

Sally blushed. 'Of course I shall care, Tom.'

'No, Sally, to morrow you are going to Washington. You will be a belle there, as you are everywhere, and you will soon forget me.'

'No, indeed, Tom!' she replied earnestly. 'Among all those strange faces, and people I don't care anything about, I shall long to see my old friends.'

'But not me. You won't care much whether I am among the number or not.'

Yes, I shall.

Tom was a fool where women was concerned, or he would have known what those words in that soft tone meant. As it was, a wild hope did spring up in his heart, but when he looked again at that beautiful woman it died away. 'I am not brilliant enough for her,' he thought; but he plucked up sufficient courage to put out his hand and take one of hers.

'You are very kind, Sally,' he said, 'I shall come on to Washington, by and by, and then I shall know how sincere your words are.'

Sally's cheeks burnt; but at that moment the door opened. Tom dropped her hand, as one of the numerous young sisters came in, and the golden opportunity passed away, for they were not alone together again that evening.

On that very same night, nearly a thousand miles away, two young gentlemen were speaking of this same young lady. They were travelers, who had accidentally met on board a steamer on Lake Erie. They were total strangers, and were ignorant even of each other's names, but had fallen into a chat as they strolled on deck, under the rays of the full moon.

'I never was so far from land before in my life,' said the elder of the two, a fine looking man of perhaps thirty-five.

'Indeed!' exclaimed his companion, a handsome, city-bred looking gentleman. 'May I ask where you are from, that your sea experience has been so limited?'

From the interior of North Carolina?

'Ah?' cried the stranger, and his cold features lit up into sudden interest. 'Then perhaps, you know the Beaucleres?'

'Very well; indeed, they are old friends of mine.'

'And Miss Beauclere, you know her?'

'Certainly.'

I hear she is very handsome.'

'Yes, do you know her?'

'No, I have merely heard of her; but I expect to meet her in Washington this winter. She is the oldest daughter, is she not?'

'Yes.'

'And is Senator Beauclere a man of wealth?'

'Yes; that is, he has a very fine estate.'

'Miss Sally is the daughter of the first marriage, is she not?'

'Yes, and a noble girl. Why, she is worth half a million in herself alone, exclaimed the North Carolinian, enthusiastically.

His companion started a little at the word, but changed the conversation to other subjects, and before long the two gentlemen parted for the night, still in ignorance of each other's names. They did not meet again, but in the morning exchanged merely a distant bow as they left the boat in opposite directions.

The weeks passed on, and Sally Beauclere was established with her parents at Willard's Hotel in Washington. As Middleton had predicted, her beauty and talents drew around her a circle of admirers, and before long she was established as one of the reigning belles of Washington.

The admiration and adulation which she received, Sally found more intoxicating and delightful than she had imagined. It was very pleasant to be the beauty of every ball-room, and to be constantly surrounded by a circle of adorers. The idea of returning to the humdrum life of home was not always pleasant to her, and she sometimes felt half-inclined to think seriously of accepting some of the brilliant offers that were made to her. She had been a good deal put out, too, with Tom, for not speaking before she came away. Sometimes she was half-inclined to doubt his love for her, and although his earnest eyes yet haunted her with their wistful look of affection, she had more than one serious thought of trying to banish his remembrance, and marry, as so many others around her did, for money rather than for love.

Most prominent among her sworn admirers was Mr. Charlton Murray of New York. Handsome, distinguished-looking, and reputed to be of great wealth, he seemed to be a match not to be despised. Since the moment of his first introduction to Sally, he had devoted himself to her most persistently. Every day a bouquet of fresh flowers came to her room with complimenta; every morning he hung over her chair; every evening he was ready to attend her at the balls and receptions.

Sally, to tell the truth, was very well pleased with his admiration—he understood so well how to play the agreeable, he paid her such pretty compliments, he was so handsome and thorough-bred! He had already made his proposal in form, and Sally was listening to his earnest pleading, as they sat half hidden from observation in one of the deep windows of the hotel parlor.

'Pray, Miss Sally, think favorably of my suit. My hopes of happiness, my future life, depend upon your reply.'

The words were earnest, the tone impassioned. Sally's cheeks burnt, as she hesitated for reply: 'I've known you so short a time,' she faltered.

'What is that? You have known me for five weeks, and during that time have seen me more frequently than you would under different circumstances in a whole year. I have known you long enough to love you—madly, distractedly love you! And you have known me long enough to bid me at least hope.'

She did not reply, and he bent towards her, taking her hand in his eagerness. 'Sally, my dearest Sally.'

Concluded to-morrow.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily contracted, if neglected, may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

Sold in Portsmouth by J. H. THACHER, and by Druggists and Dealers in medicines throughout the New England States.

THE ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY

WILL Hereafter Break Packages and sell the FINEST SORTS of Black, Green and Japan Teas direct to customers, by the pound, as low as by the cargo, saving to families of one-third to one-half.

WE DEVOTE PARTICULAR ATTENTION to FINE FLAVORED TEAS, of Full Strength, which competition among the great Importing Tea Houses has sacrificed for "low price lists."

EXPERIENCE PROVES the Finest Teas relatively the cheapest, as the Government Duty, 2 cents in Gold, or nearly 40 cents in currency, and also the freight, packing and other expenses of importing, are as much on the poorest as the finest.

OUR COFFEE DEPARTMENT is the largest on this continent, and we are now selling more Pure Coffee by several tons per week than any other house in America.

ALL OUR COFFEES are carefully selected for our trade from the best field-ripened berries, and we roast them in our establishment every day, by our new method, which removes all the acidity and renders them perfectly pure.

THROUGH OUR CLUB SYSTEM we supply families, hotels and boarding houses in every section of the country at the same low prices as at our principal warehouse.

WE PAY FREIGHT and deliver our Goods Free of expense at any railroad station East of the Rocky Mountains, on orders for $50 and upwards, when accompanied with the cash in advance, free of expense to us.

WE GUARANTEE all our Goods to be precisely as represented, and WARRANT them to give perfect satisfaction or to return the money at any time and pay all expenses.

SPRING FLOWERS.

Last year's flowers have fled,
Last year's leaves are dead,
Last year's glories come from earth and sky;
Now fresh flowers blow,
Green boughs bravely show
Spring resumes her gracious sovereignty.

But there never came
Flower or leaf the same
As were dear in days for ever past:
Tender thoughts of death
Chill your sweetest breath,
Flowers so like, yet so unlike the last!

All that with them went,
All the sweet event
Of the household year; the loving ties
That were bound or broken,
All the love unspoken,
All the grief suppressed, within us rise.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER, May 19

The testimony in the case of Mr. Batchelder was completed yesterday, about a dozen witnesses being summoned. The closing arguments were made to-day, and were pronounced very eloquent by those who heard them. Judge Smith did not exercise his jurisdiction, and the result of the investigation will remain unknown till after the next session of the full bench.

Gen. Gilman Marston, having finished the business which has so long kept him at Washington, has taken up his residence here, and will give his attention to the practice of his profession. Gen. M.'s reputation as a lawyer is well known, and his many friends will be glad to see his genial face once more among us.

The day for the floral decoration of soldiers' graves being close at hand, active measures are being taken for the public observance of this sad, but beautiful custom. A meeting of those interested will be held on Tuesday evening, when the proper steps will be taken for a public demonstration. The services rendered by the brave defenders of our country's honor were of too vital importance to be lightly forgotten and it behooves every community to pay this tribute of respect to their memory.

I learn that in many places the graves of our departed heroes are marked by a short stick supporting a miniature flag, previous to Decoration Day, that there may be no difficulty in finding them, and that none may be overlooked. This is a very excellent arrangement. In Amesbury these flags are permanent, so that any visitor can tell when he nears the hallowed spot where lie the remains of a noble Union soldier, who gave his life for the preservation of our beloved country. H.

SAVING MANURE.—At the Franklin Farmers' Club, in discussing the best method of preserving and applying manures, Mr. C. said he believed that one-half of the farm-yard manure was lost to the farmers of New Hampshire. He knew farmers that applied lime and ashes directly to their manure. The result is a loss of ammonia, and of other compounds containing nitrogen; he believed that two cords of fresh manure were worth three cords of the same quality after it is thoroughly rotted, if exposed in the manner that is usually adopted by farmers. There is an active principle in farm-yard manures that escapes when fermentation is going on, and that is just the right proportion and condition to be taken into the circulation of the plant in the early stages of its growth, before there is a call for the mineral substances that are less affected by decomposition. The same changes take place whether the manure remains in the yard or is buried in the soil; the soil absorbs and retains what will otherwise escape by exposure to winds and rains. By decomposing in the soil, chemical action is extended to substances, vegetable and mineral, which will otherwise remain inert and useless to the crop.

A mixture of lime, ashes and plaster, one bushel each, with the addition of one peck of salt, has been found useful when applied to corn, oats and potatoes. To oats it had not only increased the yield of grain and straw, but prevented falling down. He had harvested oats yielding seventy-five bushels to the acre, straw free from rust and standing five feet high, where in previous years it had lodged before the grain had filled, and it was nearly worthless. Upon potatoes the mixture was worth more than either of the ingredients separate. Where there was nothing applied, forty hills for a bushel; where plaster was used, thirty. With the compost, twenty hills would fill the bushel. This is a cheap fertilizer, easily applied, and effective.—New Hampshire Statesman.

Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.*

It with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company has every confidence in its highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture; it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.

DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered that time all the misery that I could. Never relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete health and health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1869.

The News.

The Board of Overseers of Harvard College have confirmed the nomination of Prof. Chas. L. Eliot for President of that institution.

The Memphis Commercial Convention has 800 delegates.

A placard has been extensively posted up throughout the Chinese Empire, denouncing the Christian missionaries in violent terms.

Jefferson, Louisiana, has had a speck of war growing out of a conflict twixt the metropolitan and local police. A dozen or more came out of the melee injured, some of them dangerously.

Minister Motley sailed for England on Monday.

Tralee, Ireland, has been trying its hand at a riot.

Australian advices to March 20th are to the effect that fearful mortality existed in the flocks of sheep in the colony of Victoria, caused by the drought. The air is tainted for miles by the decomposing carcasses. The small-pox was prevailing in Melbourne. The crops in the Patrick Plains district, except the grape, were a total failure. Several important gold discoveries had been made.

The Republic of Cuba has been formally established by a Congress held at Guimaro, a small town of the Central Department of the Island, about twenty leagues east of Puerto Principe. Don Carlos Manuel Cespedes was elected President of the Republic, and General Manuel Quesada, Commander-in-Chief of the forces. Don Francis V. Aquillera has been appointed Secretary of State and War. Cespedes has issued a stirring proclamation to the people, and Quesada has taken command of the army.

GOOD FOR THE WORKINGMEN!—At a Cabinet meeting on Monday there was a full discussion of the eight hour law, and it was at last concluded that the sole intent of Congress in passing it must have been to reduce the hours of labor without reducing the pay. It was decided, in order to prevent a different interpretation of the law by the various departments, that the President should issue an executive order or proclamation, stating that a full day's work for government employees shall be eight hours, and that for this they shall receive the pay of ten hours' labor.

This is just as it should be. No one doubts that Congress intended that the law should be interpreted in this way, and we know of no fair reason why it should be construed otherwise. If lawyers endeavor to interpret the meaning of words contrarily to the spirit of the laws of which they are a part, workingmen should not be robbed of the benefits intended, on account of their quibbling; and a plain, common sense view of the matter justifies the President in doing just what he has decided to do with the advice of his Cabinet.

Frank A. Stevens, a young man from Durham, in the employ of Mr. G. W. Butler of Dover, took a fearful but involuntary leap from the roof of G. B. Wentworth's shoe shop to the ground, a distance of 45 feet by actual measurement. Mr. Butler has been adding an additional story to Mr. Wentworth's shop, and this young man had been employed upon the roof, and in attempting to descend he slipped and fell to the ground, striking upon his feet. He miraculously escaped the breaking of any bones or any dangerous injury.

The Merchant Service.—No. XI.

It is said there would be no managing sailors without all these oppressive and one-sided laws. I do not see why.—Sailors are men, (although but a very few people seem to have found it out,) and will work like men if paid and treated like men. I know it,—I've seen it tried. Why are such laws not needed on shore, for blacksmiths and printers? How is it that the sailor will work on shore for years, faithfully and to his employer's satisfaction, (as in Australia, where seamen are preferred to others for farm hands, shepherds, &c.,) with no special laws to "keep him down," and yet need those special laws the moment he goes to sea, to help him do his duty? How long was it considered impossible to rule the sailor without a good cat-o'-nine-tails to shake over his rebellious head? Yet the "cat" was abolished,—and does any one suppose the sailor is any worse or less manageable to-day because he cannot be flogged according to law?

The cat was a failure, and is now an acknowledged failure; but it took a hundred years to find it out. Our unjust laws are failures,—have failed to make the sailor stop by his ship, to protect him from robbery and violence,—and have failed to make honest and humane men of dishonest tyrants. Would it not be well to try a wholly new plan, and see if treating the sailor with justice would not improve him, morally and materially? It cannot be said,—at least it cannot be proved,—that he would be injured by laws founded on this principle, for the experiment has never been tried.

If the American people are not yet educated quite up to the pitch of emancipating the sailor altogether, at least he may be declared, like other laborers, "worthy of his hire." No possible reason can be given against this. If he must remain in bondage, at least yield to him his hard-earned wages, and by so doing raise him a little nearer the level of a freeman, and remove from the shipmaster and officer one of the principal inducements to do wrong,—the prospect of being paid for it. I have heard it said that our laws were intended to benefit the sailor, and that the one which allows him to be deprived of his earnings at the good pleasure of another was designed to prevent him from squandering his money foolishly in foreign lands! Allowing this to be true, —what right has any man or body of men to say how or where the sailor's money shall go, any more than the doctor's or lawyer's? But the statement itself is a lie,—as much so as any other attempt to prop up or excuse a wrong by a pretended love of and anxiety for the right. Our entire maritime regulations were framed under the idea that the sailor needed "keeping down,"—and they have kept him down, morally and socially,—at the very bottom of the ladder.

Had the sole object of the legislators been to debase the sailor and make him a reckless fool on shore and a discontented grumbler at sea, they could not, in my opinion, have found out anything more surely effective of that purpose than these maritime laws. Take a number of men engaged in any business on shore, and make them feel that they have no rights whatever, that they must submit without a murmur to every gross insult and petty tyranny, that they have no claim to a cent of their earnings nor to consideration of any kind, —keep them (for their own good) in this state of servitude for a year or two, and then pay them all their money and turn them adrift,—and see if they behave any more wisely or more soberly than seamen do when they temporarily escape from a similar condition. This little experiment cannot be tried; but if it could I am sure that the result would show that slavery would not tend to elevate men on shore,—as it certainly does not on the sea.

Some may consider that there is nothing degrading in this total dependence on the honor or generosity of another for payment of wages honestly earned, but I think there is. I know I have felt degraded myself, when refused money which was my own, "because I did not ask it in a proper manner," i. e., I demanded payment as a right, instead of asking it as a favor. I felt that I was being treated with injustice, which I was impotent to resist.

I once sat in a ship's cabin when a seaman came to request a portion of his wages from the captain. After replying to questions to which no laborer on shore would have allowed to be asked without resenting, as to what he wanted it for, he was told, "You can have some money, but I shall charge you two dollars for one. If you don't like that you needn't take it." That man was degraded, and he felt it; but what was he to do? He was in actual need of clothing, and he did take fifteen dollars, for which he was charged thirty,—rather a heavy premium to pay for the use of his own money. In this case, the captain himself told me, the man was a good sailor and a good man:—he was "worthy of his hire," but he didn't get it. He was openly robbed, and the United States laws alone rendered that robbery possible. The man who stole his money could not even plead as an excuse that he had only funds enough for the ship's use, (as a captain once told me when I wanted money, —as if I was to blame for that,) for I saw him lose $45 at billiards within three hours of the time when the sailor was dismissed from the cabin. THE PEACE JUBILEE.—Several very interesting pictures, illustrating the progress of the Peace Jubilee, appear in Frank Leslie's Illustrated Paper this week; one, the Rehearsal of the Singing Clubs at Bumstead Hall, is very truthful; another, Visitors Applying for Apartments to the Bureau of Accommodation.

TO MAKE CUTTINGS GROW.—I used to have a great deal of truble to make currant and gooseberry cuttings or slips grow, until I tried the following plan: I boiled some potatoes until they were nearly done, and then stuck one on each slip and put it in the ground. Every slip sprouted and grew well all summer, with one or two exceptions. The idea of putting the boiled potatoes to the end of the cuttings was to furnish and keep moisture enough for them to grow, until the roots become large enough to gather this moisture and substance from the soil. I never tried it on grape cuttings, but do not see any reason why it would not do as well with grapes as with anything else.—Wisconsin Farmer.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Please correct the erroneous report that SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS are made in England and imported to this country. They are made at my vineyards in New Jersey, of wine of my own growth, with Peruvian Bark, Roman Camomile Flowers, Virginia Snake Root, African Ginger and Wild Cherry Bark. The great reputation they have in Europe, arises from the wonderful benefit and cures they have effected on some of the nobility of England. Our first families, when traveling in Europe, took cases along with them for their own use, and thus they became known there, and now orders are pouring in from all parts of Europe. I have established agencies there. The London and Paris depots are supplied by shipment from my warehouse in New Jersey. Credit to the country to whom credit is due. ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.

To Owners of Horses.

Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a Horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved for 21 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the RACING STABLES of ENGLAND for it.

The celebrated Hiram Woodruff used and recommended it to his friends, years before his death. Col. P. P. Brandreth's Pills.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Brandreth's Pills have been known and used by your grandfathers and grandmothers. They are always safe, and sure to do you good. They are purely vegetable, and diminish the death principle; some think they increase the principle of life. But in taking out bad humors from the blood, they do make the body lighter, and thus seem to add energy. Many families have used them for upwards of forty years.

They are the best medicine for Colds, for all Bilious Affections, for Fullness about the Head or Heart, and in all Cutaneous and Contagious Diseases they are unrivalled. In all cases in which a purgative is indicated, no medicine yet known can be compared to them. Two hundred physicians have testified that Brandreth's Pills are superior to all other purgatives whatever. Sold by all Druggists. my21

A Household Elixir adapted to all Climates.

It would be a happy thing for the world if all the excitants at present used in the practice of medicine could be swept out of existence, and HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS substituted in their place. There is a probability, too, that this desirable substitution may one day be accomplished. Certain it is, that the GREAT VEGETABLE TONIC is gradually displacing them, and that the confidence of the people in its sanitary and saving properties increases with every passing year. "Figures that cannot lie" show this to be the fact. No medicinal preparation enjoys the like popularity among all classes and conditions, in every section of the country. As an appetizer, a general invigorant, a remedy for indigestion, a cure for intermittent and remittent fevers, a gentle cathartic, a specific for flatulency and sour stomach, a gentle diuretic, a nervine, a blood depurent, a specific for sick-headache, a mild anodyne, and, above all, as a PROTECTION AGAINST EPIDEMICS, it is unquestionably the STANDARD MEDICINE of the whole United States. In the towns and cities it is literally a HOUSEHOLD STAPLE. Mothers believe in it. They find it a "present help in time of trouble," a safe and pleasant remedy for the various ailments to which their sex is exclusively subject. Men believe in it, because it refreshes and invigorates the body and the mind, and tones both without exciting either.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to gain in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off; and the patient has no pain unless with great exertion.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder and start freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, with the other preparation, is just what assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they want to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. These always come, and they will stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulceration Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, or ulceration; and the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not in us to cure the lungs that are wasting away in the body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and has gone from 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless, and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 25 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. O. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1ya4

The Chronicle.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.
PORTLAND, ME., May 21.

The serious P. S. & P. Railroad accident at South Berwick on Wednesday, 14th, startled the community exceedingly. The road is in fine condition and is managed well under Superintendent Chase and all talk of inferior rails, &c., is purely imagination. The displacement of the rails, which was the cause of the accident is attested to by the Engineer and others. Conductor Payson Tucker did nobly on the occasion. Fortunately the loss of life was only one if we may so express it for that one the brave baggage master Lamprey, was as dear to him and his friends as any one's. But for the heroic fidelity of the engineer and brakeman to duty, the catastrophe would have been more disastrous and fatal. The wretch who tampered with the rails deserves "an immediate elevation."

Nashua has voted to take 2000 shares in the Nashua & Rochester Railroad pro rata for every mile as it is constructed. The Portland & Rochester road will now be extended to Rochester. Rochester bids fair to outstrip Portsmouth and Dover. Rip-van-Winkle-ism don't pay in this progressive 19th century.

The Portland Press on May 1st passed into new hands, (Hon. John Lynch, Hon. F. Robie, Hon. Geo. F. Talbot and L. A. Foster Esq.) The editorial department has not yet been arranged and therefore all rumors of changes are unauthorized and unreliable. Geo. Gifford, Esq. is still managing editor-in-chief and the other sub-editors also continue as previous to May 1st. The Press will be put upon a live and progressive as well as able basis and by the influential Republican paper of Western Maine if not of the State.

Portland has a Hester Vaughn case. Henrietta York a young girl of Yarmouth, some months since under promise of marriage was seduced by a young man and a few weeks since she came to Portland and secretly gave birth to a child, which soon died. She endeavored to conceal it and was arrested, and last Wednesday Judge Goddard of the Supreme Court sentenced her to nine months in the House of Correction. The girl is of a most respectable family and until now has been worthy and excellent in character. Her sensitive nature could not stand the shock of the affair and she was so ill in court as to require assistance in walking and sitting. Judge Goddard inflicted upon her a long moralizing address after allowing her to remain all the forenoon subject to the gaze of the crowd, during which time she had several hysteric fits. Her broken spirit and feeble health as well as the general circumstances of the case, have created a wide spread interest and sympathy for her and petitions are in circulation to the Governor to have her pardoned. She cannot live out in jail her imprisonment. If released she may with good care recover. The ladies of Portland (to their credit be it said!) are zealous in circulating the petitions which promise to be successful. SANCHO.

☞ Senator Wilson in a recent speech at Charlestown, Mass., on the eight-hour question, said that the workingmen now work two hours per day less than they did thirty years ago, and by this reduction they gain increased wealth, social position, strength and power. He voted for the eight-hour bill cheerfully, for although he did not believe a man could do as much work in eight hours as in ten hours, he could do enough in eight hours. One reason for this was the great improvement in machinery, which largely increased the amount of articles manufactured, and the laboring man should get part of the benefit of these improvements. He did not know that we were quite ready for the full and complete adoption of the eight-hour system; but it was coming just as sure as the ten-hour system came. It was a question to be settled by steam, invention, machinery, and the productive forces of the government.

—One of the female clerks recently dismissed from the Treasury Department, called there to ascertain if the demand of a Congressman that she should be reinstated would be successful. "I must know at once," said she, "for I must have received an offer of marriage, and although I don't fancy the man, if I can't get reinstated I must accept."

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future:—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.00 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as possessing the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.00, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.

STAIN.—Dispatches have been received at Madrid, announcing that about two thousand of the adherents of the ex-Queen Isabella, under Gosset and Pezuela, have assembled at Perpignan, a city in France, on the Spanish frontier. A large two story dwelling and farm house, two miles north of Amherst, was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday night last week, from a defect in the chimney. The furniture on the lower floor was principally saved. The house was owned and occupied by I. B. Curtis, and was insured in a New York Company for $900, and the insurance was promptly paid. A shed and shop on the South side of the house, were also burnt.

A SINGULAR AFFLICTION.—Within the past few weeks, says the Boston Journal, quite a number of our citizens have been afflicted with a singular disease, which, in some instances within our knowledge, affects whole families. A cold passes first to one eye and then to the other, closing the orb in some cases, and in others causing a weakness which has the appearance of the eye after a tearful period. This disease of the eye comes without warning and disappears very rapidly, and, though inconvenient, is neither dangerous or very painful. One family at the South End, of most peaceful habits and quiet disposition, appeared at the breakfast table recently each with an eye indicating some hard hitting from the shoulder, and yesterday a well known gentleman of this city was seen walking up School street with his handkerchief to his eye, who could not account for this sudden eclipse of his visual organ.

☞ The Secretary of the Treasury is so much annoyed by the constant receipt of letters from persons who have lost by burning or otherwise bonds of the United States, and who wish new bonds, that he has found it necessary to request the publication of the fact that it is not the policy of the goverment to issue bonds in such cases. The only remedy is an application to Congress, and that is not a very hopeful remedy, as the congressional committees on claims refused to report bills for the relief of several persons who had lost bonds at the last session. In two cases the department issued new bonds for others alleged to have been lost, and in both cases it was obliged to pay twice, as the bonds declared to have been lost were afterwards presented for payment.

STATE FAIR.—A meeting of the officers of the N. H. State Agricultural Society was held in Manchester on Tuesday. Propositions were informally made from Portsmouth, Dover, Great Falls and Manchester, for the location of the Fair. A committee was appointed to receive proposals until June 1st, and the next meeting is to be held in Concord the second week in June. The officers of the Society are understood to prefer Manchester as the place for the exhibition, although they would accept a liberal proposition from the eastern section of the State. Can we have it in Portsmouth?

MESSRS. EDITORS: Please correct the erroneous report that SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS are made in England and imported to this country. They are made at my vineyards in New Jersey, of wine of my own growth, with Peruvian Bark, Roman Camomile Flowers, Virginia Snake Root, African Ginger and Wild Cherry Bark. The great reputation they have in Europe, arises from the wonderful benefit and cures they have effected on some of the nobility of England. Our first families, when traveling in Europe, took cases along with them for their own use, and thus they became known there, and now orders are pouring in from all parts of Europe. I have established agencies there. The London and Paris depots are supplied by shipment from my warehouse in New Jersey. Credit to the country to whom credit is due. ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.

To Owners of Horses.

Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a Horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and recovered off for 31 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the RACING STABLES of ENGLAND for it.

The celebrated Hiram Woodruff used and recommended it to his friends, years before his death. Col. P. P. Bush, of the Jerome race course, has given me a certificate stating it to be superior to any other he had used. Hundreds of others can be seen at the Depot, 10 Park Place, N. Y. Brandreth's Pills.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Brandreth's Pills have been known and used by your grandfathers and grandmothers. They are always safe, and sure to do you good. They are purely vegetable, and diminish the death principle; some think they increase the principle of life. But in taking out bad humors from the blood, they do make the body lighter, and thus seem to add energy. Many families have used them for upwards of forty years.

They are the best medicine for Colds, for all Bilious Affections, for Fullness about the Head or Heart, and in all Cutaneous and Contagious Diseases they are unrivalled. In all cases in which a purgative is indicated, no medicine yet known can be compared to them. Two hundred physicians have testified that Brandreth's Pills are superior to all other purgatives whatever. Sold by all Druggists. my21

A Household Elixir adapted to all Climates.

It would be a happy thing for the world if all the excitants at present used in the practice of medicine could be swept out of existence, and HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS substituted in their place. There is a probability, too, that this desirable substitution may one day be accomplished. Certain it is, that the GREAT VEGETABLE TONIC is gradually displacing them, and that the confidence of the people in its sanitary and saving properties increases with every passing year. "Figures that cannot lie" show this to be the fact. No medicinal preparation enjoys the like popularity among all classes and conditions, in every section of the country. As an appetizer, a general invigorant, a remedy for indigestion, a cure for intermittent and remittent fevers, a gentle cathartic, a specific for flatulency and sour stomach, a gentle diuretic, a nervine, a blood depurent, a specific for sick-headache, a mild anodyne, and, above all, as a PROTECTION AGAINST EPIDEMICS, it is unquestionably the STANDARD MEDICINE of the whole United States. In the towns and cities it is literally a HOUSEHOLD STAPLE. Mothers believe in it. They find it a "present help in time of trouble,"—a safe and pleasant remedy for the various ailments to which their sex is exclusively subject. Men believe in it, because it refreshes and invigorates the body and the mind, and tones both without exciting either.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, remove all obstructions, take the bile from the liver, gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to stop fever, hectic fever, and they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are in a state of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, that will bring the liver into action, stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was recently given away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He also professionally at No. 32 Hanover St., Boston, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He takes no patients, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. O. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale Agents. For sale by all druggists. d1ylas1

MR. STICKNEY having banished the antique style and reached perfection in this immense organization, will offer no stale and exhausted acts, but new features and fresh attractions never before introduced to the public, and will surprise and delight the eye. The magnificent scenes in the arena will be enriched and beautified by gorgeous paraphernalia and superb music, and will be rendered with faultless grace and marvelous splendor.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

From the Dover Enquirer.

The Portsmouth & Dover and Lake Shore Railroads.

Messrs. Editors Enquirer: — The Portsmouth Board of Trade has laid on the table an appeal to aid in securing a charter for the "Lake Shore Railroad," from the Wiers to Alton Bay, the construction of which the petitioners say would necessitate the construction of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad.

The business men of Dover have in times past been earnest advocates of the contemplated road, and have given freely of their means to secure its construction. They regard it as of vital importance to the whole eastern section of the State that it should be built at an early day. When Portsmouth, however, at the last session of the Legislature, threw its influence against the chartering of the Lake Shore Road, while its delegation voted for every other Road asked for in the State, the friends of the Portsmouth & Dover Road, out of that city, might well feel less earnest in pushing forward the construction of the latter.

From the action of their Board of Trade it would seem that Portsmouth hostility to the Lake Shore road still exists. For this they may have very good reasons, but to us they are not apparent. It is quite as important, as we conceive, to Portsmouth, that the Lake Shore road should be chartered and built, as it is to Dover or the country above us; and it is very certain that its construction is now the only thing which can secure the building of the Portsmouth & Dover Road. These links added to the railroad system of the State, would give Portsmouth and Dover direct communication with the whole northern section of New Hampshire and Vermont, and restore to its natural channel the business which formerly came to us from that region, but which has been diverted to other places. It was a knowledge of this fact that prompted the Concord Railroad at the last session of the Legislature to exert its powerful influence against the Lake Shore road—knowing that the latter, as the shortest and most direct route to Dover and Portsmouth, as well as to Boston, would inevitably bring travel and business this way and take it from that road.

By the extreme liberality of that corporation in allowing everybody else to obtain a charter who asked for it, they were enabled to defeat the petitioners for the Lake Shore road—Portsmouth, as before stated, helping them with the votes of its entire delegation, with the exception of Mr. Reding, who, having lived in the upper part of the State for many years, saw the importance of the contemplated road to Portsmouth, and gave it his support.

When it is seen that of the half a dozen roads chartered at the last session, none have even got so far as to receive a preliminary survey—not excepting that important road through the good town of Gilmanton which was to be a connecting link of the Pacific Railroad with Europe!—it is hoped that our Portsmouth friends, as well as some other sections of the State, will be liberal enough to give the petitioners for the Lake Shore Road what they have so liberally given to others, especially when they see, as they must must now see, that the building of this road can do no harm to others contemplated, which it is apparent will never be built by the present generation.

DOVER.

Mr. Purington, of Dover, visited this city on Friday, as Delegate from the Dover Board of Trade to the Portsmouth Board, for the purpose of having a conference of the two Boards on the subject of the P. & D. R. R., and arousing the citizens of both places to action in the matter of building it—which Dover people say must be built. We understand an Excursion is planned for next Tuesday, when a large party of the leading business men from the two cities will proceed through Dover to Alton, and examine and discuss the prospects and feasibility of the proposed route and connections. By some means—by all means, let us have the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. Who says nay to any practicable method of getting it?

BURGLARY.—The grocery store of Butler & Laighton, on Daniel street, was entered on Tuesday night of last week, unquestionably by a small boy, who effected entrance by breaking a pane of glass in a back door. Four or five dollars in cents were taken, but the money-drawer, secured by the patent alarm, foiled the effort of the robber to secure its contents. Nothing else was missed but a couple of boxes of sardines. The robbery was doubtless perpetrated by some bad boys in the neighborhood, and the matter has been kept quiet in the hope that the young burglars would show themselves. They have as yet escaped conviction, but suspicion rests upon several who will have to take heed to their ways in the future.—Journal.

On Monday and Tuesday nights last, the fish market of Marston, Randall & Co., at the Spring, was broken into, and some scrip and a number of lobsters were missing the next mornings. On Friday Marshal Johnson and Assistant Marshal Shannon caught two boys, named Moses and Grant, stealing iron from the ruins of Dorr's Bakery on Linden Street, and arrested them. The boys afterwards confessed that they were the ones who stole from Butler & Laighton's and Marston & Randall's. This is Moses' third offence of the kind, while it was the occasion of Grant's debut.

THE SEQUEL OF AN ASSAULT CASE.—Several weeks since, the denizens of Vaughan Street, near Deer, were the witnesses of a battle between two men, one of whom was lame. Afterwards a third person was arrested as one of the parties, but was discharged because the complainant did not appear to prosecute. Again, on Thursday last, he was arrested and from the testimony before Judge Bufford we gather the following details. It seems that one John Barrett had a grudge against Edmund Whalley, (who lost a leg during the rebellion,) on account of an alleged difficulty at the Ward Room on Elm Street, about election time. Barret saw a lame man on Vaughan Street one night afterwards, whom he thought to be Whalley, and calling him by name, as he thought, made an attack on him. The assaulted party, however, proved to be Alvah B. Currier, who protested that he was not Whalley. Barrett, however, continued the attack, and Currier was compelled to defend himself, as best he could, which he did most effectually, putting the attacking party hors du combat, by the free use of his lame leg and boot with rocker iron attached.

Barrett was carried home quite used up, and shortly afterwards got out a writ for the arrest of Edmund Whalley for an attack on him. Whalley was considerably astonished, as he was not near the scene at the time of the fight. As Barrett did not appear at Court, the case was dismissed, but Whalley was arrested on a new writ on Thursday, charged with assaulting Barrett. Currier appeared as a witness for the defence and stated that he was the man whom Barrett took to be Whalley; and the case was not pros'd.

Then Currier preferred a charge of assault and battery against Barrett for attacking him, and Judge Bufford fined Barrett $10 and costs—$16 95 in all. So much for making an attack on a lame man and getting whipped!

STICKNEY'S CIRCUS.—The Agents of this Establishment have embellished our several Bill Boards with Pictorial Advertisements of the advent of this thoroughly complete Circus, which exhibits in Portsmouth on Friday afternoon and evening, May 28th. Prepare to witness the best Circus that has ever come to Portsmouth.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

THE COUNTY FARM. — The building for the accommodation of paupers will not probably be completed till July or August. E. D. Coffin of Portsmouth has charge of the painting and will push the work as fast as possible. The farm work is going on finely under the direction of Supt. Philbrick, who is himself a sturdy laborer. Two fine pairs of cattle and a splendid pair of bay mares perform all the plowing, harrowing, &c. With the present Superintendent there is no question about good crops in the Fall, unless nature proves recreant to her promises.—News Letter.

A PIOUS SCOTCH minister being asked by a friend, during his last illness, whether he thought himself dying, replied, "Really, friend, I care not whether I am or not; for if I dee, I shall be with God; and if I live, God will be with me."

Morning Chronicle.

CROP OF EARLY CORN.—I will make a brief statement of a piece of corn I raised last season. The soil was not what you might call good corn land, but I find no trouble in getting good corn where the variety is adapted to the soil on which it is planted. If it is a rich, mellow, loamy soil, I plant a large variety, and seldom fail of getting a good crop of sound corn. But if I chance to have a cold, wet, heavy soil and a backward season, I plant an early variety, as I did the last season. It was not until the 6th of June that we could finish plowing the piece; a part of ½ was broken up the fall before. We then carted on about eight cords of common barn-yard manure to the acre, spread in even and harrowed. The next day went over it with a cultivator. We then harrowed again and planted on the 11th of June, with superphosphate in the hill, about 150 lbs. to the acre, in hopes of a good harvest. Although my neighbors expressed their doubts of my getting much corn, I knew very well the kind of corn I was planting, for I had the year previous picked some to boil of this variety, 70 days from planting.

The result was that we harvested, the first of October, 124 bushels of ears to the acre, of good sound corn. It is bright yellow twelve-rowed variety.

I have charged one-half of the plowing and two-thirds of the manure to succeeding crops, the corn fodder to pay for the harvesting. This makes the corn cost 79 cts. a bushel—a profitable crop in New-Hampshire.

Warner, N. H. J. W. CLEMENT.

EXPERIMENTS IN MANURING CORN.—Editors Country Gentleman :—Last year I made another comparative experiment with the following manures, which I give and the result of each. The land on which I tried the experiment is an old worn-out field which has had no manure for the last ten years and was completely bound out. It was plowed in the fall; no manure was used except fertilizers in the hill. I used 14 lbs. of each kind on 140 hills, with the following results:

Cumberland Bone Co.'s, gave 138 lbs. sound corn.
Glasgow Co.'s ammoniated guano, 126 lbs.
Rhodes' standard, 124 1-2 lbs.
Andrew Cole's, 129 lbs.
Alta Vela guano, 128 lbs.
Rhodes' ammoniated, 134 lbs.
E. F. Cole's, 151 1-2 lbs.
No manure, 84 lbs.
Fish pomace dissolved in sulphuric acid and mixed with loam and ashes, 137 lbs.
Hen manure mixed with an equal quantity of loam, 1 bushel of compost in 140 hills, 144 lbs.
Hen manure compost as above, with 1-4 ashes and 1 qt. salt, 109 lbs.
Night soil compost, a shovelful to 4 hills, 118 lbs.

This gives in the aggregate 46 bushels to the acre, on ground with no other manure, and at a cost of less than 75 cents a bushel, as my books will show. It will be seen that every brand increased the crop at least 50 per cent., and so up to 80, paying at least 1000 per cent. on the investment.

The other end of the piece was manured with sheep manure at the rate of 30 loads to the acre, and night soil compost applied in the hill, with no better results than the first; in fact the corn cost more, for the reason that manure will make weeds grow as well as corn, and consequently require one more hoeing.

From the results I have obtained the two past seasons, I am satisfied that I can raise more corn with one dollar's worth of good superphosphate, than from the best half cord of barn-yard manure I ever saw.

Hereafter I shall raise my corn with superphosphate, and apply my manure to the wheat crop in this manner: after the corn is off, plow the ground, cart on the manure, spread and harrow it in; the next spring cultivate as soon as it will possibly do to work upon, which will be in about one week after the frost is out of the ground. Generally sow from the 1st to the 15th of April. By sowing early it escapes the midge and rust, and never fails of giving a profitable crop. The grass catches better and holds out longer than it does when the manure is applied to the corn crop.

But, Messrs. Editors, I find that theory and practice do not always prove true to each other. Two years ago this spring I mixed hen manure and ashes, equal parts, and the result was good, paying $1.04 for the mixture. Last spring I composted the hen manure with an equal bulk of rich loam, adding 1-2 bushel plaster. I took 3 pecks of this, added 1 peck ashes and 1 qt. salt, and used it side by side with the same quantity of the first named compost. The results you see were quite different.

The theory I advanced was that the ashes decomposed the manure, setting the ammonia free, and that the soil absorbed it and held it ready for the young plants. But it seems that this is not the case. There was a perceptible difference from the time the corn came up until it was harvested. I should have said the ashes were mixed in the field and immediately dropped and covered. From this fact, I shall mix no ashes with manure of any kind, but use them as top-dressing.

Warner, N. H. S. C. PATTEE.

☞ Andrew Johnson pardoned 142 counterfeiters during his term of office. The pardons began with the remission of two sentences on the day of Mr. Lincoln's funeral, and the last was on the last day of Mr. Johnson's term. He also pardoned 91 persons convicted of violating the internal revenue laws.

THE CHURCH.—There is such a thing as the balance of power between Churches, as well as States. And because this is so, those persons who have been frightened by recent writers into troublesome apprehensions of the speedy ascendency of the Roman Catholic church in this country, ought to read carefully the pastoral letter of Archbishop Spaulding of Baltimore. In the following passage, for instance, they will see the other side of this question, even as it is presented by those who would, were it possible, most gladly conceal it from public view:

"While we are gratified at witnessing so many intelligent persons throughout the country embracing the true faith, we are obliged to confess with sorrow that a greater number are lost to the church. There is no exaggerating in saying now what Bishop England felt it his sacred duty to state many years ago, that hundreds, nay thousands, of souls annually stray away from the fold in this country on account of there early religious education. If we look for the descendants of those numerous Catholic families which have emigrated to the country during the past and present century, we will find that many of them have wandered away from the faith of their fathers, and not a few of them are now ranking among the most active and unrelenting enemies of the church of God.

What the Archbishop means by "early religious education" is the education of our common schools, academies and colleges, especially where the common English Bible is read without note or comment.

—Mr. John Russell Young, having left the New York Tribune, returns to financial business and goes to Europe as Mr. Jay Cooke's agent.

—It is said that the next theological novel on the subject of the future life will be entitled "The Gates Off the Hinges."

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR!
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.

The Great Desideratum of the Age.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the Hair.

Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth.

Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application.

Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.

Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness.

Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a

nothing else can be found so desirable.

Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SKIPPER BEN.

BY LEON LARCOM.

Sailing away!
Losing the breath of the shores in May,
Dropping down from the beautiful bay,
Over the sea-slope vast and gray!
And the skipper's eyes with a mist are blind;
For a vision comes on the rising wind,
Of a gentle face that he leaves behind,
And a heart that throbs through the fog bank dim,
Thinking of him.

Far into night
He watches the gleam of the lessening light
Fixed on the dangerous island height
That bars the harbor his loves from sight.
And he wishes, at dawn he could tell the tale
Of how they had weathered the southwest gale,
To brighten the cheek that had grown so pale
With a wakeful night among spectres grim,—
Terrors for him.

Yo-heave-yo!
Here's the Bank where the fishermen go,
Over the schooner's sides then throw
Tackle and bait to the deeps below;
And skipper Ben in the water sees,
When its ripples curl to the light land breeze,
Something that stirs like his apple trees;
And two soft eyes that beneath them swim,
Lifted to him.

Hear the wind roar,
And the rain thro' the slit sails tear and pour.
"Steady! we'll scud by the Cape Ann shore,
Then hark to the Beverly bells once more!"
And each man worked with the will of ten;
While up in the rigging, now and then,
The lightning glared in the face of Ben,
Turned to the black horizon's rim,
Scowling on him.

Into his brain
Burned with the iron of hopeless pain,
Into thoughts that grapple, and eyes that strain,
Pierces the memory, cruel and vain!
Never again shall he walk at ease
Under his blossoming apple trees
That whisper and sway to the sunset breeze,
While the soft eyes float where the sea-gulls skim,
Gazing with him.

How they went down
Never was known in the still old town,
Nobody guessed how the fisherman brown,
With the look of despair that was half a frown,
Faced his fate in the furious night,—
Faced the mad billows with hunger white,
Just within hail of the beacon-light
That shone on a woman sweet and trim,
Waiting for him.

Beverly bells,
Ring to the tide as it ebbs and swells!
His was the anguish a moment tells,—
The passionate sorrow death quickly knells,
But the wearing wash of a lifelong woe
Is left for the desolate heart to know,
Whose tides with the dull years come and go,
Till hope drifts dead to its stagnant brim,
Thinking of him.

—Hester Vaughn, who was recently pardoned by Governor Geary of Pennsylvania, sailed from New York for England some days ago. It is said that one of the conditions upon which the pardon was granted was that she should leave the country. Governor Geary's action in the matter is severely criticised, it being claimed that his prerogative of pardon by no means includes the power of commuting a sentence of death into banishment, as he has virtually done in this case.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.50 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality, being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole chest may part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured, of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, MAY 24, 1869.

The News.

Secretary Borie has issued an order changing the names of vessels, as follows; Algoma to Benicia, Ammonoosuc to Iowa, Canandaigua to Detroit, Contoocook to Albany, Kenosha to Plymouth, Keywaydin to Pennsylvania, Madawaska to Tennessee, Manitou to Worcester, Minnetonka to California, Mosholo to Severn, Neshaming to Arizona, Omaha to Astoria, Ontario to New York, Piscataqua to Delaware, Pompanoosuc to Connecticut, Pushmataha to Cambridge, Wampanoag to Florida.

Chief Justice Chase has decided that officers of the United States who became defaulters at the breaking out of the rebellion may properly plead the statute of limitations. This will allow a great many defaulters of that character to go clear.

The Tennessee Republican State Convention adjourned sine die without making any nominations.

The Royal Canadian Bank at Toronto has suspended.

The Spanish Cortes has adopted the thirty-second article of the constitution, declaring that all powers emanate from the nation. The thirty-third article, declaring that the form of government of the Spanish nation is a monarchy, was passed by a vote of 214 to 70.

An abstract of all the national banks (more than 1500) shows an aggregate of resources and liabilities of $1,516,-303,000, including loans and discounts $659,000,000, specie nearly $8,500,000, legal tender notes $80,500,000, three per cent. certificates $51,000,000, capital stock over $420,000,000.

Another New York broker has absconded with $50,000.

The assignment of army officers to duty as Indian agents is nearly completed. The central and northern superintendencies will be almost wholly in charge of Quakers.

Sam Ward, a Washington lobbyist, has purchased the U. S. Steamer Florida and the iron-clads, Atlanta, Alleghany and Pequot.

Mr. Sanford, Minister to Belgium, has resigned.

☞ The Boston Advertiser's Washington special says that Secretary Boutwell will continue to sell two millions of gold a week so long as gold continues to increase in the Treasury, but has not yet concluded whether he will increase the weekly purchase of bonds. He has not yet made up his mind whether the law will allow him to reduce the debt more than one per cent. per annum. He intends to keep only so much gold on hand as is actually needed in the Treasury. The receipts from customs are unusually large, and gold is accumulating faster than he had supposed it would. The following figures from the books of the Treasury give the amount of gold on hand at the dates named:—May 3, $84,000,000; May 7, $85,000,000; May 10, $86,000,000; May 17, $88,000,000; May 20, $89,000,000.

☞ The first Concert of the Dover Choral Union occurred on the evening of Wednesday last, under what the Enquirer calls most favorable auspices. But when that paper goes on to say that the crowded house speedily resolved itself into an admiration society, of which the Boston artists — Mrs. Smith, Mr. Barnabee and Mr. Ryder—became the "bright particular stars, we cannot agree with the idea, that to thus unfavorably compare professional artists from abroad with home amateurs, is the way to develop and encourage home talent or build up local Societies —however much pecuniary success it may ensure. Mr. Perkins was director.

☞ The Eastern Railroad made short work in throwing a new bridge over Merrimack street, Newburyport. On Saturday night when the last train passed, the old bridge which had served faithfully and safely for twenty-nine years, was standing untouched; and Monday morning when the freight train arrived from the east, a new structure had taken its place.

☞ It is somewhat ludicrous to see a professedly democratic paper finding fault with Senator Sumner's Speech, which killed the Reverdy Johnson Treaty,—when we remember that the Democratic Senators voted with him against the treaty,—only one negative vote being cast!

BASE BALL.—The New York Mutuals have a game with the Trimountains, at Riverside Park, this Monday afternoon; Tuesday they play the Harvards at Jarvis Field, and Wednesday the Lowells at the same place.

New Hampshire Items.

The forthcoming report of the bank commissioners will show an aggregate of deposits in savings banks of $17,277,780,36, an increase of $2,838,322.13 during the year. There are thirty-eight savings banks and 62,631 depositors.

The New Hampshire Convention of Universalists are to hold their annual meeting at Claremont, Wednesday and Thursday, June 9 and 10.

Rev. T. L. Dean is to preach at Kensington, (Union Meeting House) alternate Sundays, beginning May 23.

Rev. Arthur Caverno has taken charge of the F. W. Baptist church in Candia.

The history of the town of Chester, by Mr. Benj. Chase of Auburn, is now nearly through the press.

Quite a sum has been raised by a levee and by subscription, for improvements on the North Church, Danville,—a Union House.

Chas. E. Smith, Esq., of So. Newmarket, has a pair of 5 year old steers, one of which measures 8 feet, and his mate lacks only 2 inches of 8 feet. Weight 4100 lbs. He refused $400 for them.

The directors and corporators of the Monadnock Railroad met at Peterborough, on Saturday last, and decided not to build the road the present year. The reason is the high price of labor and materials.

T. Batchelder, Esq., of Wolfeborough died a few days since, aged 75 years. He had practised law in that town for over forty years. He graduated in the class of 1821, at Dartmouth College.

On Tuesday, as a horse belonging to Mr. Henry Neale of South Newmarket, was leisurely walking on forbidden ground, and attempted to cross an old well covered with some rotten planks, they broke, he was precipitated stern foremost into the well, fifteen feet deep with six feet of water, from which he was extricated with a tackle and fall. On coming from his cold bath the horse appeared refreshed and walked nimbly away, with only the loss of a few hairs and some small bits of hide.

Clarence N. Hayden, of Temple, recently caught a large white-headed eagle in a steel trap which he had set for a pair of them that were found devouring sheep while yet alive, in the past. ure of N. A. Child. The captured eagle measured from tip to tip of wing 7 feet, and weighed 10 1-2 lbs.

Some of the residents in the suburbs of Nashua are anxious to be incorporated into a new town.

The militia of the State is now reduced to two regiments.

It has been decided to make the inauguration of Hon. Onslow Stearns, the Governor elect, a quiet affair, with no military display.

Mr. C. S. Clough, of Grantham, has a heifer which recently gave birth to a calf having two complete noses, two tongues, two sets of jaws, and three eyes,—one midway between the two regular eyes. The calf did not live, and its skin is to be stuffed.

Mr. F. E. Abbot, of Dover (theist,) says he don't know any thing about the new liberal society to be formed in Boston, and don't believe there is any such movement, but it is said he will preach at Toledo, Ohio, in July and August.

The ladies of the Unitarian Society in Dover are brushing up their meeting-house preparatory to repairing. The pulpit is to be supplied this summer by a number of preachers, some of them eminent; a good arrangement.

THE COAL STRIKE.—The Pottsville Miner's Journal has an article on the coal strike, which virtually concedes that the strike is more of a lock-out than a turn-out. On Friday last, a meeting of the Protective Union General Council was held in Hazelton, Pa., and among the resolutions adopted was the following: "That the minimum price of coal be fixed as follows: $5 at New York city, and $3 at Port Carbon, Schuylkill county, Pa., and the basis to be fixed in accordance therewith."

A private dispatch from Wilkesbarre, Pa., says the miners are all out at Lackawana, Pittston, Kingston and Plymouth, except at the New England Mines. The latter will stay in until driven out by the strikers.

The men who chose to strike, i. e. not to work on certain terms, have the legal and moral right to do so. But then, when they forcibly compel others to leave work, they are wrong, and ought to be severely punished.

—It would seem to be necessary to explain for the benefit of democratic editors that there is nothing extraordinary in the fact that General Grant returned only $566 as his income last year, since the tax had already been paid, by deduction, from all the salary he received from the government. Brick Pomeroy constantly recurs to the return as proving conclusively that the President is a perjurer.

☞ There is a movement in favor of making Decoration Day a regular holiday.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Communication.

Editors Chronicle:—I was in Portsmouth last week, and was asked by a political gentlemen from a village noted for its excellent Academy and Female Seminary, (and which is also the birth-place of the late Hon. Lewis Cass,) whether or not I had joined the "Ring." I replied that I did not understand his interrogatory and he left me,—since which time two "Rings" have occurred to me, viz.: "Love-ring" and "Herring." Do you know of any other? When I join I want to make a selection that may be permanent. RYE.

THE EIGHT HOUR LAW.—President Grant has issued the following Proclamation, dated May 19:—

Whereas, the Act of Congress, approved June 25, 1868, constituted on and after that date eight hours a day's work for all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by or on behalf of the government of the United States, and repealed all acts and parts of acts inconsistent therewith:

Now therefore I, ULYSSES S. GRANT, President of the United States, do hereby direct that from and after this date no reduction shall be made in the wages paid by the government, by the day, to such laborers, workmen and mechanics on account of such reduction of the hours of labor.

THE YOSEMITE VALLEY.—The long promised chromo from Thomas Hill's beautiful painting of the Yosemite Valley has been published by Prang & Co., Boston, and is now ready for subscribers at the gallery of A. A. Childs & Co. This is regarded as the best of the many chromos produced at Prang & Co.'s establishment. As it lays side by side with the original, it is difficult to distinguish one from the other. Nearly two years' labor have been required to produce this admirable picture, and it is a decided success.

CONCORD RAILROAD.—The twenty-eighth Annual Report of the Directors of this corporation for the year ending March 31, 1869, is published, from which we learn that the receipts for the year were $806,149.70, and total expenses $576,743.48; leaving an excess of $229,406.22. The annual meeting of the corporation is to be holden at the Phœnix Hotel in Concord on Tuesday next at 11 o'clock A. M.

MANCHESTER AND LAWRENCE.—The annual meeting of this corporation is to be holden at Smyth's Hall, in Manchester, on Friday, the 28th inst., at 11 o'clock A. M. The Report of the Directors for the year ending March 31, 1869, makes the earnings $181,-882.42, and the expenses $79,772.30; making the net earnings of the year $102,110.12.

THE NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.—We have taken occasion before to refer to the organization, the personnel and the manner of operation of the National Life Insurance Company of America, which is advertised in our columns. The great success of the Company, as demonstrated from month to month, warrants repeated allusion to its peculiar features. We learn that up to the first of May—a period of but nine months from its organization — this Company had issued not less than five thousand policies, although its system of agencies was far from complete.

As is generally known, the Company has authority from Congress to do business in any State of the Union. It has now agents actively at work upon the Pacific Coast, and by the expiration of its first year, it will have covered nearly, if not all, our own country, as well as the Dominion of Canada.

These facts show that the plan upon which the Company does business commends itself to popular favor. There is good reason why this should be so. The rates of the Company are low; it avoids all complications or uncertainties of notes or dividends; when the insured pays his money he knows to a cent how much that payment will secure to his wife or children; and when his death does come, they suffer no disappointment by the presentation of unsuspected notes, which are to be deducted from the face of the policy. Thus, when a few weeks ago, the agent of this Company at Franklin, Pa., paid $1,000 to the family of a laboring man who had insured for that amount but six weeks previous, the promptitude of the Company and the simplicity of the transaction were so apparent that insurance to the amount of $29,000 was immediately effected by the neighbors of the deceased. Another case has been reported, where $5,000 was paid on the first of April to the family of Rev. Lambert S. Fine, of Troy, Pa., who died on the 5th of March, and who had insured for the above amount in December last. The managers of the National Life are gentlemen of widely-known and highly-honored reputation as financiers, and its list of agencies embraces business men of integrity and respect in their several localities. Every indication promises a successful and honorable career for the National Life Insurance Company, and we commend to the attention of our readers the card of the local agency, which will be found in another column.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I can inform any one interested of hundreds of Wheeler & Wilson Machines of twelve years' wear that to-day are in better condition than one entirely new. I have often driven one of them at a speed of eleven hundred stitches a minute. I have repaired fifteen different kinds of Sewing-Machines, and I have found yours to wear better than any other. With ten years' experience in Sewing-Machines of different kinds, yours has stood the most and the severest test for durability and simplicity. GEORGE L. CLARK, Lyndenville, N. Y.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—My wife used her Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine ten years without repairs and has used one needle for the last three years.

To Owners of Horses.
Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a Horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 21 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the RACING STABLES of ENGLAND for it.
The celebrated Hiram Woodruff used and recommended it to his friends, years before his death. Col. P. P. Bush, of the Jerome race course, has given me a certificate stating it to be superior to any other he had used. Hundreds of others can be seen at the Depot, 19 Park Place, N. Y. Sold by the Druggists and Store-keepers. my21

Brandreth's Pills.
TO THE PUBLIC.
Brandreth's Pills have been known and used by your grandfathers and grandmothers. They are always safe, and sure to do you good. They are purely vegetable, and diminish the death principle; some think they increase the principle of life. But in taking out bad humors from the blood, they do make the body lighter, and thus seem to be strengthening. Many families have used them for upwards of forty years.
They are the best medicine for Colds, for all Bilious Affections, for Fullness about the Head or Heart, and in all Cutaneous and Contagious Diseases they are unrivalled. In all cases in which a purgative is indicated, no medicine yet known can be compared to them. A Household Elixir adapted to all Climates.
It would be a happy thing for the world if all the excitants at present used in the practice of medicine could be swept out of existence, and HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS substituted in their place. There is a probability, too, that this desirable substitution may one day be accomplished. Certain it is, that the GREAT VEGETABLE TONIC is gradually displacing them, and that the confidence of the people in its sanitary and saving properties increases with every passing year. "Figures that cannot lie" show this to be the fact. No medicinal preparation enjoys the like popularity among all classes and conditions, in every section of the country. As an appetizer, a general invigorant, a remedy for indigestion, a cure for intermittent and remittent fevers, a gentle cathartic, a specific for flatulency and sour stomach, a gentle diuretic, a nervine, a blood depurent, a specific for sick headache, a mild anodyne, and, above all, as a PROTECTION AGAINST EPIDEMICS, it is unquestionably the STANDARD MEDICINE of the whole United States. In the towns and cities it is literally a HOUSEHOLD STAPLE. Mothers believe in it. They find it a "present help in time of trouble,"—a safe and pleasant remedy for the various ailments to which their sex is exclusively subject. Men believe in it, because it refreshes and invigorates the body and the mind, and tones both without exciting either.

Holloway's Pills.—Affections of the chest, if neglected, are the sure precursors of dangerous pulmonary maladies. A few doses of HOLLOWAY'S PILLS, taken at the commencement of a cough or cold, will always carry off the febrile ailments that generate and feed it; and HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, applied with brisk friction over the lungs, will assist in removing the phlegm or the chest and completing the cure. Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect SAFETY.
TWO TABLE-SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.
AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S. &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.
To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has but little of the lungs begin to heal.
To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall to flow into the bladder freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.
Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the base of the Pulmonic Syrup, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.
The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption, they try to stop the cough; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.
Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sore Throat, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.
If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, perhaps, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.
When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.
Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.
Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to be present when Dr. SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 33 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

CITY MATTERS. — Messrs. Editors:—Have you seen Middle street lately? I wonder why it cannot be repaired. The residents applied last year to the City Fathers, but nothing was done. They have applied again this year, and the street is still untouched by pick or shovel. In the meantime it is part stony and part muddy, and those who have to ride over it are first jostled by a road rougher than a cobble pavement, and then pitched into a mud hole.

I made up my mind at first that it was too expensive a job to be undertaken. But I find that Cass Steeet, the residence of our excellent Street Commissioner, is in prime order. I find, too, that Islington Street, away up to the Brewery of our popular Mayor, was thoroughly repaired last year, and the Square at the Creek was made up beautifully.

There was a jolly humour in the remark made by one of the Aldermen a few weeks since, as reported to the Middle St. petitioners, that the Street Commissioner found Middle Street in such good order that he knew not what to do or where to begin. Had I been present I should have advised him to begin in the middle and work both ways; he could not make a mistake.

I suppose now, however, there is no hope; for I see by your paper that many things are called for which will require a good deal of money. First a bell is wanted near the Creek, where the Mayor has more property, real and personal, than any half-dozen other residents except his brother Brewers.—And I have nothing to say against the bell; indeed I don't know but what I should vote for it if I had the chance.

But what do you think of a Bridge from Noble's Island to Freeman's Point? There are eight or ten families residing in that locality, and the City is now building a highway for them on their own petition, which will be nearly half a mile long and cost a couple of thousand dollars or more. And now they ask for a Bridge twelve hundred feet, (nearly a quarter of a mile long,) to reach the same locality in a different direction and by a much longer route, and to accommodate the same eight or ten families. But then our ever economical Mayor has purchased fifty acres of land there; to be sure, I hear that he doesn't sign the petition for the Bridge, and of course does not want one, as his land is to be used for a pasture; but is it not queer that the petition for the Bridge should come up just now?

P. S. I forgot to mention that I am told the Mayor has subscribed one thousand dollars for the Bridge from Noble's Island to Freeman's Point, which will make a convenient route to drive his stock from his mansion at Gravelly Ridge to his pasture at Freeman's Point.

PETER.

☞ The Dover Enquirer has a gossipy letter from Portsmouth, a portion of which we copy. Speaking of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad it says:

By the way, has that enterprise departed this life, or is it still "dragging its slow length along" to that "existence without beginning and without end," passing through nature to eternity. I am afraid while one interest is looking after the Main(e) chance and the other wants to Se(a)e S(hore)ure, Portsmouth and Dover will be the losers.

GOOD!—S. F. Engine Company, No. 2, have voted to take part in the procession on Memorial Day, and donated $20 to Storer Encampment, Grand Army of the Republic, of this city, towards defraying the expenses of the occasion. The procession will be a large one. Why not make the day a public holiday?

☞ Capt. John Smith, of Provincetown, now master of Schooner Mary E. Amsden, is having a new vessel built at this port, by Wm. F. Fernald, Esq., for the freighting business, capable of carrying 800 tons. She will be rigged as a three masted schooner and will be done in October.

☞ The first Commencement of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy was held in Boston, last week. An Address was delivered by S. M. Colcord, one of the Trustees. J. Colby Lowd, of Portsmouth, received a diploma, being one of the graduating class.

☞ Our Kittery correspondent writes that Thos. Winslow of Portland, a member of the G. A. R.'s, has been appointed Master in charge of the Blacksmith Shop in Bureau of Construction at the Navy Yard.

THAT NEW SIGN of E. A. Batchelder's, Congress Block, is attracting the attention of people who have a regard for the beautiful.

BOYHOOD'S SPORT.— One day last week a lady citizeness of this place, on returning to her home after a few hours' absence, was welcomed with the cheering intelligence, "Oh! Mrs. ——; your little Charlie has been brought home, almost killed!" The mother's curiosity was naturally somewhat excited by this piece of information, and she immediately took steps to ascertain what foundation there was for the report; which foundation was flimsy enough, some waggish boy having only "fired a rock" in fun, and hit Master six-year-old Charlie in the face. Luckily the missile was too big to reach the eye over which it struck, and its only effect was to knock Charlie down, close up the optic for a day or so, and color the parts adjacent with more brilliance than beauty.

On Saturday last I saw two young gentlemen having some fun throwing stones at each other, and one of them threw with such precision as to strike a young lady, who was passing, a smart blow on the ankle, with a good sized pebble,—a great shame,—I'd have liked to have caught him,—I'd have translated him into a cherub at once. The boy ran away, and the lady limped into a house close by.

A day or two previous to this occurrence I saw a man going along with some fish to sell, when a stone, thrown by a nice little boy, hit him right in the basket of fish. The young lady I have mentioned, however indignant she may have felt, abstained from the use of improper or profane language; but the fish man didn't,—he swore awful. The boy marksman made a rapid retreat in excellent order, before the fish man's determined advance, and the last I saw of 'em was the boy's heels in the air as he "turned over" a high fence into a garden and the fish man racing down an alley way to head him off. Whether the latter succeeded in catching and executing the former I do not know,—I am afraid not.

This stone-throwing is all the go now among the boys in our streets, but it is not the correct thing. I don't advocate any needless curtailing of boyish privileges, and if they would pelt and injure each other only, and do it at suitable times and in suitable places, I suppose no one would object. Let the city authorities procure a suitable field in the outskirts of the city, and supply it with paving-stones and half-bricks, and let all boys between the ages of five and fifteen years go there and pelt each other to their hearts' content, whenever the spirit moves.

But instructions should be given by somebody to somebody to stop the street throwing. I don't like it myself,—it interferes too much with my plans. I wish to have a solemn, grave and reverend appearance, as befits a writer for the press and a member in good and regular standing of "Division No. 5",—but I can't manage it very well at present. I can't appear dignified when I'm jumping up in the air to let boulders pass beneath me, nor when I'm dodging behind trees or into strange men's doorways. Will somebody do something to protect me? PAKEHA.

FOR WHIP?—The Biddeford Journal shows considerable spite over the order returning Chief Engineer D. B. Macomb to this Naval Station. The circumstances of his detachment are sufficient cause for the order returning him to duty here. Mr. Macomb should not bear the blame of the neglect of a superior officer to do his duty, and the Department did an act of simple justice to a faithful officer whom it had wronged.

JUDGE BUFFORD sentenced the two boys, Moses and Grant, who entered Butler & Leighton's store and the fish market, a few days since, to the Reform School during their minority, on Saturday.

CALL at the Congress Block Book Store and get your envelopes, letters, &c., stamped. Mr. Shores has a good collection of the different styles of letters.

JOSH BILLINGS ON THE MULE.—The mule is half hoss and half jackass, and then kums to a full stop, natur discovering her mistake. Tha way more skordingto their beft than any other kreeture, except a crowbar. Tha kant hear enny quicker nor further than the hoss, yet their ears are big enuff for snow shoes. You ken trust them with enny one whose life ain't worth enny more than the mules. The only way to keep them into pastur, is to turn them into a medder pincing, and let them jump out. Tha are ready for use just as soon as tha will do to abuse. Tha haint got enny friends, and will live on a buckelberry brush, with an occasional chanse at Canada thissels. They are a modern invershun.—I don't think the Bible eludes to them at all. Tha sel for more money than enny other domestik animile.

You kant tell their age by looking into their mouths, enny more than you kould a Mexikan kannon's. Tha never have no disease that a good klub wont heel. If tha ever dy tha must kum rite to life agin, for I never herd nobody sa "ded mule." Tha are like sum men, "very corrupt at harte." I've know them to be good mules for 6 months, jest to git a chanse to kick sumbody. I never owned one nor mean to, unless there is a United States law requiring it. The only reason why tha are pashent is because tha are ashamed ov themselves. I have seen eddicated mules in a sirkis. Tha would kick and bite tremenjis.

Enny man who is willin to drive a mule, ought to be exempt by law from running to the Legislatur. Tha are the strongest kreetures on earth, and heviest according to their size. I herd tell ov one who fell orph from the tow path on the Eri kanal, and sunk as soon as he tutched the water, but he kept rite on towing the boat to the next station, breathing thru his ears, which stuck out of the water about 2 feet six inches. I didn't see this did, but an auctioneer told ov it, and I never knew an auctioneer to tell an untruth unless it was absolutely convenient.

FUNNY FACTS FOR FANCY FARMERS.—A distinguished agriculturist contributes the following valuable and seasonable hints to fancy farmers, which may be of service to them in their Spring work:

To have your fields well dressed you must sow as large a breadth as possible. A grain of foresight in this matter will insure a sight of grain at harvest.

A man may fleece his sheep, but not his land. The farmer's game is to "give and take."

Mind your peas—the qs will taxe care of themselves.

It is not a lazy farmer who takes to his bed in morning and stays till night—if the bed is in his garden.

Ploughshares are the best investments—the dividends are sure in the fall.

Fawning is not commendable, but there is no objection to currying favor with one's cattle.

It is sheer nonsense to shear sheep too early: take off your own and your flock's overcoats at about the same time.

Now is the time for the farmer to mend his ways—highways and byways.

Kitchen gardens should be under picket guard—the fowls will come up to the scratch if the farmer don't.

Fences should be looked to. Defence of the crops is often staked on a single post.

Raise all you can. If you can raise the mortgage on your farm, so much the better.

Through cultivation is essential: the harrowin-in pains you take, the better off you will be in the end.

It is better to spend an hour hanging loose doors and gates, than in hanging around taverns and stores.

It is also better to whitewash your own walls than to blacken your neighbor's character.

Dull days may be spent in practising dentistry on your rakes and harrows.

If any one chews, let him spend his tobacco money for the benefit of the "gregarines" in the back hair of his colts and calves.

A little soot from the chimney will suit the early cucumbers and non-suit the bugs.

MISSING — A MINISTER.—The somewhat strange announcement is made that Gen. Cochrane is to be sent to Paraguay on a special mission. Gen. McMahon, our present minister resident in that remote despotism, has not been heard of lately, and it is surmised that Gen. Cochrane is going out to look for him. We have lost our McMahon, and now we are to lose our Cochrane. O, costly Paraguay! O, inexorable Lopez! Shall we have to send somebody anon to hunt up Cochrane, and then go to war with Paraguay, as England did with Abyssinia, for our captive citizens? Far better were the laissez aller policy of Little Bopeep in the ballad:—

Little Bopeep has lost her sheep,
And doesn't know where to find em;
Let 'em alone, they'll all come home
And bring their tails behind 'em.

N. Y. Evening Post.

—Mr. Robert B. Roosevelt, a journalist in New York, not having the fear of consequences before his eyes, lately applied for admission to membership of the Sorosis, confessing his inferiority as a man and a brother, but hoping for the sake of the example that his petition would be granted. To his application the president of the club, Mrs. Jennie Jane Croly, returned a negative, though sympathetic answer, to the effect that Sorosis was too young for the society of gentlemen, and that for some years to come its reply to all male suitors must be—"Principles, not men."

—A new firm of proof readers in Boston is called the house of correction.

LOVERS' TABLE.

☞ A Western editor perpetrates the following, and calls it wit!

Two glances make one look;
Two looks make one sigh;
Four sighs make one walts;
Three waltzes make one palpitation;
Two calls make one attention;
Two attentions make one fool;—
(Sometimes two;)
Two fools make one flirtation;
One flirtation makes two bouquets;
Two bouquets make one engagement;
One engagement makes one marriage;
Sometimes two, and fifteen children;
Go slow—grass is short!

JUST SO.—The Navy Department has done a very foolish thing in exchanging the Indian names of our war vessels for the names of commonplace inland towns and villages which never saw a war steamer and never will till water runs up hill. The late Secretary of the Navy indulged his Indian tastes to excess; but a little familiarity has made the names attractive, and much easier to pronounce than the shorter names now put in their place.—Boston Adv.

—The cause of ladies' teeth decaying at so much earlier a stage of life than the other sex, has been usually attributed to the friction produced by the constant motion of the tongue. It has, however, been suggested, with more gallantry and perhaps with equal truth, that it is owing to the sweetness of their lips—as it is well established by popular belief that sweet things spoil the teeth.

—A dispatch has been received from Mr. Vincent Colyer, who was reported to have been captured by the Indians together with his escort, announcing his safe arrival at Fort Bascom, New Mexico. He was hospitably treated by the Indians.

—A child in Springfield, Illinois, fell down stairs the other day and broke out four teeth. Three of them were immediately re-inserted and have grown firmly in their places. The fourth had been trodden upon and it was thought best not to restore it.

—James Webb, jr., of Portland, Me., working before the war for $5.50 per week, saved regularly $1 of that sum. Five years ago he bought a shoe shop and tools with $150 of his earnings. He is now making 20,000 pairs of ladies' shoes per year.

—Chicago had, recently, a match for the "champion butchers' silver belt of America," which was won by a young man of nineteen, who killed, skinned, dressed and hung up in quarters a beef, in forty minutes and forty-five seconds.

4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)

Demorest's Young America, has a Velocipede song.

The Riverside Magazine, for young people; —a deserving favorite with young and old. Hurd & Houghton, publishers, New York.

The Missionary Herald, has an engraving of the Missionary Chapel at Latinwadl; and several interesting articles.

The Nursery has a "Tragedy in five acts," called the Hammer,—serio-comic.

Our Young Folks has an engraving of the Snow Fort on Slater's Hill, to illustrate the Story of a Bad Boy.

Herald of Health, an original magazine; containing much practical matter.

The American Agriculturist, has an illustrative cut, Past and Present, suggestive.

The Galaxy has several papers among its contents which will be sure to attract attention. Prominent among these are "General Jomini," by Gen. George B. McClellan, and "George Eliot' and George Lewes," by Justin McCarthy. Mr. J. W. De Forest has a story, Mr. J. S. C. Abbott the first of two papers on "The Throne of Louis Philippe," Dr. Draper a discussion of the preparation of animal food for the table, Eugene Benson nalnyzes Mr. Godkin of the Nation, and Mr. Richard Grant White returns to the charge in regard to the use of "being." Mr. Charles Reade has his usual two chapters.

Beadle's Ladies' Letter Writer, and The Base Ball Player,—the latter containing all the rules of the game for 1869, are received from the publishers, 98 William St., New York. Only a dime each.

The System of Commercial Travelling, in Europe and the United States; its History, Customs and Laws. Hurd & Houghton, New York.—This pamphlet is a defence of the system, which we don't believe in at all.

Westminster Review, for April.—(American reprint.)

The Edinburgh Review for April, (American reprint,) has a very instructive article on The Comparative Industry of Nations.

Le Nouveau Monde, Journal Politique et Litteraire,—is a French Newspaper, well printed, published at 91 Walker street, New York.

Weekly American Workman, newspaper, new series:—published in Boston; $3 per year, postage prepaid.

PRINTER'S ERROR.—A recently published French work on Insanity, so says L'Illustration, contains an error of a most amusing kind. The author, a celebrated physician, had concluded the book with a few extracts from a similar work. When he received his proof, and found that the extracts had not been quoted, he wrote on the margin: Pour finir, il faut guillemeter tous les alineas; and, cheered with the thought of the happy finish of the book, he sends the last sheet to press. In due course, the work is quickly worked off, stitched, and offered for sale. A copy is transmitted to the author, and just fancy his sudden fright, when, in looking over the book, he comes to the last page, and there finds an error which makes him nearly drop the book. The printer had taken the note in the margin for an addition to the text, and made it not only the concluding sentence of the exceedingly learned work, but it also read, instead of Pour finir, il faut guillemeter tous les alineas (You must insert inverted commas at all the paragraphs)—Pour finir, il faut guillotiner tous les alineas (Guillotine all insane persons.)

☞ The Boston Sunday Times is authority for the statement that Mr. Joseph Jefferson is in his fortieth year.

—Mr. David White of Pittston (Me.,) died quite suddenly a few nights since, from the effects of green paint. He had painted the blinds of the house and let them stand in his sleeping apartments to dry.

—The Memphis Commercial Convention adjourned sine die on Friday night. At the evening session a resolution requesting Congress to put the telegraph system under the control of the Post-master-General, was adopted.

—Rafting lumber is done on such a stupendous scale in Minnesota that the lumbermen cannot wait for the slow processes of eastern logmen. They place a steamer behind the raft to push it and a propeller is fastened across the front, which by going forward or backward steers the long raft.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cared on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1866, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.50 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.16 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Public Clubs, or Families, in chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have no agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties who try it once will have the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our wholesale prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY,

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, MAY 25, 1869.

The News.

Pekin is suffering from a terrible drought.

Velocipedes are numerous in Shanghae.

The Canton first tea crop is seriously damaged.

The new fractional currency will be ready for issue on the 1st of July.

Heavy rains prevail along the California coast.

The republican papers of Madrid assert that the recent vote of the Spanish Cortes has only deferred the scheme for a federal republic, not defeated it. A republic, sooner or later, must come through the want of a monarch and the absence of unanimity on the part of the majority of the Cortes.

The French elections commenced on Sunday.

Minister Washburne presented his credentials to Napoleon on Sunday.

The persecution of Christians in North China has ceased.

The English papers are still harping on Senator Sumner's speech.

One of the greatest meetings ever assembled was held in Belfast, Ireland, on Sunday, to protest against the disestablishment of the Irish Church. Nearly 200,000 people were present.

Official figures at the Treasury Department show that the importations for the months of March and April were greater than for the corresponding months of any previous year.

Secretary Boutwell sold a million in coin on Monday at prices ranging from 42.01 to 42.20 per cent. premium.

All of Florida lying west of Apalachicola is to be sold to Alabama for $1,000,000 in Alabama bonds. West Florida first votes on the matter, then the legislatures of both States act on it, and it is finally to be submitted to Congress for approval.

A St. Louis dispatch says; Intelligence has just been received that a large body of Santie-Sioux Indians attacked a settlement at Music Shell, on the Upper Missouri, two weeks ago. The Indians met with a hot reception from the settlers, and thirty to forty Indians are reported to have been killed. The remainder only saved themselves by swimming the river. The whites lost two men. The Indians have gone for reinforcements, and will probably repeat the attack.

SENATOR SPRAGUE is undoubtedly a genius, says Uncle Toby. One week we see him reported in the papers as a favorite of some Eight Hour men, and a champion of Working Men; but some one suggested that he had not yet reduced the hours in his own manufactories! Now, in another week, we see him reported in the Southern Commercial Convention, condemning Free Trade, saying that the Cotton culture was in danger of being driven out of our Southern States, — and proposing, as the only remedy, to reform and cheapen labor there! Does he propose to reform labor at the South by making eight hours a day's work there? and to cheapen it by giving higher pay for shorter time? Probably not.—But two such Horses, as short days' work and cheap labor, are rather hard for one man to ride. He may possibly fall to the ground. If labor (now that slavery is dead,) is made cheap at the South, it will not be likely to remain dear at the North. And so, while labor commands a high price at the North, the laborers will not rush down South to cheapen labor there.

☞ General Butler has been urging the administration to adopt very decided measures in regard to the Alabama claims. He thinks that Mr. Motley's course should be to make a definite demand for a settlement, and if not complied with at the end of a reasonable time, non-intercourse should be proclaimed, and that this would be followed by a state of affairs in England which would soon cause a settlement with this country.

☞ Prof. Goldwin Smith suggests that if we as Americans dislike the Reverdy Johnson treaty, we should shower our resentment on Reverdy and not on England.—Nobody, now, regards any conduct of Reverdy or Andy Johnson.—Both are rapidly sinking below contempt, into oblivion.

☞ Tracts are given away now by millions, in Spain; Bibles and copies of the Gospels are freely sold and eagerly bought. 200,000 of the Gospels have been sold; and an edition of 4,000,000 is now being printed.

—Nearly all the Paris correspondents say that Madame Patti will soon be engaged in a scandalous divorce suit, and that most of her jealous sister singers will exult over her misfortunes.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. John Locke has been appointed Postmaster of Raymond, in place of T. M. Gould, removed. Mr. L. has long assisted in the P. O., and is obliging and faithful.

Mr. John J. Robinson, of Newmarket, caught a bouncing big fish in his weir at the railroad bridge on the 10th. It was a sturgeon, weighing 230 lbs., and measuring eight and one-half feet in length. These fish are useless except as fertilizers, in this vicinity or Boston, but at the East we believe they eat them, and in New York they call their flesh Albany beef.

The body of Roxana Chase of Fitzwilliam, missing since last October, has been found in the woods. An inquest found a verdict of insanity, in which she wandered from home, and died of cold, hunger and exhaustion.

Jere. Sullivan of Great Falls, is in jail for setting fire to the barn of Mrs. Spline of Somersworth.

About $3000 have been collected for the Congregational Mosting House at North Seabrook, outside the place.—$1,500 more is needed to complete the work.

Two Nashua physicians caught sixty trout in four hours' fishing near Lynnfield last Friday, twenty-four of which measured twelve inches in length.

Rev. S. H. McCollister, principal of Westbrook Academy in Maine, has accepted a call to be pastor of the Universalist church in Nashua.

The Manchester Mirror speaks of a man who came to that city on Sunday, May 16, to bury the remains of his deceased wife, and who, on the next Tuesday left the place with a new made bride.

Charles McConnell, aged 18, is in Haverhill jail, for rape.

The unoccupied dwelling house of N. H. Shaw of Ashland, was broken into on the night of the 18th. Several articles of value were taken and locks broken. Two boys are suspected as the robbers.

Dea. Seth Littlefield of Grantham, nearly 90 years of age was recently run over by an ox team, the cart being loaded, and one of the wheels passing over nearly the whole length of his body. Strange to say no bones were broken, nor very serious injury done.

On the 17th, just as the 12.30 train was passing through Lebanon, a man was seen lying across the track near the crossing by two young men, who, knowing the train was close at hand, ran at their highest speed and had barely time to remove him from the track before the train reached the spot. The man was returning to Slaytonville, and being intoxicated, fell across the track, and was not able to regain his feet, and would have been killed had he not been discovered by these young men.

The "Gordon House," so called, in Lake Village, was badly damaged by fire on the 19th.

CUBA.—Information has been received of the landing of 300 fillibusters near Gibara. There was an obstinate fight with the troops on the shore in which the Spanish captured two cannon and lost 32 men. The insurgents lost 80 in killed and wounded. The result is unknown. Fighting is reported near Trinidad and Cienfuegos with heavy losses and appalling atrocities on both sides. Remedios is in a state of anarchy. The insurgents are ubiquitous in that jurisdiction, and small bands of Spaniards and Cubans are engaged in mutual robbery and murder.

The Cubans in Washington have received accounts of the recent battle near Puerto Principe, in which they say that the Spaniards lost one thousand men. General Cespedes and his troops are greatly encouraged by this affair, and their enthusiasm seems to have been communicated to the Cubans in this country.

—Queen Victoria is fifty.

HON. JOHN P. HALE, our Minister to Spain, has been severely slandered by his Secretary of Legation, Perry, aided by Smalley of the New York Tribune, a regular Tittlebat Titmouse. One of the absurd charges against Mr. Hale was his lack of sympathy with the Republican cause in that country. Our consul to Nantz, B. Gerrish, Jr., in a letter to the Independent Democrat of Concord completly riddles this base calumny.

Another charge was that Mr. Hale had been smuggling goods into Spain by way of speculations, or on account of family extravagance. But this is exploded by the very best authority, Rev. J. P. Thompson of New York, says that having frequently been a guest at Mr. Hale's residence in Madrid, he can testify that the "house and table are furnished with a modest propriety, and that a visitor would rather get the impression that his host was constrained to live below the requirements of his position, than that he was ambitious to rival the extravagance of court life."

We may add to this fact, that Mr. Hale exposes the mendacity of both these charges in letters to Senator Sumner and the Tribune, and we submit that for papers claiming any respectability, to persist in these ridiculous falsehoods against him, is utterly shameful and perfectly outrageous. The pioneer of the Republican party in this country, and for years the solitary defender of the anti-slavery cause in the U. S. Senate and the champion of humanity generally, will hold his own, we venture to say, against slander and calumny of all sorts. Shame and confusion to those who indulge in it.—Haverhill Publisher.

A CELEBRATED BASE BALL PLAYER.—The Boston National Chronicle says;

We think we may safely say that there is not, in all New England, a member of the base ball fraternity more widely and favorably known than James D. W. Lovett, the famous pitcher of the Lowell nine. He has for the last five years stood out prominent, not only as one of the best amateur players of this section, but of the whole country. Mr. Lovett was born in Boston, 1844, and from his boyish days up to the present time his favorit sport has been the game of ball in one shape or another. The Lowells organized in 1861, and Mr. Lovett's name stands number two upon the original roll of that club. At the first meeting, he was chosen one of three directors, and in the first match of the club, Oct. 16, '61, he distinguished himself in the short stop's position to such an extent that he occupied that position until 1865, when he made his "debut" in the more important position of pitcher, which place he has filled to this day, and how well, we need not say. In '62 or '63, he was also a leading member of the Oneida Foot-ball Club, then considered the champions in that sport. In fact every out-door pastime had and still continues to have in James Lovett a warm admirer and advocate, and although he has made base ball his speciality, he is quite "au fait" in many other games. He is at home with the oar; by no means a poor cricketer; and is also something of a gymnast. In short, every out-door sport calculated to improve the physical health of our young men, has in Mr. Lovett a cordial supporter. In his chosen recreation, he is perfectly at home.

To all positions of the game he is familiar; in the most trying moments of a contest, he is the same cool, good-natured and courteous gentleman as he is off the ball field. With him base ball is but a recreation and never a business, and while he is most always on hand at every contest of the club, it is never at the expense of his business engagements. Take him all in all, he is hard to beat, and all we need say to the fraternity of the East and West, is, "Match him."

To Owners of Horses.

Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a Horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 31 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the RACING STABLES of ENGLAND for it.

The celebrated Hiram Woodruff used and recommended it to his friends, years before his death. Col. P. P. Bush, of the Jerome race course, has given me a certificate stating it to be superior to any other he had used. Hundreds of others can be seen at the Depot, 10 Park Place, N. Y. Brandreth's Pills.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Brandreth's Pills have been known and used by your grandfathers and grandmothers. They are always safe, and sure to do you good. They are purely vegetable, and diminish the death pretnelple; some think they increase the principle of life. But in taking out bad humors from the blood, they do make the body lighter, and thus seem to add energy. Many families have used them for upwards of forty years.

They are the best medicine for Colds, for all Billious Affections, for Fullness about the Head or Heart, and in all Cutaneous and Contagious Diseases they are unrivaled. In all cases in which a purgative is indicated, no medicine yet known can be compared to them. Two hundred physicians have testified that Brandreth's Pills are superior to all other purgatives whatever. Sold by all Druggists. my21

A Household Elixir adapted to all Climates.

It would be a happy thing for the world if all the excitants at present used in the practice of medicine could be swept out of existence, and HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS substituted in their place. There is a probability, too, that this desirable substitution may one day be accomplished. Certain it is, that the GREAT VEGETABLE TONIC is gradually displacing them, and that the confidence of the people in its sanitary and saving properties increases with every passing year. "Figures that cannot lie" show this to be the fact. No medicinal preparation enjoys the like popularity among all classes and conditions, in every section of the country. As an appetizer, a general invigorant, a remedy for indigestion, a cure for intermittent and remittent fevers, a gentle cathartic, a specific for flatulancy and sour stomach, a gentle diuretic, a nervine, a blood depurent, a specific for sick headache, a mild anodyne, and, above all, as a PROTECTION AGAINST EPIDEMICS, it is unquestionably the STANDARD MEDICINE of the whole United States. In the towns and cities it is literally a HOUSEHOLD STAPLE. Mothers believe in it. They find it a "present help in time of trouble,"—a safe and pleasant remedy for the various ailments to which their sex is exclusively subjected. Men believe in it, because it refreshes and invigorates the body and the mind, and tones both without exciting either.

Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to gain in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. Wm. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs (which these pills of by no easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon in a healthy action. These pills will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use in the mouth of any one, and which will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much: they give no medicine to stop the cough, no friction to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Relax the system, cleanse the liver and stomach, and they will stop of themselves. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, or bad digestion, (leaves whether, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only way is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 220 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover St., Boston, every other Monday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yj4

STREETS.—Mistur Editor:—Your correspondent Peter, in his peace in the paper Monday morning, seems to complain of what is done as well as what is left undone. He says that the Mayor has put down a thousand dollars toward building a Bridge to Noble's Island. Suppose he has; the Mayor don't want a Bridge there; and what Peter says about the Mayor's driving his cows away down through the town and over Noble's Island to his pasture, won't go down with any sensable man. Besides, why didn't he say that William F. Fernald has put down five hundred dollars for the Bridge; and Mr. Fernald does not want the bridge, for he has got a boat.

The Mayor wants to keep taxes down; and I hope he won't have Middle Street fixed at all, for it is in first-rate order now; the Street Commissioner says so; and it's only a back street, and no matter if it is rough. My cousin, who was down here two or three weeks ago, when it was muddy, took his cousin Bridget out to ride, and they sed Middle street was first-rate, because it shook them up together. MIKEL.

☞ Mr. Wm. Plaisted, having at last, with much difficulty and delay and at several hundred dollars expense, completed the necessary arrangements for getting water from the North Millpond, at the foot of Brewster Street, for Street Sprinkling purposes,—commenced operations in Middle Street on Monday afternoon, and will wet down Market Square to-day if no rain. Persons desiring the dust laid near their premises, may now apply to him—and he states that he shall not enter Market and other Streets unless all or nearly all the abuttors, whether in lower story or chambers, pay their fare share of the expense—as in no other way can he secure himself from loss. One would suppose that every decent man would be ready to pay the necessary trifle for this comfort and luxury.

Communication.

We understood some time since, from the papers, that the City Government had authorized the purchase of three Fire Extinguishers, and that the Agent in this city had furnished them. We have learned from Mr. Cushman that he took them back, on account of a difficulty regarding payment. Would it not be as well for the City to expend money for this purpose, as for a number of other purposes for which appropriations are made? CARROLL.

☞ We give "Mikel," whoever he may be, an opportunity to relieve himself, agreeably to our custom of having both sides heard. But we remark, it is a pity that Mikel paid so little attention to orthography when he went to school. And we suggest that Peter and Mikel both ride through Islington Street, above the jail, and see what they think of that.

☞ Our new Postmaster, Mr. E. G. Peirce, Jr., assumed charge of the Office on Monday—with Mr. C. E. Plaisted for Assistant. We think the public have been well served by the outgoing P. M. and clerks; and nobody seems to doubt but the new parties in trust will give complete satisfaction.

☞ The North Parish in this city has recently paid off the last of the debt of $10,000 which their new Church left them several years ago, and now do not owe a dollar—the amount subscribed and paid by a late movement, being about $6000.

☞ There was quite a heavy white frost on Saturday night, but no great damage done, that we heard of. Also on Sunday night. Such cold weather, it would seem, must check the early tomatoes, if nothing worse.

☞ A party of prominent business men of the city, are to make an excursion to Dover and Alton Bay to-day, via the Concord, B. & M., and Cocheco Railroads,—with reference to the Portsmouth & Dover Road.

☞ A young and patriotic citizen writes us to know whether there is to be any public and general Celebration of the Fourth of July this year—which he urges there could and should be.

☞ A correspondent well qualified to judge, writes in glowing terms respecting the beauties and attractions of Mr. Moses' Operatic entertainment for June 8th—Laila.

☞ Twelve more converts were baptised at the Middle St. Church, Sunday last, and the ordinance is to be administered to others on the next Sabbath.

C. Philbrick & Co.,—the new stable of the Farragut having been finished into a Cottage in connection with that house, and the Atlantic stables to serve for both. The entire capacity of the Atlantic, Farragut, and the two Cottages, is, we should judge, nearly 200 persons.

THE PACIFIC RAILWAY.—Gen. Dodge telegraphs from Omaha that all the arrangements for through travel are complete, and both freight and passenger trains are running on time. The greater portion of the road is in as good order as any line east of Omaha, but owing to the erection of some permanent bridges and stone culverts in the place of temporary structures, and changes in small portions of the road-bed, the company will not present the road as fully finished before the 1st of August.

EARTH CLOSETS FOR COWS AND HORSES.—Much interest is now being taken in the question of the introduction of the earth closet; and it has occurred to us, (a limited experience on the subject confirming our idea,) that the application of the same principle to the cow stable, the horse stable, and, indeed, to every place where live stock is kept, is perfectly feasible, and will be attended with the best results. Much is said in favor of the use of swamp muck in and under stables; and, indeed too much cannot be said in its praise. But, for the consolation of those to whom muck is inaccessible, we are glad to be able to say, that, although common surface soil contains within itself probably less actual fertilizing material, yet it is even a better absorbent of the escaping gases of the manure heap, and of its soluble fertilizing ingredients.

A few cart-loads of good fertile soil, taken up during the dry season in July or August, screened through a coal-screen, or sifted with ash-sifter, and put away under a shed where it will not get wet, will afford a better material than muck, charcoal dust, or plaster, to be sprinkled in stables and thrown upon the accumulated droppings in a cellar or manure shed. While, probably, the value of this addition to the compost heap, in view of its absorbent qualities, will be quite as great as that of muck, the effect upon the atmosphere of the stable will be even better.

In the hog pen, the use of dry earth will accomplish equally beneficial results; and even the ground under the hen-coop, or the floor of the hen-house, supplied with this material in sufficient quantity to cover and absorb the droppings, the mass being forked over once or twice a week, will be productive of the most desirable effect. It will amply repay, in the increased value of the manure, the labor that it requires; while the purity of the air of the poultry-house, and the beneficial influence of this on the health of the fowls, will be greater than could be attained in any other way.—Am. Agriculturist.

WAR NEWS IN FORMER TIMES.—The following statements are copied from a paper recently read by Thompson Westcott before the Press Club of Philadelphia:

Before the Revolution, when the mail between New York and Philadelphia was transported once a week, and occupied two days in travel, and coming down to so recent a period as twenty years ago, the transportation of news was a slow process. News that the Stamp Act was repealed in England on the 18th of March, 1766, was received in Philadelphia on the 20th of May, in the same year, having been eight weeks in crossing the ocean. The battle of Lexington and Concord were fought on the 18th of April, 1775. It was not until the 24th, six days afterward, that imperfect intelligence of those engagements arrived in Philadelphia.

On the 19th of October, 1781, Cornwallis surrendered to Washington at Yorktown; but papers at Philadelphia did not receive the news by special aide-de-camp until November 24th. On the 24th of December, 1814, the Treaty of Ghent was signed. At the present time we might know of such an event on the day upon which it transpired. Even the ocean-steamship service, if it had existed in 1814 as it does now, might have brought the intelligence across the water in time to have prevented, by the assistance of land telegraphs, the battle of New Orleans, which was fought fifteen days afterward. But news of that treaty was not received in this country until the 12th of February, 1815. Even in Philadelphia, the news of the battle of the 8th of January was unknown until February 6th, an interval of nearly a month.

WENDELL PHILLIPS ON CUBA AND THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.—On the basis of emancipation and the equality of races Wendell Phillips goes for Cuban independence. The same rule, he argues, condemns England's Southern confederacy and belligerent rights, inasmuch as "she strained even the unjust equivocal rules of international law to find means of helping a slaveholding conspiracy. Hating our government as a possible rival, she aided to establish piracy and slavery as corner stone of a new State. We will waste no time in discussing technicalities with her. Her offence is rank.

The atonement is to be full of pecuniary recompense, and beside, a distinct, formal disavowal of any right in future" to play the same game. "No matter how long it takes," continues Phillips, "we can wait." Meanwhile, he contends, we must help out Cuba, "and if Great Britain interferes we have at a little cost, a perpetual Alabama anchored off her coast just as near to Liverpool as Dublin is to that port." This is putting the case in plain English, and probing to the roots of the question.

—Whatever you dislike in another, take care to correct in yourself.

—One man in Janesville, Wisconsin, has already shipped this year 40,000 muskrat skins.

—Hereafter all American vessels entering the port of Cuba will be charged the same tonnage dues as Spanish vessels.

—The President has appointed Mr. Samuel B. Ruggles to represent the United States at the International Statistical Convention at the Hague

—The Springfield Republican tells of an extraordinary youngster who does not want to be the last angel God makes, because he "wants to see how he makes 'em."

A NEW STORY.

BY THE POPULAR NEW ENGLAND WRITER.

MRS. JANE G. AUSTIN.

—OR—

THE BOSTON NEWSBOY.

A more remarkable story, whether in point of style, artistically conceived plot, or reality of characterization, has not been offered to American readers than this thoroughly American novel, drawn from the lowest and also from the higher walks of New England life.—The struggles, the aspirations, the yearning for a better life in Carly,—her struggles with temptations, and her triumphs,—must interest every reader, while the good qualities that underlie the rough exterior and unattractive form of Carrots will make his future one that you cannot but follow. A few random selections are here given as an earnest of what this capital romance really is.]

CHAPTER I.—STARFISH ALLEY.

STARFISH ALLEY is not a place to be proud or even fond of. It is not a healthy, or a savory, or a quiet, or a convenient locality. Its centre is a sewer, and its narrow sidewalks are conduits for that sewer. The moldy bricks of its walls reek with the slime of corruption and decay, and its atmosphere is a miasma.

With all these disadvantages, however, few localities can boast such a population as swarms in Starfish Alley.

* * * * * * * *

Upon the steps of one of the most ill-conditioned houses in the alley, perched, with the air of a bird about to take to flight, a young girl not over sixteen years of age, and of a beauty striking, as in that place it was piteous to behold. Her hair, naturally wavy and of a bright chestnut color, was drawn away from a forehead than which that of Venus is no purer or more classic, and fastened in an enormous coil at the back of her graceful head.

Two steps below sat, or rather lay at full length, a boy of about ten years of age, dirty, ragged, and a little demon of ugliness, being possessed of red hair, oblique gray eyes, a wide mouth, crowded with enormous and irregular teeth, and a skin so covered with freckles that its natural complexion had become undistinguishable.

A more frightful contrast than the faces of these two is not to be imagined, and yet they were brother and sister. Their family name was Cayler, their baptismal—heaven pardon the sacrilege!—their Christian—nay, that is worse—their given names, Caroline and Charles, long since changed in Starfish parlance to Carly and Carrots. Carly did sewing for a slop-shop, Carrots was a newsboy, and at the risk of being called a romancer, we add that these avocations were not only actual, but actually provided the scanty subsistence of the brother and sister. For lodgings they inhabited a corner of a loft, accommodating also a family of Irish emigrants.

* * * * * * * *

"Oh, just see there!" exclaimed Carly, who had not heard a word either of compliment or complaint, and who was now bending forward and pointing eagerly up at the roof of the opposite house. Mike and Carrots, following her eyes, saw, but failed to comprehend, the wonderful beauty that had thrilled through the hungry heart of the young girl.

The flat scuttle of the roof had been thrown back for air, and in the aperture, like an angel rising from the grave, appeared the face and head of a child as heavenly in its beauty as Carly was mortal in hers. Not a tinge of color disturbed the transparent purity of the skin, not a movement broke the classic repose of the features. The eyes, raised adoringly to the sky, were blue and soft as that sky on the morn of a fine day; the hair, floating lightly upon the shoulders, was of a pale gold, lighted so a glory by the last rays of the setting sun. Two slender hands were clasped in mute adoration upon the breast, and so much as was to be seen of the figure was naked as man comes into and goes from the world. Carly looked as at a vision, holding her very breath in admiration.

"Wot's that! I never seed any such young un round the alley!" exclaimed Carrots at last.

"Blowed if I don't believe it's Sullivan's.—That's his room, say way," added Mike, who lodged in the house under discussion.

At this moment a dark and hairy arm, terminating in a claw-like hand, slid swiftly up the child's white body, and twined itself in the halo of golden hair. The cherubic vision suddenly disappeared, and from the window issued instead the sound of whistling blows and of inarticulate lamentation.

* * * * * * * *

CHAPTER II.—CARLY'S CRUSADE.

CARLY meantime, at once careless and unconscious of the result of her blow, sped across the street, and up the black and broken staircases of the opposite house. Arrived upon the topmost landing, she hesitated for a moment, and then, with an instinctive decision, seized the latch of one out of many doors, and lifted it. The door was fast within, and Carly's peremptory knock brought no response.—Holding the latch in one hand, the girl withdrew her lithe form a step, and bounded forward with the resistless charge of a panther. The bolt flew from the rotten casing, the door swung open, and Carly, carried forward by her own momentum, reeled into the middle of the room. It was empty, but a door at the farther end lay open, and, hardly pausing to recover her balance, Carly rushed through it. A strange and terrible sight awaited her.

CHAPTER V.—PLUM'S REPORT.

* * * * * * * *

The young woman parted with the boy at the head of the alley, and he went back. I heard 'em agree to go somewhere over the millstream, and the young woman went off that way. I followed on foot a piece, and then I stepped up and tapped her on the shoulder.—'You're wanted up to the p'lice court, young woman,' says I, 'and I've come to fetch you.' She drawed herself up quite indignant, wanting pardon, sir, and says:

'Me wanted by the p'lice? What for, I'd like to know?'

'Something about cribbing stuff from the man you work for, I b'lieve,' says I, 'but that ain'no concern of mine. What I'wogot to do is to fetch you along to them as is waiting for you.'"

"Your grammar, Plum, is becoming fearful. A little more pains, if you please," murmured Mr. Wainwright.

"Yes, sir," humbly replied Plum, allowing the stiff bristles of the shaving brush to penetrate his master's nostril. "So I put her into the 'ackney coach, and got in along with her, and we drove off. The way that little party went on, sir, was puffeckly awful—awful, I mean, sir, of course. She plead to just go back one minute, and tell her brother what was become of her. She plead to wait where she was till he came along. She cried, and she raved, and she fit——"

"Did what, Plum?" asked Mr. Wainwright with curiosity.

"Fought, sir, like a young tiger. It was all I could do to keep her from scratching my eyes out."

BABY IS DEAD.

Mute as a stoic turned to stone,
While words were flashing to his hand,
Moulded to letters one by one
From every section of the land;
Sat the worker of the semaphore.
Night after night at his tall desk,
A passer-by, I saw him there,
Intent o'er his mysterious task,—
Catching the secrets of the air.

Under the gas-light, peering in,
A wond'ring child, one eve I stood,
When all the town alive with din
Had heard great news in war-time mood,
And crowded round their messenger.
I watched the little slips that caught
The welcome import from afar;
Him shaping words all eager sought,
Each hearing with a loud hurra.

When suddenly I saw him pale,
His fingers nerveless dropt away,
From his white lips a low strange wail
Stole as a knell of misery—
"A private telegram," said they—
Upon that little shred of white
His horror-stricken eyes were set—
To me it was a dreadful sight,
And one I never can forget.

While from the swaying mass there stepped
Kind friends to hold him tenderly,
Aside our village master pored
O'er that one sentence reverently;
His glasses humid with great tears,
As he the slip interpreted,
Yet spoke not; for the sufferer said,
Whisp'ring so low few hardly heard:—
"Baby is dead — Baby is dead."

GEO. B. GRIFFITH.
Charlestown, Mass., May, 1869.

Mrs. Caudle on the Velocipede.

MR. CAUDLE ON THE DEFENSE.

"Caudle, I would like to know what makes your face look so red. You look as if you had been intoxicated for a week. I do declare this is too bad Was there ever a woman in this world so——".

Mr. C. explains—"Now my dear don't take on so. You know a new vehicle of locomotion has been introduced in town. It is called the velocipede. I rode one of these at the hall to-night before coming home, and it is hard work, especially for beginners. Been drinking! No I haven't drank anything for six months."

Mrs. C.—"There, Caudle, just look at that! Torn the best pair of pants you had in the house. Now, how did that come about?"

Mr. C.—"Well, you see I rode the velocipede this forenoon, and another machine ran into mine, and before I knew it my pants were torn."

Mrs. C.—"Ripped your coat, too, haven't you? You didn't want me to see that tear. And there's your best beaver all smashed up! Perhaps you'll say the velocipede did that! It did, did it? But Mr. Caudle, what's the matter with your hands? Why, they are all blistered up?"

Mr. C.—"Three days riding the velocipede is enough to blister anybody's hands; but it is nothing when you get used to it. Happens to all beginners."

Mrs. C.—"What is the matter now, Caudle? You limp as if you had been horribly injured?"

Mr. C.—"A slight bruise, only a slight bruise; keep me in the house only a day or two. You see Jack—and he weighs 350 pounds—accidently drove his velocipede over my foot, and yet one must endure these little things in order to become an adept in riding the velocipede."

Mrs. C—. "Now I would like to know where you've been all this blessed evening? Here it is fifteen minutes of midnight, and you just coming home to your lawfully wedded wife. No! You needn't say that you have been to the Lodge, because I know it isn't Lodge night."

Mr. C.—"No, my dear, I haven't been to the Lodge. You see, in order to become an adept—"

Mrs. C.—"Now, Caudle, I know what you were going to say. You were going to tell me that you must desert me every night for six weeks while you learn to ride a velocipede. If wives had their way they'd burn every velocipede in town. And what was the matter with you last night? I couldn't get a wink of sleep. Your legs kept going up and down all night, like pump handles. Velocipede motion, was it! Put your feet in the stirrups, and turn and throw your knees up and down, does it? Now, don't tell me its nothing when you get used to it, because that's something I won't get used to. It is bad enough to sleep with a man when he is quiet, but to have the bed clothes flopping up and down all night as regularly as the clock ticks, is a little too much, velocipede or no velocipede. If you ride the velocipede another day, Caudle, I'll leave the house."

And with this conclusion the lady ceased, finding her worthy spouse was already fast asleep.

☞ Gen. Butler looks upon war with England as a measure of national economy, as it would prevent farther importations, which just now are the most serious drain that the country has to endure; and as the war would be a naval war, it could be cheaply conducted, and the war commerce under the English flag would enable the United States to pay its war expenses from captures.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, inspirating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from all coloring matter or any foreign mixtures, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
This Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Public Clubs, or Family Groups, in chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction, or the purchaser can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced to try a physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine, the effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

The News.

The amount of gold in the Treasury on Monday was $91,000,000, exclusive of gold certificates, which amounted to $23,000,000 more.

New Orleans has a commercial convention.

The city gasometer of Cincinnati exploded on Monday from some unknown cause, and one man was killed and several others seriously injured. A large amount of property was destroyed.

Placards posted in the Scranton mines threatening death to any miner who should persist in working, have caused a general panic, and operations are again universally suspended.

The Presbyterian assemblies, old and new schools, continue their sessions in New York. The new school assembly voted, 100 to 8, to accept the basis of re-union proposed by the old school last year, and during the day delegates from the latter body were admitted to the platform.

The French elections have been most orderly. The vote is a very heavy one. More than half of the electors in Paris, cast their vote on Sunday, the first day of the election. Among the candidates for the Corps Legislatif, whose election is certain, are MM. Bancel Picard, Gambella, Simon and Pelletar. MM. Jules Favre and Garnier Pages are probably elected. MM. Ollivier and Thiers have been defeated. For the government 193 representatives, the opposition securing 90. The former number of opposition members was only 45. Great excitement prevailed on the Bourse when the facts became known.

Steamer Salvador, from Nassau, has successfully landed a party of fillibusters on the Cuban coast, with arms, ammunition and provisions. The steamer was seized on her return for violation of the foreign enlistment act.

Four boys went over the dam at Lawrence, Mass., on Tuesday, and were killed.

THE GATES AJAR.—Miss Phelps' book by this title, has jarred several of the theologics' strings in the newspapers and elsewhere, so that they seem a little out of tune. A writer in the New York Observer condemns the book: the Boston Recorder defends and recommends it. An eminent D. D. in New England condemns it as rank heresy: but the Chicago Advance offers it as a premium, and deems it a wholesome and useful book. Two new books have followed in its wake, with titles that sound like satire or burlesque, viz.: The Gates wide open, and Men, Women and Ghosts!

OFFICE.—The New York Post, referring to the Democratic talk about appointing relatives to office, cites five prominent Democratic officials in that city who have divided among their family connections twenty-three good offices. It takes the Democracy to do these things up in the true Jacksonian style, of turning out a Cabinet, and making a new one, to suit Mrs. Eaton!

NAVAL.—A general court-martial, of which Commander J. A. Greer is president, with Paymaster Goldsborough as judge-advocate, is now in session at Annapolis.

Commander Wm. C. West has been ordered to duty at the naval observatory.

The Merchant Service,—No. XII.

No great or honorable class of men is interested in "keeping the sailor down," and no prejudice of color, race or sex can prompt any one to desire it. He is generally of the Caucasian race; and the most ardent and acute advocate of injustice to and robbery and murder of the seaman, will find it difficult to make Noah's curse of his unoffending grandson an excuse for holding the mariner in bondage, unless he can manage in some hitherto undiscovered manner to carry the curse back from Canaan to Noah himself,—and even then it would not apply, for Noah was certainly a shipmaster. The sailor himself is surely not benefitted by his enslavement, nor is any political party. The men,—and the only men,—who profit by the laws for crushing this oppressed class, are those who are thereby enabled to steal their earnings,—whether dishonest and cruel officers at sea or crimps and sharks on shore does not much matter,—and it seems scarcely worth while for America to retain such accursed laws any longer for their benefit. Shipmasters and owners (not to mention Marine Insurance Companies,) would be benefitted by a moral and intellectual elevation of seamen,—but it is rank folly to expect a superior class of men to voluntarily place their necks under so heavy a yoke as the American sailor is made to bear.

That the leading shipowners of the country would be the first to demand justice for the sailor, if they could once be brought to see that it would tend to his improvement, I firmly believe.—Some years ago, I think before I went to sea, a number of the leading shippers of New York discussed the best means of ameliorating the condition of sailors, and concluded that the custom of giving advance wages (a gigantic source of evil) was at the bottom of all the mischief. So they agreed to give extra wages to men who would ship without taking any advance, pledging themselves to supply their ships with clothing to be furnished to the seamen at cost.

This plan was expected to rescue the sailor from the boarding-master and the huge host of other thieves who live by the robbery of seamen. But it failed. Valuable ships laid days,—weeks, I believe,—wanting crews; but the sharks would not let the sailors go to sea on such terms,—they wanted the advance money themselves, — and the attempt came to nought. It could not have been otherwise. Men who all their lives had been made to feel themselves but slaves,—who had been beaten and robbed at sea, and bought and sold and despised on shore, and driven by the natural operation of our laws to the sailors' boarding-houses, the low rum-holes, the "chain-lockers" and the brothels,—were expected, all at once, to think and act like free men. It was simply impossible. The well-meaning shippers, to destroy a tree, tried to lop off a branch,—but it must come up by the root. The attempted reform which they aimed to accomplish can never be carried out until our ships are manned by seamen who can see in what direction their true interest lies; and it is idle to expect that sailors, as a class, will ever be elevated, so long as the all-potent law declares they shall be debased.

I have been informed that Congress, recognizing the fact that we are dependent on foreign supplies for seamen, some few years since (while I was out of the country,) passed an act making it obligatory on shipmasters to carry on every foreign voyage a number of American boys, as apprentice to the profession of seamen. This law was expected to furnish American sailors for our merchant service, and our Navy in time of need,—but it won't. A single voyage will suffice for very many of the apprentices, (and those the most intelligent and manly ones,) and of those who remain in the service, a part will rise to command, which too often means to tyranny, and the rest will develope into good sailors and very bad men,—and of all ill-treated seamen the American is most dangerous to his oppressor. Congress may legislate never so earnestly to induce the Americans to become sailors, and then they won't go to sea,—so long as sailor and slave are synonymous terms.

It is not that the Americans have any repugnance to the sea, or that they are unfit for sailors. The masters and officers of our ships, mainly Americans, have no superiors—as seamen; and our fishermen, mostly natives born, are surpassed by none in the world for either skill or courage. There is one reason only why we have to rely so greatly upon foreign seamen to man our ships, and that is, that the Americans have an invincible objection to slavery—in the first person. PAKEHA.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A WONDERFUL PHYSICIAN—EXTRAORDINARY CURES WITHOUT MEDICINES.—Dr. Gage, the renowned Naturopathic Physician, whose wonderful cures without medicine or surgery have created such a stir throughout the principal cities of the Union, has taken parlors at the American House, Dover, N. H. from Tuesday, June 1st, until about the 20th. The unseen yet all-potent elements of nature, used by persons favorably organized and constituted, perform the most wonderful cures without the use of medicines, and so certain is the effect that many cases require but one or two operations to perform a cure. Most all forms of disease that are curable have been found to yield under this mode of treatment, and what is still more wonderful, a large number of cases that have been given up as incurable by the most renowned physicians of the different schools of medicine, have been perfectly cured by this all-potent, life-giving power in an almost incredible short space of time, and that, too, without the application of medicines or surgical operations. Dr. Gage's treatment is according to the laws of nature, removing obstructions to the nervous fluids, and restoring the circulation to the various organs of the system, thus giving the secretions a healthy action, and re-vitalizing the functions of life. This treatment is rapidly becoming popular in all parts of the country on account of the many wonderful cures performed by him. We select the following from the many cures recently performed at Concord.

ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 28, 1868.

DR. GAGE.—Dear Sir: I have enclosed a true statement of my case, and have also sent one to the New Hampshire Patriot office for publication so that my friends might see the great change made by Dr. Gage. The enclosed you can put in any paper you choose, or in your circular. Yours, &c.,
GEO. F. SLEEPER.

ANDOVER, N. H. Dec. 28, 1868.

DR. GAGE.—Dear Sir: My kindest regards and influence will ever be in favor of your prosperity. For seven months I have been troubled with inflammation of the stomach, during which time I raised blood almost every day, and none of the time was I able to eat anything more hearty than boiled wheat and milk. It now has been two weeks and a half since your treatment, and I am as well as ever. I would say to all my friends that are suffering, go and see Dr. Gage.

Respectfully yours, GEO. F. SLEEPER.

To Owners of Horses.
Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a Horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 21 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the RACING STABLES of ENGLAND for it.
The celebrated Hiram Woodruff used and recommended it to his friends, years before his death. Col. P. P. Bush, of the Jerome race course, has given me a certificate stating it to be superior to any other he had used. Hundreds of others can be seen at the Depot, 10 Park Place, N. Y. Brandreth's Pills.
TO THE PUBLIC.
Brandreth's Pills have been known and used by your grandfathers and grandmothers. They are always safe, and sure to do you good. They are purely vegetable, and diminish the death principle; some think they increase the principle of life. But in taking out bad humors from the blood, they do make the body lighter, and thus seem to add energy. Many families have used them for upwards of forty years.
They are the best medicine for Colds, for all Bilious Affections, for Fullness about the Head or Heart, and in all Cutaneous and Contagious Diseases they are unrivaled. In all cases in which a purgative is indicated, no medicine yet known can be compared to them. Two hundred physicians have testified that Brandreth's Pills are superior to all other purgatives whatever. Sold by all Druggists. my21

The Vital Statistics of the United States
Show that periodical fevers and acute and chronic disorders of the stomach and bowels are among the most prominent and fatal diseases in this country. Disobedience to the laws of health, as regards diet; the use of pernicious stimulants; and the wear and tear of business excitement, and of "fast life" generally, have much to do with the prevalence of these maladies in our cities; while in the West, and especially in the newly opened districts, they are chiefly due to malaria, unwholesome water, and the exposure and privation incident to life in new settlements.
NOW, IT IS A FACT that it is as possible to protect the human system against these maladies, as to guard life and property against the incursions of assassins and thieves. Strengthen the vital organization with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and it becomes as capable of resisting the active principle of epidemic or endemic disease, as a fire-proof safe is of resisting the action of combustibles. This is the experience of thousands who have remained unscathed by malarious disorders in the sickliest seasons, while their neighbors, who neglected to tone and regulate their systems with this unequaled medicinal stimulant, have fallen thick and fast around them. Weakness invites disease. Vigor repels it. Help nature to fight the good fight with infection, whether it be in the air, the water, or the soil, with this matchless preparation,—a compound of the rarest vegetable extracts with the purest of all diffusive stimulants.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—INCIPIENT DROPSY.—To ascertain whether a swelling is dropsical in its nature, press it with the finger, and if a dent remains after the finger is withdrawn, water is assuredly gathering there. In that case, stimulate the external absorbents by a vigorous application of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, and reduce the secretions by an extensive drain, and restore the cellular tissue to a healthy state. The PILLS should also be taken occasionally, to carry off the superfluous humors through the natural drain of the system. Sold by all Druggists.

Dr. Ham's Aromatic Invigorator
removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to debilitated mucous surfaces. Bitter matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.
This elegant preparation has stood the test of years, and is now generally adopted as a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before rathing will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. All the proprietor asks is a trial, and to induce this he has put up the Invigorator in plat bottles at 50 cents,—quarts $1.00. Principal Depot, 45 CENTRAL WHARF, BOSTON. AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.
To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a free cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.
To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.
Liver Complaints are one of the most prominent causes of Consumption.
Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and to turn into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.
The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing lock up in the whole digestive apparatus, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.
Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Cancer, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.
If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased; either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and full of decay; which can only be cured, must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and bowels have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.
When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.
Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.
Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed, or he can be consulted at 32 Hanover Street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. His price is Five Dollars for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

STICKNEY'S
CIRCUS
IS COMING.

SAMUEL STICKNEY, Proprietor.
THOMAS THYON, Treasurer.
S. P. STICKNEY, Sr., Equestrian Manager.
W. J. METCHEAR, Gen'l Agt.
FRANK EDWARDS, Director of Publications.

☞ Organized for the year 1869, in keeping throughout with the spirit of the times and age of progression.

New Canvas!
New Costumes!
New Properties!

WILL EXHIBIT AT PORTSMOUTH
ON FRIDAY, MAY 28TH, 1869.

Opposition Invited!
Competition Defied!

Despising the new fangled humbuggery of the age, the Manager does not announce a combination of Ten, Nine, Six or Four exhibitions in one, nor impose upon the public any hybrid Circus and Menagerie, which are invariably found to contain but a weak apology for either, nor does he deem it expedient to resort to a dazzling street parade—he simply proposes to exhibit a full developed and intelligible Circus performance, but superior to any presented by the nondescript traveling exhibitions now in vogue, who simply "keep the promise to the ear and break it gently to the hope.

MR. STICKNEY having banished the antique style and reached perfection in this immense organization, will offer no stale and exhausted acts, but new features and fresh attractions never before introduced to the public, and will surprise and delight the eye. The magnificent scenery in the arena will be enriched and beautified by gorgeous paraphernalia and superb music, and will be rendered with faultless grace and marvelous splendor.

☞ On the morning of the Exhibition, a Beautiful Band Wagon, drawn by six horses, and containing Prof. Saxton's Opera Band, from Clique de Napoleon, Paris, composed of musicians of the highest order of excellence, will parade through the different Streets.

☞ For further particulars, see Mammoth Pictorials, Illustrated Descriptive Sheets and Programmes, Display Bills, Lithographs, Posters, Circulars, Illuminated Advertisements, &c., &c.

Admission 50 Cents.
Children under 10 years, 25 Cents.

Portsmouth a Railroad Centre.

By Prof. Holton, South Malden, Mass.

I love old Portsmouth with a chronic, absurd partiality. For, though I never spent but one night there (in 1847), there I first saw pavements, ships, sturgeon, sea-stars and sea-urchins. I never take the B. & M. R. R. or send any one else on it when the Eastern will answer as well. I never look at the gap between Portsmouth and Dover without groaning over it. Now, I wish to say a word to your next Legislature.

It never ought to adjourn without making Portsmouth a mart for heavy and bulky articles for a large section of country. It is nearer to Manchester than Boston is by fifteen miles. All the network of railroads above there can get its coal cheapest from Portsmouth, with proper wharfage. Railroads diverging from Rochester should tap the new Portland road in two places, if it runs north of them. If that road strikes Rochester, four currents of trade with Portsmouth should there unite. The Montreal should be tapped at the Weirs. All Northern Vermont and New Hampshire should seek their salt, sugar, coal, iron and cotton at your wharves. Fairbank's scales should be shipped from Portsmouth.

You ought to have an ice-house of two acres, with a seaward door that would take in the stern of a large ship. 'Saukie ice would prove quite palatable, with an abbreviated name. The 'hard inhabitant' of the shores of that lake does not suspect how repulsive its full name is, nor how many travelers it keeps from seeing the "Smile of the Great Spirit." Now you have got your c into Wolfeborough, see if you can not contrive to clip three or more syllables from the lake. Naturalists and breeders say that a form that has taken on one improvement submits to another change more readily.—Winnipiscogee has shown a capacity for improvement.

I should like to see Portsmouth again. I would like to see your Pakeha; but, speaking of him reminds me of that splendid map of Queensland in the atlas of Chambers' Encyclopedia. You had it Greenland. Did none of your readers wonder that a map of Greenland should be "full of towns?"

Does Uncle Toby believe that mechanics ought to be paid as much for 8 hours' work in the Navy Yard as for 10 out of it? Did he ever work 8 hours only? Did his wife? Can any man prosper or any land on 8 hours' labor?

[No, we doubt if Uncle T. does believe that Navy workmen should be thus favored; but why not they, as well as Navy Officers, receive more pay than common people, for the same amount of talent, exertion or services. That is, why not have an aristocracy of labor, as well as one of idleness, under government patronage and protection? As to the question itself, we think eight hours is enough for a day's work, and wish everybody had to labor that amount,—then half the world need not work all the time, as now.—Eds. Chronicle.]

Keep Your Doors Locked!—Mr. David Marshall, living on Jewell's Court at the West End, was awakened by the entrance of a man into his bed chamber, Monday night. The front door of the house had been left unlocked and the stranger walked in, first removing his shoes. The noise on the stairs roused Mr. Marshall, who, when the intruder had entered his room, accosted him but received no answer, the stranger closing the door and going down stairs. Mr. Marshall dressed himself quickly, followed and overtook him near the residence of Mr. True Ball, but could not recognize him or get any satisfactory answers to his inquiries, and, being alone, could not hinder the man's escape.

Stickney's Railroad Circus from New York.—What the Providence Journal says:

Stickney's Circus has exhibited in our city the past two days and nights, and we are credibly informed that their receipts for the four performances reached the handsome sum of $4000—which they richly deserve. Success attend them, wherever they go.

They appear in Portsmouth on Friday next, May 28th.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ Mr. Tucker, from the Canton Theological School, is to preach at the Universalist church on Sunday next at the usual hours. Sunday School at close of morning service.

☞ Meeting of Mercantile Library Association this evening.

A Railroad Excursion, the best part of which was a steamboat ride on Lake 'Saukie, (for new name, see Prof. Holton's letter,) was made from this city and Dover, to Alton Bay and Wolfeborough, on Tuesday.

A party of about twenty citizens of Portsmouth, including Mayor Jones, ex-Mayors Walker and Simes, Hon. E. A. Stevens, A. L. Jones, C. Robinson, Esq., Messrs. J. C. Butler, Frink of Greenland, and numerous others, went up over the Concord and B. & M. Roads to Dover.

The party was arranged by Mr. J. C. Butler, Secretary of the Portsmouth Board of Trade, and Mr. Purington of the Dover Board. At Dover we were met by a delegation something larger, including Mayor Brewster, ex-Mayor Hall, Judge Woodman, Col. Pierce, O. Wyatt, Messrs. Purington, Wadleigh, &c.; and Messrs. McDuffie and Sanborn of Rochester—and various representatives of the press.

Up over the Dover & 'Saukie Road to the beautiful Lake; then on board the fine steamer Chocborua, to Wolfeborough; a bountiful and sumptuous dinner served on board — beginning with nice salmon and closing with pine apples and other rich fruits,—then back again by same route home.

The meeting was called to aid the building of the Lake Shore Railroad,—from Alton Bay to the Wiers, which the Dover people desire, and which they argue would benefit Portsmouth still more than themselves. But Portsmouth demands the P. & D. Road first.

The meeting was called to order, and organized by the choice of Hon. Frank Jones of Portsmouth as President, with a complement of Vices and Secretaries.

Mr. John McDuffie of Rochester, urged the prior and stronger claims of the Lake Road, even on Portsmouth effort and capital, over the D. & P. And this was the theme o f the Dover people all the day long—but the Portsmouth people don't seem to see it so.

Mr. Purington stated that, by building the two short links in the great chain of Road proposed, (between Dover and Portsmouth, and Alton Bay and the Wiers,) the distance between Montreal and tide-water at Portsmouth, would be 100 miles shorter than by the Grand Trunk, Concord & Montreal, or any other route between Montreal and Boston.

Remarks were made also by Messrs. Wyatt, Woodman, Frink, A. L. Jones, Walker, J. G. Hall, J. C. Butler, T. S. Nowell, J. P. Bartlett, Dr. Stackpole, Stevens, Nute of Farmington, Foss of Dover, and Sanborn of Rochester.

On motion, a Committee of nine was appointed to further the procuring a charter from the Legislature for the Lake Shore Road,—consisting of Wm. Simes and Jerome C. Butler of Portsmouth, J. G. Hall and G. H. Peirce of Dover, J. McDuffie and E. G. Wallace of Rochester, Alonzo Nute of Farmington, J. B. Mooney of Alton, and Hanson Bedee of Meredith.

The general tone of the remarks of Dover speakers, was in favor of the Lake Shore Road, — and that Portsmouth people were asleep and slow in this matter and generally. But Portsmouth people insist that the P. & D. Road is our interest,—and reminded the Dover censors that Portsmouth was not dead, but perhaps was asleep, when she spent and sunk her capital in hundreds of thousands in building up the factories in Dover, Berwick, Great Falls, &c., by which all toe towns at the head of the river now flourish.

The design is to procure a charter from the Legislature for the Lake Road, —and resulted in a very pleasant excursion, though the weather was very warm, and the mist or smoke hung over the lovely scene like that of the September days. A single patch of snow yet remained in view on one of the hillsides. The Wolfeborough Band enlivened the boat trip with good music.

City Council, Special Meeting. Tuesday evening, May 25.—In the Board of Aldermen, the Com. on Streets reported that they had ordered Mr. Broderick to remove his new steps from the sidewalk on Gates St., but that he claimed the land on which they stood. Also reported that the steps of a new house opposite Mr. Broderick's, were also on the Street. The Com. were authorized to examine into both cases, and given power to act. They also reported that Mr. Benson had encroached on Water St.; and similar action was taken.

Petition of T. S. Harvey and others, for repairs of Deer street, between Vaughan and Market, was referred to Com. on Streets.

The usual resolutions for abatement on paid taxes, and interest on those taxes unpaid after a certain date, were passed.

Storer Encampment, G. A. R., thro' their commander, requested the Mayor to issue his Proclamation inviting a general suspension of business and closing of Schools, on Memorial Day.—Referred to the Mayor, with power to act.

Com. on Burying Grounds reported the gravestones in Cotton's Ground replaced, at expense of $70, and the City Clerk was directed to request Mr. J. F. Adams to pay one half that amount.

The Com. on Streets, with the Mayor added, were empowered to adjust the Myrtle street extension matter with Mr. Hanscom.

The Fleet St. widening was discussed, but no further action taken.

The Common Council reported a new Appropriation Bill, amounting to $141,163.64,—being $15,000 (a reduction of $5000,) for City Debt, $2500 for Watch, and $100 for salutes and music on the 4th of July, and the item of Franklin School left off. The Aldermen passed the bill instantly.

Both Boards voted to appear in the procession on Memorial Day.

Adjourned to Thursday Evening week.

Morning Chronicle.

I Would Not Be.

I would not be a millionaire,
For all his hoarded gold;
I'd rather be a working man,
Earth's treasures to unfold.

I would not be a miser vile,
With withered heart and hand;
I'd rather be the poorest wretch
Which crawls along the land.

I would not be an idler gay;
And live on others' gains;
I'd rather be the meanest slave
That delves on yonder plains.

I would not be a pompous man,
And dwell in costly show;
I'd rather be the meekest man,
Nor worldly grandeur know.

I would not be a bachelor,
Without a loving wife;
I'd rather I had not been born
Into this world of strife.

I would not dwell in fashion's courts,
And worship rich array;
I'd rather watch the opening flowers,
To them my homage pay.

I would not be a butterfly,
For worlds of solid gold;
I'd rather learn to dwell on high,
In brighter worlds unfold.

THE HISTORY OF A CONSUL.—Among the names sent in to the Senate by General Grant for consulates was that of Bernard P. Chenoweth, for Canton, China. A gentleman from Kansas, Mr. Wilder, was telling some pleasing and remarkable facts about Mr.—or rather, Colonel—Chenoweth, lately, which are reproduced to show the romance of a small appointment:—

Two years before the war broke out, Webb Wilder—a dauntless, truthful, high-blooded young man from Massachusetts, but westernized in Wisconsin—crossed the Missouri River from the Kansas side, and established in St. Joseph a weekly anti-slavery newspaper called the Free Democrat. He had been publishing this paper but a short time, in the midst of abuse and danger, day by day, when young Chenoweth, a Virginian, appeared and said:—

"I believe in the principles you advocate, Mr. Wilder, and I want to be a newspaper man to help them on. I would like to buy an interest in your paper."

Said Webb Wilder, always speaking from the shoulder:—"We two proprietors are working at the case, practical printers. We make all our own labor to set up the paper, without regard to the daily terror of our lives. I would not advise you to risk your money here."

Young Chenoweth replied:—"If you will let me put up my money, I will go to the case and learn to set type with the rest of you."

He gave his fifteen hundred or two thousand dollars and went to the case. Those three made the paper jump. It used all real or specious arguments to set the border aflame, and the personal gallantry of every man gave their utterances character. Even Jeff. Thompson, the mayor, respected those young men, and, as far as he could, covered them with his ægis.

One winter afternoon, a secret friend stole to the office and told those three that an indictment had been issued that day against them all. To publish a newspaper against slavery was contrary to the laws of Missouri, and punishable with long imprisonment. Chenoweth and Tracy were southerners, Wilder was a Yankee.

"Clear out at once," they said to the latter; "cross the river immediately and strike free soil."

Wilder hastened to the river, which ran by full of ice, and made his perilous passage in a little skiff. Chenoweth and Tracy followed the same day. Their office was seized behind them and they lost every penny they possessed in the world. Within six weeks Wilder established the Conservative in Leavenworth. Chenoweth entered the northern army at the firing of the first gun. He was on the staffs of Grant and Sherman, was a personal protege and favorite with both, and at the end of the war found himself broken in health though still quite a young man. One of his old partners heard of a school superintendency open in Worcester, Massachusetts. Chenoweth applied to General Grant for a letter of recommendation to the same. It was freely, generously, excellently written, and it got him the place. He remained there till about a year ago, when he found his health failing. A milder climate was necessary. He returned to Richmond, Virginia, and "first family" of that Old Dominion as he was, kept himself and family afloat by serving milk to the people of the city. In this his wife bravely assisted him.

It is a life eventful as this, inspired by conviction and sustained by a personal courage which we in the North will find it hard to find parallel for, which has sent Mr. Chenoweth to China with a salary of $4000 a year, as agent for the government which he has illustrated so spiritedly. If all our Consuls had rendered like services, we might say:—

"About Ben Adhem, may his tribe increase!"

—The people of Rutland, Vt., who have been scantily supplied with water for many years, have just made the discovery that an obstruction in a joint in the main supply pipe reduced the calibre from three inches to one and a half inches diameter. The obstruction consisted of lead, which was run into a joint when the pipe was laid, fifteen years ago. It cost them $8000 to make the discovery, besides the loss of many buildings by fire which would have been saved but for the lack of water.

GOOD FOR BARRINGTON.—Hon. Geo. K. Hall has been chosen Mayor of Macomb, Illinois. He is a native of Barrington, in this state, and has been away from home about ten years. We are glad to see New Hampshire men honored abroad.

New Hampshire Items.

The first buckskin gloves ever made in New England were the work of McQuestion & Robbins, of Plymouth, now Ward, McQuestion & Hull, in 1818. Besides these gentlemen, who are the principal manufacturers of gloves in Plymouth, there are six other firms there, which make about 214,000 pairs a year.

The factory of J. B. Folsom, of Dover, turns out 2,400 yards of floor oil cloth a week.

The Union Powder Works, of New Durham, turn out daily 1 1-2 tons of coarse and fine "Excelsior," and 2,000 gallons prylogneous acid, 500 gallons liquid acetate of lime and 500 bushels of charcoal per week. The "Excelsior" and charcoal are shipped to Boston, and the acid and acetate of lime are taken by the Cocheco Print Works, of Dover. The powder works consume about 1,500 cords of wood per year.

J. E. Goodwin & Co., of Dover, shoe manufacturers, make about 4000 pairs per week, and will soon increase the quantity, augmenting their working force from 50 to 80 hands.

J. S. & S. A. Brown, of Exeter, make 17,000 sets of carriage hubs per year.

Wiggin & Stevens, of Dover, manufacture 200,000 pounds of glue and 25,000 reams of sand paper per year, besides a large quantity of flint and emery.

The Chapel of the Asylum for the Insane, at Concord, was dedicated on Sunday afternoon. Sermon by Rev. Dr. Boynton. Music by Morey, Davis, and others. The walls are hung with portraits of benefactors of the institution as follows: Sarah, Countess of Rumford; Gen. C. H. Peaslee, one of the founders of the institution and a Trustee to the day of his death; Rev. Dr. Burroughs of Portsmouth, a member of the Board of Trustees for thirteen years and its President for twelve; Abial Chandler, founder of the Scientific Department at Dartmouth College; Moody Kent, Esq., the largest benefactor of all, and Isaac Spaulding of Nashua, the present President of the Board of Trustees. The portrait of Dr. Burroughs was presented by his wife.

Building is brisk in Claremont. Many shade trees are being set out.

PROPOSALS!

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF YARDS AND DOCKS,
14th May, 1869.

Sealed Proposals for each class, separately indorsed, "Proposals for Class No. (name the class.) for the Navy Yard at (name the yard.)" will be received at this Office until the 12th of June next, at 3 o'clock P. M., and the Opening of the Bids will be commenced at 10 o'clock A. M., on the following Monday, (June 14th,) for furnishing and delivering at the several Navy Yards named, the Materials and Articles embraced in Printed Schedules, which, with the form of offer and guarantee, will be furnished on application, and sent by mail, if preferred, to persons desiring to bid for any contract for any or all of the classes named therein, or the commodities of the several Navy Yards, for the Classes for the Yards under their command, or by the Paymaster nearest thereto, or by the Bureau for any or all of the Yards.

To prevent disappointment, it is stated that the offers, as bid, will be received which contain classes for more than one yard in one envelope; or any bid which may be deemed irregular in form according to the forms of offer and guaranty, and each individual of a firm must sign the bid and contract.

Bidders are referred to the printed instructions, which will be furnished with the schedules, and they are hereby cautioned and particularly notified that their offers should be made on the printed forms furnished by the Bureau, and should be in time to reach their destination before the time expires for receiving them; as bid will be considered when the time expires, and not before or after, and no allowance will be made for failures of the mail. All offers must be accompanied by the bidder's business, or post office address, and the bidder must state distinctly at what Paymaster's office he desires all his bills to be paid.

To prevent confusion in opening bids before the time appointed, bidders are requested to use the printed envelopes, furnished by the Bureau, endorsed as aforesaid, viz: "Proposals for Class (name the classes) for the Navy Yard at (name the yard)" "To the Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, Navy Department, Washington, D. C."

The certificate to the guarantor's responsibility must be certified to by the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The schedule will state the time within which articles are required to be delivered. If any articles are named in the schedules which are not known to be in common and general use, the bidder can generally ascertain whether such articles can be procured or not, and if they cannot be obtained, the fact must be reported to the Bureau at once, that it may be corrected.

The varieties must sign the contract, and their responsibility be certified to by the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

NEW GRASS.

BY JOHN J. PIATT.

Along the sultry city street
Faint subtle breathe of fragrance meet
Me, wandering unaware
(In April warmth, while yet the sun
For Spring no constant place has won)
By many a vacant square.

Whoever reads these lines has felt
That breath whose long-lost perfumes melt
The spirit—newly found,
While the sweet, banished families
Of earth forgotten sympathies
Rise from the sweating ground.

It is the subtle breath of grass;
And as I pause, or lingering pass,
With half-shut eyes, behold!
Bright from the baptism of dew
Fresh meadows burst upon my view,
And new becomes the old!

Old longings (Pleasure kissing Pain)
Old visions visit me again—
Life's quiet deeps are stirred;
The fountain-heads of memory flow
Through channels dry so long ago,
With music long unheard.

I think of pastures evermore
Greener than any hour before,
Where cattle wander slow,
Large-uddered in the sun, or chew
The cud content in shadows new,
Or, shadows, homeward low.

I dream of prairies dear to me;
Afar in town I seem to see
Their widening miles arise,
Where, like the butterfly anear,
Far off in sunny mist the deer,
That seems no larger, flies.

Thy rural lanes, Ohio, come
Back to me, grateful with the hum
Of everything that stirs;
Dear places, saddened by the years,
Lost to my sight, send sudden tears,
Their secret messengers.

I think of paths—a-swarm with wings
Of bird and bee—all lovely things
From sun or sunny clod;
Of play-grounds where the children play,
And fear not time will come to-day,
And feel the warming sod.

New grass: it grows by cottage doors,
In orchards hushed with bloom, by shores
Of streams that flow as green,
On hill-slopes white with tents or sheep,
And where the sacred mosses keep
The holy dead unseen.

It grows o'er distant graves, I know—
Sweet grass above them greener grow,
And guard them tenderly!
My brother's, not three summers green,
My sister's—new-made, only seen
Through far-off tears by me.

It grows on battle-fields, alas!
Old battle-fields are lost in grass;
New battles wait the new:
Hark, is it living warm I hear?
The cannon far or bee anear?
The bee and cannon too!

GROWING CELERY.—Put down two lines eighteen inches apart; and dig a trench about twenty inches deep, running north and south. Then put in a good layer of rotten barnyard manure, with a layer of fine soil; fork it over well; add more manure and more soil; mixed well together, till within about eight inches of the top. Trim off the top of plants with a sharp knife. Plant with a stick about ten or twelve inches apart. Cover over the trench with boards to keep off the sun till the plants have begun to grow and hold up their heads. In about nine days hold up each plant with one hand gently, and with a little stick scrape along on each side of the plants and put a very little soil to them; this do about every other day till the plants are up above the trench. Go on in same way till it requires banking up with the spade.—While in the trench give the plats plenty of water. If treated in this manner a good long stick of white celery will be the result.—N. E. Farmer.

DO CATTLE LOSE THEIR CUDS?—I think they do not, but I know of a number of persons who, as soon as an ox or a cow is taken sick from any cause, (and of course the animals do not chew their cud while sick) make them a cud; some using codfish skin and sweet elder bark and yeast, another preparing a wad of hay in some mysterious way, another giving a piece of salt pork. Of course none of these things will hurt the animal. The question is, where do they get the first cud? It is certainly not made by the hand of man, and put into the calf's mouth; on the contrary, the little calf at three or four weeks old is seen chewing his cud.

In my opinion, when animals are taken sick, no matter what causes the sickness, they stop chewing their cud from the same reason that a person loses his appetite, but as soon as they are restored to health by letting nature have its course, or by assisting nature with some mild medicine, they get well, and their appetite returns and they will raise and chew their cud as before.—Cor. Western Rural.

TO RELIEVE CHOKED CATTLE.—Having lost a heifer by choking with a turnip, and having had one choked since for which I found relief, I send you my remedy for publication; Get eight feet of telegraph wire, double in the middle and twist it together so as to leave a loop in it. Take the creature by the horns and run the loop end of the wire down its throat and pull it out, and the turnip will be pushed down or pulled up in its mouth and give instant relief. —Country Gentleman.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1863, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from full sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel Keepers, Boarding Houses, or Families, in chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. It had wonderful effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my trouble. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1869.

SCRIPTURE HISTORY REWITCHED.—Preachers, Writers, Orators, and even Editors, make some droll History, which they fancy was derived from the Bible, but really from their own ignorance or carelessness. One of our exchanges has this item:—

One of the speakers at the Democratic City Convention in Providence Monday night, in urging a Democratic nomination for Mayor, so that all true Democrats could vote without the fear of money before their eyes, said: "A few good men saved Sodom, so may a few true men yet save the old Democratic ship, if firm and true in the cause." The impression heretofore has been that Lot was obliged to leave the place because not enough righteous men could be found in it to save it.

We have lately observed a worse case than this. A Professor Orcutt, who writes from Tilden Ladies' Seminary, in dealing with an opponent who had criticised him, says:—

But good men suffer; you say,—"Job endured horrible suffering,"—but Job was a great sinner. He like every other good man, was a transgressor, and through chastisement was educated for a better life.

We do not know of what Mr. Orcutt is a Professor; perhaps it may be of Profane History,—for he decides without hesitation that Job was a great sinner; although the Sacred History, on the very highest authority therein, asserts the contrary! In the wonderful dialogue between Jehovah and Satan, "the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God and escheweth evil." And in the second dialogue between the same, after repeating the above words, the Lord adds:—"and still he holdeth fast his integrity, although thou movest me against him, to destroy him without cause!"

Job's friends, to be sure, accused him of being a great sinner, as Mr. Orcutt does, but the drama, in its winding up, describes Jehovah as being angry with them for their falsehoods, and as sending them to Job, to offer for themselves a burnt offering, saying "my servant Job shall pray for you; for him will I accept; lest I deal with your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me right, like my servant Job."

There is a plenty of evidence in the book, that Job was a great Saint; but none that he was a great sinner. So if Mr. Orcutt knows that he was such a sinner, it must be that he has access to some profane record of which we have never heard. But as the matter stands, says Uncle Toby, Mr. Orcutt's libel on Job ought to react on himself and convict him of quackery in biblical literature.

CUBA.—Captain-General Dulce has issued a decree, ordering the military in eight specified jurisdictions to seize all horses, to prevent their falling into the hands of the rebels. The owners are to be paid for their animals, which are to be used in government service. The Spanish troops surprised a landing party in the Bay of Nipe, attacking and taking their position, together with seven guns and a flag. The filibusters rallied, recaptured their position and guns, but lost their flag. They fired upon the Spanish steamer Marsella, putting two shots through her hull. The excitement at Nuevitas was intense.

☞ General Sickles has notified the State Department of his acceptance of the office of Minister to Spain, and that he will sail in about a fortnight, so as to present his credentials by the first of July, at which time the resignation of Mr. Hale takes effect.

☞ Three cheese factories, at Milton Vermont, now receive daily the milk of 1500 cows.

—Senator Anthony condensed a great deal into a single sentence when he said in, a recent speech: "There is no part of the country where a day's labor that any man, with stout arms and a willing heart, however little he may be skilled, may perform, cannot earn the price of an acre of good land, at the goverment sales." Our cities should not be choked with poor people, while such a fact beckons them to an independent home and a sure subsistence.

—Old York claims the most ancient judicial records in this country, having an unbroken file from 1632 to the present time.

—Portland has decided to establish drinking fountains, on the introduction of Sebago water into that city.

—The first prize at the Versailles races of the Paris Velocipede Club was won by an American.

—More than a million volumes of Victor Hugo's works have been sold in the last thirty years.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

Temperance and Literature.

BY REV. I. F. HOLDEN, SO. MALDEN, MASS.

Dear "Oldest!"—I am so much pleased with the "fix" that rum finds itself in, just now, in Massachusetts, that I step in from my garden with hands sore,—bones, also,—to drop you a line. Besides, I have a few of the last books to commend and censure.—Generally rum has availed itself of shrewdness, perhaps with a little voluntary stupidity of men who like the votes of prohibitionists better than they do prohibition itself. Many a law has been built with a convenient loop-hole. In one case, year before last, a very little slip let off convicts whose aggregate fines might have run the whole State government a considerable time. The present Legislature has too much good material in it for that. It is truly desirous of a good prohibitory law. Restoring the old appeal-tried law (for this one year,) would have been best, but perhaps the cider clause really did need amendment. It was a work of time to make the law, and bad licenses for a new year been issued on the first of May they might have operated as "contracts" for an entire year.—So a law was passed that no license should be issued to run beyond that date. But the new law is not made nor the old one repealed. We thus have a law which forbids selling without license, amended by another which forbids the issue of licenses. Not a gill of alcoholic liquors can be sold for medicinal, pharmaceutical, mechanical or sacramental purposes.

By the way, I wish there could never be a particle of communion wine sold again. True, our tastes are educated up to a standard that would probably reject with scorn the specimen which our Savior used, particularly at the time when the sacrament was instituted, when nothing fermented was tolerated in any house. But if intoxicating wine is demanded for the sacrament, let it be made by some officer of the church from raisins. And every apothecary ought to be obliged to make his own wine,—also the physician who dispenses his own medicines. There is more chance of buying ten specimens of unwatered milk in succession, than one of unadulterated wine. And it is an even chance if the adulteration contain a single drop of wine. (N. B. Currant wine is never to be used as wine in medicine, or for the sacrament.)

THE BLACK VALLEY RAILROAD gets a touch now and then by Mr. Hauks to make its ugliness more beautiful. Its last form is really artistic. The scowling Valley, over which demons hover, contrasts well with the fair sunlit champaign from which the trains start for that dismal gulf, sweeping past the spectator at drunkard's curve. I do not like to see tragedies hung on the wall for pictures; I make an exception in favor of this because I think the impression is so salutary. We are apt to forget the misery from which our families are so happily exempt. The hatred which I swore at nine, like Hannibal, to alcohol, is transmitted by this picture to my children at a still earlier age.

JENNY'S GERANIUM. — Speaking of temperance I am reminded of this little English book by Henry Hoyt. Jenny is the child of a desperate sot. She is civilized by a geraneum given her, the one thing beautiful in her loathsome home. The tale depicts the worst phases of London drunkenness, and its attendant misery. The flower-shows, described in it, are of untold benefit to the city poor.

GRAY'S SCHOOL AND FIELD BOOK OF BOTANY, Ivison & Phinney, completes, I think, what man is to do in my lifetime to furnish the students of our country with text-books for botany. It contains the whole of the Lessons, one of the best books ever published, (236 pp) with Field, Forest and Garden Botany, (386 pp.) The Manual, (used hitherto,) contains nothing but wild-flowers. In large villages a bushel of apple-blossoms can more easily be gathered than a class-suply of almost any wild-flower. Some families of plants were not represented in it, those for instance which contain the Camelia and Tea, the Ailanthus, the Ice-plant, &c., while it contains hundreds of flowers that, in my thirty-five years' hunt, I have never found. These make a volume of 749 pages, of wild plants only, —almost twice the corresponding part of the new book, which is of double the value to the student. For common schools and younger academy classes, How Plants Grow (Gray,) is perfection.

BASE BALL.—The champion Mutuals beat the Tri Mountains at Riverside Park on Monday, 69 to 17. On Tuesday the Mutuals beat the Harvards, 43 to 11.

☞ Governor Palmer of Illinois, driving out lately, received a kick in the gubernatorial knee, from the foot of his horse inserted through the dasher.

For the Chronicle.

We have a Work to Do.

BY J. G. H.

We have a work to do,
None should e'er falter;
Here let us consecrate
All on life's altar.

Duty e'er beckons on,
Heed its attraction;
Earth is a mission field,
Heaven calls to action.

There's work for hearts and hands,
Ever appearing;
Time is fast passing by,
Eternity's nearing.

Will we then idle stand,
Humanity pleading!
Can we refuse to hear,
Duty not heeding!

Oh! let our watchword be
Onward, e'er onward;
Fulfill life's highest aim,
E'er pressing forward.

Then shall those lives be crowned,
When earth mission's ended;
Peace shall possess our souls.
With blessings extended.

Laurels shall wreath our brows,
Glory the blest reward;
We shall forever reign,
With our Savior—God.

New Hampshire Items.

Londonderry was settled in 1719, under the name of Nutfield. This year the town will celebrate the third semi-centennial of its settlement. Hon, Charles H. Bell of Exeter will deliver the oration.

The twenty-eighth annual meeting of the Concord, Railroad Company was held at Concord Tuesday. The report of the directors was accepted and the old board was reelected.

—A Buffalo paper speaks of "Fiskville, formerly New York city."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

DR. GAGE AND HIS WONDERFUL CURES. It will been seen elsewhere that Dr. Gage, who has been working such remarkable cures in the principal cities and villages of New York, Massachusetts and New Hampshire, has taken Parlors at the American House, Dover, N. H., from Tuesday June 1st, until about the 20th. The Doctor has for the past month been practising in Nashua, N. H., where he has, as usual, met with unbounded success, as is shown by many cures published, a few of which we subjoin: Mrs. Geo. McIntosh, at George J. Little's, No, 12 Cedar St., Nashua, severe case of scrofula, tongue and mouth one mass of corruption; cured of the same, together with other difficulties in a short time. Frank J. Wilson, 39 Temple street cured of severe bronchitis. Mrs. P. R. Jameson, 81 Chestnut street, perfectly cured of what physicians pronounced "cancer in the stomach and spinal difficulties." Mrs. H. Hamlet, Nashua, paralysis greatly relieved. William Elliot, Pepperell, asthma, obliged to sit up nights; since treatment feels free from the difficulty and can lay down and sleep as well as any person. Mrs. E. Spaulding, No, 9, Church street, complication of diseases and deafness; had net heard a sermon before in several years. Mrs. Elijah Putnam, Wilton, general wakefulness, &c. Frederick Mansfield, Mason Village, deafness. L. Cutler, Milford, N. H., liver and stomach derangements. Mrs. John Cummings, Nashua, complication of diseases. Mrs. A. Lovejoy, South Merrimack, deafness, general debility, &c. Otis Pratt, Ashburnham, relieved of severe sciatic rheumatism. Mrs. Henry G. Buzzell, Nashua, asthma; has not been troubled since treatment. Wm. Craton, Mason, heart difficulty. Mrs. Jos. Wilson, 39 Temple street, debility &c. Such things are indeed wonderful, when we take into consideration the fact that nearly all the Doctor's cures are performed without medicine or surgery, and upon a class of patients who have been treated by many skillful physicians. The Dr. frankly tells the patient whether he can cure the case curable, and daily rejects many he considers incurable. He charges nothing for consultation, and his terms for treatment are reasonable.

The Vital Statistics of the United States

Show that periodical fevers and acute and chronic disorders of the stomach and bowels are among the most prominent and fatal diseases in this country. Disobedience to the laws of health, as regards diet; the use of pernicious stimulants; and the wear and tear of business excitement, and of "fast life" generally, have much to do with the prevalence of these maladies in our cities; while in the West, and especially in the newly opened districts, they are chiefly due to malaria, unwholesome water, and the exposure and privation incident to life in new settlements.

NOW, IT IS A FACT that it is as possible to protect the human system against these maladies, as to guard life and property against the incursions of assassins and thieves. Strengthen the vital organization with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and it becomes as capable of resisting the active principle of epidemic or endemic disease, as a fire-proof safe is of resisting the action of combustion. This is the experience of thousands who have remained unscathed by malarious disorders in the sickliest seasons, while their neighbors, who neglected to tone and regulate their systems with this unequaled medicinal stimulant, have fallen thick and fast around them. Weakness invites disease. Vigor repels it. Help nature to fight the good fight with infection, whether it be in the air, the water, or the soil, with this matchless preparation,—a compound of the rarest vegetable extracts with the purest of all diffusive stimulants.

Brandreth's Pills.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Brandreth's Pills have been known and used by your grandfathers and grandmothers. They are always safe, and sure to do you good. They are purely vegetable, and diminish the death principle; some think they increase the principle of life. But in taking out bad humors from the blood, they do make the body lighter, and thus seem to add energy. Many families have used them for upwards of forty years.

They are the best medicine for Colds, for all Bilious Affections, for Fulness about the Head or Heart, and in all Cutaneous and Contagious Diseases they are unrivalled. In all cases in which a purgative is indicated, no medicine yet known can be compared to them. Two hundred physicians have testified that Brandreth's Pills are superior to all other purgatives whatever. Sold by all Druggists. my21

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—INCIPIENT DROPSY.—To ascertain whether a swelling is dropsical in its nature, press it with the finger, and if a dent remains after the finger is withdrawn, water is assuredly gathering there. In that case, stimulate the external absorbents by a vigorous application of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, and they will soon take up the extraneous fluid and restore the cellular tissue to a healthy state. The PILLS should also be taken occasionally, to carry off the superfluous humor through the natural drain of the system. Sold by all Druggists.

To Owners of Horses.

Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a Horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new nostrum. It has been used and approved of for 21 years by the principal horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like a charm. Orders are constantly received from the RACING STABLES of ENGLAND for it.

The celebrated Hiram Woodruff used and recommended it to his friends, years before his death. Col. P. P. Bush, of the Jerome race course, has given me a certificate stating it to be superior to any other he had used. Hundreds of others can be seen at the Depot, 10 Park Place, N. Y. Sold by the Druggists and Store-keepers. my21

Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, it states *that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the cough and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food while the Pulmonic Syrup and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive apparatus, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever, but removes the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, for when the lungs are diseased, either tubercular, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs are diseased, either tubercular, Ulcerated Throat, or bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting; but its the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He also professionally at 38 Hanover Street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yjn4

MR. STICKNEY having banished the antique style and reached perfection in this immense organization, will offer no stale and exhausted acts, but new features and fresh attractions never before introduced to the public, and will surprise and delight the eye. The magnificent scenes in the arena will be enriched and beautified by gorgeous paraphernalia and superb music, and will be rendered with faultless grace and marvelous splendor.

A MAD COW.—On Wednesday of last week, being a very warm day, a cow in a drove of cattle being driven to pasture in Peterboro' became heated, and was allowed to stop and rest. After a time she became raving mad, and rushed at every person that came within her reach. Soon after, when being driven through the woods, she encountered Mrs. Howe and little son, and Miss Thayer of Peterboro' and immediately rushed at them, tossing the boy upon her horns, and then turning upon the ladies. When close upon Miss Thayer, the man driving the cattle succeeded in catching the animal by the horns, thus rescuing Miss T. from a perilous position. The cow was immediately dispatched.—Transcript.

—The experiment of a Washingtonian Home for the reformation of inebriates, in Chicago, has been so far a success that the Board of Directors have secured a commodious private residence which they will open June 1, as a Home for female inebriates. Their circular makes the sad but deeply significant statement that they "have furnished it with special reference to the accommodation of the educated and refined, who may have unfortunately become addicted to the use of intoxicating drinks, or opium, as well as those whose position in social life has been less advantageous." H. C. Morey, Esq., is the Secretary of the Board.

—Through some flaw in the will, Kalamazoo College loses about $35,000 which had been bequeathed to it by Judge Smith, and has to pay a heavy bill of lawsuit expenses incurred in the fruitless effort to get it. A professional jurist might be supposed to be able to draw a will that would stand legal tests, but the plan, cherished for years, of endowing this institution, was upset because he failed to carry out his plans while he lived. The lesson is an old one, but men are slow to learn it.

Storming Chronicle.

THE HEROINE OF LONG POINT.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

The dark, stormy close of November, 1844, found many vessels on Lake Erie, but the fortunes of one alone have special interest for us. About that time the schooner Conductor, owned by John McLeod, of the Provincial Parliment, a resident of Ambersburg, at the mouth of the Detroit river, entered the lake from that river, bound for Port Dalhousie, at the mouth of the Welland Canal. She was heavily loaded with grain. Her crew consisted of Capt. Hackett, a Highlander by birth, and a skilful and experienced navigator, and six sailors.

At nightfall, shortly after leaving the head of the lake, one of those terrific storms, with which the late autumnal navigators of that "Sea of the Woods" are all too familiar, overtook them. The weather was intensely cold for the season; the air was filled with snow and sleet, the chilled water made ice rapidly, encumbering the schooner, and loading down her decks and rigging. As the gale increased, the tops of the waves were shorn off by the fierce blasts, clouding the whole atmosphere with frozen spray, or what the sailors call "spoon-drift," rendering it impossible to see any object a few rods distant. Driving helplessly before the wind, yet in the direction of its place of destination, the schooner sped through the darkness.

At last, near midnight, running closer than the crew supposed to the Canadian shore, she struck on the outer bar off Long Point Island, beat heavily across it, and sunk in the deeper water between it and the inner bar. The hull was entirely submerged, the waves rolling in heavily, and dashing over the rigging, to which the crew betook themselves. Lashed there, numb with cold, drenched by the pitiless waves, and scourged by the showers of sleet driven before the wind, they waited for morning. The slow, dreadful hours wore away, and at length the dubious and doubtful gray of a morning of tempest succeeded to the utter darkness of night.

Abigail Becker chanced at that time to be in her hut with none but her young children. Her husband was absent on the Canada shore, and she was left sole adult occupant of the island, save the light-keeper, at its lowest end, some fifteen miles off. Looking out at daylight on the beach in front of her door, she saw the shattered boat of the Conductor, cast up by the waves. Her experience of storm and disaster on that dangerous coast needed nothing more to convince her that somewhere in her neighborhood, human life had been, or still was, in peril. She followed the south-westerly trend of the island for a little distance, and, peering through the gloom of the stormy morning, discerned the spars of the sunken schooner, with what seemed to be human forms clinging to the rigging. The heart of the strong woman sunk within her as she gazed upon those helpless fellow-creatures, so near, yet so unapproachable.

She had no boat, and none could have lived on that wild water. After a moment's reflection she went back to her dwelling, put the smaller children in charge of the eldest took with her an iron kettle, tin teapot, and matches, and returned to the beach, at the nearest point to the vessel; and gathering up the logs and drift-wood always abundant on the coast, kindled a great fire, and, constantly walking back and forth between it and the water, strove to intimate to the sufferers that they were at least not beyond human sympathy. As the wrecked sailors looked shoreward, and saw through the thick haze of snow and sleet, the red light of the fire, and the tall figure of the woman passing to and fro before it, a faint hope took the place of the utter despair which had prompted them to let go their hold and fall into the seething waters that opened and closed about them like the jaws of death. But the day wore on, bringing no abatement of the storm that tore through the frail spars, and clutched at and tossed them as it passed, and drenched them with ice-cold spray—a pitiless, unrelenting horror of sight, sound and touch. At last the deepening gloom told them that night was approaching, and night under such circumstances was death.

All day long Abigail Becker had fed her fire, and sought to induce the sailors by signals—for even her strong voice could not reach them—to throw themselves into the surf, and trust to Providence and her for succor. In anticipation of this, she had her kettle boiling over the driftwood and her tea ready made for restoring warmth and life to the half-frozen survivers. But either they did not understand her, or the chance of rescue seemed to small to induce them to abandon the temporary safety of the wreck. They clung to it with the desperate instinct of life brought face to face with death. Just at nightfall there was a slight break in the west, a red light glared across the thick air, as if for one instant the eye of the storm looked out upon the ruin it had wrought and closed again under lids of cloud.

Taking advantage of this, the solitary watcher ashore made one more effort. She waded out into the water, every drop of which, as it stuck the beach, became a particle of ice, and stretching out and drawing in her arms, invited by her gestures, the sailors to throw themselves into the waves, and strive to reach her. Captain Hackett understood her. He called to his mate in the rigging of the other mast:—"It is our last chance. I will try! If I live, follow me; if I drown, stay where you are!" With a great effort he got off his stiffly frozen overcoat, paused for one moment in a silent commendation of his soul to God, and, throwing himself into the waves, struck out for the shore.

Abijail Becker, breastdeep in the surf, awaited him. He was almost within her reach, when the undertow swept him back. By a mighty exertion she caught hold of him, bore him in her strong arms out of the water, and laying him down by the fire, warmed his chilled blood with copious draughts of hot tea. The mate, who had watched the rescue, now followed, and the captain, partially restored, insisted upon aiding him. As the former neared the shore, the recoiling water baffled him. Captain Hackett caught hold of him, but the undertow swept them both away, locked in each other's arms. The brave woman plunged after them, and, with the strength of a giantess, bore them, clinging to each other, to the shore, and up to the fire. The five sailors followed in succession, and were all rescued in the same way.

A few days after, Captain Hackett and his crew were taken off Long Point by a passing vessel; and Abigail Becker resumed her simple daily duties without dreaming that she had done anything extraordinary enough to win for her the world's notice. In her struggle every day for food and warmth for her children, she had no leisure for the indulgence of self-congratulation. Like the woman of Scripture, she had only "done what she could" in the terrible exigency that had broken the dreary monotony of her life.—Atlantic Monthly for May.

BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING, —AND—

SEWING MACHINE!

H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street,

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, falling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, &c., better than any machine in the market.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)

3. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine can.)

4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)

5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

IN THESE HARD TIMES

YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO PAY three or four profits on articles of necessary use, when by sending to Clubs to

Parker & Co.'s

GREAT ONE DOLLAR SALE

OF DRY GOODS, LINENS, PARASOLS, ALBUMS, HOSIERY, SILVER PLATED WARE, JEWELRY, CUTLERY, FRENCH & GERMAN FANCY GOODS, of every description, you can purchase anything in their immense stock for

ONE DOLLAR EACH.

The secret of our low prices is this:—We have a very large Cash Capital, and have buyers in all the principal cities of this country and in Europe, who purchase FOR CASH, DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS, all the goods used by us, thus saving the profits usually realized by the Importer or Commission Merchant, the Wholesale and Retail Dealer, each of whom demand a larger profit than we do. We can go to Here Goods for One Dollar than the Retail Merchant for twice or three times that sum. Our goods are delivered free, and our checks, which will be sent in Clubs for Ten Cents each, to pay postage, printing, &c.

If the articles named on the Check is not wanted, you can exchange from a list consisting of Three Hundred and Fifty Useful Articles, among which are—

LADIES' SILK PLUSH SACQUES, LADIES' FINE WHITE TUCKED SKIRTS, SILVER PLATED FIVE BOTTLED CASTORS, and a large variety of useful articles, not one of which can be bought in any other way for nearly double the money.

Reference will be given, if required, from the most responsible Wholesale Jobbing Houses in New York, as to our standing and the strictly honorable character of our business.

DUTIES OF SOLDIERS.—A certain Confederate regiment that served during the war in the Western Department was commanded until after the battle of Murfreesboro by a colonel who was a foreigner by birth, but a soldier by choice and education. He never learned to use good English, but he had a short way of expressing himself in impetuous exclamations that was quite as effective in conveying his conclusions as his practiced sword was in disabling an adversary. This anecdote is attributed to him; Once, when some general officers were hesitating about making an important but desperate movement, on account of the loss of life it was likely to involve, he, happening to be present bawled out: "What, kill soldier! What soldier made for? Soldier paid to be killed, by tam!"

At the battle of Murfreesboro, when a certain brigade was ordered forward, on Wednesday, to assist in the attack on the Federal right, the regiment commanded by the foreign officer referred to met with such a furious reception from "the boys of the West," as they prided in calling themselves, that it wavered, and was on the point of falling into confusion, when, it is said, he instantly brought the men to a sense of their duties and responsibilities by dashing madly along the line, brandishing his sabre over their heads, and shouting at the top of his voice; "Go up tah, men! Go up tah! Fy tam, do you want to live always?"—DRAWER, Harper's Magazine.

NICE FOR BASHFUL YOUTH.—A nice way for overcoming bashful scruples has been found in North Carolina. At a recent wedding a guest proposed that one man in the company should be selected as president; that this president should be duly sworn to keep entirely secret all the communications that should be forwarded to him in his official department that night; that each unmarried gentleman and lady should write his or her name on a piece of paper, and under it place the name of the person they wished to marry, then hand it to the president for inspection, and if any lady and gentleman had reciprocally chosen each other, the president was to inform each of the result, and those who had not been reciprocal in their choice were to be kept entirely secret. After the appointment of the president, communications were accordingly handed up to the chair, and it was found that twelve young ladies and gentlemen had reciprocal choices, and eleven out of the twelve matches were solemnized.

IS MUSIC A PART OF RELIGIOUS SERVICE?—In the suit of the Session of the Walnut Street Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, against the Board of Trustees, to prevent the latter from introducing into the religious service of the church a paid choir of vocalists, Judge Pierce, of the Court of Common Pleas, on Saturday decided that church music is connected with the religious services, and not with the temporal interests of the church, and hence must not be under the control of the Board of Trustees, but under that of the minister and Session. The unhappy congregation will henceforth be compelled to do without the "performance" of worship.

—Some of the deacons down east seem to have a bad practice of snoring loudly while asleep in church, which appears to disturb some folks there, as a Maine paper recently had the following polite notice for one of them: Deacon——is requested not to commence snoring tomorrow until the sermon has begun, as some persons in the neighborhood of his pew would like to hear the text!

TO DESTROY DOCK.—Cut the root about one or one and a half inches below the surface and carry them off from the field. Use a chisel or some implement about two inches wide, with a handle of sufficient length to enable the operator to stand erect while using it. No particular time for cutting. Any time will answer when they can be seen.—N. E. Farmer.

—The following advertisement appears in a London paper; "A young lady, who has received a good education, can read and write, and is versed in geography, history, music, dancing and elementary mathematics, wishes a situation in a respectable family as washer and ironer."

☞ Among the persons to be discharged from the Baltimore post-office at the close of the present month, is one who has been in charge of the newspaper mails for the last thirty years.

MANURE FOR POTATOES.—The potatoes grow smooth, and do not rot. 1 bushel salt; 1 bushel slaked lime; 100 pounds plaster; 5 bushels ashes; half-pint in a hill.

—Prince Louis de Bourbon, the disowned descendant of a line of thoneless kings, has declared his allegiance to the United States.

—Tailors are very much like scared horses, they shear so.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1865, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.50 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will sell at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
If you will order goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by a physician who had tested most to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. Among thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

FRIDAY, MAY 28, 1869.

RELIGIOUS INSANITY.—Some sad cases are reported in the papers. A family in North Carolina, named Loud, consisting of husband, wife, two sons and two daughters, recently became insane by attendance at a protracted meeting, and began to see visions. The mother and one daughter, each claimed to be true God; the mother deemed the daughter to be the Devil; and at the mother's order and by the father's consent, a son shot and killed the girl. Then the family burnt the body. Next, the survivors were put in jail, where the two sons killed the mother by choking her. They were tried for murder, but acquitted, for insanity.

The New York Herald has this item: Moments of influential and extensive religious revivals are generally marked by the cropping out of all crimes of a fearful character, just as if persons of depraved minds or diseased brains become suddenly afflicted with despair.

The anniversaries having ended, we have to chronicle a dreadful domestic tragedy which occurred in N. Y. city yesterday, in the shape of attempts made by a man to murder his wife and daughter, and subsequently to shoot himself. From Newark, N. J., we learn that a German, who had married the widow of a suicide, attempted to commit suicide, when laboring under the delusion that it was necessary to his eternal welfare to do so and thus go to God.

DICKENS.—Hurd & Houghton have added a volume to their four editions of Dickens' Works, which is unique in character, and completes the various sets.—It is called "MasterHumphrey's Clock," taking its name from the first and largest portion of the volume. The second portion of the book consists of the various Christmas Stories which the author has written since the publication of the older and better known "Christmas Stories."

There is presented—what to many will be the most valuable portion of the book—an exhaustive index of all the characters named in Dickens' Works, with a few characterizing epithets, and the name of the story in which they appear, with a list of all the pages in which their words and actions may be found. This really great Index strikes one anew with astonishment at the multitude of people whom Mr. Dickens has created.

Last of all is a curious list of Familiar Sayings from Dickens' Works, which illustrates well the indebtedness of the world to this master of felicitous phrases. This volume gives to Hurd & Houghton's four editions a completeness which no other editions in America or England possess; and the purchaser may take his choice, according to his taste and his pocket, between the cheap, compact, readable "Globe," the richly illustrated, elegant "Riverside," the voluminous, graceful "Household," and the superb "Large Paper," with its India-proof pictures, its wide margin, and its limited edition of one hundred copies only to subscribers.

☞ Leonard Choate's trial for incendiarism in Newburyport, which was to have been held at the Superior Court now sitting there, was last week postponed until next October term, at Lawrence. His counsel made a long plea in favor of a change, on the ground that the influences in Newburyport were against their client, and Judge Lord granted their request. They are to make an argument as to admitting Choate to bail on the indictments against him, which involve some nice legal points.

☞ At Lawrence, Mass., May 25, a boat containing four boys, who were sailing about above the Dam, went over the falls, going down about twenty-five feet. The boat was broken up, and two of the boys—Dennis Sullivan, aged seventeen, and James Collins, about fourteen—were drowned. The other two, who were younger, swam ashore some distance below the Dam.

☞ Mayor Stevens, of Concord, has issued a proclamation, requesting the citizens to close their stores and shops from 2 to 5 o'clock on Memorial Day, Saturday, and the scholars of the public schools in a body, to attend the decoration service of the soldiers' graves.

Mrs. George W. Moody, of West Concord, died very suddenly on the morning of the 23d, of heart disease.—On the following morning, in the same town, Mr. John Elliott, aged 82 years, was found dead in his bed.

PORTLAND & ROCHESTER RAILROAD.—The Mayor and Aldermen of Portland, on Wednesday evening, voted unanimously, to issue $50,000 in bonds, to aid the railroad to Rochester.

—At St. Albans on Tuesday the price of butter ranged from 33 to 35 cents; choice lots 38 to 40 cents.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

BOSTON, May 26.

A striking feature in the great Peace Jubilee will be the chorus of one hundred anvils. I attended the first rehearsal at Chickering's Hall, on Tuesday evening. Mr. Gilmore personally conducted the rehearsal, and all present were amazed at the precision attained so readily by the performers, who are all members of the Boston Fire Department, and who enter into their part of the programme with the zest so characteristic to firemen.

Everything in this city savors more or less of the great musical festival at this time, and I fancy that would not be a bad idea for Bostonians to make the Jubilee week a protracted holiday, after the style of the Christmas holidays in ultra-Catholic countries.

Mr. Henry C. Barnabee gave great satisfaction at Selwyn's Theatre, on Tuesday evening, by his fine singing and excellent acting in Eichberg's opereta of the "Two Cadis;" the occasion being the benefit of Mr. Koppitz, leader of the orchestra.

The location of immense lumber yards on the direct line of railroads running into the city, has often led many to wonder if the dealers were not liable to lose their stock by fire. That wonder ceased with the fire in Skillings & Co.'s yard at East Cambridge, some weeks since, when $60,000 worth of lumber was destroyed by a fire, supposed to have been communicated by a spark from a locomotive on the Lowell railroad, which passes directly through the yard.

There new cars for Conductor West's train,—one smoking and two passenger cars,—will very soon be placed upon the Eastern Road. They are receiving the finishing touches at the car shops in Salem. Two other passenger cars are also well underway there, and a large amount of building and repairing of freight cars is in progress. I am told that an application was made by the Pacific Railroad to have seventy-five cars built at these shops, but the job was declined, as the company wishes to use the entire facilities of this department in sustaining the reputation of the Eastern for its superior rolling stock. New Hampshire Items.

Moses B. C. Ordway and Amos Smith were taken to Manchester jail Saturday evening, for "lifting" a pocket-book containing $120, on the 14th inst., from a pillow under George Boyson's head while lodging in a house on Amherst street, where the criminals were boarding. Smith plead "guilty," and Ordway the reverse, (although each charges the other with being a thief and gambler).

In Claremont, a young mechanic named Franklin Coffrin, while riding a velocipede, was suddenly attacked with heart disease, fell off, and almost instantly expired. Heart disease is said to be hereditary in his family. He had worked harder then usual that day, but had not complained of fatigue.

Nashua is patterning after Dover, and has got a temperance commitee of fifty women.

A commitee of five have been appointed to write an "appeal" to the Nashua liquor dealers.

A temperance society, numbering 300 members, is connected with the Catholic church in Nashua.

On Tuesday morning, when Mr. John O. Merrill, of Dunbarton, went to his stable, he found his three horses in the cellar, in a critical position. The stable floor had fallen and precipitated the animals several feet below. Two were on their backs, and all seemed to be in great distress. With some difficulty they were extricated from the position, and two of them appeared to be but little injured, but one was badly hurt.

An Organ, costing $6000, has been placed in Pearl St. Church, Nashua.

KEARSARGE MOUNTAINS.—A correspondent in Massachusetts recently raised the question whether there were not two mountains in New Hampshire, called Kearsarge.—We answer, Yes:—

Kearsarge Mountain, that acknowledged by Farmer and Moore, is in Merrimack County; the town line between Wilmot and Warner passes over the top of it; and it is said to be 2,461 feet above the level of the sea, commanding a beautiful view of the surrounding country.

The other Kearsarge, or Mount Kearsarge No. 2, is in Carroll County, about three miles from the Village of North Conway, and is said to be 3,367 feet above the sea level. From its top is taken a very fine view of the whole White Mountain ranges and also another of a large portion of Maine.

We have never been able to see why it was thought needful, convenient, or proper, to call two mountains, in the same State, by the same name.

For the Chronicle.

Oh! Summer winds that blow,
Blow softly,
For my darling lyeth low,
And the white blossoms drifting down,
As if her silent resting place to crown,
Are not more fair
Than my white Summer blossom sleeping there;
And the birds singing in the purple dawn,
Sing their "all hail" with rapture to a soul new born.

Oh! honeysuckles sweet,
Climb higher,
Perchance her eyes to meet;
And climbing, scatter perfumes round,
As she the love with which her soul was crowned.
And as the dew
Brings fresh been to poor fading leaves anew,
So the unmeasured fairness she gave
Brings us new hope and comfort, even from the grave.

And yet with wistful eyes,
And weeping,
We watch the changing skies,
And say, "Summer is come again,
With its long days in which to bear our pain;"
While all its bloom
But brings an aching sense of loss and gloom,
Since ere the first blue violets of Spring
Our little one began divinor songs to sing.

For her the summer light
Is fadeless;
And the eternal bright
That she, through parting, has attained,
Has brought her to the feet of Christ unstained.
So, though we wait
With our poor bleeding hearts all desolate,
We know that there will come a blissful day
When God, through her dear hands,
"Shall wipe our tears away."

Dr. Hunn's Aromatic Invigorator removes from the system the ill effects caused by the excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and effectually destroys the appetite for these stimulants. It gives tone to the digestive organs, and fever matter is removed from the system, thereby restoring it to its normal healthful condition. As a medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

This elegant preparation has stood the test of years. A wine-glassful before eating will give a good appetite and prevent all suffering from indigestion. Ladies of weak and delicate constitutions should take the Invigorator three times a day. A wine-glassful before retiring will insure sweet and refreshing sleep. The Vital Statistics of the United States

Show that periodical fevers and acute and chronic disorders of the stomach and bowels are among the most prominent and fatal diseases in this country. Disobedience to the laws of health, as regards diet; the use of pernicious stimulants; and the wear and tear of business excitement, and of "fast life" generally, have much to do with the prevalence of these maladies in our cities; while in the West, and especially in the newly opened districts, they are chiefly due to malaria, unwholesome water, and the exposure and privation incident to life in new settlements.

NOW, IT IS A FACT that it is as possible to protect the human system against these maladies, as to guard life and property against the incursions of assassins and thieves. Strengthen the vital organization with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and it becomes as capable of resisting the active principle of epidemic or endemic disease, as a fire-proof safe is of resisting the action of combustion. This is the experience of thousands who have remained unscathed by malarious disorders in the sickliest seasons, while their neighbors, who neglected to tone and regulate their systems with this unequaled medicinal stimulant, have fallen thick and fast around them. Weakness invites disease. Vigor repels it. Help nature to fight the good fight with infection, whether it be in the air, the water, or the soil, with this matchless preparation,—a compound of the rarest vegetable extracts with the purest of all diffusive stimulants.

Brandreth's Pills.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Brandreth's Pills have been known and used by your grandfathers and grandmothers. They are always safe, and sure to do you good. They are purely vegetable, and diminish the death principle; some think they increase the principle of life. But in taking out bad humors from the blood, they do make the body lighter, and thus seem to add energy. Many families have used them for upwards of forty years.

They are the best medicine for Colds, for all Bilious Affections, for Fullness about the Head or Heart, and in all Cutaneous and Contagious Diseases they are unrivaled. In all cases in which a purgative is indicated, no medicine yet known can be compared to them. Two hundred physicians have testified that Brandreth's Pills are superior to all other purgatives whatever. Sold by all Druggists.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—INCIPIENT DROPSY.—To ascertain whether a swelling is dropsical in its nature, press it with the finger, and if a dent remains after the finger is withdrawn, water is assuredly gathering there. In that case, stimulate the external absorbents by a vigorous application of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, and they will soon take up the extraneous fluid and restore the cellular tissue to a healthy state. The PILLS should also be taken occasionally, to carry off the superfluous humor through the natural drain of the system. Sold by all Druggists.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, and then throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice which dissolves the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the causes, and they will stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial tubes, plenum adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and ulcerating. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost the power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as a rule the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish such advice examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, when all letters for advice must be inclosed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. Consultation free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. J. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale Agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y|a4

MR. STICKNEY having banished the antique style and reached perfection in this immense organization, will offer no stale and exhausted acts, but new features and fresh attractions never before introduced to the public, and will surprise and delight the eye. MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.— To the Citizens of Portsmouth:— Whereas, it has been thought proper to set apart one day in the year for the purpose of paying a tribute of respect to the memory of our Soldiers who died in the late civil war, and Saturday, the 29th day of May instant, has been designated for that object, on which occasion the graves of the deceased are to be decorated, I therefore, in pursuance of a desire to me expressed by the Board of Aldermen and also the Storer Encampment, G. A. R, hereby request that the citizens of Portsmouth will on that day suspend their usual business occupations, and so far as practicable participate in the ceremonies of the occasion. Let us at this time forget all things, of a mere secular or partizan nature, and unite by common consent in fraternity and good will in this demonstration of respect for the memory of the deceased.

FRANK JONES, Mayor.

Mayor's Office, May 27, 1869.

☞ The mean temperature of the weather (and it is mean enough, some folks think) for the past week, may average very well; but having heavy frosts for three nights, and mosquitos buzzing and stinging for the succeeding three, causes considerable uncertainty and indecision as to clothing and crops, and it would seem requires a constitution of white oak and copper fastened, to withstand it.

Our Navy Yard Correspondence.

NAVY YARD, May 27.

Rear Admiral Henry C. Thatcher hoisted his flag to day on board the U. S. R. S. Vandalia, (it is reported as Port Admiral,) Thursday morning, and the usual salute was fired. It is said he is a complete gentleman, and one thing is certain, that a more gentlemanly set of Officers cannot be found, than we now have at this Naval Station.

The Board of Examination of Bureau of Yards and Docks have closed their labors at this Yard and returned. It is thought they have made a very careful and able survey of all buildings, and the capacity of yards, &c.

Daniel L. Randall of Portsmouth has been a Corporal of Watch, in place of Josiah Keen removed.

☞ The preparations for observance of Memorial Day are progressing well in this city. Mayor Jones has issued a proclamation inviting general suspension of business and schools, as will be done in most other cities. We learn that Rev. Mr. DeNormandie is to deliver a discourse on Sunday morning, commemorative of the Soldiers.

☞ The Sabbath School of the Free-will Baptist Society in this city, planted a May Tree on Wednesday, which brought forth Fruit on the evening of the same day, in a variety of presents to the pastor, among which was the sum of $68 in money.

☞ Mr. Alfred Brooks of South Eliot, broke one of his legs in two places, on Wednesday, while using a harrow. The oxen started when he was adjusting the harrow, which caught him, threw him down, and inflicted the injury.

THE CIRCUS comes to town to-day,—which is an event often of more interest, if not more importance, to the young folks, and not a few of their elders, than almost any other occurrence of the year. The attractions in detail are presented to the public by glowing advertisements and flaming posters; and we doubt not but there will be fun alive for those who appreciate the beauties of the tan-bark or sawdust ringed arena. The big tent will be pitched on Middle Street at Union, and the show therein will commence at 2 and 8 o'clock. The only street display we believe is the Band and carriage, but the ring performances promised are excellent.

☞ Bidwell & Locke's Dramatic Company opened to a good house last evening, as they deserve; and the performance gave good satisfaction, as usual with this troupe, which is uniformly the best that has travelled in this vicinity for many years. They present a new and popular cast for to-night.

☞ The patent attachment for carburetting Gas,—increasing and improving the light, and reducing and thus improving the bills,—is attracting considerable attention, as exhibited nightly at the Athenæum, Dr. Preston's store, and at the Kearsarge House, by Mr. Heath, who represents the proprietors.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ The best article in that line made are the Hard Rubber Harness Trimmings—handsome and durable. There are several sets in use in this city, and they give complete satisfaction. Larrabee & Sons furnish them, and anything else in the Harness line, fine or heavy.

BASE BALL.—The Granite State nine of this city go to South Berwick this (Friday) morning, to play a match game with the Minies of that place.

The Merchant Service.—No. XIII.

In one of the earliest of these articles I asserted that the American sailor, under American law, was a slave, with no rights whatever; and that a very large proportion of the outrages committed at sea, by masters and men, were directly fostered by that law; in fact, but for it, would be impossible. These assertions I have attempted to sustain,—with what success those who have followed my arguments must themselves judge. If I have failed, it is not because of any lack of truth, but from my inability to make it manifest. I have noted many instances of wrong which could not have taken place under just and honorable laws; I have mentioned crimes, including robbery and murder, which I have seen practised with perfect impunity under the protection of unjust and dishonorable laws; and I could double the number of cases from my own observation and experience, and multiply them by a score from the indisputable testimony of others, if it would be of any advantage to the cause I advocate,—justice to seamen. Since I wrote the first paper of this series, several respectable citizens of this place, formerly seamen, have related to me instances of oppression which they have seen, but I have not thought fit to make any use of them. One case resulted in a man's almost instant death; and another was a grand "running out" of a whole ship's crew, who left fifteen months' wages behind them.

But it is not only with kicks and curses, and ropes'-ends and handspikes, that the sailor is made to feel his bondage, or to "desert" his ship and leave his wages, when required. The devilish brutality displayed in such ships as the Francis P. Sage, the James Foster, Jr., and the Richard Robinson, is not the only method employed to "make the sailor know his place,"—nor (frightfully common though it is,) is it the most frequently practised; for when too many old sailors are battered into eternity, or where there are passengers to act as complainants and witnesses, punishment does sometimes (though seldom) overtake the criminals. But the law carefully provides a perfectly safe way for the tyrant to work,—to wear out and madden the seaman by a course of constant, petty oppression, until humanity (and sailors are human, though people don't know it,) can bear no more, and he either deserts without his wages, or refuses to obey some ridiculous command (given perhaps evidently to outrage and debase him,) and becomes an "insubordinate seaman," to be admonished and regulated with a shaved head and hard labor.

As instances of this style of operation I refer the reader to my previous account of a man's being sent over a ship's stern to polish an article which needed no polishing, and having only a small line to sit in while doing it; and of another's being sent aloft in bad weather to scrape down a mast with a nail. Then any ingenious man can invent a thousand ways to fret and worry those who must obey all orders. I have myself been called out to "up anchor" six times in one night, and obliged to go to the windlass and stand in the rain till my clothing was soaked each time, —when I had been hard at work all the previous day, and there was not the slightest intention of taking in one inch of chain. This was to make me feel the authority of a drunken captain, whom I had offended by taking a quantity of salt beef (so much decomposed as to be highly offensive to the smell,) to the cabin, and representing in a respectful manner that it was unfit for human food. The captain told me that it was good enough for me, as it was the same as he ate himself; which was false. To this I replied, that he was quite welcome to eat it if he chose, but that I would like something with less odor. This was heresy, high treason and rank impertinence on my part.— That my respectful protest against poisonous food was answered by bullying insolence which would have richly earned the giver a thrashing from a free man, did not in the least justify me in making a retort; and, but that the two mates were gentlemen, I should probably have paid dearly for my outrageous conduct. As it was, the whole crew suffered for my crime, for all hands had to turn out and get wet each time that I did.

Morning Chronicle.

OFFICE HOLDERS AND THEIR SALARIES.—From the "Blue Book," the official gazette of appointments, it seems there are 77 Department Clerks from New Hampshire, of whom 14 are females. The salaries of these Clerks vary from $900 to $2,000.

The Collectors of Internal Revenue were paid as follows:—J. M. Lovering, Exeter, $9,792; John Kimball, Concord, $10,787; Chester Pike, Cornish, $6,987. The Nashua, Manchester, Concord, Portsmouth and Dover Post Offices pay the Post Master $2,600 each. The Keene and Great Falls offices pay $2,200 each, the Exeter and Claremont offices $1,700 each, and the Lancaster office $1,300.

JOHN PHŒNIX AND JEFFERSON DAVIS. When Jefferson Davis was Secretary of War, he issued circulars to all the army officers, asking of them specifications for a new uniform. Phœnix, who was an excellent drafteman, set to work and produced a design. He made no great change in the uniform, but he proposed revolutionizing the entire system of modern tactics by an iron hook. This hook was to be attached to the seat of every soldiers pants. It applied to every arm of the service, cavalry, infantry and artillery.

He illustrated its use by a series of well executed designs. He quoted high medical authority, proving its advantages in a sanitary point of view. The heavy knapsack, he argued, induced a stooping position and a very great contraction of the chest. But hung on the hook by a strap connecting with the shoulder, it would brace the body back and expand the chest. The cavalry thus were to be rendered more secure in their seats, hooked to a ring in the saddle. All the commissioned officers were to carry a light twenty-foot pole, with a ring attached to the end. This was to be used during an engagement in drawing the stragglers back into the ranks.

He illustrated a terrific battle, the generals and colonels being thus occupied, running about hauling stragglers back to the ranks. In many other unheard of ways did he expatiate on the value of his hook. Jefferson Davis was enraged. His dignity was wounded and the service insulted. He instantly made out an order directing Phœnix to be court-martialed for contempt.

Marcy was made aware of Phœnix's transaction, as well as the cloud hanging over him. He looked over the plates. He saw a regiment, their back toward him, drawn up in line, knapsacks, blankets, hams, and all manner of camp equipage, pending from each soldier on the hook. Marcy broke down. Said he to Davis: "It's no use to court-martial this man. The matter will be made public; the laugh will settle entirely on us, and besides, a man who has the inventive ingenuity here displayed, as well as this faculty of design, illy-directed though it be, is too valuable to the service to be trifled with." John Phœnix was not brought to grief, and Davis's anger was at length sufficiently mollified for him to enjoy the joke. It does not appear, however, that they adopted Phœnix's plan.

FLOWERS teach us the tenderness of God's character. If He had made nothing of this kind, if His works had been for bare utility, and had consisted of coarse and more substantial creations only, the tender side of the divine character would have failed of the revelation it now has in nature. You cannot come across a delicate, trembling flower in the shade of a wood, so small that your heel could crush out its life with one careless step, but that you will think how gentle God must be, who made this flower in its exquisite beauty to live there, and daily cares for it in the regular course of his providence.

Following the same idea, the sleep of the flowers touches our sympathies. Many of them at night will fold their petals closely together, and like the darlings of a kind mother, repose trustfully in the care of their Creator. And during the long, dark night, they gather the dews which distil in the quiet air, and when day comes, the first beams of the morning fall on millions of glittering drops, and flash back from leaf and bud and petal, and grassy blade, in such brilliance that the whole waving and nodding field of blooming beauty seems dressed in gems more resplendent than any dream of oriental magnificence. So it may be with us, if in the night of this somewhat sombre life, we draw to ourselves the dews of heavenly grace. We may hope that when eternity fully dawns, the morning light of our Father's love will glance upon these jewels which we have gathered near the cross, and so light them up as to cover us with glory.—The Pacific.

DRESSING WITH SALT, ASHES AND PLASTER.—A correspondent of the Mirror and Farmer purchased a tract of land that was nearly worthless from bad cultivation. Here is a description of his process of renovation: Not being a farmer by practice, but from observation, and a little theory, I ordered to be sown broadcast two bushels of coarse salt per acre when the snow was going off, followed in two weeks with about three bushels of unleached ashes, and in two weeks more, 200 pounds of plaster. The above I had put on a field, a part of which had not been ploughed for twenty-five years, and it was so poor that for the last six or eight years it had yielded only from a half to three-quarters of a ton of hay a season, and that of a very poor quality, being June grass or white-top. The first season I got double the amount of hay. Being satisfied with the first trial, I had the same amount of each kind applied each succeeding spring in the same way, and last year it perfectly astonished those who had seen the crops in the past years. It was estimated that there were two and a half tons per acre when it was cut the first week in July. Again the first week in September it cut about three-quarters of a ton per acre. Immediately after that was harvested there were applied two bushels of ashes per acre, which started the grass so by the last of October, it looked as if it had not been interfered with after the first cutting. Not only has the amount increased, but the quality. Instead of June grass it bears herds-grass, red and white clover, with some red-top.

The field remained green long after the surrounding fields were turned brown and dried up. The boundary of the top-dress could be traced out as well as if it had been fenced.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM

IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the air-passages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

NO SECT IN HEAVEN.

Talking of sects till late one eve,
Of the various doctrines the saints believe;
That night I stood in a troubled dream,
By the side of a darkly flowing stream.

And a "Churchman" down to the river came,
When I heard a strange voice call his name:
"Good father, stop; when you cross this tide
You must leave your robes on the other side."

But the aged father did not mind,
And his long gown floated out behind,
As down to the stream his way he took,
His pale hands clasping a gilt-edged book.

"I'm bound for heaven, and, when I'm there,
I shall want my book of Common prayer;
And though I put on a starry crown,
I should feel quite lost without my gown."

Then he fixed his eye on the shining track,
But his gown was heavy and held him back,
And the poor old father tried in vain
A single step in the flood to gain.

I saw him again on the other side,
But his silk gown floated on the tide;
And no one asked in that blissful spot
Whether he belonged to "the Church" or not.

Then down to the river a Quaker strayed,
His dress of a sober hue was made;
"My coat and hat must be all of gray,
I cannot go any other way."

Then he bottomed his coat straight up to his chin,
And staidly, solemnly, waded in;
And his broad-brimmed hat he pulled down tight
Over his forehead, so cold and white.

But a strong wind carried away his hat;
A moment he silently sighed over that;
And then, as he gazed to the farther shore,
The coat slipped off and was seen no more.

As he entered heaven, his suit of gray
Went quietly sailing—away—away,
And none of the angels questioned him
About the width of his beaver's brim.

Next came Dr. Watts with a bundle of Psalms
Tied nicely up in his aged arms,
And Hymns as many, a very wise thing,
That the people in heaven, "all round," might sing.

But I thought that he heaved an anxious sigh,
As he saw that the river ran broad and high,
And looked rather surprised as, one by one,
The Psalms and Hymns in the waves went down.

And after him, with his MSS.,
Came Wesley, the pattern of godliness;
But he cried, "Dear me, what shall I do?
The water has soaked them thro' and thro'."

And there on the river, far and wide,
Away they went down the swollen tide,
And the saint, astonished, passed through alone,
Without his manuscripts, up to the throne.

Then gravely walking, two saints by name,
Down to the stream together came,
But as they stopped at the river's brink,
I saw one saint from the other shrink.

"Sprinkled or plunged, may I ask you, friend,
How you attained to life's great end?"
"Thus, with a few drops on my brow;"
"But I have been dipped, as you'll see me now,

"And I really think it will hardly do,
As I'm 'close communion,' to cross with you;
You're bound, I know, to the realms of bliss,
But you must go that way, and I'll go this."

And straightway plunging with all his might,
Away to the left—his friend at the right,
Apart they went from this world of sin;
But at last together they entered in.

And now when the river was rolling on,
A Presbyterian church went down;
Of women there seemed a wondrous throng,
But the men I could count as they passed along.

And concerning the road, they ne'er could agree,
The old or the new way, which it should be;
Nor ever a moment paused to think
That both would lead to the river's brink.

And a sound of murmuring, long and loud,
Came ever up from the moving crowd:
"You're in the old way, and I'm in the new,
That is the false, and this is the true;"—
Or, "I'm in the old way, and you're in the new,
That is the false, and this is the true."

But the brethren only seemed to speak,
Modest the sisters walked, and meek;
And if ever one of them chanced to say,
What troubles she met with on the way,
How she longed to pass to the other side,
Nor feared to cross o'er the swelling tide,
A voice arose from the brethren then:
"Let no one speak but the 'holy men;'
For have ye not heard the words of Paul,
'Oh, let the women keep silence all?'"

I watch'd them long in my curious dream,
Till they stood by the borders of the stream,
Then just as I thought, the two ways met,
But all the brethern were talking yet,
And would talk on, till the heaving tide
Carried them over, side by side.
Side by side, for the way was one,
The toilsome journey of life was done,
And Priest, and Quaker, and all who died,
No forms or crosses, or books had they,
No gowns of silk, or suits of gray,
No creeds to guide them, or MSS.,
For all had put on Christ's righteousness.

JOHN P. HALE has published a letter that fully refutes the charge of smuggling made against him by Mr. Perry. It not only does that, but convicts Perry of duplicity towards Mr. Hale, and of committing the very offence with which he charged Mr. Hale. We have never believed that Mr. Hale was guilty in the matter,—on the other hand, the indications have been, and are, that Perry is a mischief making scamp.—Laconia Democrat.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by a physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved entirely of my long disease. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

The News.

Albert Dwinals killed Stickney Whittier on Thursday night, at Haverhill, Mass., by stabbing him in the neck, severing the jugular vein. Whittier leaves a wife and two children. Both were hard drinking young men. Dwinals is arrested.

Secretary Boutwell orders his clerks to be on duty from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M., six hours. In this time no smoking or tippling will be allowed. They must not borrow money or pledge their salaries. One month vacation in a year, only. Any more absence will be without pay.

A safe at Augusta, Me., was robbed of bonds and other papers to the amount of $30,000, Wednesday night.

☞ The Anniversaries in Boston have been well attended, generally. The Anti-Slavery Society had a harmonious and rejoicing session. The Labor Reform League had a telegram from Senator Sprague, as ambiguous as a Delphic Oracle, and as usual, a warm debate. The American (New England) Tract Society had a sharp personal and somewhat sectarian controversy: in the course of which Rev. Mr. Abbott of Newburyport stated that after the action of to-day not a red cent could be given by Baptists to the society. After some other proceedings, Dr. Dexter moved to take Dr. Eddy's resolution for permanent union from the table, which was done. The resolution was then carried, only the Baptists voting in opposition to it. And a resolution was passed, 36 to 17, that the executive committee be authorized to consider the subject of amending the constitution so that all denominations shall be represented on the executive committee.—But as over 200 votes were thrown for officers, the 36 votes on this question look small.—The christian harmony of the meeting was not visible.

Episcopal Convention. — At Manchester, Wednesday, May 26, the Protestant Episcopal Church in New Hampshire held its sixty-ninth annual Convention in Grace Church. All the clergy, except two, were present, and a large number of lay delegates. The usual preliminary service was held Tuesday evening, and the annual Missionary sermon was preached by Rev. R. W. Clark of Portsmouth.

On Wednesday morning Bishop Chase called the Convention to order; but as he is very feeble, he soon resigned the chair to Dr. Hubbard. The Convention sermon was preached by Rev. E. J. Downing of Epping. The Bishop's annual address was read by his son, Rev. Francis Chase. On account of his infirmities the Bishop has been able to do very little work the past year, but has had assistance. During the year eighty-six persons have been confirmed and two have been ordained Deacons.

The Standing Committee of the Diocese for the ensuing year is Rev. J. H. Eames, Rev. H. A. Colt, Concord, Rev. M. A. Herrick, of Sanbornton Bridge, Messrs. W. L. Foster of Concord, A. R. Hatch of Portsmouth and C. A. Tufts of Dover.

The next convention will be holden in Dover, in May, 1870, and Rev. Dr. Parker was chosen to preach the Convention Sermon, and Rev. R. W. Clark his substitute.

More Railroads.—A new law just passed in Massachusetts confers authority on the town of Amesbury to subscribe to the stock of the proposed railroad from West Amesbury to Newton, N. H., to the amount of two per cent on its valuation.—The town has now authority to subscribe to the stock of both proposed roads, to Newton and to Epping, to the amount of 80,000.

The Villager learns that renewed negotiations with the Boston & Maine railroad, give promise of the building of the road to Newton, the present season.

Persecution in Georgia.—A dispatch dated Atlanta 26th, says the Grand Jury of Bibb county have found a true bill against J. Clarke Swayne, editor and proprietor of the American Union, the only Republican paper in Georgia, for high misdemeanor in publishing an article after the assassination of Dr. Dyer, calling upon Union men to organize for their own protection.

☞ In New York City, May 27, the basis of union was accepted in the New School General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, unanimously,—and in the Old School with only seven dissenting votes. The grand fact in the case is, that many members of the Old School have embraced new ideas.

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.

PORTLAND, Me., May 25.

Eds. Chronicle:—The recent correspondence between Governor Chamberlain and a few of his friends, in which he has consented to allow the use of his name again as a candidate for the Governorship, has given the political situation here a new phase. Politics should be as sagaciously managed as anything else, and inexperienced and unskilled hands at it generally turn out bunglers. Some men never become good political leaders, owing to their lack of special requirements. Had Governor Chamberlain's "friends" desired to prejudice his chances and bring about his defeat at the Convention, they could not have done a better thing. If they sincerely desired his re-nomination and triumphant re-election, they could not have done a worse one. It has been stated that they did not intend to forestall the action of the Convention by the proceeding, but surely such is the inevitable tendency of their course, and undoubtedly some of them begin to see it.

Gov. Chamberlain was understood last year to say that it would be his last Gubernatorial term, and during the Legislative session last winter he so reaffirmed it. Although personally a worthy man, a brave soldier and a good official, yet with his comparative inexperience in purely political life, he has allowed his name to be again brought forward after his disclaimers as to wishing the office, and his friends have prejudiced his interests by the manner of their proceeding. The Temperance wing oppose him, regarding his course and views as opposed to theirs, although he is a good practical Temperance man. The anti-capital-punishment wing oppose him for his course on that question, and his execution of the negro, Clifton Harris. The friends of other candidates oppose him, because they were led to suppose he was "out of the field." All those disaffections were known to Gov. Chamberlain's friends, and therefore the unusual mode of his re-appearance in the political arena creates surprise and dissatisfaction.

The "outs" and associates have done the very thing they have at times accused the so-called ring of doing. Every party properly must have leaders, and as they become experienced their services become more valuable. They may be ambitious, and perhaps partially selfish, but they are the men who pilot the party safely through the breakers during the storm, into the harbor of success. The unusual course pursued by Gov. Chamberlain's friends is one of the finest instances of "boomerang" politics that has transpired for many a day. It has a semblance of weakness as to the chances of success in the usual mode of political warfare. It is possible he will be re-nominated. If so, those who have ever faithfully stood by the party through sunshine and through storm will do so now, and the disaffected will probably "demur." Every one does homage to Gen. Joshua L. Chamberlain as a man, soldier and public officer, but the regret at the unusual mode of his being thrust into the field again is a matter of sincere regret to the greater portion of the party.

The Republican State Convention is called to meet at Bangor, June 24th, and the State Temperance Convention June 29th, at Portland. Should the Republicans re nominate Gov. Chamberlain, it is very certain that the Temperance party will nominate some one else. It is to be regretted, but facts are stubborn things, and we are giving the case as it is. The prominent candidates for the Republican nomination, in addition to Gov. C., are Hon. Sidney Perham of Paris and Hon. Lot Morrill of Augusta. Perham's failure to be renominated for M. C., — through the vaulting ambition of Atty. Gen. Frye and Hon. Nelson Dingley, Jr., both of Lewiston, and the subsequent nomination and election of Dr. S. P. Morrill,—at once placed him prominently in the chances for Gubernatorial honors. He is one of the worthiest, best and truest men in Maine, and a good Temperance man. Ex-Senator Morrill's also is a strong name, and his friends regard his chances as good.

Had it not been authoritatively and definitely supposed that Gov. Chamberlain was out of the field, Perham's name would not probably have been brought forward. Perham's strength, overtopping all others, alarmed Gov. C.'s friends, and they concluded to try it again. It is doubtful whether or not, as it is, Perham or Morrill do not succeed. Some of the shrewdest and most reliable political managers in the State regard the situation in this light, although for peace's sake nothing bold is vouchsafed to the anxious public. Hon. N. G. Hichborn, late State Treasurer, is also named by the Temperance party. He is a most excellent man.

It the Democracy are Smart they will not run "E. K.," but some such man as Judge Rice of Augusta or Mayor Putnam of Portland. Either of these gentlemen would accept the nomination, provided there was any chance of election. In a few weeks then the political problem will be solved, the warfare will commence and the conflict will be brilliant but severe. We here remark, "Let us have Peace."

LUCY.

Four little angels on the boundary shore,
With wings outspread for flying,
Waited to hear my other darling o'er,
And hush her earthly sighing.

Four little faces, lighted up with bliss,
As if God's smiles reflecting,
That sealed her soul's perfecting.

Still grew the fluttering heart and panting breath,
And childish hands reposing,
"All white with innocency" as with Death,
On kindred palms were closing.

"Good-night, oh little tired one," we said,
With passionate caressing,
And then Christ came and pillowed her dear head,
And gave her saintly blessing.

How can we murmur, though our hearts are torn
With bitterest desolation?
Since He has given to such as we, who mourn,
His purest consolation.

Since never a shade her little heart had worn
Of anguish or of aching,
And in His loving arms her soul was borne
From sleep to blissful waking.

Since our five angels, meeting on the shore,
Have reached the haven together,
And the sweet patient heart that beats no more
Beats there, for us, forever.

At market for the current week—Cattle 2300;—Sheep and Lambs; 2611 Swine 4800; number of Western Cattle —; Eastern Cattle —; Working Oxen and Northern Cattle 100.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $12 75 @ $13 25; first quality $12 00 @ $12 50; second quality $11 25 @ $11 75; third quality $10 00 @$11 00; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls,&c.,$9 00@ $10 00 ℔ 100 lbs; the total weight of the hallowand dressed beef.

Wool Skins $1 50 @ $200 each; Lamb Skins 35c; sheared Skins 25c each; Calf Skins 18 @ 22c ℔ lb.

The supply of Cattle from the West was larger than that of last week, and the quality of Beeves was not good. We think the best lots will have to be sold as high as 13½c ℔ lb to pay,from their cost at Albany. Trade has been very firm and prices obtained about the same as those of last week.—There were several large lots of Cattle commissioned. There were not any Cattle from Maine, and buyers have been coming every week from that section to purchase Beeves for Portland markets.

Stores—Yearlings $18 @ $22; two year olds $25 to $45; three year olds $45 @ $65 ℔ head. There are but few Store Cattle brought to market during the summer months. Nearly all the small Cattle are bought for slaughter.

Working Oxen—The supply in market is small, but there was enough for the demand. We quote sales at $190, $215, $225, $230 @ $250 ℔ pair.

Milch Cows—Prices, extra $85 @ $115; ordinary $50 @ $80; Store Cows $35 @ $45 ℔ head.—Prices of Milch Cows depend a great deal upon the fancy of the purchaser. Most of the Cows brought to market are of an ordinary grade.

Sheep and Lambs—The supply in market was lighter than has been in any one week for a long time. Prices were full as high as those of last week. Most of those from the West were taken at a commission. We quote prices in lots at $3, $3 25, $3 50, $4 @ $4 50 ℔ head, or from 4 @ 9½c ℔ lb.

Swine—Store Pigs wholesale 12½ @ 15½c ℔ lb;—select lots 16 @ 16½c ℔ lb; retail 13 @ 20c ℔ lb.

Fat Hogs—3800 at market; prices 10 @ 11c ℔ lb.

The Vital Statistics of the United States

Show that periodical fevers and acute and chronic disorders of the stomach and bowels are among the most prominent and fatal diseases in this country. Disobedience to the laws of health, an irregular diet; the use of pernicious stimulants; and the wear and tear of business excitement, and of "fast life" generally, have much to do with the prevalence of these maladies in our cities; while in the West, and especially in the newly opened districts, they are chiefly due to malaria, unwholesome water, and the exposure and privation incident to life in new settlements.

Now, it is a fact that it is as possible to protect the human system against these maladies, as to guard life and property against the incursions of assassins and thieves. Strengthen the vital organization with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and it becomes as capable of resisting the active principle of epidemic or endemic disease, as a fire-proof safe is of resisting the action of combustion. This is the experience of thousands who have remained unscathed by malarious disorders in the sickliest seasons, while their neighbors, who neglected to tone and regulate their systems with this unequaled medicinal stimulant, have fallen thick and fast around them. Weakness invites disease. Vigor repels it. Help nature to fight the good fight with infection, whether it be in the air, the water, or the soil, with this matchless preparation,—a compound of the rarest vegetable extracts with the purest of all diffusive stimulants.

Brandreth's Pills.

To the Public.

Brandreth's Pills have been known and used by your grandfathers and grandmothers. They are always safe, and sure to do you good. They are purely vegetable, and diminish the death principle; some think they increase the principle of life. But in taking out bad humors from the blood, they do make the body lighter, and thus seem to add energy. Many families have used them for upwards of forty years.

They are the best medicine for Colds, for all Bilious Affections, for Fullness about the Head or Heart, and in all Cutaneous and Contagious diseases they are unrivalled. In all cases in which a purgative is indicated, no medicine yet known can be compared to them. Two hundred physicians have testified that Brandreth's Pills are superior to all other purgatives whatever. Sold by all Druggists. my21

In that case, stimulate the external absorbents by a vigorous application of Holloway's Ointment, and they will soon take up the extraneous water and restore the cellular tissue to a healthy state. The Pills should also be taken occasionally, to carry off the superfluous humor through the natural drain of the system. Sold by all Druggists.

To Owners of Horses.

Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. It has been used and approved of for 21 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the Racing Stables of England for it.

The celebrated Hiram Woodruff used and recommended it to his friends, years before his death. Col. P. P. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in health; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes the unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, natural throughout by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

The use of the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; its stools are healthy, and the patient can do; nothing has ever been invented to supply calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the gastric juice to three or four times its power to digest the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, to stop hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and ready for dying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost power to make or make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 226 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond Street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 36 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yfa1

MEMORIAL DAY.—The decoration of the graves of Soldiers who fell in defence of their country, is a pleasure and duty. In the darkest day of the Republic, when the needs of the Nation demanded the greatest sacrifice, how willingly and eagerly did the glorious army of martyrs rally to the call, to encounter hardships the very description of which appalls the sympathizing mind of the people, while it awakens a feeling of gratitude at the sacrifice. No action of the living can ever testify sufficiently to the valuable services of those who fill honored graves in our cemeteries.

A duty, simple, yet still a duty, calls surviving comrades to perform the pleasantly painful ceremony of decorating the graves of their brother heroes; and while the grand old armies yet living gather yearly by companies to "spread beautiful flowers" as tokens of their remembrance of the toils and sufferings of the fearful years of war, let not these citizen soldiers be alone in their deeds of kindness. First, to the dead let all unite in doing honor, regardless of party strife or political passion,—simply content in being allowed to live in a free land, which they so willingly died to save from disintegration. Their honorable death leaves no more honorable life for any, for their sacrifice was of the greatest, and their glorious deeds should ever live in the remembrance of those who profit by their action.

To the living the country owes grateful recognition. Their sacrifices may not have been so great, though they were as willing to accept death rather than dishonor. All honor to them for their appropriate remembrance of comrades and friends, to whom they were attached by the strongest ties of sympathy and friendship. For the brave deeds of living and dead a nation owes eternal gratitude, and the tribute to the dead is an honor to the living.

☞ As we wish to afford all our employes opportunity to join in the observances of Memorial Day—and also to do what we can to secure it for a general holiday (or holy day,) we shall issue no paper on Monday.

It has been suggested,—and we hope it will be done,—that the places of business in the city be closed from 1 to 5 o'clock this afternoon.

MEMORIAL DISCOURSES—On Sunday forenoon, memorial sermons will be preached by Rev. Mr. Adams at the North church and Rev. Mr. DeNormandie at the Unitarian.

☞ Bidwell & Locke's Company give another Dramatic Entertainment this evening, to close their series here for the present. The bill for to-night is new and attractive. This troupe is so well and favorably known here, that we do not consider it necessary to urge their claims or merits on the theatre-loving public, for everybody knows that they always give exhibitions far above the average of travelling Companies. See bills and advertisements of the day, and see the performances to-night.

☞ Rev. R. G. Toles, Superintendent of the Baldwin Place Home for Little Wanderers, Boston, will address the friends of homeless and neglected children next Sabbath, at the Pearl Street Church in the morning, the Middle St. Baptist in the afternoon, and at the North Church in the evening. Interesting and touching incidents, illustrating the work of the "Home" will be related. A choir of children from the Home will be present, and sing some choice pieces of music.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

CITY DIRECTORY.—Messrs. Dudley & Greenough have again issued a new edition of their Portsmouth Directory—and in good style, as usual. We have not examined it, but of course there will always be unimportant mistakes and inaccuracies. The publishers state that no effort has been spared to present a satisfactory work of the kind, and they may well claim the large increase of 520 names as an evidence of this. The number given in 1867 was 2704, while now it is 3224, which shows thorough canvassing, rather than increase of business or population, of course.

☞ City Marshal Johnson has been sick at home for several days of fever, and on Thursday was reported delirious.

☞ Stone & Murray's famous Circus is to exhibit in Portsmouth on Friday, June 18.

A GREAT IMPROVEMENT Dr. Coleman has made in the Lefavour premises he has just purchased on Middle Street,—by cutting down the old and overgrown trees in front of the house. We hope he will not make the mistake of allowing a close fence to remain,—or any fence more than four feet high. The beauty of Portsmouth is sadly marred by the numerous State Prison fences all about town,—the like of which we never saw elsewhere in anything near such profusion as here.

A high, close fence, with huge pillars and posts, inevitably causes houses to look smaller and streets narrower, besides greatly lessening the actual attractions of the premises themselves, whether from interior or exterior view. Take, for instance, the well-known elegant gambrel-roofed house on Pleasant Street, (one of the handsomest residences we ever saw,) and that on the corner of State and Middle Streets, similar in style,—can anybody with half an eye, fail to see that the substitution of a light and low fence or hedge for the high and close boarding, would add vastly to the great beauty both these estates already possess, and improve the appearance of the whole neighborhood?

The only defence the ugly bulkheads ever have, is either on the score of privacy or security,—and all those best informed will tell you that they do not protect; nor could their absence in very many cases, especially in front, exhibit aught but objects pleasant and proper to be seen. Do lower the high fences, for they are a great offence to good taste.

P. S.—We are pleased to learn, accidentally, that our good friend Dr. Coleman is to have no fencing at all in front of his house, which is the very best thing in many cases. The world is fenced, as well as governed, too much.

STREET SPRINKLING.—Mr. Plaisted desires us, in order to answer many inquirers, to state that the reason he does not sprinkle Market and other principal thoroughfares is, the lack of sufficient subscriptions as yet to pay the cost even,—and he does not intend, as in previous years, to run his machine just for the fun of it, and pay the tolls himself.

For instance, it will cost $200 to sprinkle Market Street from the Square to Bow Street, and on canvassing the street he could get but $110 or $125.—A guaranty of the balance will secure the sprinkling in this, one of the most important streets in the city.

So of Islington Street,—he will sprinkle from the Academy to Cabot St. for $350:—and parties interested should guaranty these amounts, and could collect them easily enough, but it is too much for one man to do it all.

State Street, from Middle to Pleasant, will cost $200,—and we don't know any street that needs it more.

☞ The scores made on Friday in the match between the Granite State Base Ball Club of this city and the Minnies of South Berwick, at the latter place, have been handed in; but, owing to the absence of our base ball editor on a cruise, we are unable to give the details of the game, being only able to make out that the Granite States didn't win,—47 to 17.

☞ See Auction column, for various Sales to-day and hereafter.

BASE BALL.—On Wednesday the champion Mutuals beat the Lowells, 26 to 21. The Lowells and Harvards will play their second game, on Jarvis' field, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—A Nevada paper reports the passage by its office of a "drove of Chinese laborers." Each carried his own baggage, consisting of an extra hat.

New Hampshire Items.

A woman in London, not yet forty years old, has been married four times. Two of her husbands are supposed to have departed this life, and two are still alive. A few weeks ago she left husband number four, and while absent from her house, in the day time, some persons unhinged all the doors, took out every window, and broke in the chimney and ceiling.

The widow of the late John Taylor, of Salisbury, has presented Judge Nesmith, of Franklin, with eleven letters written to her husband by Daniel Webster, some of them dated thirty years ago.

A correspondent of the Patriot says that scarlet fever is raging in Contoocook and Warner to a fearful extent. It causes at least one death a day among children, and one family has lost three children by it in three weeks.

Cyrus Hurd and a young man from Winchester, named George Burpee, committed for breaking and stealing, escaped from the jail at Keene, on the night of the 22d, by sawing off an iron bar in one of the gratings. It will be remembered that Hurd was recently convicted of setting his house on fire, to keep it out of the hands of his creditors. A reward of $50 is offered for Hurd's capture, and $25 for Burpee's.

The Willis Mills, in Unionville, Swanzey, were totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 22d. All the contents were burned, including 400 dozen pails which were ready to be sent off on the following Monday. The loss is from $12,000 to $15,000; insurance, $3,000.

The Sentinel says that a man named Stephen Franklin fell upon the saw in Naremore's mill in Winchester, on the 24th inst., and was instantly killed. From the manner in which he fell it is supposed that he was suddenly seized with a fit.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Isaac White, of Bow, died very suddenly, probably from a disease of the heart. She went into the garden to gather greens for dinner, and became suddenly blind. She called for help, and when reached by a person near at hand, was found to be insensible and survived but a few minutes.

An interesting case was tried in the U. S. District Court at Manchester. A bankrupt's creditors objected to a discharge on the ground that the bankrupt lost money by gambling. Witnesses appeared to show that he gambled, and lost, as he said. But the jury thought the applicant ought to have a discharge and the Court so ordered.

Dr. Dio Lewis had very intelligent audiences at Manchester recently which he greatly interested, both by his subject of physical education and by the manner in which he presented it. The Doctor announced that on Sunday evening, if arrangements should be made, he would take up the subject of intemperance, and put in motion a ball that should set the people of Manchester into a state of effective action in the cause of temperance. He had given an impetus to the same in Dover and in Nashua, where the women are effectually at work in the good cause.

Detective Moses Sargent of Boston, assisted by City Marshals Abbot of Dover and Hills of Biddeford, arrested James Wayland in Dover, for setting fire to the house of Philip Eastman, Esq., of Saco, in April. Saco and Biddeford have suffered severely from fires during the last two years, the fire department having been called out forty-eight times in 1868.

The annual Camp Meeting held by the Methodist Churches of this vicinity, has been appointed to begin on Monday, August 23.—Dover Eng.

Fred F. Lyons stole a gold chain at Biddeford, went to Great Falls, sold the chain, and went to Dover. Assistant Marshal Warren heard he was there, hunted him up, arrested him, and telegraphed the fact to Deputy Sheriff Bracy of Great Falls, who took him away.

The Concord Monitor says the prospect for apples in that section is not very good. The bloom is light. The Laconia Democrat makers a similar complaint for that section.

Rev. Frank G. Clark, late Principal of Francestown Academy, has received a call to become pastor of the Congregational church in Brookline. Salary $800 and use of parsonage.

During a thunder shower in Boscawen on Wednesday night last week, a thunder bolt fell and burst, boring a number of round holes in the ground from the size of a finger to that of a man's wrist. It struck near the house of a gentleman, who saw the smoke and sparks of fire as it struck, and who communicated the fact to the Mirror.

PLANT CORN.—In remarking that corn is a profitable crop to raise, we state what we known to be true. The knowledge is derived from fair and careful experiment, extending over a period of five years. We have grown corn under favorable and unfavorable circumstances, and, from accurate records and experiments, are fully convinced that small farmers and large farmers, those having good soils and poor soils, can raise Indian corn at a profit.

Farmers are very apt to overlook the great value of the corn-fodder in forming their opinions of the importance of the crop. We estimate the value of this to be nearly or quite equal to the whole expense of cultivating the crop. It is certain, a ton of well cured corn-fodder will make as much milk when fed to milch-cows as a ton of good upland hay; and it is also certain, that young cattle thrive upon it wonderfully,—better, indeed, than upon most kinds of fodder fed to them during the winter months. We have always noticed a diminution in the flow of milk when the last of the fodder had been fed to our herd of cows, and also the quality of the milk deteriorates. Corn-fodder should be well cared for and as much pains taken to preserve it in good condition as is taken with crops of clover or timothy.

Corn should not be harvested too early, or while the stalks are green, as, in this case, they are certain to heat in the mow, and take on putrefactive change. Cattle will not eat them if they are mouldy and half rotten. As soon as the corn is removed from the husks, they should be thrown over, and mixed with wheat or oat straw and well salted. If salt marsh hay can be procured, mix considerable quantities of this hay with them, and thus prepared the fodder will be consumed with a relish.

Plant corn, say we. Prepare a few barrels of bone and ash fertilizer, and place a handful in each hill, and it will start it vigorously, and sustain it thro' to maturity. We raised eighty bushels of good sound corn to the acre the past season, upon rather poor land, with the aid of this fertilizer. At the time of planting, a little earth should be sprinkled over the fertilizer, so that the seed may not rest directly upon it.—Journal of Chemistry.

AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING, —AND— SEWING MACHINE!

H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street,
Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

The Reasons Why

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, folling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.

5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

The Chronicle.

From the New York Times of May 25.

DISMISSAL OF GOVERNMENT CLERKS FOR POLITICAL REASONS.—Under the head of "An Open Letter to Mr. Boutwell," the New-York Evening Post recently alleged that a capable and faithful clerk in the Treasury Department has been dismissed "for no other reason than that he, in common with many of the best men in the Republican Party, did not think the impeachment policy a wise one," and that Hon. Thomas L. Tullock, the present head of the appointment office of the Treasury, had announced this as the reason for the removal of one who claims "to have always been a Republican."

It is perhaps needless to remark that Mr. Tullock never assigned the reason alleged for the removal of any officer or employe of the Government; an inquiry was therefore necessary in order to ascertain the name of the individual who has so imposed upon the Post. The name furnished by the editors of that paper was Henry E. Paulsen.

An examination of the record shows that the name of Paulsen was included in a list of a score or more of clerks who were recommended for removal by the chief of the bureau in which he and they were employed, and that the removals were made in accordance with that recommendation, by the Secretary of the Treasury in the usual way Mr. Tullock having no part nor lot in the affair, save as the officer whose duty it is to see that the directions of the Secretary of the Treasury, in reference to removals and appointments, are carried out. Moreover, documents on file in the Department, and accessible to all interested, disclose the fact that Paulsen's conversion to the policy of the Republican Party must be of very recent date, as the signatures of a number of respectable persons attest his warm advocacy of the cause of Seymour and Blair up to the day of their defeat.

So far, then, the Post has been imposed upon, and will no doubt hasten to acknowledge the fact. Perhaps, while confessing its error, it will take occasion to explain what it means by charging that Mr. Tullock once misused "the franks of Republican members of Congress, and the name of the Republican congressional Committee for the circulation of documents foreign to the policy of the Republican party"—a charge which no person acquainted with the gentleman thus complained of, would credit for a moment.

Mr. Tullock was the able and faithful Secretary of the Republican Congressional Committee during the campaign which terminated in the election of President Grant, and upon him devolved the duty of distributing documents amounting to more than fifty million pamphlet pages, besides a vast number of speeches furnished for distribution and franked by Republican members of Congress; and the statement that the discharge of his duties involved the misuse of the franks of the members of Congress is erroneous and insulting.

The members of the Congressional Committee, in whose behalf Mr. Tullock acted, are aware that the utmost discrimination was displayed in the selection of matter for distribution during the campaign, and that the practice was to retain upon the shelves such documents, presented by members of Congress, as were adjudged to have no important bearing upon the issues of the canvass.

The entire work of the Committee, involving the economical expenditure of vast sums of money and a correspondence filling several large volumes, was done under the supervision of Mr. Tullock, and much of it with his own hands and brains; and to his earnestness in the cause and his sagacity and vigilance is the country largely indebted for the triumphant issue of the campaign.

No one is more familiar with this fact than the gentleman to whom the Post has seen fit to address its "open letter," for upon his knowledge of Mr. Tullock's sagacity and faithfulness was based the selection of the last named gentleman to occupy the most difficult and delicate position in the Treasury Department, a position upon the intelligent discharge of the duties of which the public service in the financial department of the Government in a great measure depends.

Mr. Tullock's public record is one to which the country can look with satisfaction and pride. He made the best Secretary of State which his native State—New-Hampshire—ever had. For more than twenty years a public officer, he has shown himself a model of industry and tact, while in all things his integrity has become proverbial. With large experience, fine talents and the noblest Christian character, there are few places in the Government to which he may not aspire, and, thus aspiring, none to which he may not attain.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1865, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.50 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Liberal inducements are offered by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices (as profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for about ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who first attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY,

The News.

The graves of Union soldiers throughout the country were decorated with flowers on Saturday and Sunday, the Grand Army of the Republic and the citizens generally joining in the ceremony. Processions, music and orations, with the lavish outpouring of floral tributes from rich and poor, made the occasion most impressive and memorable.

Rev. E. N. Hidden has resigned the pastorate of the Congregational Society at Great Falls.—The deposits in Great Falls Savings Bank have increased sixty-three thousand dollars during the year ending May 1.

Dr. T. S. Foster, of Laconia has been arrested charged with an attempt to kill Geo. T. Farrar, on 9th of December, by poisoning, by giving him cyanide of potassium.—This case will be familiar to most of our readers. It is the same for which Mrs. Farrar was tried last January. Dr. Foster was arraigned before a Justice, and pleaded not guilty. He gave bail in the sum of $800. No time was fixed for a hearing, as it will depend upon the engagements of counsel for the Defendant. The arrest caused a good deal of excitement. Mrs. Farrar, who was in Jail in that county on a charge of attempting to poison her husband, G. T. Farrar, has procured bail, and is now at large.

Mr. Edward Dow is preparing plans for a large and elegant house for Gen. Natt Head, which is designed to occupy the site of the present homestead of the General in Hooksett. The location is an exceedingly agreeable one, spacious, sightly and accessible. The new house is designed with full reference to the advantages of the lot, with towers, piazza, Mansard roof, &c.

Work on the Hotel and Depot of the Mt. Washington Railway has commenced. That on the Road will not begin until June. Only 500 feet of the Road remains to be built, and by July cars will run from the foot to the summit—and the romance of riding or climbing the Mountain will be gone forever.

Capt. Charles Beede, of Laconia, died very suddenly on Monday, the 24th, while sitting at the table eating. He had been afflicted for a long time with cancer in the throat.

Young McConnell, who was sent to Haverhill Jail last week Monday, for the outrage on the Goss girl, in Enfield, was let out Saturday, upon the furnishing by his friends of the $1,000 bail.

Recently a bankrupt's creditors at Manchester objected to his discharge on the ground that the bankrupt lost money by gambling. Witnesses appeared to show that he gambled, and lost, as he said; but the jury thought he ought to have a discharge, and the court so ordered.

☞ Our respected associate has gone to General Court at Concord, to which body he was accredited by the legal voters of Ward Two at the last election. We shall keep the Chronicle readers posted on the important matters which come before the Legislature of New Hampshire at this session, expecting that the sinuosities of political wire-pulling will be easily understood by those who have an inside view of the scores of schemes which will be introduced for their consideration at the first practicable moment after the organization of both Houses.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

RYE, May 31.

The Selectmen have called a meeting for next Saturday, to see if the town will authorize them to build a new road from the Farragut House to North Hampton line. The road now used is on the beach, and is very narrow, besides being private property; and although used, during the summer season especially, by the public, to a great extent, has always been kept in repair by the late J. C. Philbrick, the town never having expended anything on it. As the town voted to indefinitely postpone every thing in the road line, at the last annual meeting, it is very likely that this project will meet the same fate. The new highway laid out last year, between Mr. J. Curtis Philbrick's and Mr. Daniel Philbrick's is nearly completed, and will be open for travel before many days. It shortens and straightens the old road, and is quite an improvement. The new highway at the "East End," leading from the road to Mr. Albert Dow's across the marsh to Wallis' Sands, about which the town has had some trouble, and which was finally let out to be built last Fall, and was built (or at least the contractors thought it was,) is in rather a bad fix, for according to the accounts given about it, it sinks down into the marsh mud faster than gravel can be hauled on to keep it in sight, and as there were specifications to the effect that the road would not be accepted until it was "so wide and so high," after being "well settled," it is somewhat a matter of interest to the contractors, as well as the town, to know when the time will come when it will reach a solid foundation, that the selectmen may disburse the amount due the contractors after the work is finished. Many think that it will be impossible to make a road there, anyway, that will stand for any length of time, and it looks very much as if the town would have to pay out a large sum of money for a road, and then have no road after all.

The prospect for a large crop of apples does not look very promising, but some trees are blossoming out very well. The cherry trees never were so full, seemingly, as they were last week, and it was indeed a beautiful sight to see them,—and it must have been quite a treat to the humming-birds. A large number of these diminutive specimens of the feathered tribes were in constant attendance at all hours, extracting the sweets from the snowy blossoms, and doubtless destroying myriads of insects. Vegetation is coming up fast, and farmers are already commencing their hoeing. The season is considerably earlier than last year, as some farmers did not plant their corn then, until the first of June.

R.

NEW QUARANTINE HOSPITAL.—The following letter to the Selectmen of Kittery explains itself;

Gentlemen; I am authorized by the Hon. Secretary of the Navy to obtain from the competent authorities of the town of Kittery a formal consent to the use of their island called "Wood Island" for Quarantine purposes by the U. S. vessels which may arrive here infected with sickness.

If you shall give your consent in writing, suitable temporary buildings will be immediately erected upon the island, which will remove all danger from your neighborhood and prevent the uneasiness which this community has always felt when a vessel with yellow fever on board has arrived at this Port.

The season being so far advanced, no time is to be lost and I therefore request an early reply [Signed] J. Guest, Comd't Portsmouth Navy Yard.

We have been informed since the above has been in type that the Selectmen of the town of Kittery have given their consent for the use of the said Island for the purpose named and that the buildings will be immediately erected. The old Barracks at Seavey's Island are being removed.

This will be good news to the inhabitants of Kittery, Kittery Point, Portsmouth and Newcastle, among whom the arrival of a yellow fever ship has always created great uneasiness, especially since 1864, when there were 40 cases amongst residents, and twenty deaths, following the arrival of the De Soto. No act of the Navy Department could gratify the inhabitants of the shores of the Piscataqua more than this. It is thoughtful and humane, and reflects great credit upon all concerned.

BASE BALL.—The Empires waxed the Young America at the Plains on Monday, 30 to 16. Mr. S. A. Donnell of the Granite States was umpire.

☞ We hear that an extensive broom manufactory is to be erected in Portsmouth.

A WONDERFUL PHYSICIAN—EXTRAORDINARY CURES WITHOUT MEDICINES.—Dr. Gage, the renowned Naturopathic Physician, whose wonderful cures without medicines or surgery have created such a stir throughout the principal cities of the Union, has taken parlors at the American House, Dover, N. H. from Tuesday, June 1st, until about the 20th. The unseen yet all-potent elements of nature, used by persons favorably organized and constituted, perform the most wonderful cures without the use of medicines, and so certain is the effect that many cases require but one or two operations to perform a cure. Most all forms of disease that are curable have been found to yield under this mode of treatment, and what is still more wonderful, a large number of cases that have been given up as incurable by the most renowned physicians of the different schools of medicine, have been perfectly cured by this all-potent, life-giving power in an almost incredible short space of time, and that, too, without the application of medicines or surgical operations. Dr. Gage's treatment is according to the laws of nature, removing obstructions to the nervous fluids, and restoring the circulation to the various organs of the system, thus giving the secretions a healthy action, and re-vitalising the functions of life. This treatment is rapidly becoming popular in all parts of the country on account of the many wonderful cures performed by him. We select the following from the many cares recently performed at Concord.

ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 28, 1868.

DR. GAGE—Dear Sir: I have enclosed a true statement of my case, and have also sent one to the New Hampshire Patriot office for publication so that my friends might see the great change made by Dr. Gage. You are enclosed you can put in any paper you choose, or in your circular. Yours, &c.,

GEO. F. SLEEPER.

ANDOVER, N. H. Dec. 28, 1868.

DR. GAGE—Dear Sir: My kindest regards and influence will ever be in favor of your prosperity. For seven months I have been troubled with inflammation of the stomach, during which time I raised blood almost every day, and none of the time was I able to eat anything more hearty than boiled wheat and milk. It now has been two weeks and a half since your treatment, and I am as well as ever. I would say to all my friends that are suffering, go and see Dr. Gage.

Respectfully yours, GEO. F. SLEEPER.

DR. GAGE AND HIS WONDERFUL CURES. It will been seen elsewhere that Dr. Gage, who has been working such remarkable cures in the principal cities and villages of New York, Massachusetts and New Hampshire, has taken Parlors at the American House, Dover, N. H., from Tuesday June 1st, until about the 20th. The Doctor has for the past month been practising in Nashua, N. H., where he has, as usual, met with unbounded success, as is shown by many cures published, a few of which we subjoin: Mrs. Geo. McIntosh, at George J. Little's, No. 12 Cedar St., Nashua, severe case of scrofula, tongue and mouth one mass of corruption; cured of the same, together with other difficulties in a short time. Frank J. Wilson, 39 Temple street cured of severe bronchitis. Mrs. P. R. Jameson, 81 Chestnut street, perfectly cured of what physicians pronounced "cancer in the stomach and spinal difficulties." Mrs. H. Hamlet, Nashua, paralysis greatly relieved. William Elliot, Pepperell, asthma, obliged to sit up nights; since treatment feels free from the difficulty and can lay down and sleep as well as any person. Mrs. E. Spaulding, No. 2 Church street, complication of diseases and deafness; had not heard a sermon before in several years. Mrs. Elijah Putnam, Wilton, general wakefulness, &c. Frederick Mason field, Mason Village, deafness. L. Cutler, Milford, N. H., liver and stomach derangements. Mrs. John Cummings, Nashua, complication of diseases. Mrs. A. Lovejoy, South Merrimack, deafness, general debility, &c. Otis Pratt, Ashburnham, relieved of severe constipation. Mrs. Henry G. Buzzell, Nashua, asthma; has not been troubled since treatment. Wm. Craton, Mason, heart difficulty. Mrs. Jos. Wilson, 39 Temple street, debility &c. Such things are indeed wonderful, when we take into consideration the fact that nearly all the Doctor's cures are performed without medicine or surgery, and upon a class of patients who have been treated by many skillful physicians. The Dr. frankly tells the patient whether he considers the case curable, and daily reports many he considers incurable. He charges nothing for consultation, and his terms for treatment are reasonable.

The Vital Statistics of the United States
Show that periodical fevers and acute and chronic disorders of the stomach and bowels are among the most prominent and fatal diseases in this country. Disobedience to the laws of health, as regards diet; the use of pernicious stimulants; and the wear and tear of business excitement, and of "fast life" generally, have much to do with the prevalence of these maladies in our cities; while in the West, and especially in the newly opened districts, they are chiefly due to malaria, unwholesome water, and the exposure and privation incident to life in new settlements.

NOW, IT IS A FACT that it is as possible to protect the human system against those maladies, as to guard life and property against the incursions of assassins and thieves. Strengthen the vital organization with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and it becomes as capable of resisting the active principle of epidemic or endemic disease, as a fire-proof safe is of resisting the action of combustion. This is the experience of thousands who have remained unscathed by malarious disorders in the sickliest seasons, while their neighbors, who neglected to tone and regulate their systems with this unequaled medicinal stimulant, have fallen thick and fast around them. Weakness invites disease. Vigor repels it. Help nature to fight the good fight with infection, whether it be in the air, the water, or the soil, with this matchless preparation,—a compound of the rarest vegetable extracts with the purest of all diffusive stimulants.

Brandreth's Pills.
TO THE PUBLIC.
Brandreth's Pills have been known and used by your grandfathers and grandmothers. They are always safe, and sure to do you good. They are purely vegetable, and diminish the death principle; some think they increase the principle of life. But in taking out bad humors from the blood, they do make the body lighter, and thus seem to add energy. Many families have used them for upwards of forty years.

They are the best medicine for Colds, for all Bilious Affections, for Fullness about the Head or Heart, and in all Cutaneous and Contagious Diseases they are unrivalled. In all cases in which a purgative is indicated, no medicine yet known can be compared to them. Two hundred physicians have testified that Brandreth's Pills are superior to all other purgatives whatever. Sold by all Druggists. my21

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—INCIPIENT DROPSY.—To ascertain whether a swelling is dropsical in its nature, press it with the finger, and if a dent remains after the finger is withdrawn, water is assuredly gathering there. In that case, stimulate the external absorbents by a vigorous application of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, and they will soon take up the extraneous fluid and restore the cellular tissue to a healthy state. The PILLS should also be taken occasionally, to carry off the superfluous humor through the natural drain of the system. Sold by all Druggists.

To Owners of Horses.
Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a Horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 21 years by the first horsemen in the country. Given to an overdriven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the RACING STABLES of England for it.

The celebrated Hiram Woodruff used and recommended it to his friends, years before his death. Dr. T. F. Rush, of Cayuga, Cayuga county, has given me a certificate stating it to be superior to any other he had used. Hundreds of others can be seen at the Depot, 482 Pearl Street, N. Y. Sold by the Druggists and Store-keepers. my21

THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP and SKIN,
Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil taints of mercury and purifying all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with PERFECT SAFETY.

TWO TABLE SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable, that it renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.
The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and is well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter in the lungs, raises it, and then throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, then the starts freely and the liver will be relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and tonic, and will not make the blood hot, thereby which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, that they try to do too many things; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. He removes the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Cancer, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, and if the disease is not broken up, irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what matter is left, is not only the part that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the forenamed medicines, and since recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond Street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y1a4

MEMORIAL DAY.

To-day the thought that's uppermost
Thrills thro' the land from sea to sea,
In memory of the valiant host
That fought and fell for Liberty—
Is honor to the heroes brave
Who sleep with glory in the grave!

We gather here with faltering feet—
With hearts too heavy to be proud;
For victory seems so sadly sweet,
Even now we dare not shout too loud.
These voiceless flowers shall speak instead
Our love for the heroic dead.

They died for us; and for our sake
These lonely graves that fill the land
Marshal their hosts to-day and make
An unseen army mutely grand,
Whose fair white tents of peace profound
Shall guard the nation, round and round.

MRS. T. E. O. MARVIN.

Saturday was duly observed in the Decoration of Soldiers' Graves by the members of the Grand Army of the Republic in this city, notwithstanding the rain which commenced Friday night continued through the larger part of the day. The hour named for the procession to start was 2 o'clock precisely, and the various organizations composing the procession were prompt in assembling,—the line of march being commenced with only five minutes delay. The walking was as uncomfortable as could be, but the veterans had seen worse in worse places, and they departed not from the street for better walking on the sidewalk though the march was to be a long and tedious one.

The procession consisted of Storer Encampment, G. A. R., of this city, with full ranks, led by the Portsmouth Cornet Band; Carriages containing Disabled Soldiers; S. F. Engine Co. No. 1, Edward E. McIntire, Foreman; S. F. Engine Co. No. 2, Benj. Plumer, Foreman; Granite State, No. 5, Andrew Langdon, Foreman; Atlantic, No. 6, Ira C. Seymour, Foreman; the members of the Boys' High School, and the City Government in Carriages,—all under command of Major Daniel J. Vaughan, Post Commander of the G. A. R.'s in this city.

The ladies had patriotically worked early and late in preparing wreaths and bouquets for the use of the decorators, and the larger portion of the procession bore these floral offerings,—which were very elaborate in construction and exquisitely arranged, forming a grand and beautiful feature of the procession.

Moving from Market Square through Market, Deer, Vaughan and Elm streets, the procession (after the graves at the North cemetery were decorated,) resumed its march to the South cemetery, through Vaughan, Congress, Islington, Cabot and Middle streets, and Richards Avenue. On arrival at the cemetery, Dress Parade was formed, Reading of the Scriptures and Prayer by Post Chaplain Robert Rand (the hero of three wars) followed, and the General Order of Gen. Logan appointing the day as a proper time for decorations, was read by Post Adjt. Chas. E. Plaisted, singing being interspersed between the exercises. The graves were then decorated, the Band playing a dirge, and a salute of three volleys was fired over the graves. The procession then re-formed, and all united in singing the Doxology, which rang out grandly and with fine effect. The route of the procession on the return march was through South, Pleasant, State, Middle and Congress streets to Market Square, where it was dismissed at 5:15 P. M., after the spectators had joined in singing "America."

The programme was faithfully and successfully carried out, and as it was impossible to visit every grave yard containing the remains of a soldier, delegations from Post No. 1 visited in the forenoon the Catholic cemetery at the Plains, and those at Gravelly Ridge and Newcastle, and one on Long Lane where but one soldier lies buried.

Rev. Messrs. De Normandie and Adams delivered Addresses suitable to the occasion on Sunday, at their respective churches.

The memorial services at Kittery, Sunday afternoon, were very interesting and impressive, and were witnessed by several thousand people. The day was a very pleasant one and many of our citizens visited Kittery, Storer Encampment G. A. R., going over in a body, led by the Cornet Band. The procession was formed at Armory Hall, under the Marshalship of Lieut. Edwin A. Duncan, assisted by Lieut. Samuel A. James and Sergeant James Atkinson, in the following order; Portsmouth Cornet Band; Wentworth Encampment, G. A. R., Gen. Mark F. Wentworth, commanding; Storer Encampment of Portsmouth; Whipple Lodge of Good Templars of Kittery and the Sabbath Schools.

The procession marched to Orchard Grove Cemetery where a monument has been erected to the memory of Kittery's brave dead who took part in the battles of the rebellion. The opening Prayer was made by Rev. Mr. Goss, after which Post Adjt. Calvin L. Hayes read Gen. Logan's general Order for the observance of the day, and the graves were decorated with flowers and wreaths, the Band playing a dirge. Rev. W. H. H. Pillsbury delivered a very able and eloquent Oration, which we regret we have not room to publish. The remaining exercises were,—Music by the Band, "God bless our native land;" a patriotic Poem, by Philip O'Neill, who is widely known from the publicity given his poems by means of the press; "America," by the Band; an Address by Rev. Mr. Goss; Closing Prayer by Rev. Mr. Cottle; A salute of three volleys by a detachment of the Grand Army; and "Old Hundred" by the Band—the audience joining in singing.

The procession was a very long one and presented a fine appearance as it marched over the route. We heard an enthusiast estimate that it numbered 1000 persons, but think the estimate rather high. The demonstration was in every way a success, and reflected great credit on those having the matter in charge. The Kittery Post numbers 131 members, and is in a flourishing condition.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors; We do not enjoy trading where goods are dirty from the Market Street dust, which in dry hot weather not only blows into the stores, but fills our eyes, mouths and ears, so that it is a great effort to see, talk or hear—and what's the use, please tell us, to spoil our good clothes, (which cost money and much time,) to patronize people who are too mean or short-sighted to secure comfort for us, while they are ready enough to make every cent they can from their customers?

Morning Chronicle.

The Merchant Service.—No XIV.

I have seen more than one sailor maltreated for complaining of bad provisions. One, who brought a most fearful looking and smelling mess called "soup" aft, saying that the crew could not eat it, was astonished by having the soup-kid suddenly turned bottom up on his head,—the hot soup making him cry out and writhe and groan in the most laughter-provoking manner. The mate told me, "He's a d—d impudent rascal, —he's been aft here growlin' about the grub more'n a dozen times since we'ye been out." I didn't wonder at it, if that soup was a fair specimen of the said "grub." This was in port; and I informed the United States consul, who laughed at the joke, and the affair was ended. The ship was burned shortly after by the Alabama,—one good deed to her credit, at any rate.—It may be remembered that one of the James Foster's men was murdered for complaining of unwholesome food.

A well-to-do business man of this city, who enjoyed a life on the ocean wave before he settled down on shore, gave me an instance of petty tyranny which he was once made to feel. In the ship to which he belonged were four sailors (himself among them) who incurred the displeasure of the captain and officers, on a trip to Havre. On arriving at that port wages were found to be several dollars a month lower than the ship was paying, so it was a fine chance to get rid of the obnoxious men. No cooking is allowed on board ships in that place, and crews are usually sent on shore to get their meals at some designated boarding-house; and this rule was observed with this ship's company, with the exception of the four black sheep, who had some salt junk sent on board to them, and were told that they would get nothing better while the ship was in port. This was perfectly legal; yet every one will acknowledge that it would naturally be as irritating to the sailors as it was mean and contemptible on the part of the captain. In addition to this salt beef vengeance, the men were treated to a double share of hard and dirty work; so pretty soon they got tired of it, and asked the mate (in the captain's absence,) if they were wanted to leave the ship,—to which he replied that they could go if they liked. They did go, and asked for their money! which of course they didn't get; so they went to the consul, who told them plainly that the captain was empowered to treat them just as he liked, and that they had no claim on him for a cent, not having been ordered from the ship. So the skipper had all the money and the sailors had none.

Seamen are often compelled to perform actions so utterly revolting to every sense of decency that not even the vilest sensation paper in the land would publish the details were I to write them: sometimes as a punishment for an insolent reply, (any displeasing reply is insolent, no matter what its truth or how provoked,) but more frequently to "keep the sailors where they belong," or to gratify the lust of oppression which has been fostered and encouraged in the breasts of base men by baser laws, until it has spread to such an extent, that, of any three American ships in any foreign port, at least one may be counted on with an almost absolute certainty as being a disgrace to our flag, to our pretended championship of liberty and equal rights, and to our humanity.

In 1862 or '63, I boarded one of the finest of our clippers, then laying at anchor in Port Otago, New Zealand, to purchase a launch; having a companion in the person of an English mate, who had just left his ship and joined me.—The ship had achieved fame as a wild packet, and several of her smashed-up men were in jail at the time, for various offences committed since her arrival in port. A number had managed to desert, and two had got safely clear of their tyrants by being drowned while attempting to reach the shore; their dead bodies having been picked up and buried by the water-police. When we got on board, the captain was absent and the mate off duty, (being a gentleman, he was of course out of place on board such a ship,) and the second mate was officer in charge. He was a big, burly ruffian, with a countenance as expressive of intelligence and humanity as that of a raw-meat-fed bulldog; and, to entertain us while we awaited the captain's return from Dunedin, he told us, with evident amusement, how another of their sailors had been drowned the night previous, in trying to desert. Said he, "The cursed fool lashed a life-buoy way down on the small of his back, and when he got overboard the buoy kept his back to the top of the water and his head under it, and cooked him. I towed him ashore this morning,—found him right here alongside."

In most of the incidents I have related, while writing on this subject, I have withheld the names of ships and persons; and I shall do the same in this case with the name of the ship, (though a worse hell than she now is hardly flies our flag,) in consideration of two ladies, —the captain's wife and his sister,—who constantly exerted their influence to check the barbarity of the captain and his second and fourth mates; and who, immediately the ship arrived in port, threw themselves upon the hospitality of the American consul, and informed the husband and brother that they would not return to the ship while the second mate remained on board.—This I had from the consul himself. But the second mate's name I will give, partly as revenge for the insult he gave me in his implied insinuation that I was as base as himself, and could enjoy the needless degradation and suffering of another, as he did. His name was Alonzo Merchant, and I believe he disgraced Massachusetts by being born in some part of that State. PAKEHA.

AGED PEAR TREES.—In the orchard owned by Mr. Jefferson Raitt of Eliot, stands some very ancient pear trees. His grandfather, who was born in 1730, picked fruit and ate from one of these trees, when he was six years of age. Blossoms are appearing on these trees this year.—Biddeford Journal.

—In the Austrian empire about 30,000,000 barrels of wine, most of it in Hungary, worth there about 130,000,000 florins ($52,000,000), are raised every year, of which product only one per cent. was exported in 1867.

—"Money makes the mare go." If going were all, the mare had been at her journey's end ere this.—The Radical.

AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE, OVERSEAMING, —AND— SEWING MACHINE!

H. N. DUNYON, 27 Market Street, Agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

The Reasons Why

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, felling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)

3. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine can.)

4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)

5. Because it can do "overhand seaming," by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

Caution.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.

The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL, MANUFACTURERS OF Axes, Shovels, Saws, &c., No. 118 WATER STREET, PITTSBURG, PA., Dec. 3, 1868.

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.: Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we entered into an agreement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more of your papers.

But a short time elapsed before we were inquired of on every side for "Colbarn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," proving to us that your plan of Lists was the best one to bring business to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.

The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but express our surprise at the success of your "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order still adding one more list of 100 local papers, making the number now altogether four (4) Lists of One Hundred (100) local papers.

The more we know of newspaper agents and editors' agents the more satisfied we are that the arrangement we have made with you is preferable to any we have ever heard of. The merit of the Ax itself has, of course, something to do with the great demand for it, but we are satisfied that by your system of advertising by "Lists" we have established in one year what would have ordinarily taken us five years to accomplish.

Respectfully, LIPPINCOTT & BAKEWELL.

The following from the National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, may be taken as an answer to those who inquire if these "Lists" can really be good advertising mediums.

OFFICE OF THE National Publishing Company, No. 26 SOUTH SEVENTH STREET, J. R. JONES, President.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10, 1868. MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 40 PARK ROW: Gentlemen:—It is more than three years since we began advertising in your "Lists of One Hundred Papers" each, and in that time have given "The List System," as originated by you, a thorough trial, and it is my duty to say it is the cheapest and best general advertising medium we have any knowledge of.

We have tried every possible mode of advertising, having dealt with the press direct, and through nearly every advertising agency in the country, and have no hesitation in saying that your Lists have paid us 50 per cent. better than any other way. Respectfully, NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO.

SONGS.

BY JEAN INGELOW.

From "Mopsa the Fairy," now in Press.

On the rocks by Aberdeen,
Where the whislin' wave had been,
As I wandered and at e'en
Was eerie;
There I saw thee sailing west,
And I ran with joy oppress—
Ay, and took out all my best,
My dearie.

Then I busked mysl' wi' speed,
And the neighbors cried 'What need?
'Tis a lass in any weed
Aye bonny!'
Now my heart, my heart is sair.
What's the good, though I be fair,
For thou'lt never see me mair,
Man Johnnie!

Sweet is childhood—childhood's over,
Kiss and part.
Sweet is youth; but youth's a rover—
So's my heart.
Sweet is rest; but by all showing
Toil is nigh.
We must go. Alas! the going,
Say 'good-bye.'

Chronicle & Gazette Correspondence.

MONTREAL, C. E., May 26.

Messrs. Editors: — Thinking a few lines from one of your subscribers in Rockingham County, who is now temporarily stopping in this "Garden of Canada," might be interesting, I give a description of a few things which have come under my observation on my journey here. Passing north from Manchester, on either side are to be seen farmers busily engaged in putting in their seed, in hopes of a bountiful harvest. Also are to be seen, on every hand, new buildings being erected, and old ones renovated and improved,—all marks of enterprise and thrift.

In this city are many things to attract the attention of the visitor.—Among them are the French Cathedral. This building is one of the largest on this continent. But the most wonderful of all is the Victoria Bridge. In its erection 250,000 tons of stone and 75,000 tons of iron have been used. This iron superstructure is supported on 24 piers, and 2 abutments, the centre span being 330 feet. There are 12 spans on each side of the centre, 242 feet each.—The length of the abutments is also 242 feet each.

The extreme length, including abutments, is 7000 feet. The height above summer water-level, in the centre opening, is 60 feet, descending on either side at the rate of 1 in 130. The contents of the masonry is 3,000,000 cubic feet. The weight of iron in the tubes is 8000 tons. The following are the dimensions of tube through which the trains pass, in the middle span: 22 feet high and 16 feet wide: and at the extreme ends, 19 feet high and 16 feet wide. The total length from bank to bank is 10,284 feet, or about 50 yards less than two miles.

There are many other things which interest the visitor, but it is very surprising to see with what jealousy, and perhaps hatred, the old English residents look upon Yankee enterprise,—never for once admitting, what we know, that we are smart.

Yours, HENRY CROWELL.

A POTATO PLANTER.—The Coos Republican describes a machine with the above name, which rests upon two broad tired small wheels, is drawn by one horse, and managed by one man, by handles similar to those on a plough. The potatoes are put in a box, and drop through its bottom into a furrow made by a small plow under the center of the machine, the furrow being covered by means of two small plows set further in rear. At 10 A. M., the Planter had finished over two acres, and the entire piece of six acres, was easily planted the same day—the work being well and thoroughly done. The price of the machine is $50.

☞ The latest social invention of the Parisian mind is rather pretty. At the entrance of the salon is placed a large covered basket containing small bouquets of flowers. Each guest plunges his or her hand into the basket and takes a posy, which the women attach to their dress or put in their hair, and the gentlemen place in their butonhole. The latter promenade through the salons, each in search of a lady wearing a similar bouquet to his own; and when she is found, he has a right to take possession of her and retain her as partner for the rest of the evening.

— Question: "What is faith?" Answer; "drinking over a bar."

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so pressing, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Groups, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Dodd's Nervine and Vegetable Liver. I had tried almost all he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Dodd's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1869.

The News.

A desperate engagement recently took place near Fort Griffin, between a scouting party from the fort and a band of Comanche and Kiowa Indians, in which the savages lost seventeen killed.

Fossil Creek Station, on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, was attacked by Indians on Friday night last, and two men killed and four wounded. The railroad track was torn up and thrown a considerable distance from the grading. A detachment of Gen. Custar's troops are in pursuit.

A Protestant Congress, numbering 20,000, is in session at Worms, Germany.

A dispatch from Havana says that the Spanish troops are in active pursuit of the fillibusters who landed in the Bay of Nipe, and have captured a number of their cannon, and killed Manuel Juarray, the commander of the riflemen.—A heavy engagement has taken place at Puerto Padre. The insurgents are massing their forces in the vicinity of Los Tunas. Captain-General Dulce's order, sending a number of political prisoners to Spain, has been revoked.

The British House of Commons has passed the bill for the disestablishment of the Irish Church,—361 to 247.

The Sons of Temperance have a National Convention at Washington, June 9th.

Secretary Borie has ordered that assistance and protection be given by the Asiatic Squadron to the laying of the East India cable.

It is now thought that the summer will pass without a general Indian war.

A three-mile sculling race on Charles River, on Monday, between J. W. Randall of Portland, and T. C. Butler of Boston, was won by Butler in 25 minutes and 22 seconds.

New Hampshire Items.

The New Hampshire Historical Society will hold its annual meeting in Concord on the 9th of June, when Rev. Dr. Bouton will read a memoir of the late Judge Potter.

The Manchester and Lawrence Railroad held its annual meeting in Manchester, on Friday. The old board of directors was re-elected as follows:—Asa Fowler, Ezekiel A. Straw, Benjamin F. Martin, Joseph T. Goss, Edward A. Abbot, George B. Chandler, William W. Stickney.

There are in Lebanon 408 horses, 1023 cattle, 9114 sheep, 224 hogs,—all exclusive of young stock. Also $51,400 in bank stock, and 140 dogs.

All the buildings on the farm in Plymouth occupied by Mr. John Chandler, were burned about noon of the 20th. The property belonged to an estate yet in law. The buildings were recently fully insured by the occupant. The fire originated in the barn, and a strong wind was blowing toward the house which rendered it impossible to make any attempt to save it. Loss and insurance not stated.

The old Adams Tavern (vulgarly called the "Peppermint,") situated one and one-half miles west of New Ipswich, was totally destroyed by fire recently, together with the barn, sheds, and ton of hay. The buildings were of no great value, but the loss falls somewhat severely on Mr. Brown, the occupant, and several female boarders. They barely escaped with there lives, losing there all. It was the work of an incendiary.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—On Sunday, while the lady organist at the Baptist Church in Rockport was playing the organ, a large church-lock, hanging on the wall above her, fell, and striking her, cut in her left cheek a frightful wound nearly three inches in length.

"The Advance."—The publisher of this religious journal, the subscription price of which is $2.50 per year, offers to send it to any address, during the remainder of the present year—from May to January—for One Dollar. Subscriptions should be sent to the Advance Co., Chicago, Ill.

☞ In England, the Colleges at Cambridge are raising a fund by subscription to dredge the river Cam, substitute bridges without piers for those which are now in the way, and cut off the bad corners in the stream, so as to make a better practising course for the rowing men.

☞ Senator Ross has called on the President again— probably to tell him he need not go where Ross invited him several weeks since.

☞ The Hedding Camp Meeting will commence Aug. 23d.

CONCORD, June 1.

The month of roses begins with a fine warm day, and the showers of last night make all sweet and clear. The coming of the Great and General Court of course is the subject of all interest just now. The chief question is the Speakership, the other officers, it is understood, mostly being retained. Col. H. O. Kent of Lancaster, and Saml. W. Wheeler, Esq., of Dover, are the competitors for the position; with Mr. Ray, also of Lancaster, and others, likewise named. It may be that my preference for Br. Kent, leads me to regard his chances the best in the Caucus to-night,—of which perhaps more by telegraph.

Gov. Stearns' Message will be short, only two or three columns of the Chronicle. He is too good a business man to spin out much at this time. The idea of the Portsmouth & Ogdensburg Railroad seems to strike favorably all who really wish for the P. & D. and Lake Shore Roads. F.

PORTSMOUTH AND OGDENSBURG RAILROAD.—A movement is on foot to secure a charter from the Legislature at the present session, incorporating the above named Railroad Company. The proposed charter provides that the Portsmouth & Dover, Dover & Winnipiscogee, and a road from Alton Bay to the Weirs in Meredith, shall be consolidated as the Portsmouth & Ogdensburg Railroad. If the P. & D. R. R. refuses to accept the provisions of the charter within one year, then the charter of the P. & O. R. R. shall be null and void.—If the D. & W. R. R refuses to consolidate, then the P. & O. R. R. has the right of way over their road.

☞ The famous Cuban expedition from New York landed at the bay of Nipe in Cuba. The Steamer Perit sailed from New York on May 4, bearing 350 men to re-enforce the insurgent army in Cuba. The men were well armed, and the steamer carried, besides 7000 stand of small arms, eight guns and a large supply of ammunition. The men, were of a rather turbulent character, and on the way out there were several fights. One day a mutiny arose out of a whiskey bottle, and before it was quelled a non commissioned officer shot and killed one of the leaders in the revolt. After this nothing occurred, until, when the steamer was cruising near the coast of Cuba, watching for a good chance to land, a Spanish man-of-war hove in sight; but the Perit hoisted the American flag and bore away. Through fear that notwithstanding this the Spanish frigate would come nearer and search the Perit, all the lights were extinguished and she escaped.

The Perit entered the bay of Nipe in broad daylight and landed all her men and stores without accident, a Spanish redoubt, which the fillibusters were surprised to see, making no opposition—either through blindness, cowardice or weakness. The success of the expedition is attributed to sheer good luck, as the Perit is very slow and would have fallen an easy prey to any cruiser that attempted her capture. The bay of Nipe, which is a large, nearly landlocked body of water, was entered at noon of the 11th of May, and by three o'clock the next morning the debarkation had been completed. A large steamer joined the Perit off the coast of Cuba and transferred her stores to the latter steamer.

WHICH IS THE BEST WRINGER?—We say the "Novelty," because it has the Patent Flange Cog-wheels on both ends. The cogs on one end of a roll are set relatively between those on the other end of the same roll, virtually forming a Double gear, and thereby nearly doubling the purchase.

This result can be obtained by putting all the gears on one end of the Wringer. But in so doing it is necessary to pin the rolls together to keep the cog-wheels in gear; also, (when the Patent Flange is not used,) to put a block between the bearings of the rolls to prevent the gears being pressed together close enough to bind.

The Patent Flange Cog-wheels, when used on both ends of the Wringer in connection with but one Pressure screw, allow the rolls to separate at either end, as one end or the other will always be in gear. If a pressure screw was used at both ends, this would not be the case, because one end of a roll would have no control over the other end. But with one pressure screw in the middle, the pressure is equalised, for if one end is forced up, the other end is thereby forced down. The Cog-wheels cannot be thrown out of gear on both ends of the Wringer at the same time, unless the pressure is taken off.

The Novelty is fastened to a tub or box by a Patent Curved Clamp, which has an equal bearing on a tub the whole length of the Wringer. Other Wringers are merely fastened to a stave at each end, and are thus liable to wrench the staves from their proper position and ruin the tub.

Buy the "Novelty" or at least take it on trial with any or all others, and keep the best.—(Moore's Rural New Yorker.)

It gives a pure Blooming Complexion and restores Youthful Beauty.

Its effects are gradual, natural and perfect. It Removes Redness, Blotches, and Pimples, cures Tan, Sunburn and Freckles, and makes a lady of thirty appear but twenty.

The best article to dress the Hair is Lyon's Kathairon.

☞ The great success of the UNION SAFE DEPOSIT VAULTS, 40 State street, Boston, is due to the fact that they amply supply the need long felt for some such place of perfect security. These vaults are not only fire and burglar proof, but are doubly guarded day and night, and the lessees of safes therein retain the keys. For the safe keeping of coin, bonds, stocks, valuable papers, bullion, plate, laces, rare paintings, works of art, jewelry, diamonds, &c., they are highly commended by the leading city bankers. Circulars to be had of Henry Lee, Manager.

☞ A celebrated New York barber said, not long since, that nice tenths of his customers preferred to have their dressed with "Barrett's Hair Restorative" to any other style, as it keeps the scalp so cool and free from dandruff.—Troy Daily Whig.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

BITTERS.—S. S. Harris, M. D. of New York, says of Mr. Speer's Wine.—"I find it to be an excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, preferable to all other Wines." The "Wine Bitters" has his pure Wine as a base, only being made bitter by the bitter principles of such herbs and roots as are daily used by the Medical Faculty. Try them, and you will use no other.

Sold by Druggists.

WEAKNESSES OF MERCHANTS.—How strange it is that most all Druggists and Grocers care less for the health and lives of their customers than they do for the dollars they make out of them. They try to shove off such goods upon which they make the most profit, no matter about the quality. Coffee ground with peas, pepper with burnt saw-dust, butter mixed with tallow, nutmegs made of wood, and rot-gut whiskey in square bottles to resemble medicine and called Bitters. A truly valuable article, however, like SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS, costs more to make, because it is of genuine Native Wine, with the most valuable Barks, Herbs and Roots, but the retail price is put down as low as any other Bitters, leaving less profit. Therefore the dealer grumbles because there is more trouble in the common run bitters, but must sell for the same price, and his money interest is to recommend the stuff upon which he makes the most money. Beware of such; study your own health; buy Speer's Standard Wine Bitters, a genuine article, and not merely an intoxicating beverage. First class dealers in America and Europe keep them.

WONDERFULLY "STANDARD BITTERS."—S. A. H. McKim, M. D., of Washington City, speaking of Speer's Wine says: "So much pleased have I been with it, that I have introduced it into the Washington Asylum, to which I am the Physician." His Wine is the base of his Bitters, made bitter by what are in daily use by the Medical Faculty. They only need a trial to recommend them.

Science Advances.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article.—Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, &c., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlightened age has consigned them.—There have been many spurious Bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while HOSTETTER'S has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health and vigor.

For many years we have watched the steady progress of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS in public estimation, and its beneficent effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation, after years of careful study and sitting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted. j2

Holloway's Pills.—IS THIS YOUR CASE?—A yellow suffusion of the skin, pain or pressure in the right side, dullness of spirits and indisposition to exertion, and a general feeling of weariness and weakness are infallible evidences that the liver is not doing its duty. To Owners of Horses.

Thousands of Horses die yearly from Colic. This need not be. Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment will positively cure every case, if given when first taken. The cost is only one dollar. Every owner of a Horse should have a bottle in his stable, ready for use. It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 21 years by the proprietors in Boston, Mass. Given to an Ox, driven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the RACING STABLES of ENGLAND for it.

The celebrated Hiram Woodruff used and recommended it to his friends, years before his death. Col. F. F. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and diaphoretic, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food, with the Pulmonic Syrup, and is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, that they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they make a worse disease, for they cause the lungs to up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Quinsy, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs are wasting away and diseased, ulcerated cavities, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases the question is not how are only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the use of these medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 32 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

HOLIDAYS. — The Concord Monitor seems to think it a noteworthy fact, that we omitted our daily of Monday morning, "because Saturday was memorial day," and adds, "That is a stretch upon the good nature of readers that wouldn't be tolerated in any other live place in the country."

But having always advocated holidays, (a good number of them in a year,) we have always tried to make our practice something like our professions; and when our workmen and boys have had a holiday on Saturday, we do not wish them to make it up by working nights and Sundays.

Our subscribers and advertisers understand this; for our practice has been uniform through all these seventeen years. Those readers who borrow or steal, may not tolerate our liberty; but for that we need not care, as our troops of friends, so far as we know, have never complained or remonstrated;—and we are sure that a holiday now and then, is refreshing to both editors and printers, and not injurious either to purse or reputation. We don't believe that those papers which make the most fuss are more successful than those which go along more smoothly.

ODDS AND ENDS.—Mr. Wilber I. Trafton is organizing a company of brevet brigadier generals, whose duty it shall be to see that the coming Fourth of July is properly celebrated. Recruits, old boots, or flutes, decayed suits, guns, andirons, fire crackers, rockets, horses not over 50 years of age, masks, no-wheeled carts, velocipedes, blacking boxes (empty), "shiners" whose occupation hath departed, horn-blowers, jews-harps, spokeless wagon wheels, jubilee pieces, broken bats, wooden grindstones, rimless hats, sheep skins and contents, clam diggers, gongs, penny whistles, tight pants, squash bugs, bugles, ash-pans, boomerangs, base ball pitchers, terriers, shanghae imitators, egg and tomato beaters, rat traps and flour sifters, desiring to join the caravan, will be handed in at 45 Congress Street within a few days, that the org anization may be completed.

FIRE.—A few minutes before midnight on Tuesday, fire was discovered in a small building on Green Street, near the depot, used by Mr. F. W. Rogers as a cow-barn; and before a stream of water could be brought to bear on the flames, they had spread to the adjoining stable of Mr. Danl. H. Spinney, both buildings being totally destroyed, but the live stock all saved. It is not known what caused the fire, which a breeze would probably have made much more extensive.

☞ Orders were received at the Navy Yard on Monday to muster the workmen at 8 minutes before working hours.

Another order has been issued by the Navy Department, forbidding visitors to converse with the workmen at the Yard, and each Department is required to issue printed passes to persons desiring to visit the Yard, and to detail a watchman or other responsible person to accompany them while there.

☞ June Day gave us a taste of summer weather with the thermometer indicating a temperature of 85 to 90 degrees. A refreshing shower cooled the atmosphere in the afternoon. Nature seems to have put on her gayest livery, and the progress of vegetation can be almost seen, hourly.

SCHOOL CHANGES.—Mr. G. T. Wiggin has resigned the charge of the Haven School at the South End, and Mr. B. F. Dame of the Cabot Street school is transferred to the vacancy. Mr. Wiggin takes charge of a school in Dorchester, Mass.

☞ The friends of the Soldiers who accompanied the Post of the G. A. R., who went to Kittery on Sunday, can but appreciate the good will shown them, by the parties interested in the Portsmouth Bridge, who allowed the Post and their friends to pass over and back free of charge.

☞ Mrs. Jepson, a Clairvoyant Healing Medium, is to be at the Kearsarge House in this city for a brief season, beginning next Monday. One of our own citizens who hands in her Advertisement, expresses high confidence in her skill, derived from those who have employed her.

☞ A Seal, weighing 140 pounds, was caught and killed in the river at South Eliot, on Sunday morning, by Franklin F. Staples and Henry Paul.

☞ Samuel Adams & Co., lost a track-horse on Tuesday by water-colic.

MORE FOURTH OF JULY.—We learn that Mr. Clarence O. Walker has recruited a company of "Fantastics" for service on the "glorious Fourth"—or Fifth, as it will probably be the day of celebration hereabouts. Mr. Walker is desirous of recruiting his company to 1000 men, all of whom are to wear clothes. Crowbars are positively forbidden to be used in this army, which will drill regularly until such proficiency is attained as will ensure its safety from capture by the fierce force of Odds and Ends, which it is understood will be in battle trim at an early date.

PORTSMOUTH BOYS ABROAD.—Messrs. Thos. M. Jackson and Thos. H. Rider of this city have located in Indianapolis, Indiana, having entered into the manufacture of Furniture and being extensive dealers in lumber. The firm name is C. Helwig & Co., and the many friends of Messrs. Rider and Jackson cordially wish them the greatest success in their new copartnership, and a satisfying prosperity as fruits of the business which calls them so far away from home.

☞ Among the Soldiers whose memory was honored at the Harmony Grove Cemetery was that of Lieut. Samuel Cushman Haven, of the 162d N. Y. Volunteers, who was in the first part of the siege before Port Hudson under Gen'l Banks. Lieut. Haven died of diphtheria in Baton Rouge Hospital and was buried near there.

THE FAIRY OPERA.—Our attention was recently called to some of the artistic scenery prepared by Mr. Moses for his Fairy Opera which is soon to take place. It is beautifully sketched, and represents the pains-taking with Mr. M. has prepared the entire entertainment. A correspondent sends us the following communication which we are pleased to present to our readers:—

Mr. Editor:—I am pleased in common with numerous others to learn that the chaste and beautiful "Fairy Opera of Laila" is to be presented at the Temple Tuesday evening, June 8th, under the management of a tasteful and competent artist. It has been performed in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pensylvania and elsewhere, always, I hear, to full and fashionable audiences. The plot is simple, beautiful and genial. Well managed, it will be a charming performance. Thirty interesting girls and young ladies in elegant attire will perform the Opera under the guidance of their teacher, Mr. Moses, who is a paragon of industry and indomitable perseverance, a true artist in both music and painting—competent in both branches, as his finely drilled young Opera Troupe and elegant paintings for the occasion will prove to all who will avail themselves of the offered entertainment. Thirty beautiful maidens in varied and elegant costumes—darling faries—well set off by stage decorations and illuminations, and assisted by an extraordinary private pianist, Mr. Angelo Beck, of Boston, who will entertain the audience at the fall of the curtain at the close of the several parts in the play, would seem to warrant an overflowing house, and renumerate an enterprising man, every way worthy, and deserving of public patronage. Morning Chronicle.

☞ Mrs. J. C. Croly has issued a circular inviting the ladies of the United States to send delegates to a woman's parliament, to be held in New York city, Oct. 5th and 6th.

The function of the parliament is to crystallize the intelligence and influence of women into a moral and reformatory power which will act definitely upon all the varied interests of society. Among the special subjects mentioned for consideration are public education, prisons and reformatory schools, health, female labor, household economy, and corruption in public life. It is proposed to make the parliament wholly distinct and apart from "the demand for woman's rights, "so called." It will only recognize women's duties and propose a way to perform them. It is intended to improve on what is called "the present male system," in choosing future parliaments. Each women will represent the number of votes she is able to poll, and not a majority of votes only.

A MAN OF NERVE.—A Washington letter-writer remarks of Mr. Greeley that "the control he has of his countenance is nearer what is related of Talleyrand than any man we wot of—it being said of the latter that if any man were to kick him behind, a man in front could not tell from the expression of his face that anything unusual was occurring." This reminds a correspondent of an incident that occured in Omaha: A gentleman who had received an insulting missive determined to resent it promptly. Next day, thinking he saw his man ahead, he hastily overtook him, and administered several pedal salutations. The kickee remaining passive, the kicker went round in front to see the effect, and discovered to his regret that he had kicked the wrong man. He apologized, and was answered:

"Don't mention it. From the frequency of such little episodes in my experience I was sensible of your demonstration, but was not aware you had made any mistake."

At which little M— of the Omaha Herald, admiringly remarked, "Oh, hasn't he got the nerve?"—DRAWER, Harper's Magazine.

—A Boston correspondent of the New York Express writes: "Boston is unchanged in one of its best tried and oldest institutions. I mean the east wind. It meets you landward, seaward, starboard, larboard and every way and where. It creeps into your hair, down your neck, up your boots, and you feel it from the crown of your head to the soles of your feet, making you damp inside and saturating your clothes inside and out. It is an excuse for any amount of colds, coughs, indigestion, bile and bad temper, and yet it don't quite kill, for Boston has as many aged men and aged women as New York in proportion to population."

—The Superior court now in session at Newburyport has reached several liquor cases brought before it for trial. Two cases, one from Newburyport and one from Gloucester, were submitted to the jurors on Monday afternoon, and both juries were out nearly all of Monday night without being able to agree upon a verdict. It was afterwards ascertained that one of the jurors was a brother-in-law to one of the criminals, and his vote prevented a verdict of guilty.

The case of Choate is postponed for trial at the October term, to be held in Lawrence.

—A. W. Mooney and other citizens of Newburyport have petitioned the Legislature for leave to allow the city to subscribe for stock in the proposed railroad from Salisbury to Epping. Perhaps no town or city along the whole line of this proposed road would be more directly benefited by its construction than the city of Newburyport. Its shipping and mercantile interests would be increased and decaying and rotting wharves be saved from destruction.

—Fanny Fern says: "A woman, by taking a big basket in her hand and leaving her hoop at home, and pinning an old shawl over her head, and tying a calico apron around her waist, may walk unmolested at any hour in the evening. I know it because I have tried it when I felt like having a prowl, all alone, and a good 'think,' without every puppy saying, and at every step, 'A pleasant evening, Miss.'"

—Bishop Whitehouse, of Illinois, has followed the example of Bishop Odenheimer, of New Jersey, in deposing one of his rectors from the ministry of "The Church." But as in Mr. Smith's case, Rev. W. H. Woods had previously resigned his position and had joined the Baptist.

—A drunken man walking along the street at night with his head thrown back, looking at the moon with sovereign contempt, was heard to exclaim: —"You needn't be so proud Madame Moon. You are full once a month and I every night."

— If a spoonful of yeast will rise fifty cents worth of flour, how much will it take to rise another barrel? Answer may be handed over the fence.

—Marshal Bazaine says that he was poisoned half a dozen times in Mexico, but that his Mexican servants gave him antidotes and saved his life.

—Mr. Henry Clews of New York is reported to have made several millions by the recent advance in gold.

—Six thousand Scandinavian immigrants reached Chicago last week.

LARGE CROPS OF CORN.—I have read considerable about large crops of corn, from 100 to 175 bushels per acre. If you can give me information as to how they are raised, I should be very much gratified. [An excellent mode of raising large crops of corn, is to spread a heavy and very even coating of rich stable manure in autumn, or gass, the earlier in autumn the better, but in late autumn or early winter it is much better than in spring; then just before planting turn over the sod handsomely with the plow to a moderate depth, or not over six inches. Roll and harrow if dry enough, or what is much better, pulverize the inverted sod with a Shares harrow. Mark and plant in hills, putting a handful of rich fine manure in each hill, or else plant with a machine that will drop the seed and the pulverized manure at one operation.

But little hoeing will be needed if the land has been kept clear of weeds; but cultivation by horse should be performed at least once a week from the time the corn is up, till too large for the horse to pass. With such treatment as this faithfully throughout, on good fertile soil, seventy shelled bushels may be expected from an acre in good seasons, if planted in hills 3 1-2 feet apart; and eighty to ninety bushels if planted in drills or in hills a foot apart in the row. On the other hand, if the grass is manured in spring before plowing, no manure put in the hills, weeds allowed to grow, and the corn not cultivated more than two or three times, the owner may think thirty-five or forty bushels a fair crop, and all that may be expected. With greater neglect he may get twenty-five bushels of good and bad corn.]—Country Gentleman.

The author of the above should have his grave decorated with pig-weed.

Conundrum for the Indian Bureau—When a savage takes cold, is he not liable to have the whooping cough?

The Reasons Why

This is the best Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do—the finest of sewing, hemming, falling, cording, tucking, braiding, binding, gathering, quilting, &c., better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making a fine pearl, as by hand. (Not done on any other Sewing Machine.)

3. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet-hole. (No other machine can.)

4. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a neat and beautiful border on any garment. (Not done on any other Machine.)

5. Because it will work a beautiful overseaming, by which shirts, pillow-cases and the like are sewed "over and over." (No other Machine can do it.)

Caution.

We would hereby warn the Public against all bogus advertisements of Button-Hole Attachments, as the AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE is the first and only Button-Hole and Sewing Machine combined in the world.

This Machine is for sale only at our establishment, 27 Market Street, where we cordially invite the Public to Call and Examine for themselves, and be convinced that this is the Best and Cheapest Machine for any family.

N. B.—All Machines are Warranted for one year. Instruction given at the house of purchaser free. Persons buying this Machine never wish to exchange for any other.

MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM
IS A SPEEDY and certain remedy for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Influenza, Hooping Cough, Asthma and the various Affections of the Lungs.

☞ The attention of those afflicted with COLDS, COUGHS, and with any disease of the lungs, is directed to this valuable remedy. On account of sudden changes in the weather, colds and coughs are easily taken, and if neglected may lead to disease of the lungs. What is needed under such circumstances is a reliable remedy—speedy in affording relief, and effectual in arresting further progress of the disease.

☞ To arrest the existing irritation of the airpassages and the lungs, speedily and effectually, the seat and cause of cough is an important step gained toward relief and cure in the first stages of the disease. MASTA'S PULMONIC BALSAM possesses this important power, and while it promptly and effectually arrests all existing irritation, and rapidly relieves cough, it renders the lungs further relief by promoting a free discharge of the accumulated mucus in the air-passages, imparting a healthy action and vigor to the chest at the same time.

☞ Those suffering with cough and the first stages of lung disease, will therefore find in this valuable preparation a speedy and decided relief. Even those whose condition is beyond recovery, will derive from its use great benefit as well as comfort. For the class of diseases it is designed to relieve, the general commendation it has received has proved its efficacy beyond question. For the past ten years have been speedily and effectually cured by its timely use while suffering from severe colds, protracted coughs, and from other forms of lung disease. It is prepared from vegetable balsams and the medicinal properties of roots and herbs, with no minerals nor poisonous acids; simple and safe in the material used, it can be taken at any time.

WHAT ADVERTISERS SAY.
The firm, whose letter we print below, gave us in 1867 what was then the largest contract we had ever received for our "LISTS OF 100 LOCAL NEWSPAPERS." The fact that they this year renew the order and increase the amount is the best argument we can give that these "LISTS" are good advertising mediums.

No. 118 WATER STREET,

MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.:
Gentlemen:—One year ago with much hesitation we gave your advertisement for one of your Lists of One Hundred local papers; a very short time thereafter we unhesitatingly added two more Lists of One Hundred papers.
But a short time elapsed before we were inquiried of on every side for "Colburn's Patent Red Jacket Ax," positively to the extent that plan of Lists had reached the very parties to whom we wanted to introduce the new patent Ax.
The year having now nearly gone by, we cannot but testify to the efficacy of your plan of "Lists of Local Papers" is just the kind of advertising we want, and we to-day forward you an order for 1869 and discloses, with a treatise on cavalry errors, the deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address on receipt of 25 cents, in stamps or postal currency, by addressing Dr. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his books treat, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.

A TWO CENT DOG.—"Yesterday afternoon a two cent dog sprang from an alley, closely followed by a five cent brick. Rounding the corner at right angles, he came in contact with the feet of a Dutch woman who was carrying a jug of molasses in one hand and a basket of eggs in the other. The sudden collision of the dog with her lower extremities threw her from her feet, and she sat down upon the basket of eggs, at the same time breaking the jug of molasses upon the pavement. A young gentleman, carpet-bag in hand, anxious to catch the train, was running close behind, and stepping upon the fragments of the jug and its contents, sat down on the chest of the Dutch woman, who said, "Mine Got." The young man said something about mad dog, but in the excitement said it backwards. In the meantime the dog had run against the feet of a team of horses, attached to a load of potatoes, and they taking fright, started for home. The end board being out, they unloaded the potatoes along the street as they went. Crossing the railroad track, the wagon caught in the rails and tore one of them from its place. A freight train coming along a few moments later, was thrown from the track, smashing up a dozen cars, and killing thirty or forty hogs. The horses on reaching home ran thro' the barn yard and overturned a milk pail, the contents of which another two cent dog licked up. One of the horses having broken his leg, was killed this morning, and the other is crippled for life. It is now a mooted question whether the man who threw the brick at the two cent dog, or the man who owns it, is responsible for the chapter of accidents which followed. Some think they do."

HEAVEN.—The publication of the two books "The Gates Ajar" and "The Gates Wide Open" has drawn attention of many minds to the Kingdom of Heaven, and speculations in regard to the government thereof have become rife and varied. Out of the multiplicity of ideas which have been advanced, it is of course difficult to frame a satisfactory plan, but we presume, as we have before remarked, that all will one day find out that they have been mistaken in their prognostications. Henry Ward Beecher is added to the list of those who ridicule the popular notion that the inmates of heaven do nothing but stand around a great white throne, with harps in their hands, and sing psalms. And others upon reflection have become convinced that the occupations of the other world are as varied and numerous as those of the earth. This at least seems to be the most rational theory yet advanced. "Death," says a contemporary, "takes from us nothing but the body of flesh and blood, leaving the constitution and requirements of our souls without radical change. Whatever, therefore, above mere corporeal pleasures, rightfully renders us happy here, will render us likewise happy there; and as no man, however pious, would like to spend his whole life on earth in singing, it is not likely he will be compelled to do it hereafter."—Boston Sunday Times.

—A man who has fallen heir to an estate in New York city found his good fortune alloyed by the fact that a large building of his new property was occupied by tenants who, taking advantage of the estate being involved in lawsuit, have paid no rent for over a year. They were naturally loath to leave; but the new proprietor is a man of resources. He has taken out a license as a tinner, and set a dozen men to work hammering ten hours a day on tin and sheet iron in one of the rooms of his building. After some experience of this racket most of the tenants have surrendered and moved away; one has tried in vain to get assistance of the police to stop the noise; and a few obstinate ones are trying to stick it out.

—Little Susie, poring over a book in which angels were represented as winged beings, suddenly exclaimed, with vehemence: "Mamma, I don't want to be an angel, and I never not, need I?" "Why, Susie?" questioned her mother. "Humph! leave of all my pretty clothes, and wear fedders like a hen!"

—A handsome woman in Paris, who recently eloped with an actor, wanted to return to her husband on the third day, but he refused his consent until her father handed him a check for $100,000.

—A bachelor editor, who had a pretty unmarried sister, lately wrote to another editor similarly circumstanced, "Please exchange."

—A statistical connoisseur calculates that only one woman out of ninety-five can be justly called pretty.

—A Trojan during the freshet reported to his wife that he was intoxicated, "cause water was so infernally high, m'dear."

—One day's record of arrivals and departures of lake vessels at Chicago numbered eighty-two sail.

TSING TEA—Black Dragon Chop.
NATURAL LEAF, perfectly pure (TSING signifies pure) Prepared without any coloring or foreign substance. Cured on Porcelain (not copper) over a slow fire. Delightful flavor, exceedingly powerful and strong. Combines all the healthy virtues of the Tea-plant. Mandarins and higher class of natives use no other.
This celebrated Tea was first introduced here by the ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY, in May, 1868, when the limited quantity imported was rapidly sold, at the high price of $1.80 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval, and the demand for it from all sections was so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for the future;—and they have just received the first invoice for this year, which will be sold at the low price of $1.10 a pound, at which price it (lower half-chest, it cost one year ago) it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they cannot too highly recommend it to all who drink Tea, as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both Black and Green, without any injurious quality; being chemically pure and free from coloring matter or any foreign mixture, it will suit the taste and please all who love Tea.
The Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 36 pounds in a chest, with the price, $1.10, printed on each package. The wholesale price by the chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel-Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 36 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.
Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction; and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, and we will refund the money.
SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to the public, we are arranging with Apothecaries and other Merchants, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Teas and Coffees in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as Commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price-lists, &c., upon application by mail from Traders desiring it. DYSPEPSIA
AND LIVER COMPLAINT.
Important Certificate.
Having been afflicted with chronic disease of the digestive organs (described by physicians as enlargement of the liver and inflammation of the stomach), for more than ten years, and suffered what words can never describe, without relief from the most celebrated medical skill that could be consulted, I was induced by the physician who last attended me to try Wood's Nervine and Liver Regulator. He had witnessed its effects, he said, in his own practice, and could recommend it in the highest terms. I had about lost faith in everything; but I followed his advice, procured the medicine. The effect inspired me with hope. I continued its use, and still improved; following it up I grew stronger and stronger, and suffered less and less from my troubles. This for some months—until I was relieved and needed it no longer. Wood's Nervine restored me to complete and sound health; and no language is able to express the gratitude I feel at being well once more. I am thoroughly cured of the horrible suffering that had made ten years of my life most wretched. No one can conceive my joy who has not experienced a like recovery. E. B. LIBBY,

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER, May 31.

Decoration Day passed without any general public demonstration. At 4 o'clock P. M., our cemetery was visited by a few ladies, bearing floral tributes, which were placed on the graves of the departed heroes who are interred here. As most of these ladies were of those who inaugurated this pleasingly melancholy festival in our midst last year, I take pleasure in recording their names. They were Mrs. Ines Gordon, whose husband perished under the treatment of the fiends in charge of the rebel prison dens; Miss Sarah Cobbs,—whose brother, Lieut. George S. Cobbs, was inhumanly murdered in cold blood by a rebel officer, who shot him with his own pistol; and Mrs. Jemima Moulton,—good, kind "Mother Moulton," whose heart ever beats responsive to the calls of affection or distress. They were accompanied by Miss Bartlett of the Robinson Female Seminary, and Miss S. Jennie Perkins of the Hall Place Grammar School.

At 5 P. M. the teachers and pupils of the Seminary, to the number of 60 or 70, proceeded to the cemetery, and after the exercises of strewing the graves of our departed brave with the most beautiful flowers it was possible to procure, they joined in singing the following beautiful ode, which was written by Rev. J. E. Rankin, and sung by Post No. 11, G. A. R., of Charlestown, Mass., on Decoration Day:

Flowers we bring to deck each grave,
Where repose the nation's brave:
For their valor, it is meet
They should have such of flowers sweet.
Sweeter, yet, than flow'rs' perfume,
Brighter than its brightest bloom,
Breathes the fragrance of their name,
Smiles the blossom of their fame.
Earth blooms not with bloom of blood,
Flows no more with war's red flood,
Flow'rs of Peace make glad the plain,
Narrowed by the cannon's vain.
In the hour of weakness sown,
Sleeping now, perhaps, unknown,
Faith discerns a harvest wave
O'er each lonely soldier's grave.
Here we lay spring's floral crown,
Here we sprinkle summer dews;
Tears shall bud in tribute lays,
Tears shall become forth their praise.

The 86th Academical year at Phillips' Exeter Academy will close on June 21st. The annual catalogue embraces the names of 130 students, representing fourteen different States. They are classed as follows: Advanced Class, 7; (this class is composed of those who choose to remain a year after the regular term of three years, and thus enter college as Sophomores;) Senior Class, 26; Middle Class, 56; Junior Class, 41.

A catalogue has also been recently issued, embracing the names of all the officers and students who have ever been connected with the Academy.—The residence of the students at the time of entering is also given, and,—except during the first seven years,—their ages. There have entered since 1783, the year the Academy was opened to the public, 3855 students, of whom nearly one half were residents of this State. Upwards of 1000 were from Massachusetts. Many came from long distances to pursue their studies here. A large number have come from foreign countries,—France, England, the West Indies, and even from the Sandwich and Hawaiian Islands.

A singular circumstance in connection with this institution is the fact that for eighty-one years it has had two Principals; Dr. Benjamin Abbott, who served in that capacity from 1788 to 1838, and his successor, Dr. Gideon L. Soule, the present incumbent. Dr. Soule was associated with Dr. Abbott in the work of instruction for several years, and 2381 students, in one degree or another, have been under his charge.

Yours, H.

THE GRAND JUBILEE.—We advertise this morning, the programme of the Musical performances for the mammoth Peace Festival at Boston, commencing the 15th June inst. The whole celebration will be novel, unique, immense,—and must indeed be visited to be appreciated. It will be a world-wonder, and the joy and satisfaction of a life-time to have been there. The building, the organ, the orchestra, the grand chorus, the great men, or the multitude present,—either alone will well be worth a visit; but to see and hear the whole, the greatest exhibition of the times, will be a privilege, and appreciated as such by hundreds of thousands of people all over the land.

☞ Detective Kent arrested Wm. M. Hanscom, a young clerk in the Post Office, on Wednesday, charged with robbing the mail of valuable letters containing money, &c. Mr. Kent traced out the purloiner by means of a decoy letter. He found several unopened letters in Hanscom's possession. Hanscom is but 16 years of age, and has neither father or mother. He is a genial little fellow, and we are confident that this, his first offence, comes off being led away by bad associates. We hope the lesson will not be lost upon him and that the authorities will deal leniently with him.

☞ The Eastern Railroad Company have placed two new cars on the route, which excel in style and beauty any of the splendid cars which have before come from the shop of the corporation. One of them passed through Portsmouth on Wednesday, in charge of Conductor Towle. The car is one of the most elegant in the New England States.

☞ Among the visitors in Washington, on Monday, were Senators Cragin and Patterson of New Hampshire.

Science Advances.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article.—Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, &c., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and minerals poisons ceased to be tolerated in the obscurity to which an enlightened age has consigned them. There have been many spurious Bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while HOSTETTER'S has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration to health and vigor.
